

DR. S. STOCKING,
DENTAL SURGEON
No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs.)
Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,
BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleaning, regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what is called modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and combining such improvements with the experience of more than thirty-five years of close application to the duties of the profession he is permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession, whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction to the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of the dentist, who assumes the responsibility of the care of the teeth, and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, though honest in their intentions, and wanting in their ignorance of the principles upon which dental operations are performed, or the want of experience and ingenuity to supply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth—a process of great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is enabled to fill a tooth. And so true, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another process advanced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be properly filled, and even removed, in artificial ones may be kindly set, and fast to answer the purpose for which they were made—but neither the one nor the other is thereby endangered. Not so with the administration of ether. It is an agent that should be confined to the care and control of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiar nature and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium. Ether should be administered so as to prevent the patient from feeling the fumes of the lungs a great time. The reason for this is its foundation in the laws of chemical combination in the process of respiration. The natural consequence of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness, if nothing worse, during exhalation, with distressing headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr. Stocking, who gives especial attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth, preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets.

Boston, May 22 6m

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against loss by fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Merchants, Householders, Traders, Mechanics, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are admitted to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate such persons.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Isaac W. Munroe, Benjamin F. Bates,
Thomas C. Wright, H. W. Blanchard, Whitcomb Porter, Colvass,
Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,
William B. Duggan, Hingham,
Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
Boston, South Hingham,
Albert Thompson, Randolph,
Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,
South Bridgewater, Sumner A. Hayward, Apollon Randall, Barnstable, Dedham, George Johnston,
Jonathan A. Cobb

References, by permission:
Hon. GEORGE T. BENTLEY of Boston,
Hon. JONATHAN QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
Hon. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
Hon. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,
Hon. SOLOMON J. BEAL of Hingham,
Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JONATHAN BRIGHAM, Esq.,
Washington Square, Quincy, near State Temple,
Quincy, April 4.

Lard Oil.
Just received and for sale by the subscriber
at a prime article of Lard Oil, cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Nov. 29 6f

Iceland Balsam.
DR. HARRISON's Iceland Balsam; and Peruvian Liqueur. Also—Dr. Norman's Permanent Balsam of Fir Paste.
For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy March 28 6f

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, just received and for sale low by
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1858.

NUMBER XL.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business. Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers:
Railway Village, JONATHAN PAROCK,
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE,
Milton, CHARLES BRECK,
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON,
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY,
Abington, JOSEPH CLIVERLY,
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER,
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHON DREW.

Miscellaneous.

A Brief History of Telegraphing.

The working of the telegraph in its first stages was extremely simple. The first working telegraph of which we have any account was used by the French Directory during the war which ensued immediately after the great revolution of 1793, in order to facilitate the movements of the various armies which were being raised in different parts of that country. Poles were erected at distances within the scope of a common telescope (say eight or ten miles) with moveable arms attached, which, by being placed in different positions, signified the meaning to be conveyed. On a clear day, we are told, that by this means, communication could be had with the remotest provinces in from forty to ninety minutes; the communication being repeated from pole to pole—or, more correctly speaking, from station to station. The limited power it possessed will readily be seen.—Only a certain class of messages could be sent, the signals necessarily being very few compared to the vast number of words in use and relating only to the object for which the line of poles were erected. A fog intervening between any of the stations would completely obstruct communication! What a contrast between that and the great results now obtained from electricity, the greatest of which is the connection of the Old and New Worlds by means of the cable! This system with some slight modifications, was used in Great Britain and the United States, and was the only one in use until the discovery by Professor Morse in 1832, of the method of communication by electricity, which bears his name, but which, however, was not put into practice until 1844. In that year a single conducting wire was put up between Baltimore and Washington, a distance of forty miles. From that time to the present there has been built on this continent, alone, lines extending to upwards of thirty-five thousand miles. In Europe there are nearly forty thousand miles of wire in operation; in Asia about five thousand; in Australia about one thousand one hundred, and in Africa about one hundred and twenty, giving a aggregate of over eighty thousand miles of wire now in operation throughout the world.—There are, besides the above, a number of submarine lines, a majority of which extend from Great Britain to various parts of the continent.

In Europe there is, but one telegraph instrument in general use. It is called the "Needle Instrument." A needle, set upon a dial, vibrates upon a pivot back and forth, according to the number of electrical impulses given by the operator sending; a certain number being necessary to form each letter, which is read by the eye of the operator receiving and read off to clerk who transcribes it in the ordinary language used.

The only systems used in this country are the Morse, Bain, House and Hughes, the two former being operated by signals and the two latter printing in clear Roman capitals. The Morse, owing to its simplicity and the cheapness with which it can be operated, is the one most in use. The operation is very simple. A set of characters are used, one for each letter in the alphabet, and are produced by a small key or circuit-closer, which consists of a horizontal arm or lever, attached to the positive pole of the charging battery, set in a bed plate attached to the negative. These poles when united produce a wave of electricity, which, acting upon an electro-magnet in the recording part of the instrument, forcibly draws an armature to which is attached a fine point or pen, against the paper, which is kept in motion by a weight attached to clock-work to procure uniform motion, producing an impression in length according to the will of the operator. The dots and dashes with which the characters are formed are produced by an "expert" with great rapidity.

In connection with this, it would not be out of place to give an account of the batteries used to effect the communication. The one in general use and the most powerful is called the "Grove." Its component parts are: zinc and nitric and sulphuric acids.—The electrical spark is produced by the acids acting upon the zinc and decomposing it.—Another battery is called the "Chester," and is composed simply of a plate of zinc acted upon by sulphuric acid diluted by water to one-fifth of its original strength. This battery produces a very steady current, but of very slight intensity.

The Bain system is very similar to that of the Morse in the results obtained. It is operated in the same manner, viz: by signals differing from the Morse characters only by the composition. The characters are formed by a key or circuit closer as described in the Morse system. The recording part consists of a revolving circular bed plate, which is connected to the ground. Upon this plate is placed a sheet of paper moistened by a weak solution of saltpetre and potash. A small grooved plate is placed over this to carry the pen, which is of small steel or iron wire, and which is brought against the surface of the paper. The current, passing over this pen, enters the ground through the paper, tracing in its course a beautiful blue mark, in length corresponding to the action of the operator on the key. This mark is caused by the decomposition by electricity of the particles of saltpetre and potash contained in the paper. The machinery of this instrument is also kept in motion by a weight.

The operation of the House instrument is very different from either of the above, inasmuch that instead of signals being used, messages are printed in plain Roman capitals, thus obviating all danger of mistakes in copying, to which the system using signals are so liable. It is a beautiful piece of machinery but is very complex, and the great expense attending its working has prevented its being more generally used. In its operation a keyboard is used, consisting of twenty-eight keys, (fourteen of which are worked on an open, and fourteen on a closed circuit) one for each letter, and one each for a stop and a space. Revolving beneath this keyboard is a shaft having at one end a cog, which, by alternately opening and closing the circuit, takes effect upon an electro-magnet, which by its vibrations regulates the amount of air pumped into a plunger, which in its turn, regulates the motion of the type-wheel. For instance, if the letter H is to be printed, we find it is the eighth key from the space (which is the point from which all instruments start) consequently the circuit is opened and closed eight times, producing as many electrical vibrations, which, acting upon the plunger, allows the type-wheel to revolve to the eighth letter, holding it there until the hand is withdrawn from the key. The paper upon which the letters are printed is carried by an eccentric shaft against the type-wheel and is released immediately after the letter is printed. By this system words can be transmitted at the rate of two thousand two hundred per hour, which is at least one-third faster than by the system of signals, besides the time saved in copying.

We now come to the latest improvement in telegraphing—the Hughes instrument.—This truly wonderful machine unites the simplicity of the Morse with all the advantages of the House system. It prints similar to the House, but unlike it, is worked entirely on an open circuit and requires but one electrical wave to form a letter, which gives it unquestionable superiority over all other methods. Its extreme sensitiveness will allow it to work longer distances and with less battery than any other system. In this instrument the key board is similar to that of the House, but instead of a shaft beneath the key-board, pins are placed at the end of every key, which, upon being struck, raises the pin corresponding to the letter against a circular plate revolving above. Upon this plate is a small spring, which upon being displaced by the pin closes the circuit sending a wave of electricity along the wire to the instrument in communication. It may be asked how, by striking a letter at one instrument, the same is produced hundreds of miles away. In order to effect this, both instruments must run exactly at the same rate of speed, and as both have the same point of starting—the space—it follows that the right letter is produced by a mere division of time. For instance, if the letter D is struck it will be evident that that letter being nearer the space than any letter following, say for instance S, and the two instruments running at the same speed, the wave would reach the instrument receiving at the instant the letter D on the type-wheel arrived opposite the paper, which is raised against the letter and so printed; and so with every letter. The paper is carried forward by a self-acting ratchet, and is in motion only when a letter is struck.

The speed with which letters can be printed by this system is even greater than by House's instrument. The rate can be imagined from the fact that the circular plate revolves at a speed of one hundred and twenty-six per minute, and can be made to go even faster, and each revolution seven letters are printed, giving a total of eight hundred and eighty-two letters per minute, which is, of course, a great deal faster than it can be operated upon. The ordinary speed at which letters are sent is about one thousand eight hundred words per hour.

There are other telegraph instruments, English inventions, of which we have no reliable account.

The most prominent are those of Professor Whitehouse and Thompson, and which are now being experimented with over the Atlantic cable.

The number of messages transmitted in the course of a year would hardly be credited by any person unacquainted with the business. It is estimated that about fourteen thousand are sent daily in the United States alone!

The progress of the electric telegraph has been very great considering the very short time it has been in use—but fourteen years—and the time will come when it will almost entirely supersede the present system of mails. The advantages of the telegraph cannot be better illustrated than by the fact that the news from a steamer arriving at Sandy Hook is known all over the United States, wherever a line of telegraph extends, long before she arrives at her dock in New York, a distance of not more than two hours steaming. News from New York has frequently been placed on the bulletins at New Orleans and St. Louis within ten minutes, actual time, from the time it left.

At this time, we are placed in instantaneous communication with towns and cities thousands of miles apart, by this seemingly miraculous power. We are but in the infancy of electricity. We know but little of the great and wonderful power it possesses.—We do not know even what it is. How true and appropriate are the beautiful and expressive words used in the first message ever sent by electricity—"What hath God wrought!"—Berkshire Courier.

Be Gentle.

Be ever gentle with the children God has given you; watch over them constantly; reprove them earnestly, but not in anger. In the forcible language of the Scripture, "Be not bitter against them." "Yes, they are good boys," I once heard a kind father say: "I talk to them very much, but do not like to beat my children—the world will beat them." It was a beautiful thought, though not elegantly expressed. Yes, there is not one child in the circle round the table, healthful and happy as they look now, on whose head, if long enough spared, the storm will not beat. Adversity may wither them, sickness may fade, a cold world may frown on them, but amid all let memory carry them back to a home where the law of kindness reigned, where the mother's reproving eye was moistened with a tear, and the father frowned "more in sorrow than in anger."

How Gold Lace is Made.

In an interesting description of the method of manufacturing gold lace, an exchange pointedly says that gold lace is not gold lace; it does not deserve this title, for the gold is applied as a surface to silver. It is not even silver lace, for the silver is applied to a foundation of silk. The silken threads for making this material are wound around with gold wire so as to conceal the silk. The making of this gold wire is one of the most singular mechanical operations imaginable. In the first place, the refiner prepares a solid rod of silver about an inch in thickness; he heats this rod, applies upon the surface a coating of gold leaf, burnishes this down, and so on until the gold is about one-hundredth part of the thickness of the silver. Then the rod is subjected to a train of fine wire, and is passed through holes in a steel plate lessened step by step in diameter. The gold never deserts the silver, but adheres closely to it, and shares all its mutations. It is one-hundredth part the thickness of the silver at the beginning, and it maintains the same ratio to the end. As to thickness to which the gold-coated rod of silver can be brought, the limit depends on the delicacy of human skill; but the most remarkable example ever known was brought forward by Dr. Wollaston. This was an example of solid gold wire, entirely free from silver. He procured a small rod of silver, bored a hole through it from end to end, and inserted in this hole the smallest gold wire he could procure. He subjected the silver to the wire drawing process, until he had brought it to the finest attainable state, being in fact, a silver wire as fine as a hair, with a gold wire in its centre. To isolate this gold wire, he subjected it to warm nitrous acid by which the silver dissolved, leaving a gold wire one thirty-thousandth of an inch in thickness—perhaps the thinnest rod wire that the hand of man ever produced. But this wire though beyond all comparison finer than any employed in manufactures, does not approach in thinness the fine film of gold on the surface of silver in gold lace. It has been calculated that the gold on the finest silver wire for gold lace is not more than one-third of one-millionth of an inch in thickness—that is, not above one-tenth the thickness of ordinary gold leaf.

A Nest Egg.

In the "Greyson Letters" we are told of a man who was accustomed to contribute benevolently to various objects, while his means were somewhat limited. One gentleman always called upon him annually in behalf of a philanthropic society, and he had never called in vain. It happened, however, that this generous man received quite a legacy from some departed relative, and the above gentleman hearing of it, flattered himself that he should get a much larger contribution than usual, when he called next time.—As the year came round, he visited his old friend, and asked for a subscription, when, to his utter astonishment, the man refused to give him a cent. He endeavored to make an impression upon him, but all his efforts were fruitless. At last he said, "Why, Mr. —, you always used to be most liberal, and I cannot account for your present mood at all. I thought that having, as I hear, come in for a considerable legacy, you would probably have doubled your subscription." "That," replied the man, "is the very reason I can give you nothing. While I was in receipt merely of my salary, I could save nothing.—But now that I have a larger sum, which I am not compelled to touch, and which will go on accumulating, every little I can add to it will tell."

This incident contains a principle of fallen human nature which it is worth while to look at. The man had no encouragement to hoard money, so long as he received only his salary. He could save so little that he concluded it was not best to try to save any. A multitude of persons, from children to adults, act upon this principle. A little child who was told by his father to lay up a cent that had just been given him, replied, "It is only a cent." It was so small a sum that he thought he might as well spend it as not. It was poor encouragement to lay by so little. It is probably the operation of this principle which leads so many persons, who were liberal in moderate circumstances, to become selfish and niggardly when they are affluent. The accumulation of a few dollars annually, does not appeal very strongly to the love of money; but when the accumulation amounts to thousands every year, the appeal to money love is irresistible with many.

The Loan Fund Association grew out of an incident wherein the same principle is discovered. It is said that an English gentleman, who had many employees in charge, proposed to take all the earnings they could save monthly, and allow them interest on the Loan Fund principle, and, at the expiration of a given number of years, the accumulation could pay for the houses in which they dwelt. They had previously spent all their earnings, a portion of which had gone for intoxicating drinks, and the result was intemperance and ruin. They were interested in the plan; they saw that rapid gain was now promised, that in a very few years they could rise from the dependant condition of tenants to that of proprietors. They laid aside their cups, practised the most rigid economy, and not only saved their property but their character. Here the same stimulus of large accumulations elevated those who seemed wretched to be degraded because their income was so limited.

A friend told us of a young clerk, whose salary was twelve hundred dollars, all of which he spent upon his own person every year. He proposed a small investment to him, in a certain way to which the young man objected on the ground that so small an investment as he should make would not amount to much. He finally consented, however, and fifty dollars were devoted to the purpose. It yielded him so much the first year, that the next he increased the investment by five fold, still living in the remainder of his salary. We see here the operation of the same principle. So long as he could save but little, he was satisfied to save none.—When he saw a fair prospect of rapidly augmenting his gains, he was encouraged to economize, and spare more from his yearly income.

But we need not multiply examples. The man of whom Greyson tells us was not a strange man, after all. Poor weak human nature yielded to one of its favorite principles. Nor is this development of so gross a nature that nothing can be said in its favor. If we had time and space we might glance at this side of the picture. But we can only add, that it is not the worst sin in the world to want a "nest egg," and to be encouraged thereby. We have seen that it once saved a whole neighborhood from moral degradation and ruin. A nest without an egg looks so barren and desolate—it is so much like an old one—that it cannot awaken high hopes. We never blame the hen for refusing to lay in a nest that had not a single egg. Neither can we altogether blame man. But it is quite a different thing to decline parting with the eggs when the nest is full, and running over. The person of whom Greyson speaks did not sin in allowing himself to be encouraged by the prospect of rapid gains, but in becoming ungenerous as he became rich.—Congregationalist.

Fishes Travelling by Land.

Dr. Hapcock, in the "Zoological Journal," gives a description of a fish called the "flat head," that travels to pools of water, when that in which it has resided dries up. Bose also describes another variety, which is found in South Carolina, and, if our memory serves us well, in Texas, which, like the "flat head," leaves the drying pools in search of others. These fishes, filled with water, travel by night, one with a lizard-like motion, and the other by leaps. The South Carolina and Texas varieties are furnished with a membrane over the mouth, by which they are enabled to carry with them a supply of water, to keep their gills moist during their travel. Guided by some peculiar sense, they always travel in a straight line to the nearest water. This they do, without the aid of memory, for it has been found that if a tub filled with water is sunk in the ground near one of the pools which they inhabit, they will, when the pool dries up, move directly toward the tub. Surely this is a wonderful and merciful provision for the preservation of these kind of fish; for, inhabiting as they do, only stagnant pools, and that too, in countries subject to long and periodical droughts, their races would, but for this provision, become extinct.

Obsolete Scripture Words.

Few persons are aware, says the New York Chronicle, of the number of words in our common English Bibles which have now become obsolete, are usually intelligible to those who read them. While the inspired originals are perfectly symmetrical, the English version being of men, is exceedingly faulty, as may be seen by the following selections, which it would seem clear should be replaced by others, which even the "common people" can understand:—

God did tempt Abraham. Gen. 22: 1.
The usual meaning of tempt is solicit to evil. But God does not solicit any one to do evil. The meaning is, God tried Abraham. The lean kine. Gen. 41: 2.

This is the old plural for the word cow, "cowsen," as swine is the old plural for swine, "soosen."

Not one in a thousand would understand vine as meaning cow.

Joseph dieth and is cheated. Gen. 50.

Who would suppose this means that Joseph dying was put in his coffin. The word cheat was by some of the old writers used for coffin. But in any sense, cheat, as a verb, is becoming obsolete.

In earing time and harvest. Ex. 34: 21.

Earing means ploughing, tilling. Though much used by English writers, is now entirely obsolete.

They shall amerce him in a hundred shekels. Deut. 32: 19.

The word here rendered amerce, means to punish by a fine, pecuniary or otherwise, by taking from him a portion of his goods.—Amerce is entirely obsolete.

Asher continued on the sea-shore, and abode in his branches. Judges 5: 17.

Yes, so it reads, and what is its meaning? One at first pictures to himself a person unaccustomed to change his wearing apparel, a slovenly individual. But the word here signifies the openings in the sea coast, the little creeks running from the sea shore into the country. And the dwelling place of Asher was on the sea-shore among the creeks.

And Gideon smote the host: for it was secure. Judges 8: 11.

One is at a loss to see the connexion here. How could the host be routed, if it was secure? The old sense of the word secure appears to have been without care or carelessness. The present meaning is safe, as needing no care, according to which the passage should evidently read: "Gideon smote the host, because it was careless."

And a certain woman cast a piece of millstone upon Abimelech's head, and all to break his skull. This obsolete expression, all to, was formerly used as an adverb, for entirely. This explanation gives to the passage a meaning clear to every reader. The millstone entirely broke his skull. The effect is stated, instead of the design of the act of casting the stone upon the head.

And that year they vexed and oppressed the children of Israel eighteen years. Judges 10: 8.

How an oppression could be visited for eighteen years in one year passes all ordinary understanding. The phrase that year obviously is synonymous with at that time.

The word sodon occurs in the Bible repeatedly in different forms. It is the old word for boil. Thus in 1 Sam. 1: 15—He will not have sodden flesh of thee, should read boiled flesh.

David feigned himself mad, and scrabbled on the doors of the gate.

In the margin of the larger Bibles this word is explained by "he made marks," as by writing. Johnson's definition of scrabble is to pave with the hands, which is quite a different thing from making marks as by writing.

It was at the every year's end that he poll-ed his head.

The old word poll, from the French "polle" signifies to lop or cut off the hair. This use of the word is obsolete.

Jezabel tired her head. 2 Kings 9: 30.—Isa. 3: 18.

The word attire would suggest the true meaning. She dressed her hair.

He dwelt in a several house, i. e., a separate house. 2 Kings 15: 5.

But the word several is not now used for separate, except in rare cases in some legal documents.

So we will render the calves of our lips. Hosea 14: 2.

Calves literally were offered as sacrifices.

Hence calves of the lips was used for sacrifices of the lips; that is the offerings of confession of sin, or praise and thanksgiving which are made by the lips.

All that hear the brunt of thee, etc. Nahum 3: 19

Brunt is an entirely obsolete expression for superior force.

The above are selected from a list of nearly one hundred different words in the Testament, which greatly mar the beauty and usefulness of that precious volume, all the words of which should be readily understood by every ordinary reader.

Mole-Hills.

Those small heaps of earth that are so common in the fields, and called mole-hills, are merely the result of the mole's travelling in search of the earth-worms, on which it principally feeds; and in their structure there is nothing remarkable. But the great mole-hill, or mole-place, in which the animal makes its residence, is a very different affair, and complicated in its structure. In it is found a central chamber, in which the mole resides; and round this chamber there run galleries or corridors in a regular series, so as to form a kind of labyrinth, by means of which the creature may make its escape, if threatened with danger. This palace is formed, if possible, under the protection of large stones, roots of trees, thick bushes, or some such situation; and is located, as far as possible, from paths or roads. The food of the mole mostly consists of earth-worms, in search of which it drives these tunnels with such assiduity. The depth of the tunnel is necessarily regulated by the position of the worms; so that in warm pleasant days or evenings, the run, as it is called, is within a few inches of the surface; but in winter, the worms retire deeply into the unfrozen soil, and thither the mole must follow them. For this purpose it sinks perpendicular shafts and from thence drives horizontal tunnels. It may be seen how useful this provision is, when one thinks of the work that is done by the mole when providing for its own sustenance. In the cold months, it drives deeply into the ground, thereby draining it and preventing the roots of plants from becoming sodden by the retention of water above; and the earth is brought from below, where it was useless, and, with all its properties unimpaired by crops, is laid on the surface, there to be frozen, the particles to be forced asunder by the icy particles with which it is filled, and, after the thaw, to be vivified by the oxygen of the atmosphere, and made ready for the reception of seeds.—Rev. J. G. Wood.

Friction Matches.

The truth of that true old maxim "all that glitters is not gold" is exemplified in reference to new inventions in mechanism and science, as well as other phases of life to which it was originally designed to be applied. The Boston Herald, in turning over the "Encyclopedia of Commerce," just published, remarks that many of the most important things in commerce are likely to be overlooked in the broad, comprehensive, and magnificent examination usually given to such works. In the same manner, inventions of the greatest importance for domestic purposes are frequently overlooked and unnoticed in their homely attire, when placed on exhibition and surrounded by works of polished art, costly machinery, and gorgeous furniture, although of less actual worth and benefit. An humble inventor once placed in such an exhibition a few bunches of friction matches, which were unnoticed by those who passed. Visitors went there looking for some great thing, not realizing that the despised package of splints, tipped with chemical fire, was the greatest thing in that proud collection, destined to work a revolution in the means of procuring artificial light, and to become a universal necessity, to be deprived of which would be one of the greatest inconveniences that could happen. It is not more than twenty years since the tinder-box was in universal use; but it is abolished now, and its place taken by this simple, cheap, and certain method of obtaining light. The introduction of friction matches spread slowly; but who would now like to do without them? Rafts of timber are annually cut up for this purpose.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Oct. 2d, 1858.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT AM I."

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION. We notice a call for a convention in the Third Congressional District, to meet at Dedham, on the 7th inst., to nominate a candidate for Congress. It is required that the delegates should be opposed to the present National Administration and in favor of the general policy of the present State Administration.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION. The Republicans of the tenth district in this State, have selected Charles Delano of Northampton, as their candidate for Congress. The district is now represented by Dr. C. C. Chaffee, who failed to get re-nominated. Mr. Delano is reported to be a native of Braintree.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE. At a meeting of Quincy Stone Division, No. 73, S. of T., on Tuesday evening last, the following Officers were elected, viz:—

David L. Wentworth, W. P.—Dr. George Newcomb, W. A.—John H. Howlett, R. S. C. L. Baker, A. R. S.—Henry Chubbuck, F. S.—James F. Coe, T.—Joseph Hayden, C.—Frederic A. Lapham, Jr., A. C.—Albert Holt, J. S.—Leonard L. Perry, O. S.—E. H. Starbuck, Chap.

KEROSENE OIL LAMPS. As long evenings are fast approaching, and a good light for the purposes of reading or working essentially needed, it is but justice to recommend this lamp as being the article required, both as regards economy and brilliancy. It gives a clear and wholesome light, not so injurious to the eyes as other kinds, will not explode, is safe in children's hands, and justly considered the best invention to dispel the darkness and aid the eyesight.

N. B. FURNALD, at his rooms on Washington street, in this town, is the Agent, and keeps the different patterns of this Lamp as well as the genuine Oil.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK. The October number of this model magazine in the world for ladies, was promptly received. Every page is either well filled with choice and valuable reading or elegantly illustrated with appropriate engravings, fashion plates, and designs for needle work, etc. Its immense circulation and the universal praise bestowed are evidences of its sterling worth and high appreciation. We gladly welcome its reception, and would not part with it on any account.

CEREMONIAL CALL. It is stated that Rev. James Pratt, Rector of St. Stephen's church in Portland, (Me.) has received an invitation to fill the vacancy in the Episcopal church, Philadelphia, occasioned by the decease of Rev. Dudley A. Tynce. Rev. Mr. P. is a native of this town, and has been highly esteemed and very successful in his labors of love and Christianity.

STATE TAXES. North Carolina has less tax, per capita, than either of her sisters, it being only fifty-two cents for each individual annually—while the tax of the State of Maine, the highest in the list, amounts to three dollars per head. Next in order after Maine, come New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island. The average rate prevailing in eighteen States is $1.72 3/4.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM. There is a movement on foot to apply this to weights and measures, as well as to money throughout the United States. It meets with general favor, and will probably be introduced. It is practicable, and will promote convenience.

The New England Carpet Company of Boston, have four advertisements in our paper of to-day, in which great inducements are offered to purchasers.

SAD ACCIDENT. On Thursday morning last, Joseph Totman of Weymouth, with his son Henry, started in a vehicle to take the first train of cars from this town, but, in descending King Oak Hill, the horse became frightened and ran with violence against the pump near North Weymouth Depot, upsetting the wagon, and instantly killing the young man. The father was not much injured.

TO READERS. The communication relative to the boat race in Boston Harbor, and in reply to "J. Q. A." we are compelled to defer until next week, on account of one of our hands "doing duty" at the military encampment.

GREAT LOSS OF LIFE. The steamer Austria, from Hamburg, was burned at sea, and only sixty seven out of six hundred passengers saved. Some of the survivors have arrived in New York city.

SUDDEN DEATH. James Egan of this town, about sixty years of age, was instantly killed at Newcomb's Ledge, on Saturday last, by some part of the rigging attached to the hoisting apparatus giving way, and throwing him with violence against the rocks. He was an industrious citizen.

SICKNESS. A severe rheumatic attack prevented us from attending the recent Agricultural Fair at Dedham, and discharging the pleasant duty assigned us. We learn that it was very successful. See next week's paper.

FROM THE SAME CAUSE, we could not "obey" the kind invitations of Col. Packard of this town, and W. W. Clapp, Jr., of Boston, to witness the display and enjoy the hospitalities of the muster field. An account of the encampment will be given next week.

COURT AT DEDHAM. The September term of the Court of Common Pleas, Judge Sanger presiding, commenced a session at Dedham, during the present week; the Grand Jury—Lewis Bass of this place, being a member—returned only seventeen indictments, two of which were against Mann and French of this town, for incendiarism.

Messrs. Josiah Baxter and Perez Chubbuck of this town, were the two petit jurors drawn, and they are on the first jury.

Benjamin W. Harris, Esq., of East Bridgewater, the newly appointed District Attorney assumed for the first time the duties of his office in this County.

Albert French of this town, was found guilty on one indictment of setting fire to the "Wing or Apthorpe House," but has not been sentenced.

RE-NOMINATED. The Republicans of the fourth district of this State, have re-nominated upon the tenth ballot, Hon. Linus B. Comins of Roxbury, as their candidate for Congress.

CALIFORNIA ELECTION. The State election has resulted in the success of the Administration Democratic ticket, by six thousand and ten thousand majority. The Legislature will have a large majority of Administration Democrats.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC. The sixty-seventh issue of this annual calendar for 1859, has reached us from the publishers, Messrs. Hocking, Swan & Brewer of Boston. It is a venerable favorite with the public, and regarded as a faithful guide during the year. Besides the usual calculations and calendar, it has a great variety of new, useful and entertaining intelligence.

Deaths.

On the 16th ult., Willie Stewart, son of Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Melora E. Lines, aged 6 weeks.

Again the Saviour calls,
And enters to his fold,
Another of those tender lambs,
Which you would gladly hold.

It was like the tiny rose-bud,
Just opening into life;
Unfolding day by day,
'New beauties to your sight.

But ere the bud had blown,
'Twas broken from the stem,
And carried from your sight,
To grace the spirit realm.

The Autumn winds are sighing,
Around his lowly bed,
The flowers of summer, dying,
That decked his infant head.

He has joined that little band
Of loved ones gone before,
And in the spirit land,
Together roam the shores.

Where living waters flow,
And flowers forever bloom,
'Tis there the little wanderers,
Inhale the rich perfume.

Then do not mourn for him,
For he is happier now,
Than when you held him in your arms,
And bathed his infant brow.

With tears of bitter anguish,
Thinking you soon must part,
With another of those loved ones,
Which twined around your heart.

Farwell then, little Willie,
Till we all meet again,
In that blest land above,
With Jesus Christ to reign.

CLAM CHOWDER. L. A. French serves up to-day and evening, this excellent dish at his Washington Square Saloon.

WE learn that Dea. George Baxter will succeed us in a few days, as Postmaster in this town.

Special Notices.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING. The Democratic citizens of Quincy, are hereby notified to meet at the Lyceum Room, on SAT. URDAY, Oct. 9th, at 7 o'clock, P. M., to choose eight Delegates to attend a Convention to be held at Dedham, on the 12th inst., to nominate a candidate for the Third Congressional District. Also, to select Delegates to attend Conventions, to nominate Senator, Councilor and County Commissioner, etc.

Per Order
GEORGE BAXTER, Chairman.
Quincy, Oct. 2.

AMERICAN REPUBLICAN NOTICE. A meeting of the citizens of Quincy, who are "opposed to the present National Administration, and in favor of the general policy of the present State Administration," will be held at the Lyceum Room, MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 4th, at 7 1/2 o'clock, to choose Delegates to attend Conventions, as follows, viz:—

A Convention to be held at Dedham, Thursday, Oct. 7th, at 11 o'clock, A. M., to nominate a candidate for Representative in the 36th Congress of the United States, from the Third Congressional District.

A Convention to be held to nominate a candidate for Councilor in the Second Council District.

A Convention to be held at Braintree, Wednesday, Oct. 13th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., to nominate a candidate for Senator from the East Norfolk Senatorial District.

A Convention to be held to nominate a candidate for Commissioner for Norfolk County and such other County Officers as are to be elected.

WM. S. MORTON, Chairman Town Com.
H. WALKER, Secretary.
Quincy, Oct. 2.

EAST NORFOLK SENATORIAL DISTRICT. The democratic voters of the East Norfolk senatorial district, comprising the towns of Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth, Milton, Randolph and Stoughton are requested to send delegates to a convention, to be held at Stoughton Hall, on TUESDAY, October 19th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., to select an immediate senator, and attend to such other business as may come before the convention. The basis of representation the same as at the last state convention.

By order of District Committee,
A. A. BELCHER, Chairman.
Randolph, Oct. 2.

EAST NORFOLK DISTRICT SENATORIAL CONVENTION. A Convention of the legal voters of the East Norfolk Senatorial District, comprising the towns of Braintree, Milton, Quincy, Randolph, Stoughton and Weymouth, who are opposed to the present National Administration and the aggression of the Slave Power, and who are in favor of the general policy of the present State Administration, are requested to elect Delegates to a District Convention to be held at the Town House, in Braintree, on WEDNESDAY, Oct. 13th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Senator from said District.

The several towns are requested to send each one delegate, and one additional delegate for every two hundred voters, according to the last State Census.
SAMUEL BARBOCK, } East Norfolk
GEORGE L. GILL, } District
JAMES HUMPHREY, } Senatorial SAMUEL W. CURTIS, } Committee.
JOHN S. LITTLEFIELD,
FRANCIS A. HOBART.

"HOME AGAIN." C. S. French, dentist, of this town, who has been on a visit to his friends and relatives in Maine, for a few weeks past, has just returned home, and is now ready to answer all professional calls. Dr. F. is a skillful and successful dentist, his workmanship equal to any in the city, and his long experience a sure guarantee that work entrusted to him will be faithfully and neatly executed.
Quincy, Oct. 2.

NOTICE. The annual meeting of the Fragment Society will be held at the house of Mrs. Lord, on WEDNESDAY, Oct. 6th, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

It is particularly requested by the Society, that all members and those who wish to become such, will be present with their subscriptions and fines.

A. WHITNEY, Sec'y.
Quincy, Sept. 25.

BUSINESS NOTICE. The subscribers hereby give notice that their places of business will be closed at 8 o'clock every evening (Saturday excepted) from Oct. 4, 1858, to April 1, 1859.

CALDER PACKARD, B. F. MESERVEY, ELBRIDGE CLAPP, F. P. LOUD,
J. F. BURRILL, THOMAS DODDS,
C. GILL & CO., J. W. LOEBARD,
JOHN HOLDEN, JR., J. A. HOLDEN, BRIERLEY & WHITNEY.
Quincy, Sept. 25.

C. Gill & Co. invite attention to their new and large stock of Caps, and black and brown soft Hats. New, fresh, clean, handsome stock.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION. Just published by FEDERICK & Co., Bookellers and Stationers, No. 13 Court Street, Boston, a Brief Treatise of 48 pages, on Diseases of the Sexual System of both sexes—their symptoms and treatment—prepared by a physician of the "Boston Eclectic Hospital." This work also contains a scorching exposure of the deception and imposture practiced by advertising quacks, and some of their names and locations. Sold by periodical dealers generally. Sent by mail, on the receipt of three postage stamps. Address Box 1802, Boston Post Office.
Feb. 27.

C. Gill & Co. give notice to the public, that they have made large additions to their stock of Boots and Shoes, which they have bought for cash, selected with care, and will compare favorably in every respect with any retail stock, of the same amount, anywhere. It has been their object to supply the best goods that could be afforded, for the prices asked, and the increasing patronage bestowed—for which they return their thanks—is evidence that their efforts have been appreciated. They invite everybody to examine their goods, and learn their price; and will guarantee as much, every way, for the same money, as anybody.

Quincy Loan Fund Association.

THE regular monthly meeting, will be held at the Lyceum Room, on WEDNESDAY Evening, Oct. 6th at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of cash on hand for the redemption of shares, six hundred dollars.

LOUIS CONGDON, Sec'y.
Quincy, Oct. 2.

200 Rolls Kidderminster Carpets.

SLIGHTLY imperfect in matching, for 55 cts. per yard. This lot of Carpets are all-wool goods, of superior quality and style, and are believed to be the cheapest lot of Carpets ever offered in this market. The imperfections are scarcely perceptible.

New England Carpet Co.,
75 Hanover Street, opposite American House.
Boston, Oct. 2.

Mount Wollaston Bank.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of this Corporation, for the choice of Directors, and the transaction of any other business, which may properly come before them, will be held in the Banking Rooms, on MONDAY, the Fourth day of October next, at 4 o'clock, P. M. A Dividend of Four per cent. will be payable on and after Monday, Oct. 4th.

By order of the Directors,
LOUIS CONGDON, Cashier.
Quincy, Sept. 18, 1858.

OIL CLOTH CARPETS.

1000 ROLLS for sale at Manufacturers' prices, at wholesale or retail by the

New England Carpet Company,
HANOVER STREET,
Opposite American House, Boston,
October 2.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS. Probate Office, Sept. 25, A.D. 1858.
H. FARNAM SMITH, the Administrator of the Estate of BRYANT B. NEWCOMB, late of Quincy, in said County, Stone Cutter, deceased, having presented his account in his said capacity for allowance.

Ordered, That said Administrator notify all persons interested therein, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be holden in Roxbury, said County, on the Sixteenth day of October, A.D. 1858, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, by publishing this Order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, } Judge of Probate
Oct. 14 } and Insolvency.

GREAT SALE OF ELEGANT CARPETS! Having contracted for 2000 rolls Crossley's celebrated English

TAPESTRY BRUSSELS CARPETS, we shall sell the same for 95 cents per yard, which is but two-thirds the common price of these goods in the leading Carpet

Carpet stores throughout the country.

NEW ENGLAND CARPET COMPANY,
75 Hanover St., (opp. American House).
Boston, Oct. 2.

To the Honorable, the County Commissioners of the County of Norfolk.

THE inhabitants of the town of Braintree, in said County, by their Selectmen duly authorized, respectfully represent, that Franklin street, leading from a point on Washington street, near the carriage manufactory of Warren Mansfield, to West street, in said town, has been so worked for travel, as to render its boundary line disputable, and to require its location anew. They, therefore, pray that your Honorable Board would proceed to view the same and locate it anew, establish its boundary lines, and make such alterations in the course and width thereof, as to your Honorable Board should seem most meet and proper. As in duty bound we ever pray.

DAVID H. BATES, } Selectmen
N. H. HUNT, } and in behalf of PHILIP CURTIS, } said Town.
Braintree, Sept. 1, 1858.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, within and for said County of Norfolk on the fourth Tuesday in September, A.D. 1858.

Ordered, That the Petition aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners, will meet at the Town of Braintree, in said County, on MONDAY, the first day of November next, at ten o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Braintree, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view and meeting, and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, at least before said view, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Braintree, fourteen days at least before said view, and that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear and be heard, if they see fit to do.

Attest: EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Oct. 2.

Freedom Notice.

THE subscriber hereby gives notice that he has relinquished to his son, George L. Miller, Jr., his freedom, and from this date (September 16th, 1858,) shall not demand any of his earnings nor pay any of his debts.

Witness—G. W. FARRINGTON, Sec'y.
Quincy, Sept. 18.

For the Teeth &c.

HARRISON'S Balm of Prairie Flowers—a universal cosmetic for the skin, the hair, the teeth, and the complexion. The Balm is a Great Toilet Luxury, and a certain cure for the bites of insects. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 18.

FLOUR

WHOLESALE PRICES.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,

Direct from the South and West,

Messrs. Faxon, Brothers & Co., of BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.

Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.

HOWARD VINAL,
Quincy, Nov. 10.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners, for said County held at Dedham, in and for said County on the fourth Tuesday of September, A.D. 1858.

Upon the petition of William S. Morton requesting the County Commissioners to lay out the Turnpike ways, draws and bridges of the Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge and the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike corporations, as common highways, in accordance with the provisions of the act of the Legislature approved May 26th, 1857, and to exercise the powers conferred by said act and any other laws enabling them in the premises.

This petition was presented at the meeting of the Commissioners at Dedham, on the 24th of April, 1858, and it was therefore ordered that the Commissioners meet at the Hancock House in Quincy, on the 14th day of June next, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon, and notice having been first given to all persons and corporations interested, the Commissioners met at the place, and on the day designated in said order, when and where the petitioner appeared, and the corporations known as the Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge and Turnpike, and the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike Corporations, appeared and were represented by their respective officers and agents, and said Commissioners then proceeded to view the route described in said petition, and then and there at the regular June meeting of the Commissioners, holden at Dedham, on the 22d of June, 1858, the time to which said case was adjourned and continued, heard all persons and corporations interested and who desired to be heard, and said case was then adjourned and continued to the September meeting of said Commissioners this day holden, and having fully heard all persons and parties interested, said Commissioners adjudge and determine, that under and by virtue of the provisions of the act contained in Chapter 223, of acts of 1857, accepted by the inhabitants of the town of Quincy, at a legal meeting duly held for that purpose, and of other acts enabling them in the premises, the assent of the Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge and Turnpike, and of the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike corporation being had, and their consent to all proceedings having been previously given thereto by vote, the public convenience and necessity require that the turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, of said Corporations be laid out as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and that the Commissioners exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the Commissioners,
SETH MANN 3d.

NORFOLK, SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act upon the subject matter of said adjudication, and of all objections to said proceedings, and to lay out and establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts and take such order, exercise such powers and execute such acts in the premises, as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said adjudication with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the towns of Braintree, Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, upon the President or Clerk or Treasurer of the respective Corporations hereinafter named, viz, the corporation known as the Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge and Turnpike, the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike corporation, the South Shore Railroad Company, the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad Company, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view and meeting, and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, at least before said view, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in Braintree, Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, fourteen days at least before said view, and that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear and be heard, if they see fit to do.

Attest: EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Oct. 2.

Freedom Notice.

THE subscriber hereby gives notice that he has relinquished to his son, George L. Miller, Jr., his freedom, and from this date (September 16th, 1858,) shall not demand any of his earnings nor pay any of his debts.

Witness—G. W. FARRINGTON, Sec'y.
Quincy, Sept. 18.

For the Teeth &c.

HARRISON'S Balm of Prairie Flowers—a universal cosmetic for the skin, the hair, the teeth, and the complexion. The Balm is a Great Toilet Luxury, and a certain cure for the bites of insects. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept. 18.

FLOUR

WHOLESALE PRICES.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,

Direct from the South and West,

Messrs. Faxon, Brothers & Co., of BOSTON,

on the same terms which they receive it, thereby saving the commission usually paid Flour dealers, which enables me to sell at Boston wholesale prices. All in want of Flour of first quality are invited to call.

Also—An Extra Quality of Buckwheat.

HOWARD VINAL,
Quincy, Nov. 10.

AUTUMN AND WINTER.

G. W. Warren, Barry & Co.

HAVE OPENED their NEW GOODS,

All Departments, making a rich show of New Shawls, Mantles and Scarfs, Tailors, Raglans and Cloaks; and all the new fabrics for Ladies' Garments; Plain and Fancy Silks, colors and black.

VELVETS, POPLINS, Irish and French. MERINOS, THIBETS and CASHMERE, plain and printed.

MORNING GOODS, in the greatest variety of fabrics. PRINTED M. DE LAINES & FLANNELS. Plaid and Cross-Over DRESS GOODS, in many new styles.

FRENCH and ENGLISH PRINTS. HOUSEKEEPING GOODS including Blankets and Flannels in large quantities, and Domestic of the best makes.

EMBROIDERIES, LACES AND WHITE GOODS, of all kinds. A large stock of PARIS KID GLOVES, the best article ever received.

Our senior partner having just returned from a visit to all the principal manufacturing districts of Europe, where he has placed our orders directly with the manufacturers for the newest and best fabrics, in styles and colors adapted to our best New England taste, we are prepared to offer, by the Package or at Retail.

THE FINEST STOCK

OF

DRY GOODS!

we have ever had the pleasure of showing to our friends and customers.

IN ALL OUR

Black Silks, Cashmeres, Alpines, and other Fabrics for Mourning,

special care has been taken to order a Pure Black, which will neither Rust, nor Destroy the strength of the Fabric, as the usual dyes are prepared to give weight and finish at the expense of the strength of the material.

OUR STOCK OF Plain and Fancy Black Silks is more complete than ever.

THE NEW STYLES OF SHAWLS AND DRESS GOODS Are more varied and beautiful than usual.

RETAIL ENTRANCE,

192 Washington Street;

WHOLESALE ENTRANCE,

55 & 57 Hawley Street.
Boston, Sept. 25.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator, with the Will annexed of the Estate of

AUTUMN AND WINTER.

G.W. Warren, Barry & Co

HAVE OPENED THEIR NEW GOODS,

IN ALL Departments, making a rich show of New Shawls, Mantles and Scarfs; Talmes, Ruffles and Cuffs; and all the new fashions for Ladies' Gowns; Plain and Fancy Silks, colors and black.

VELVETS; POPLINS, Irish and French, MERINOS, THIBETS and CASHMERS, plain and printed.

MORNING GOODS, in the greatest variety of fabrics.

PRINTED M. DE LAINES & FLANNELS, Plain and Cross-Over DRESS GOODS, in many new styles.

FRENCH and ENGLISH PRINTS.

HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS including Blankets and Flannels in large quantities, and Domestic of the best makes.

EMBROIDERIES, LACES and WHITE GOODS, of all kinds.

And 1000 Dozen PARIS KID GLOVES—the latest article ever received.

Our senior partner having just returned from a visit to all the principal manufacturing centers of Europe, where he has secured orders directly with the manufacturers for the newest and best fabrics, in styles and colors adapted to our best New England taste, we are prepared to offer, by the package or at Retail,

THE FINEST STOCK

DRY GOODS!

we have ever had the pleasure of showing to our friends and customers.

IN ALL OUR

Black Silks, Cashmeres, Alpines, and other Fabrics for Mourning,

special care has been taken to order a Pure Black, which will neither Rust, nor destroy the strength of the fabric, as the usual cheap dyes are prepared to do, and which wash at the expense of the strength of the material.

OUR STOCK OF

Plain and Fancy Black Silks

is more complete than ever.

THE NEW STYLES OF SHAWLS AND DRESS GOODS

Are more varied and beautiful than usual.

RETAIL ENTRANCE,

192 Washington Street;

WHOLESALE ENTRANCE,

55 & 57 Hanley Street.

Boston, Sept. 25. 5w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned, who has been appointed Administrator, with the Will annexed of the Estate of

SAMUEL FRENCH, 24,

late of Boston, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and that they will receive and examine the claims of the creditors of said estate at the office of Edward L. Pierce, Esq., at Lower Mills, on the first day of October, December, and January next, respectively; at which times all persons having claims against said estate are requested to present them for payment.

JOSEPH A. ARNOLD,

Administrator with the Will annexed.

Boston, Sept. 25, 1858. 3w

Notice!

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned, who has been appointed by the Court of Probate, Commissioner of Insolvency on the estate of

ALBERT E. STETSON,

late of Boston, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and that they will receive and examine the claims of the creditors of said estate at the office of Edward L. Pierce, Esq., at Lower Mills, on the first day of October, December, and January next, respectively; at which times all persons having claims against said estate are requested to present them for payment.

EDWARD L. PIERCE, Commissioner.

Boston, Sept. 25, 1858. 6w

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

PHILIP TORREY,

And all persons having claims upon the Estate of the said deceased are requested to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to LUKE TORREY, Executor.

Weymouth, Sept. 18. 3w

Quincy Stone Bank.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders in this Bank, for a number of Directors, and any other legal business, will be held at the Bank, on TUESDAY, October 5th, 1858, at 10 o'clock, P. M.

JOHN C. RANDALL, Cashier.

Quincy, Sept. 18. 3w

Hingham and Quincy

Bridge and Turnpike Corporation.

THE proprietors of this Corporation are hereby notified that their Annual Meeting will be held at the "Hancock House," in Quincy, on TUESDAY, the 5th day of October next, at one o'clock, P. M., for the choice of Officers; also, to receive what action the Corporation will take on the petition of the Weymouth Iron Company; and for the transaction of such other business as may come before them.

By order of the Directors.

JOSEPH R. BRACKETT, Clerk.

Quincy, Sept. 18. 3w

$200 REWARD.

THE above reward of Two Hundred dollars will be given by the subscriber to any one who shall bring the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who set fire to any Out-Buildings, upon the Fourth of Sept. 1858, any time between this date and the First of Jan. 1859.

S. A. APPLETON.

Quincy, Sept. 25, 1858. 4w

Horses for Sale.

FOR sale by the subscriber one Black Horse, ten years old, weight 1000 pounds, sound and kind in any business, a good serviceable work horse and a very fair traveler.

One Saddle Horse, seven years old, weight 900 pounds, and is a fine Carriage Horse.

Both of the above named will be sold low.

HOWARD VINAL.

Quincy, Sept. 18. 4w

Removal.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS REMOVED TO

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,

Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.,

Where he will continue to keep his usual large and well selected stock of

Plain and Fancy Silks,

Shawls, Dress Goods of every variety,

Domestic and Housekeeping Goods,

Gloves, Hosiery, Trimmings,

Embroideries and Fancy Goods, &c.

GENTS' AND BOYS' CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS!!

Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, &c., &c.

Removal.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS REMOVED TO

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,

Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.,

Where he will continue to keep his usual large and well selected stock of

Plain and Fancy Silks,

Shawls, Dress Goods of every variety,

Domestic and Housekeeping Goods,

Gloves, Hosiery, Trimmings,

Embroideries and Fancy Goods, &c.

GENTS' AND BOYS' CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS!!

Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, &c., &c.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

FURNITURE

Constantly on hand. Mattresses and Featherbeds of every quality. Carpets, Paper Hangings, Crockery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, all of which will be offered at

Very Low Prices for Cash.

He takes this opportunity to thank the citizens of this and neighboring towns for the very liberal patronage which they have given him, and would be happy to see them at his new location, where he will offer such inducements as will secure their continued and increased patronage.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Jan 23. 4w

DAVID B. STETSON

WOULD inform his friends and the public that he has

Returned to his Old Stand,

few rods East of the Stone Temple,

which has been

REMODELLED AND ENLARGED

expressly for his business.

Where he will keep a good assortment of

WEST INDIA GOODS, FAMILY PROVISIONS, GROCERIES, BOOTS AND SHOES, FANCY GOODS, TOYS, CONFECTIONERY, RUSSIA SALVE, and all the popular Medicines, Essences, Flavoring Extracts, &c. A good assortment of

CROCKERY, GLASS, AND

Wooden Ware.

Just received a fresh lot of the improved Rosemary.

A share of public patronage is solicited.

Quincy, June 12. 4w

FRANCIS P. LOUD

WOULD respectfully inform the Citizens of Quincy, that he has taken the Store formerly occupied by the late George B. Nightingale,

In the rear of the Stone Temple,

where he has on hand and intends keeping a

A FULL ASSORTMENT

OF

WORSTED FOR EMBROIDERY,

Patterns of all kinds, and a

General Assortment of Fancy Articles.

ALSO

Ladies' & Children's Ready Made

CLOTHES,

Dress Trimmings, Corsets, Head

Dresses, the best of Spool Cotton,

Sewing Silk, Embroidery Silk,

Shirts and Shirt Bosoms, Overalls,

Cravats, Collars, &c., &c.

ALSO—A large assortment of

CONFECTIONERY, NUTS, &c.

N. B. Stetson died on Order.

Quincy, Sept. 11. 4w

NEW STORE.

NO. 5 TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON.

Having refitted and remodelled this

MAMMOTH STORE,

DESIRE to call the attention of the public (Ladies in particular,) to their new and elegant stock of

RICH FALL SILKS,

SHAWLS, CAPES, CLOAKS,

CLOAKINGS AND VELVETS,

RICH AND NEW STYLES.

VALENTIAS,

DELAINES, CASHMERS,

TRIMMINGS,

DOMESTIC GOODS, &c.

We are constantly receiving Goods from New York Auctions, and are enabled to give to the public some decided bargains, particularly in Silks, and Shawls.

A new and novel style of Fall and Winter Cloak just received.

BLAKE & CO.,

5 TREMONT ROW,

Opposite head of Hanover street.

Boston, Sept 18. 3m

No. 9 TREMONT ROW.

NAY & MCCLURE

would call the attention of ladies to their

ELEGANT STOCK OF

New Fall Silks!

ALSO

SHAWLS, CAPES, VELVETS,

Fall and Winter Fashions for 1858

Just received by

JOHN DINEGAN,

Hancock St., a few rods from

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

ALSO

New Styles of Fancy Cassimeres & Vestings

CONSISTING OF

Velvets, Silks and Satins

ALSO

A CHOICE SELECTION

OF—

French, English & German

BLACK AND COLORED

BROADCLOTHS and DOESKINS

which will be

MADE TO ORDER in the LATEST STYLE.

Quincy, Sept. 11. 4w

FASHIONABLE

Tailoring Establishment

J. W. LOMBARD,

HAS taken rooms over the store of E. Clapp,

(formerly occupied by Mr. J. M. Beckford), and is now ready to receive his friends and the public generally that he intends to carry on

THE TAILORING BUSINESS.

In all its branches, and hopes by punctuality and strict attention to business to merit a share of patronage.

JOS. W. LOMBARD.

Quincy, Apr 18. 4w

C. DODDS.

Has got a Very Fine Assortment of

PANT and VEST GOODS,

ADAPTED FOR SPRING & SUMMER.

CALL AND SEE.

Quincy Apr 18. 4w

Cut this out and keep it for Reference.

Great Chance to Save Money!!

BY HAVING YOUR CLOTHES MADE BY

C. A. COLLINS,

203 Washington Street,

Cor. Broadfield street, up stairs.

REASONS WHY. 1st. My rent is less than any Custom Tailor in Boston.

2. I buy my Goods for Cash, taking advantage of the markets.

3. I sell my Goods for Cash only.

4. I make no bad debts for Customers to pay for.

5. I work for the interest of my Customers.

Gentlemen can depend on having Garments which for style, fit, and trimming, and finished work, cannot be surpassed.

I pay particular attention to making Pants, being the most difficult of all Garments to fit nicely and at the same time be perfectly easy.

My Pants are cut by a system original with myself, and need by no other person. I warrant my Pants to retain their shape at the knee till worn out, and to fit handsome and be easy in every particular.

Some of the Prices.

I sell a new Frock or Dress Coat, from German black or colored Broad Cloth, made to order, for from

$15 to $23

Black German Doe Pants, 5 to 8

Silk and other style Pants, 5 to 8

Best quality Silk Vests, 4 to 5

Cloth, Valencia and Plaid Vests, 2 1/2 to 3

Business Coats, 9 to 13

Spring and Fall Over-Coats, 10 to 15

Winter Over-Coats, 12 to 20

Where gentlemen furnishing their own Cloths, I make and trim it for them into Garments in the best styles, at less prices than any other Tailor in Boston.

Always on hand the newest and best goods of all the manufacturers of this and foreign countries.

CHESTER A. COLLINS,

203 Washington street, corner Broadfield street, (Up stairs.) BOSTON.

Well known as the place to SAVE MONEY.

July 17. 4w

LATER FROM EUROPE!!

OR

NEUVE

Greater Importance!

FROM THE CELEBRATED

Cash Clothing House,

OF

JACKMAN & HERRILL,

Nos. 29 and 30 Block square,

BOSTON.

FORMERLY

Messrs. Keith & Thornton.

THE Handsome Spring Styles to be found in the city is manufactured at this Establishment.

WHOLESALE OR RETAIL.

Buyers are informed that of conducting business is FOR CASH—buying and selling—and they may also expect the worth of their money. We guarantee good Goods and protect in prices.

Boston May 1. 4w

Are you Nervous?

DODGE'S NERVE is a

CARPETS,

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

GREAT SALE OF

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths!

CURTAINS, CURTAIN FIXTURES,

RUGS, MATS, &c., AT THE

BOSTON CARPET CO'S

120 Hanover Street,

Second door from Friend Street, (Up Stairs,) BOSTON.

READ the following prices and draw your

Poetry.

A Mother's Kiss.

A child whose infancy was joy,
A little boy of noble mien,
Now tossing gaily many a toy,
Now romping through the garden green—
His parents' blue-eyed little pet,
He tripped one morn and down he fell;
His mother cried, "Come, Willie, let Me kiss the spot and make it well."

A mother's kiss hath power to cure;
Her love is balm for every wound;
Her gentle smile, her words so pure,
Can heal the bruise and make its sound;
And if there come a bruised heart,
And bitter tears arise and swell,
A mother's love still soothes the smart—
A mother's kiss will make it well.

What matter if the world forget
To praise us for the good we do,
Or, if it never pays the debt
Which to our truthfulness is due!
A mother's sympathy is ours—
Wherever on the earth we dwell;
Though gone forever childhood's hours,
The mother kiss still makes us well!

My mother's hair is gray, and mine
Is lightly touched with silver streaks;
I am a full grown man—but Time
Has deeply marked my mother's cheeks;
Yet still her darling kiss is warm
Upon my brow imprinted well;
Though all my life it is a charm,
My mother's kiss 't will make me well.

From infancy until to-day,
In sickness, sorrow and mistrust,
Her gentle words drive care away
And lift my spirit from the dust.
She tells me that the angels call,
That she must go with God to dwell;
My mother's kiss 't will make me well,
No mother's kiss will make me well.

Mormon Love Song.

Say, Susan, wilt thou come with me
In sweet community to live?
Of heart, and hand, and home, to thee
A sixteenth part I'll freely give.
Of all the love that swells my breast,
Of all the honor of my name,
Of worldly wealth by me possessed,
A sixteenth portion thou shalt claim.

Nay, tell me not too many share
The blessings that I offer thee;
Thou'lt find fifteen others there,
A household happy, gay and free.

A moderate house, I may say;
My neighbor has as many more,
And brother Brigham o'er the way
Luxuriates in forty four.

I promise thee a life of ease,
And for thyself I'll let thee choose
Such duties as thy fancy please;
Say, Susan, canst thou still refuse?

Sephorah comes and sweeps the floors,
And Hepzibah makes up the beds,
Jemima answers all the doors,
And Prudence combs the children's heads.

The household duties all devolve
On each according to her lot;
But from such labors I'll absolve
My Susan, if she likes them not.

Into thy hands such tasks as take
A dignity, I'll consign;
I'll let thee black my boots, or make
The sock and shirt department thine.

I'll give thee whatso'er thou wilt—
'T is but a sixteenth part;
'T would be the deepest debt of guilt
To slight the rest who share my heart.

Then with thou not thy fraction yield
To make up my domestic bliss?
Say yes—and let our joy be sealed
With just the sixteenth of a kiss.

Happy Old Age.

Oh, it helps our patience,
Of the loads we bear,
So to see her sitting
Folded by our fireside,
Careless of all care.

Sacred from temptations,
Sinnings and confessions,
Nothing nearer labor
Than to give excessings,
Nothing nearer duty
Than to count her blessings!

Anecdotes.

Doctor, kin you tell me how it is that some folks are born dumb? Why, certainly, madam, replied the doctor; it is owing to the fact that they came into the world without the power of speech.

La, me; remarked the old lady, now just see what it is to have a physical education. I've axed my "old man" to make more nor a hundred times that are some thing, and all I could ever get out of him was,

"Kase they are."

Well, I'm glad I axed you, for I never should have died satisfied without knowin' it.

The other day a Yankee gave a beggar woman a couple of cents.

"Two cents!" exclaimed she, take them sir; I asked for charity; I can't do anything with two cents.

My dear madam, said the polite donor, I beg you'll keep the cents and give them to some poor person.

"This temment to let; enquire next door." The place was in a dilapidated, wretched condition. Our friend, however, enquired the rent, &c. These particulars gained, he asked—

Do you let anything with it?
No, was the reply; why do you ask?
Because, said the wit, if you let it alone, it will tumble down!

I don't believe it's any use, this vaccination, said a Yankee.

I had a child vaccinated, and he fell out of the winder a week arter, and got killed!

DRUGS
AND MEDICINES!

C. C. JOHNSON,

WOULD respectfully inform the inhabitants

of Quincy and vicinity, that he has opened

A NEW DRUG STORE,

IN

GOODMAN'S BUILDING,

(Formerly occupied by Dr. J. Marden) where he will be happy to wait upon all who may favor

him with their patronage, day or night.

His Stock and Fixtures are entirely new, and

his Medicines have been selected with great care,

and are warranted pure and genuine.

Mr. J. J. Johnson's Articles are all fresh, as are his Herbs, and his Tinctures and Syrups

have all been manufactured since his arrival here,

and can be depended upon by physicians and others

as being of the proper value and purity.

His Stock of Chemicals is large, and comprises all the varieties usually found in a well-conducted Apothecary Store. Of Patent Medicines,

his Stock is large and varied, and will be enlarged from time to time, as new articles appear.

Of Perfumeries, Fancy Articles, Cigars, &c., a large variety of which he can sell as cheap as a cash store article can be purchased elsewhere.

With his large assortment of Drugs and Chemicals, Mr. Johnson is prepared to compound

Physicians' Prescriptions,

as well and accurately as they can be prepared

in any city in the United States.

Mr. J. J. Johnson has a strict attention to business, to merit a share of public patronage.

Quincy, Oct. 24

C. C. JOHNSON.

if

Apothecary Store.

DR. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to his many friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared

Rhubarb, Fennel, Compound

Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oatmeal, Corn Starch, Broom, &c.

Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Glass

Pipes and bulbs, patent Nursing Shirts, Tubes, and Bottles, special Plasters, and

Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mitters, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Leeches always on hand.

Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and

attention.

He is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington St., rear of Stone Temple.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

4511

Hall's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant

and agreeable to the taste, and adapts it to action, causing neither vomiting nor purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease, regulates the bowels, removes all vitiated secre-

DR. S. STOCKING,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs.)

Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,

BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on

the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing,

regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what

are called modern improvements in Dentistry,

whatever is of real value, and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty five years of close application to the duties of the profession he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession,

whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth, and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, though honest in their intentions, and uniting in their efforts, is not to be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are based, or the want of experience and ingenuity

to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth,—a process of

great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, as any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where

correct taste and sound judgment are required

in combination with skill and mechanism. There is, however, still another item embraced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of permanent importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering ether for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be improperly filled, and even ruined,—artificial ones

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made,—but neither the nor the health is thereby endangered. Not so

in the administration of ether. It is an agent

that should be confined to the care and control

of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration,

though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best method.

Ether should be so administered as to prevent the air from entering the lungs, and to keep the throat in the position of a closed tube. Not so in the laws of chemical combination in the process of respiration. The natural consequence

of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and fantasy, if nothing worse, than etherization with a dressing, head-ache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All those effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr.

Stocking, who gives special attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth,

preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets.

Boston, May 22

6m

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSUR-ANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable

terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household-ers, Traders,

Merchants, and all Owners of property not extraordinarily exposed, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TREASURER,

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

SECRETARY,

STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,

Quincy, Milton,

Charles Brock,

Dorchester,

H. W. Blanchard,

Cohasset,

Solomon J. Beal,

Hingham,

Ebeneszer Gay,

Boston,

South Hingham,

Alfred H. Henshaw,

North Bridgewater,

Sumner A. Hayward,

Barnstable,

George Marston,

Dedham,

Jonathan A. Cobb

References, by permission:

Hos. GEORGE T. BIGLOW of Boston,

Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,

Hos. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,

Hos. SAMUEL MAGLIERE of Randolph,

Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,

Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., of

Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,

Quincy, April 1.

Lard Oil.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers a prime article of Lard Oil, cheap for cash. GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Nov. 29

6m

Island Balm.

DR. HARRISON'S Island Balm; and Pericultural Lotions. Also—Dr. Norman's

Painful Balm of Fir Paste

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy March 28

6m

Cider Vinegar.

GALLONS of pure Cider Vinega-

just received and for sale low by

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Dec. 6

6m

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings

and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25

6m

Neat's Foot Oil.

OF the best quality, for sale by

D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 27

6m

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and

for sale cheap for cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Feb. 28

6m

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings

and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25

6m

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings

and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25

6m

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings

and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25

6m

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings

and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25

6m

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings

and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25

6m

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles

Poetry.

The Ophan Boy.
BY CHARLES SWAIN.

The room is cold,—the night is cold,—
But night is dearer far than day;
For then, in dreams, to him it seems,
That she's returned who's gone away!
His tears are past,—he clasps her fast,—
Again she holds him on her knee;
And,—in his sleep,—he murmurs deep,
Oh! Mother, go no more from me!

But morning breaks, the child awakes,—
The dreamer's happy dream hath fled;
The fields look sear, and cold, and drear,
Like orphans, mourning Summer dead!
The wild birds spring, on shivering wing,
Or, cheerless, chirp from tree to tree;
And still he cries, with weeping eyes,
Oh! Mother dear, come back to me!

Can no one tell where angels dwell?
—He's called them oft till day grew dim;
He's called them,—and they could hear,—
He thinks they'd bring her back to him!
Oh! angels sweet, conduct my feet,
He cries, where'er her home may be;
Oh! lead me on to where she's gone,
Or bring my mother back to me!

Thunder!

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
When he hath headless hit his head,
Thunder!

Or who, when shaven in morning cold,
Hath gashed his chin with razor old,
And could this powerful word withhold,
Thunder!

Or who on ice, or slippery stone,
Hath fallen and prised his "cray bone,"
And not exclaimed, with angry tone,
Thunder!

When one's suspenders give away,
While dancing leads with ladies gay,
Where is the man can help but say,
Thunder!

'Tis a convenient interjection,
To use at news of lost election,
Depending on a party question,
Thunder!

Or when one's notes or bills fall due,
And banks are hard, and won't renew,
In saying this there's comfort true,
Thunder!

Or when one's bent on writing rhymes,
And tries in vain a hundred times,
How well this word with any rhymes,
Thunder!

In short, when things have gone past bearing,
All who shreds one's patience tearing,
Say this—'tis better far than crying—
Thunder!

Trip Lightly.

Trip lightly over trouble,
Trip lightly over wrong,
We only make grief double
By dwelling on it long.
Why chide o'er blunders so lightly?
Why sigh o'er blunders so lightly?
Why cling to forms unrightly?
Why not to forms unjustly?

Trip lightly over sorrow,
Though this day may be dark,
The sun may shine to-morrow,
And gladden you the lark;
Fair hope has not departed,
Though roses may have fled;
Then never be down-hearted,
But look for joy instead.

Trip lightly over sadness,
Stand not to rail at doom,
We've pearls to string of gladness,
On this side of the tomb;
While stars are nightly shining,
And heaven is overhead,
Encourage not repining,
But look for joy instead.

We Live in Hope.

We live in hope that better times
Are quickly dawning near,
And think the next glad Christmas chimes
Will bring a happier year;
And though that one be fraught with care,
We build our trust upon;
Yet with the next a smile we wear,
And still keep walking on.

We live in hope; though clouds appear,
They linger but a day;
The sun, to us a gift so dear,
Will scatter them away;
Thus life is but an April shower,
And troubles are but rain;
And hope, the sun, that in an hour
Will bring us joy again.

Anecdotes.

Frank says one student to another, whom he caught swinging a scythe most lustily, in a field of stout herbage, what makes you work for a living? A fellow with your talent and ability should not be caught engaged in manual labor. I mean to get my living by my wits.

Well, Billy, you can work with duller tools than I can.

It is very difficult to live, said a widow, with several girls, all in general poverty. You must husband your time, said a sage friend.

I'd rather husband my daughters, answered the poor lady.

A gentleman on taking a book to be bound was asked whether he would have it done in Russia?

Oh, no, he replied, Russia is too far off. I will have it done here.

I don't design to say any thing against the person in question, said a very polite gentleman; but I would merely remark, in the language of the poet, that to him, truth is stranger than fiction.

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing.

SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKETS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING.

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

T. Dodds, MERCHANT TAILOR, HANCOCK STREET, NEARLY OPPOSITE POST OFFICE Quincy, April 18.

NATHANIEL WHITE, LUMBER, Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood, QUINCY CANAL WHARF. July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Counsellor at Law, Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK. Weymouth, Mass. Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH, Attorneys at Law, Room No. 3, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON. GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH. May 20.

ATTENTION. The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE DOORS BLINDS

SASHES, &c. &c., Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be had by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of BUILDING MATERIALS, we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS, NAILS,

SHEET LEAD, FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES, DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS, &c. &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety.

ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

LOCKS;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS.

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate, STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—towel's improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fasteners.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best thing ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET. Quincy, Jan 23

On Manhood,

AND ITS PREMATURE DECLINE.

Just Published, Gratis, the 20th Thousand.

A few words on the rational treatment, without Medicines, of Seminal Emission, or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impediments to Marriage generally, by

B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact the many alarming complaints, on account of the imprudence and violence of you may be easily relieved WITHOUT MEDICINE, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure HIMSELF perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, 88 East 31st Street, New York City.

New York May 1

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY, HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, is

JOHNSON'S BUILDING.

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches,

Fob, Curb and Vest Chains,

LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,

Gents' Pins and Studs,

FINGER RINGS.

Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,

Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep

LARGER STOCK

than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted.

Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.

(33-Collin Plates Engraved.)

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.

Quincy Oct 24

GROCERIES, FLOUR,

AND

PROVISIONS

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call

and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and

Provisions, where they will find a

Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store,

which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices.

A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound.

50 Tubs of prime dry Butter.

200 Bushels of Clean and Long Red Potatoes.

By the use of his Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.

(33-Goods delivered to any part of the Town

free of expense.

H. VINAL,

at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers.

Quincy, Oct. 27.

Salt Pork.

4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by

DANIEL BAXTER & Co

Quincy, Sept. 27.

Salt Pork.

FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by

the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for cash.

GEORGE L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK.

FIRST quality of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscribers—which he will sell at the lowest market price.

H. VINAL,

Quincy, Jan. 10.

Are you Nervous?

DODD'S NERVE is a positive medicine of repose—calms the agitated mind—relieves the nervous system—induces quiet sleep—restores the system. It contains NO OPIUM,

Mercury, or other poisonous mineral or herb. The feebles mind, wife, or mother, will find it ALWAYS beneficial. It does not produce constiness, but relieves it, being the best remedy for Nervous

Diseases now known. Price $1.00.

WILSON, FAIRBANKS, & CO., Boston, Mass.

Wholesale Agents.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent.

Quincy, June 26

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the cure of itching of Chapped Hands, Tan,

Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions,

&c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25.

WEXMOUTH LANDING, May, 16.

COMPLETE Dental Establishment.

DRS. CUMMINGS & FLAGG. SURGEON DENTISTS.

25 Tremont Street, (op stairs,) Boston.

DRS. C. & F., having had extensive experience in every branch of practical and scientific

Dentistry, and being conversant with the best known methods and latest improvements in the profession, feel qualified to perform all operations in a manner highly satisfactory to patients, and reflecting credit upon themselves.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH. By the improved principle of Atmospheric Pressure, teeth, from one to an entire set, are inserted firmly and beautifully, without the use of springs or clasps. A very beautiful specimen of Plate work, on gold, silver and platinum, are on exhibition at our Rooms, which, for taste, style and durability,

we believe cannot be surpassed.

EXTRACTING TEETH. In this important and difficult branch of the profession, great care is taken to render the operation the least painful. By the application of a powerful agent, of dental operation is performed with comparatively little pain. This new process of extracting teeth has been in use nearly two years,

and we feel confident in recommending it to our patrons and the public, as lessening in a great measure the dread which has heretofore existed, of dental operation. In some cases it entirely removes pain, while, in almost all instances, it does much to contribute to the comfort of patients. The application of ether, which is entirely painless, is administered to those who desire it.

FILLING TEETH. This is the most difficult operation the dental practitioner is ever called upon to perform. It often times baffles the skill of operators who have been in practice

many years. It is also, when well performed,

the most certain and only remedy that can be applied for the cure of decayed teeth. But, if effective, it must be executed in the most thorough and perfect manner. The preservation of a tooth, when well filled, and with agent to material, if it be afterwards kept constantly clean, may be regarded as certain. At any rate, it will never again be attacked in the same place by disease.

By the use of the new preparation of Crysta-lized Gold, teeth not only arrested from decay, and partially saved, but veritably restored to the form, color and utility of the original structure. By a wonderful property of gold, the metal, in its crystalline or precipitated state, by peculiar manipulation, passes from a pulverilent to a cohesive and solid mass, the same as any of the solid metals, and is perfectly adapted to fill the cavity of a tooth, and even to restore its shape, as substantially as if it were cast.

The proprietors of this complete dental establishment will always be pleased to give their advice on the care and preservation of the teeth of children and adults, and the result of their long experience in cases requiring the opinion of practical scientific dentists.

Boston, Oct 31

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH

SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving,

and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS

WHITE AND SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURN,

CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes where a

Heating and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL,

Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.

C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent

Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy Aug 22

Just received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for lay.

H. VINAL.

Quincy, June 26

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, select ed with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared

Barley, Farina

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16th, 1858.

NUMBER XLII.

DR. S. STOCKING, DENTAL SURGEON.

No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs),
Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,
BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleaning, regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what are called modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty years of close application to the duties of the profession he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession, whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, though honest in their intentions, and uniting in their efforts, is not to be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are based, or the want of experience and ingenuity to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth, a process of great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially with the use of sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item embraced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering ether for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be properly filled, and even rained, artificial ones may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made; but neither life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so in the administration of ether. It is an agent that should be confined to the care and control of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium. Ether should be administered so as to prevent the air once breathed from entering the lungs a second time. The reason for this has its foundation in the laws of chemical combination in the process of respiration. The natural consequence of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness, or, in some cases, during exhalation, with a disagreeable headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr. Stocking, who gives special attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth, preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets. Boston, May 22 6m

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Merchants, Householders, Traders, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Israel W. Munroe, Thomas C. Webb,
Whitcomb Porter, Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Reed,
William B. Duggan, Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
Boston, Albert Thompson, Alfred Loring,
Randolph, Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,
South Danvers, Sumner A. Hayward, Apollon Hamlet, George Clarkson,
Bedford, Jonathan A. Cobb

References, by permission:
HON. GEORGE T. HIGGINS of Boston,
HON. JOSHUA QUINCY, JR. of Boston,
HON. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
HON. JAMES MANTON of Randolph,
HON. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
HON. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy,
JOSHUA BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE, Washington Square, Quincy, near Stone Temple, Quincy, April 1.

Lard Oil.

JUST received and for sale by the subscriber a prime article of Lard Oil, cheap for cash. GEO. L. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Nov. 29

Iceland Balsam.

DR. HARRISON'S Iceland Balsam, and Peruvian Balsam, also Dr. HARRISON'S Peruvian Balsam of Fir Tree. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy March 28

Cider Vinegar.

300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar, just received and for sale low by GEO. L. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Dec. 6

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION

Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers. Railroad Village, JOSHUA HARBORCK. West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE. Milton, CHARLES BRICK. Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON. Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY. Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY. South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER. Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

The Hunter's Reward.

In the spring of 1790, two young men, George Dill and Peter Brown, both carpenters, launched a small boat on the Monongahela, and having supplied themselves with an ample stock of provisions and ammunition, dropped down the river on an exploring and hunting expedition. They proceeded unimpeded down the Ohio several hundred miles below Wheeling, where they landed, on the Kentucky side, and erected a cabin of poles, which they covered with small branches and moss. It was situated a short distance from the river's bank, near a good spring, among tall and heavy timber. After storing their effects, consisting of cooking utensils, a few mechanical implements, several blankets, and some wearing apparel, into the cabin, they shouldered their rifles, and, accompanied by two trusty dogs, betook themselves to the woods.

Being aware that this section of country was sometimes visited by bands of hostile Indians, either to kill game or attack boats descending the river, the young hunters kept a sharp lookout, lest they should be surprised by a superior force. Game was abundant, and they had the good fortune to kill several deer during their first excursion. After three or four days' absence they returned, laden with skins and meat, to their hut, and found the premises undisturbed. By ascending a small knoll in the vicinity of their moss-covered cabin, they had a clear view of the river and could see any boats that might be passing, whilst the high grass and underbrush afforded them a hiding-place, where they could conceal themselves completely from observation.

A month had passed, and neither friend or foe had appeared, and the hunters continued their excursions and penetrated farther into the interior, where they found a beautiful country, with a rich soil and fine streams. On one occasion, they had been absent ten days, and on returning to their cabin again, found everything in the condition in which they had left it. They now began to congratulate themselves upon their peaceful and undisturbed occupancy of the country. Their dogs, however, appeared much excited, and kept moving about for some time, as if they were scenting something unusual, but at length entered the cabin and composed themselves. Dill supposed that some wild animal had recently passed along, but Brown was strongly impressed with the belief that their habitation was discovered. Before starting on their next trip, Brown so arranged some of the articles in the cabin, without mentioning it to Dill, that the slightest touch would change their position sufficiently to enable him to detect it. The weather had now become warm, and after being out several days Brown proposed they would return to the cabin; Dill remonstrated for some time, but eventually assented, and they agreed to start on their return trip early the next morning, so as to avoid the heat of the day, having some eight or ten miles to travel.

About a quarter of a mile inland from their cabin, in a small open space, our adventurers had planted a few hills of corn and squashes, which soon came up, but received no further attention. In returning that morning, they digressed a little from their direct course for the purpose of looking a little at their "truck patch." Immediately after they arrived there, their dogs exhibited unmistakable signs of alarm. Brown observed it, and immediately communicated his suspicions that all was not right to his comrade. After some consultation, it was agreed that Dill should conceal himself in the underbrush, and keep one of the dogs with him, whilst Brown would take the other and advance toward the cabin. When within about thirty rods from the cabin, and after reconnoitering the vicinity, he motioned to Dill to come on, and the two, with their rifles at a trail, and the dogs at their heels, approached the cabin together. Ingathering over the effects in the cabin, Brown discovered that somebody had been there during their absence, which vindicated his suspicions, and in his opinion, accounted for the strange conduct of the dogs, on the former as well as on the present occasion. The ground around the hut was examined for footprints, but none could be discovered; Dill then went to examine their boat, which they had run into the mouth of a creek a short distance below, and secured there—it was safe, and had not been disturbed.

In the evening, measures were taken for defense, should an attack be made in the course of the night—but the hunters were not molested. At the dawn of day they seized their rifles and repaired to the knoll in the rear of the cabin, and there concealed themselves, intending to remain there during the day, unless circumstances should arise making it necessary for them to alter their resolution. They lay quiet until the afternoon, and began to think they had been unnecessarily alarmed, when they espied a female, with no other clothing than a calico skirt, reaching from her middle to a little below the knees, approaching the cabin with cautious steps. A single glance sufficed to convince them that, whoever or whatever she might be, she was not an Indian squaw; and as soon as she had entered the cabin, Brown approached it alone and unarmed, so as not to alarm her or frighten her away. He walked leisurely forward, with his hands crossed on his back—and when the female saw him, she threw up both arms, and uttered a wild scream, but did not attempt to run. Brown addressed her kindly, and she awaited his approach without speaking a word until he was within several yards of her, when she told him, in a few words, that she had been a captive among the Indians, from whom she had just escaped, and with tears in her eyes asked his aid and protection.

Dill then left his place of concealment, and took both rifles on his shoulder, and went to the cabin. The three then sat down on a log together, and the female related her story, which was listened to with great interest by both the hunters.

She was the daughter of a wealthy planter in Virginia, and had been taken captive the preceding fall, and carried, first to Chillicothe, and afterwards to Sandusky, where she was adopted into the family of an Indian, who had two sons and two daughters, who generally treated her kindly. Several weeks prior to her escape, this family had come to the Ohio river in search of game and plunder, and had encamped several miles above, where the men constructed a light canoe, and crossed to the Kentucky side, leaving the women alone at the camp.

After their return in the evening, she gathered from their conversation that there were white men not far off. They crossed over the river a second time, and on coming into the camp the next evening, held a council about some matter apparently of great importance to them. The next morning, the men started early in the direction of Chillicothe, charging the women to remain about the camp until their return; and it was her opinion they had gone for reinforcements to attack the white men whom they had discovered. During their absence she formed the resolution of attempting an escape, and managed to separate herself from her companions and jumped into the canoe the men had constructed, and rowing for life, soon reached the Kentucky shore. After wandering about for three days, she discovered "the hunters' hut," and then withdrew, resolved to watch for the owners, and if they were friends, as she doubted not they would prove to be, to cast herself upon their kind protection. Her name she gave as Sallie Green, the only daughter of Richard Green, of Virginia.

The hunters had a pretty good supply of wearing apparel left, from which Sallie was directed to select such articles as were most suitable, and make them into a dress for herself, which she promptly did, and the next day had herself decently clad. Being barefoot, Dill presented her with a pair of shoes and socks, which, though much too large for her feet, became of great service to her afterwards.

What was now to be done? It was quite manifest that the party's situation was unsafe. The Indians had discovered them, and would undoubtedly attack them before many days. The warm sun had opened the seams of their boat, and it was leaky and unfit for use. The river was at a low ebb, and it was not likely that any boats would descend the river on which they might secure a passage to some of the settlements below. After full deliberation, it was resolved to attempt escape from their perilous situation by land, and endeavor to reach the border settlements of Virginia. They would be obliged to leave their few implements and stack of skins behind—but what were these compared to their own lives, which would be jeopardized by remaining much longer?

A little of their stock of meal still remained, and they had sufficient supply of jerked venison to last them during their journey, and a pocket compass by which to direct their course. The remainder of the day was spent in arranging their packs, and on the following morning they were to take up their line of march for Virginia, through an unbroken wilderness.

Who can tell what to-morrow may bring forth? Whilst these preparations were going on at the cabin, the old Indian and his sons, with two others whom they had met in the path to Chillicothe, returned to camp, and on learning the escape of the pale-faced squaw, immediately went to work and constructed a small raft, on which they crossed the river in the night and proceeded toward the cabin. Just as it became clear enough to discern objects, the hunters' dogs grew very restless and set up a low growl. Sallie expressed her belief of Indians lurking about. Brown and Dill seized their rifles, and placed themselves immediately outside of the entrance of the cabin, ready for emergencies. Presently two Indians were seen approaching with stealthy steps. They were suffered to come within range of rifle shot, and then both hunters fired and both Indians fell. Three others, who had stood concealed behind some large trees, now rushed forward over the dead bodies of their comrades, and before the hunters had time to reload, they were within a few rods of the cabin, brandishing their tomahawks, and yelling, as they were wont to do when making an attack. Brown and Dill prepared to meet them, the former with a hatchet, and the latter with the butt of his rifle, whilst Sallie was coolly re-loading the other rifle. The Indians paused for a moment in the face of such a foe, and in another moment a ball from the rifle in the hands of the maiden laid one of them sprawling on the ground.

The hunters now sallied out, and averting the blows aimed by the Indians with their tomahawks, each grappled his man. For a time the contest was doubtful, but at last the hunters got the better of their adversaries, and held them firmly to the ground, where, with Sallie's aid, they were securely bound with deer-skin straps. Dill kept watch over the prisoners, while Brown went forth to reconnoiter. Seeing the coast clear, he quickly returned, and at the girl's suggestion, the prisoners, with their arms pinioned, were led to the river and placed on their own raft, which was then pushed into the current, and with its live freight, set adrift.

Before the hunters had got fairly out of the water, they were greeted with a volley from the rifles of four Indians, who, it was supposed, had been lying somewhere in the vicinity, watching for passing boats, and were attracted to the spot by the late firing of the combatants. Dill was shot dead, but Brown escaped unharm, and ran in the direction of the cabin. Three of the savages followed the raft to save their brethren, and the other, a tall athletic fellow, gave chase to Brown. The firing at the river alarmed Sallie, who was in possession of the hunters' rifles, and she therefore held herself in readiness to repel any attack that might be made on her, or to give any assistance she could to the hunters. She soon saw Brown approaching, followed by his savage foe—but so swift was their speed, that she did not venture to fire, preferring to wait a better opportunity. An Indian seldom stumbles; but this one happened to strike his foot against some impediment when within sixty yards of the cabin, and close to the heels of Brown, and almost fell. Before he had fully recovered himself, the girl sent a ball through his body, which arrested his progress. Brown's trusty rifle always proved fatal when held in the hands of Sallie Green.

Brown and the girl knowing that the savages at the river would soon come up in search of their comrade, hastily left the spot, armed with the two rifles, and carrying some dried venison and a blanket, and were followed by the hunters' faithful dogs. The day was now far spent, but the moon rising in the evening, gave sufficient light to enable them to proceed through the woods. They traveled all night without halting. A little after daylight they stopped a few moments at a spring and refreshed themselves with a little venison and a few draughts of fresh water, and then again pressed forward, and continued with but little abatement during that day and the following night. Finding they were not pursued, they now traveled more leisurely. After enduring hunger and fatigue, on the tenth day they reached one of the border settlements of Virginia, where they procured horses and a guide, and in three days after, arrived at Mr. Green's. The meeting between Sallie and her parents can be better imagined than described.—Tears of joy were shed in profusion.

The hunter remained with Mr. Green for a season, and then engaged in the erection of a handsome dwelling for himself on a neighboring plantation, which he had purchased. About the time of its completion, they had a merry time one day at the house of Mr. Green—it was the day on which Peter Brown and Sallie Green were married.

Night Air - Seasonable Hints.

During the months of September and October, throughout the United States, wherever there are chills, fever, and ague, intermittents, or the more deadly forms of fever, it is a pernicious, and even dangerous practice, to sleep with the outer doors or windows open; because miasm, marsh emanation, the product of decaying vegetation—all of which are different terms expressing the same thing, is made so light by heat that it ascends at once towards the upper portion of atmospheric space, and is not breathed during the heat of the day, but the cool nights of the fall of the year condense it; make it heavy, and it settles on the ground, is breathed into the lungs, incorporated into the blood; and in its concentrated form, as in certain localities near Rome, it causes sickness and death within a few hours.

The plagues which devastated Eastern countries in earlier ages, were caused by the concentrated emanations from marshy localities, or districts of decaying vegetation; and the common observation of the higher class of people was, that those who occupied the upper stories, not even coming down stairs for market supplies, but drew them up by ropes attached to baskets, had entire immunity from disease, for two reasons: the higher the abode, the less compact is the deadly atmosphere; besides, the higher rooms in a house, in summer, are the warmer ones, and the miasm less concentrated. The lower rooms are colder, making the air more dense. So, by keeping all outer doors and windows closed, especially the lower ones, the building is less cool and comfortable, but it excludes the infectious air, while its warmth sends what enters through the crevices immediately to the ceilings of the rooms, where it congregates and is not breathed; hence it is that men who entered the bar-room and dining saloons of the National Hotel, remaining but a few brief hours, were attacked with the National Hotel disease, while ladies who occupied upper rooms, where constant fires were burning, escaped attack, although remaining in the house for weeks at a time.

It was for this same reason that Dr. Rush was accustomed to advise families in the summer time, not being able to leave the city, to cause their younger children especially to spend their time above stairs. We have spent a lifetime ourselves in the West and extreme South, and know in our own person, and as to those who have had the firmness to follow our recommendation, that whole families will escape all the forms of fall fevers who will have bright fires kindled at sunrise and sunset in the family room. But it is too plain a prescription to secure observance in more than one family in ten thousand.

After the third frost, and until the fall of the next year, it is an important means of health for persons to sleep with an outer door or window partly open, having the bed in such a position as to be protected from a draught of air.

We advise that no person should go to work or take exercise in the morning on an empty stomach; but if it is stimulated to action by a cup of coffee, or a crust of bread, or an apple, or orange, exercise can be taken, not only with impunity, but to high advantage in all chill and fever localities.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Advertising.

The utility of this is far from being generally apprehended by business men. They often speak in doubtful words of its advantages, but mainly because they have not really made a fair trial. They get in occasionally a card or a short advertisement and they cannot perceive that it makes any great difference in their business, and for this reason they soon discontinue even that. This is not the principle of the matter. To obtain the advantages of advertising, advertise often and conspicuously, change the form and matter and always let your name and business appear in the advertising columns. You might as well put up your sign over your store and remove it after three months, as stop your advertisement after a short insertion. Those who have advertised most, are in favor of advertising, and we never heard of a man who followed it generously and without cessation, who did not reap a rich harvest thereby.

It is no wonder that a small business is done by many storekeepers, since few of them let people know that they have anything to dispose of. Articles are daily sent for to the city because inhabitants are not aware that they can be obtained at home. Advertise every week in several columns of your local paper. Keep yourself and your goods before the public and you will soon see new faces within your doors and unexpected dollars in your drawers. If business be dull, advertise—if active, advertise. In either case it is the true policy and the only sure road to prosperity and wealth.—Roxbury Journal.

Chinese Barbers.

In a country where every one wears a queue—not a little, wretched, slender queue like that which used to grease the collars of our fathers' coats, but a great thick plat, descending from the sinciput to the calf—the reader will perceive what importance, practical and social, the barber must have achieved. They take a man in his cradle, and do not leave him till the day he enters his tomb; if they only choose to employ the influence at their command, they might revolutionize China. The Figaros of the Celestial Empire constitute a most considerable portion. A Protestant clergyman, who indulges in statistics, assured me that there were more than twenty thousand at Canton!

There are itinerant barbers, barbers in their own room, barbers with shops, and barbers who stand at the corners of the streets. I have very often sent for the barber from the corner, and never had any reason to regret it. This artist employs no soap; he simply moistens the skin several times; he then scrapes his customer with a razor resembling a clasp-knife without a spring broken in half. This wretched blade, two inches long and one broad, is fitted into a piece of wood as a handle; but, however pitiable their appearance, these instruments are excellent; you scarcely feel them run over your skin. When the itinerant barbers pass through a street, they cause the long pincers which they carry, and the branches of which do the duty of a tuning-fork, to vibrate; this is their manner of announcing their presence. It is no rare occurrence to see, in the by-streets of Canton, thirty or forty Chinamen, one after the other, as motionless as the old wig-blocks, and on whom the barbers of the Celestial Empire are performing all the operations of their trade. The following is the mode of proceeding. They begin by washing the head, and shaving that portion of the body; having done this, they untie the queue, which they carefully comb and plait; armed with long pincers, they can clear the ears and the nose from the parasitical hairs that encroach upon them. Moreover, they indulge in a most delicate practice; with the aid of a little bamboo rod, which terminates in a tuft of carded cotton, extremely fine, they sweep, so to say, the eye-ball—that is, they pass this light feather broom under the eye-lids, all around the eye, and inside the ear.

Trouble Kills.

The secret sorrow of the mind, a sorrow which must be kept; how it wiles away the whole man, himself unconscious meanwhile of its murderous effect! He cannot feel that he is approaching death, because he is sensible of no pain; in fact, he has no feeling, but an indescribable sensation perceived about the physical heart.

Lord Raglan, commander-in-chief of the British army before Sebastopol, the bosom friend of the Duke of Wellington for forty years; of whom partial friends have often said, "his character seemed without a flaw," such a man died, figuratively, of a broken heart. In a moment, almost, trouble came like a whirlwind, avalanche followed avalanche, in quick succession, that no time was left for the torn spirit to rise above its wounds. The British Government, quailing before popular clamor, left the brave old man to bear the brunt alone, because it could not afford to recall him, and yet had not the courage to sustain him. While the tone of official communications deprived him of his sleep, weighed heavily upon him, and broke his gallant spirit, the failure on the Rarar closely followed. On reaching headquarters, a letter was in waiting, which announced the death of the last surviving member of a large family of brothers and sisters; the next day, the death of a general, his old companion in arms. Next came the news, that the gallant son of Lord Lyons was sinking under his wounds. These things, coming so rapidly one after another, in the course of a few hours, as it were, caused such a change in his appearance, all unknown to himself, however, that his physician had to request him to take to his bed, and within forty-eight hours, he died, without supposing himself to be in any danger whatever.

Within a year, a worthy lady in Ohio, sickened, in consequence of some wholly groundless rumors affecting her character, in the community into which she had recently moved. She knew they were groundless, and knew the motives of the miserable wretches who originated them; but her delicate and sensitive spirit shrunk before the "shock," retreated within itself, and all torn and bleeding she died!

Within a few months, a most excellent clergyman found the feelings of his people so generally against him that he resigned his office. The resignation was accepted; but all under such circumstances, that it was really a dismissal, and that, too, for causes which ought to have made every member of the community stand up to him like a man. Conscious of his integrity, and feeling that he had been badly dealt with—his sensibilities received a shock which carried him to a premature grave in a few days.

You are worse than you should be from the fever you have. Is your mind at ease? said a quick-sighted physician, to a sleepless, wasting patient. No, it is not, was the frank reply, and the last recorded words of Oliver Goldsmith whose Vicar of Wakefield and The Deserted Village will only die with the English language, died at the age of forty-six of a malady of the mind, from blasted hopes, and unkind speeches of the world around him! He was a man whose heart was large enough and kind enough to have made the whole world happy, whose troubles arose from his humanity; yet the base things said of him, so undeserved, so malignant, and untrue, broke his heart.

In view of these facts, let parents early impress on the minds of children—it is not what they are charged with, but what they are guilty of, that should occasion trouble or remorse; that a carping word should not blanch the cheek or break the spirit, so long as there is conscious rectitude within.

And let all learn, what the commonest humanity dictates, to speak no word, write no line, do no deed, which wound the feelings of any human creature, unless under a sense of duty, and even then, let it be wisely and long considered.—Hall's Journal of Health.

The Struggle and the Victory.

Johnny! said a farmer to his little boy, it is time for you to go to the pasture and drive home the cattle.

Johnny was playing ball, and the pasture was a long way off; but he was accustomed to obey, so off he started without a word, as fast as his legs could carry him.

Being in a great hurry to get back to play, he only half let down the bars, and then hurried the cattle through, and one fine cow, in trying to crowd over, stumbled and fell with her leg broken.

Johnny stood by the suffering creature, and thought to himself—Now what shall I do? That was the finest cow father had, and it will have to be killed, and it will be a great loss to father. What shall I tell him?

Tell him, whispered the tempter, the same tempter who puts wicked thoughts into all our hearts, tell him you found the bars half down, and the creature lying here. No, I can't say that, said Johnny, for that would be a lie.

Tell him, whispered the tempter again, that while you were driving the cows, that big boy of farmer Brown's threw a stone, and hurried that cow so that she fell.

No, no, said Johnny; I never told a lie, and I won't begin now. I'll tell father the truth. It was all my fault. I was in a hurry, and I frightened the poor creature, and she fell and broke her leg.

So having taken this right and brave resolve, Johnny ran home as if he was afraid the tempter would catch him, and went straight to his father and told him the whole truth. And what did his father do? He laid his hand on Johnny's head and said: My son, my dear son, I would rather lose every cow I own, than that my boy should tell me an untruth.

And Johnny, though very sorry for the mischief he had done, was much happier than if he had told a lie to screen himself, even if he had never been found out.

The Education of the Feelings.

Bad temper is more frequently the result of unhappy circumstances than of an unhappy organization; it frequently, however, has a physical cause, and a peevish child often needs dieting more than correcting. Some children are more prone to show temper than others, and sometimes on account of qualities which are valuable in themselves. For instance, a child of active temperament, sensitive feeling, and of eager purpose, is more likely to meet with constant jars and rubs than a dull passive child; and, if he is of an open nature, his inward irritation is immediately shown in bursts of passion. If you repress these ebullitions by scolding and punishment, you only increase the evil, by changing passion into sulkiness. A cheerful, good-tempered tone of your own, a sympathy with his trouble, whenever the trouble has arisen from no bad conduct on his part, are the best antidotes; but it would be better still to prevent beforehand all sources of annoyance. Never fear spoiling children by making them too happy. Happiness is the atmosphere in which all good affections grow—the wholesome warmth necessary to make the heart blood circulate healthily and freely; unhappiness is the chilling pressure which produces here an inflammation, there an excrescence, and worst of all, "the mind's green and yellow sickness—ill temper."—Patterson Journal.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Oct. 16th, 1858.

SAD LESSON. The fate which has overtaken Albert French, the young incendiary, of this town, should serve as a solemn warning to boys and young men who are inclined to acts of lawlessness. On Saturday last, he was sentenced by Judge Sanger, at Dedham, to perpetual imprisonment in the State Prison, the first three days to be solitary.

THIRD DISTRICT. The convention of democrats, at Dedham, last Wednesday, nominated Hon. Arthur W. Austin, of West Roxbury, as their candidate for Congress in the third Congressional district. He is the present collector of the port of Boston.

OFFICERS TO BE CHOSEN. The election in this State occurs on Tuesday, November 24. The officers to be chosen are as follows: By the State at Large—a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Auditor and Attorney General—each for one year. By Districts—Members of the thirty-sixth Congress, members of the Executive Council, Senators, and Representatives. By Counties—A County Commissioner for three years, Register of Deeds, for three years, Treasurer for three years, and Register of Probate and Insolvency for five years.

SUFFOLK BANK WAR. The action of the Boston City Banks last Saturday, in admitting the Bank of Mutual Redemption to their Clearing House Association, proclaimed their indisposition to sustain the Suffolk any longer in its warfare against that institution, and was followed on Monday by the withdrawal of the Suffolk from its objectionable position. The Suffolk system will be preserved and continued with all its advantages, through the instrumentality of the Bank of Mutual Redemption; and the country banks who pay the expenses, will share in the profits of the operation.

GREAT FIRE. The Crystal Palace, New York City, with nearly all its contents, has been entirely destroyed by fire. The Fair of the American Institute was in full progress at the time, upwards of two thousand visitors being in the palace when the alarm was given. The building itself was worth a quarter of a million dollars, and the contents must have been worth a million more. Very little was saved. The American Institute offers a reward of three thousand dollars for the detection of the supposed incendiary.

A QUICK TRIP TO EUROPE. The following notice in relation to one of our citizens, we select from the Boston Journal. Mr. Hall was absent from this country twenty-nine days, thirteen and a half hours. The distance travelled, was not far from seven thousand miles. The journey—the business transaction—and the results accomplished, speak well for Yankee enterprise.

Mr. Hall, the senior member of the enterprising firm of Henry A. Hall & Co., dealers in India-rubber and gutta-percha goods at No. 146 Congress street, recently made a trip to Europe and back, which for dispatch we are inclined to think is without a parallel. He left Boston for Liverpool August 25th, per steamship Niagara—arrived in Liverpool September 4—spent a day in Liverpool and proceeded to London, where he passed two days, and thence to Paris where he remained two days more. He returned to Liverpool and took passage in the same steamer for home, reaching Boston September 24th, having been absent from home less than a month—This was a business trip, and perhaps is no less remarkable for the amount of business transacted than for its quickness. Mr. Hall succeeded in obtaining the appointment of selling agents for Charles Mackintosh & Co., the celebrated India-rubber manufacturers of London, and for other prominent manufacturers in London and Paris, thus securing unsurpassed facilities for the business of his firm.

QUINCY LYCEUM. At an adjourned meeting of the Quincy Lyceum, held at the Lyceum Room, Wednesday evening, 13th inst., the following persons were chosen as officers for the ensuing year.

President, Wm. S. Morton.
Vice President, John J. Glover.
Treasurer, Horace B. Spear.
Secretary, John O. Holden.
Clerks, C. A. Howland, D. K. Flint, Thomas Curtis.

Rev. S. Wolcott will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

A GOOD CHANCE. C. Gill & Co. are closing off some lots of Men's Calf Boots and Men's Congress Boots at very low prices.

CARPETS AT LOW PRICES. Purchasers are referred to the advertisements of the New England Carpet Co. of Boston, in to day's paper.

Men's Prime Half Welt and double Sole Calf Boots, warranted. Call and see them, at C. Gill and Co's.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

The last passage of the Persia to England outstrips every previous one by some hours. Deducting twenty-three hours deviation, and four hours and forty-five minutes difference of time, and the Persia has made the passage in eight days and thirteen hours.

A bluefish, twelve feet long, and weighing twelve hundred pounds, was lately caught off Cape Elizabeth, in Portland harbor. The fish dragged a boat some two miles before it was secured.

An individual of Dudley, Mass., killed, recently, upon his farm, thirty-five black snakes, twenty of which measured one hundred feet, stretched out; they had taken for their den an old cellar that had been filled up.

At Burnside, Pennsylvania, resides, probably the oldest married couple alive, a Mr. Snyder and wife, he being one hundred and eleven years of age, and she one hundred and seven.

The statement that Rev. Mr. Arnold, a clergyman of England, is the grandson and only male heir of Benedict Arnold, is a mistake, there being a grandson in Canada, named George Washington Arnold.

In New Haven a short time since, a young man had his feet so badly burned by the bursting of a fluid lamp, that his toes have all united, seemingly having run together.

The Firemen's Flag Staff, in Albany, (N. Y.) stands two hundred and ten feet above the level of the ground, and is the tallest pole in the United States.

Gen. Lewis Cass, Secretary of State, is reported to be worth five million dollars.

Somebody in Hartford, (Ct.) has offered five hundred dollars for the stump of the old Charter Oak.

Hon. F. P. Blair, the Missouri emancipationist, says "that he is the owner of a few slaves, most of them purchased by him to prevent them from being separated from their families."

Since 1850, the time occupied by steamers crossing the Atlantic between New York and Liverpool, is shortened two days. The amount of fuel consumed in the voyage so shortened, is twice that formerly required by the steamers who took the longest time.

A young man of Bedford, Pennsylvania, is twenty-one years of age, height three feet nine inches, weighs forty-three pounds, and is active and intelligent.

A court in England sentenced a young man to six years' imprisonment for an assault in kissing a young lady against her will; but luckily the Queen granted him a free pardon.

It is alleged that the indemnity to be paid by China for the war, is $3,000,000 to England and the same to France.

It is said that the water-works about to be constructed in Washington, (D. C.) will conduct the water from the Big Falls on the Potomac, fourteen miles to the city, and will cost $6,000,000.

On the arrival of a train at Chicago, from Detroit, recently, the crowd of people about the depot were greatly astonished to see a man, or the semblance of one, covered with a thick coating of dust, emerge from beneath the out of the passenger cars. Scrapping the dirt out of his eyes, he gazed about with a wild, bewildered look. To the questions put to him, he stated that he had ridden from Michigan City to Chicago on the truck beneath the floor of the cars.

The great bell of the city hall, New York, has been lowered safely from its precarious position in the burned tower. Its weight is twenty-two thousand six hundred pounds.

In the cheapest lodging houses in New York City, there are no beds in the apartments, but the occupants lay upon the floor in limits marked out by chalk.

There are in London, one hundred and fifty ragged schools, attended by twenty thousand children, who are instructed by about two thousand volunteer teachers.

The salary of John B. Gough, of the English Temperance League, is ten thousand dollars per annum. He is now lecturing with even greater success than ever.

There is a married lady living in the town of Essex, this State, whose weight is but eighty-one pounds, when dressed.

Father Earle of the Worcester Spy has been compelled to sell that paper for the benefit of its creditors. We believe he has been its editor and publisher nearly forty years.

Of the forty-eight Senators who took their seats in the Eighteenth Congress in 1823, but two survive, viz: Martin Van Buren, of New York, and John Branch, of North Carolina.

The Norfolk County bar, have passed resolutions expressing their deep regret at the decease of their President, Hon. James Richardson of Dedham, and appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Ezra Wilkinson, and his Honor, Judge Sanger.

There are only two cities in Germany or the world which contain more Germans than New York and its environs.

It is computed that there are twenty thousand persons out of employment in the iron districts of Pennsylvania.

The Lexington, (Mo.) Express says that most cheering accounts are received in regard to the crops in that section of the State, the corn crop in particular.

Henry W. Sawyer, a prominent and highly respected citizen of Fincastle, (Va.) who has been on trial for killing James McDowell, President of the Fincastle Bank, and the seducer of the daughter of the accused, has been acquitted.

Ebenezer Francis, Esq., of Boston, recently died at his residence in that city, at the advanced age of eighty-three years. He began life in Boston a poor boy, and died worth some five millions of dollars.

Prince Metternich, the famous Austrian diplomatist, is eighty-five years old and is yet physically and mentally vigorous.

The brick wall which has hitherto hid the tomb of Franklin, in Christ Church burying ground, in Philadelphia, from view, has been removed, and a neat iron railing will take its place.

The Circuit Court of Portsmouth, (N. H.) has decided that the ordinance of that city, closing bar-rooms on the Sabbath, cannot be enforced, as it is in conflict with the State law.

It has been ascertained by careful calculation that the cost of transporting travelers by railroads is about one and one-half cents per mile upon the average.

A patent lever English watch has upwards of eight hundred separate parts, while the American watch has but one hundred and twenty-five parts.

A correspondent of the Providence Journal says, that in ninety-nine cases out of every hundred, cranberries applied as a poultice will effectually cure the erysipelas.

It is curious to find at times how evil may grow out of good. At Trinity church, New York, the other day, a highly respectable young lady was arrested by a police detective, who insisted that she must be a thief, as they had her likeness in the Rogues' Gallery. Notwithstanding a clergyman in whose company she was, was touched for her respectability, she was kept in custody about four hours before being liberated.

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that they have taken the Quincy Bake-House, and intend carrying on the baking business in all its branches—adhering strictly to the Cash system—and hope by manufacturing the Best Quality of Bread, to merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and the neighboring towns.

Trout & Glover.

Removal! Removal!!
Of Millinery Goods!

I HAVE removed my Goods from my residence on Washington street, into
GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
ROOMS OVER
Caleb Packard's Dry Goods Store,

— CORNER OF —
Hancock and Granite Streets,

Where may be found a good assortment of

Fall & Winter Millinery,
AT LOW PRICES.

I have a great variety of ready made Dress Hats in trim material which I shall be sold low, also a trimmed straw which I shall be sold cheap. To any one wishing to engage in a good business I would dispose of my Stock and Fixtures, were the opportunity satisfactory. A lease of the premises may be obtained for a Term of years, and it is one of the best locations in the

CENTRE OF QUINCY.
Until I dispose of my Goods to some party wishing to occupy the premises, I shall endeavor to keep a general assortment of desirable Goods, and would respectfully solicit patronage—daily acknowledging the favors of friends and the public for the LAST TEN YEARS.

As usual, Grave Cloths and Mourning Goods constantly on hand or made to order.

A. J. KENISON.

Quincy, Oct. 16.

Executors' Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscribers have been duly appointed Executors of the will of

JOSHUA EMERSON,
late of Milton, in the County of Norfolk, Carpenter, deceased, and have accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

MARY F. EMERSON, } Executors.
SIMEON EMERSON, }
Milton, Oct. 16.

Special Notices.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.

In Johnson's (Maciposa) Hall, Miss Emma Houston will speak to-morrow at both services.

Quincy, Oct. 16.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION. Just published by FREDERICK & Co., Booksellers and Stationers, No. 13 Court Street, Boston, a Brief Treatise of 48 pages, on Diseases of the Sexual System of both sexes—their symptoms and treatment—prepared by a physician of the "Boston Eclectic Hospital." This work also contains a scorching exposure of the deception and imposture practiced by advertising quacks, with some of their names and locations. Sold by periodical dealers generally. Sent by mail, on the receipt of three postage stamps. Address Box 1802, Boston Post Office.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 13th inst., Mr. William A. Thayer, aged 28 years and 7 months.

In this town, on the 31st inst., Lizzie, daughter of Mr. James and Mrs. Abby Cain, aged 9 months.

Another flower hath withered,
Hath perished from the earth;
A flower of rarest beauty,
Of more than priceless worth.
A soul hath been transplanted
From this weary world of woe,
To bloom again in Heaven—
Where the sweetest flowers grow.

It open'd its tiny petals
On a chilly winter morn
Two hours were crown'd with joyance
When they knew the babe was born.
But the parents hopes are blighted,
For the angel, Death, has come
To take their own sweet darling,
To crown a heavenlier home.

How they mourn their own hearts' idol,
Who hath gone to lead the way
To a land of brightest beauty,
To the realm of endless day!

Where the flowers bloom together,
And the balmy breezes blow,
Where the spoiler entereth never,
To lay those flowerets low.

M. C. M.

PETITION.

THE undersigned, Citizens of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, respectfully petition the Honorable Legislature of Massachusetts, for leave to widen, straighten and deepen the Channel of Town River, in said Town.

SAMUEL R. EDWARDS,
CHARLES H. EDWARDS.

I hereby approve of the publication of the above petition according to the law, such cases made and provided, in the Boston Daily Atlas and Bee, and the Quincy Patriot.

OLIVER WARNER,
Secretary of Commonwealth.

Boston, Oct. 9, 1858.

Shoemakers' Notice.

RECEIPT for making the BEST BLACK-LEATHER SHOES, GUARANTEED TO LAST, and will not shrink, nor strike into the sole, and has a better gloss than any other Blacking; cost to manufacture, 10 cents per gallon. Receipt sent by one box by mail on receipt of 25 cents in cash or stamps. Patent applied for.

E. N. FORBES,
Lynn, Mass.

TO FRUIT GROWERS.

FOR sale an extensive assortment of FRUIT TREES, of all the varieties worthy of cultivation, a part of which are on the Quincy stock.

Also—APPLE, CHERRY, PEACH and other FRUIT TREES. GUARANTEED TO BE BECCA, DELAWARE, UNION VILLAGE and all the other "best" kinds. CURRANTS, GOOSEBERRIES and RASPBERRIES in great variety. EVERGREEN and other ORNAMENTAL TREES, Shrubs, Roses, Buckthorns, Ribrub, Herbaceous Plants, Tulips, &c.

Persons wishing FRUIT TREES in a bearing state may call to call at the Nurseries and make a selection.

SAMUEL WALKER & CO.
Roxbury, Mass.

A lot of EXTRA SIZED APPLE TREES will be sold very cheap.

Oct. 16.

List of Letters,

Remaining in the Quincy Post Office, Oct 1st, 1858.

Ackerman J B Keefe John

Bishop Thomas Kennedy Diantha

Bullon Eckley Lines Thomas

Bass Josi Lawton Capt Winslow

Barrett Capt Alpheus Leacy Mary

Batters J H Leonard Miss

Bark Michael Mott Joshua—2

Belser Wm R Montgomery David

Bean Miss Elizabeth Miles John F

Blochmer Mrs Johan Minn Capt Joseph

Blanchard Mrs Jane Martin Thomas

Clark Wm H Mealy Mary R

Cott Michael McAnulty Hannah

Chase F A Mahoney Daniel

Carroll Thomas McCarthy Kate

Clark Gilbert & Co Mealy Philip J

Collier Geo W O'Connell Mary—2

Carlton Julia B Oliphant John—2

Cook Mrs Harvey P Oertz Frederick

Cunningham H L Poignaise Thelstphor

Denton George Richards E A

Duggan Frances Richards J A

Davenport Charlotte Robinson Geo W & Co

Emmons Sarah F Roberts Edmund

Forten James Rogan Anne—2

Flamou Wm Sanderson Alonzo

Fowler Isaac N Sullivan Rev Thomas

Fitzgerald James Swan V & Co

Farraban Mary F Tect. Quincy Lyceum

Flynn Miss Spear Luther

Graham Hugh Shuby John

Gore Henry S Story Edward

Ginnings Mary A Stick Thomas

Herring T J—3 Sullivan Annie L

Hartney Mr Sherman Elizabeth

Hartley J W Thomas Erasmus

Harris Everett Tucker Lilla A

Hunt H H Thrasker Mrs Lucy

Hunt Jesse Tracy Mrs Morris

Hawes A C Upton Nancy B

Harriman Lewis Walsh James

Hercy Hiram Wood Henry S

Herrington Warren Woodman Ebenezer F

Hessley Catherine Wright Stephen

Hardwick Sarah F Wright Miss Jane

Hart Mary Jane Wright Miss Jane

Ingraham D G Whitwell Alvia J

Johnson John Wood Caroline

Joy Lavan Woods Mary L

Joy David Joy Mrs David

Joy Mrs David Joy Mrs David

JOHN A. GREEN, Postmaster.

Quincy Oct. 9.

Fresh Tamarinds,

FOR sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Oct. 16.

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a partnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,

and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.

done to satisfaction, and in a workmanlike manner.

Small as well as large jobs thankfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES E. POPE.

Quincy, Oct. 9.

MILLINERY

FANCY GOODS STORE.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a

Millinery and Fancy Goods Store,

at her residence on

FRANKLIN ST., SOUTH QUINCY,

where she will keep a full assortment of Articles usually found in a Store of this kind.

DRESS MAKING,

Done at Short Notice.

Mrs. Mary E. Curtis.

Quincy, Oct. 9.

To Sportsmen.

THE undersigned would call the attention of those who enjoy the sports of

Gunning and Fishing,

to the fact that he has in complete order, boats, bait, lines and decoys, with good boatmen at the

BLACK ROCK HOUSE, CHESAPEET,

where he will be pleased to see all his friends who wish to partake of the sports of the season.

The advantage of his locality, both for fishing and gunning, need not be mentioned.

Boat, $1 per day. Sea Food and Smelts, constantly on hand—Game and Fish Suppers served up at short notice.

N. B. There is a good Stable and Bowling Alley upon the premises.

Quincy, Oct. 9.

JAMES W. HAYDEN.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Plymouth.

WILLIAM W. BAXTER, Administrator of the Estate of

MELZAR MERRITT,

late of Abington, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents, that the debts due from said deceased, as nearly as can be ascertained, amount to Six Hundred Dollars; that the charges of administration amount to about Fifty Dollars, and that the value of the personal estate of said deceased amounts to Sixty Dollars. He therefore prays that he may be licensed to sell all of the real estate, of said deceased, as a partial sale would injure the residue.

Wm. W. BAXTER.

PLYMOUTH, SS.

At a Court of Probate holden at East Bridgewater in and for said County, on the fifth day of October, 1858.

UPON the foregoing petition of William W. Baxter, ordered, that the said petitioner notify all persons interested therein to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Abington, in and for said County, on the Second Monday of January next, by causing an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, to be published in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy in the County of Norfolk, three weeks successively, prior to said Court, that they may then and there appear and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted.

Wm. H. WOOD, Judge of Probate.

A true copy—attest.

SAMUEL H. DOTTEN, Register.

Oct. 9.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscribers have been duly appointed Administrators, with the Will annexed of the Estate of late of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

SAMUEL FRENCH, 2d,

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

JOSEPH A. ARNOLD,
Administrator with the Will annexed.

Braintree, Sept. 23, 1858.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK SS.
At a meeting of the County Commissioners, for said County held at Dedham, in and for said County on the fourth Tuesday of September, A. D., 1858.

Upon the petition of William S. Morton requesting the County Commissioners to lay out the Turnpike ways, draws and bridges of the Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge and the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike corporations, as common highways, in accordance with the provisions of the act of the Legislature approved May 20th, 1857, and to exercise the powers conferred by said act and any other laws enabling thereto in the premises. This petition was presented at the meeting of the County Commissioners at Dedham, on the 20th of April, 1858, and it was thereupon ordered that the Commissioners would meet at the Hancock House in Quincy, on the 14th day of June then next, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon, and notice having been first given to all persons and corporations interested, the Commissioners met at the place, and on the day designated in said order, when and where the petitioners appeared, and the corporations known as the Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge and Turnpike, and the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike Corporation also appeared and the towns of Braintree, Braintree and Weymouth were also represented by their respective officers and agents. The Commissioners then proceeded to view the route described in said petition, and then and there at the regular June meeting of the County Commissioners, held at Dedham, on the 22d of June, 1858, the time which said case was adjourned and continued, heard all persons and corporations interested and who desired to be heard, and said case was then adjourned and continued to the September meeting of said Commissioners this day holden, and having fully heard all persons and parties interested, said Commissioners adjudge and determine, that under and by virtue of the provisions of the act contained in Chapter 223, of acts of 1857, accepted by the inhabitants of the town of Quincy, at a legal meeting duly held for that purpose, and of other acts enabling thereto in the premises, the assent of the Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge and Turnpike, and of the Braintree and Weymouth Turnpike Corporation being had, and their consent to all proceedings having been previously given thereto by vote, the public convenience and necessity require that the turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, of said County, be laid out as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and that the Commissioners exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

UPON the adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, in said County, on Tuesday, the 23d day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition and hear and act thereon, and to establish said turnpikes, ways, draws and bridges, as common highways, and in accordance with the provisions of the acts aforesaid, and exercise the powers conferred by said act, and receive the franchises, roads, bridges and rights in said ways, to hold and lay out the same as common highways, subject to the trusts of and concerning the draws and bridges and the right and franchise to take tolls and as specified in the provisions of said acts, and that the prayer of said petition should be granted.

By the County Commissioners,
SETH MANN JR.

NORFOLK SS. Sept. 28th, 1858.

AUTUMN AND WINTER.

G. W. Warren Barry & Co.

HAVE OPENED their NEW GOODS.

In all Departments, making a rich show of New Shawls, Mantles and Scarfs; Talmas, Raglans and Cloaks; and all the new fabrics for Ladies' Garments; Plain and Fancy Silks, colors and black.

VELVETS; POPLINS, Irish and French. MERINOS, THIBETS and CASHMERES, plain and printed.

MOURNING GOODS, in the greatest variety of fabrics.

PRINTED M. DE LAINES & FLANNELS. Plain and Cross-Over DRESS GOODS, in many new styles.

FRANCIS and ENGLISH PRINTS. HOUSEKEEPING GOODS, including Blankets and Flannels in large quantities, and Domestic of the best makes.

EMBROIDERIES, LACES and WHITE GOODS, of all kinds.

And 1000 Dozen PARIS KID GLOVES, the best article ever received.

Our senior partner having just returned from a visit to all the principal manufacturing districts in Europe, where he has placed our orders directly with the manufacturers for the newest and best fabrics, in styles and colors adapted to our best New England taste, we are prepared to offer, by the Package or at Retail,

THE FINEST STOCK

DRY GOODS!

we have ever had the pleasure of showing to our friends and customers.

IN ALL OUR

Black Silks, Cashmeres, Alpines,

and other Fabrics for

Mourning.

special care has been taken to order a Pure Black, which will neither Rust, nor Destroy the strength of the Fabric, as the usual dyes are prepared to give weight and finish at the expense of the strength of the material.

OUR STOCK OF

Plain and Fancy Black Silks

is more complete than ever.

THE NEW STYLES OF SHAWLS AND

DRESS GOODS

Are more varied and beautiful than usual.

RETAIL ENTRANCE,

192 Washington Street;

WHOLESALE ENTRANCE,

55 & 57 Hanley Street.

Boston, Sept. 25.

The Atlantic Cable.

It has been successfully laid, and Foreign Goods of the latest styles are received every week, and sold on the most reasonable terms by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP, Hancock St.

Quincy, Aug. 21.

Notice!

For Sale at 50 per cent.

LESS THEN COST!

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

COATS, PANTS, AND VESTS.

Joseph W. Lombard.

Over E. Clapp's Store.

Quincy, Aug. 28.

CARPETS,

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

GREAT SALE OF

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths!

CURTAINS, CURTAIN FIXTURES,

RUGS, MATS, &c., AT THE

BOSTON CARPET CO'S

120 Hanover Street,

Boston.

Second door from Friend Street, (Up Stairs).

READ the following prices and draw your own conclusions:

55200 Pieces all wool Kidderminster Carpets,

45 cents per yard.

150 Pieces all wool Kidderminster Carpets,

45 cents per yard.

200 Pieces Tapestry, warranted fast colors,

70 cents per yard.

200 Pieces Tapestry, warranted English manufacture, from $1 to $1.25. Shirts, Floor Oil

Cloths, 18 feet and 12 feet widths, from 75 to

$1.25 per yard. $4, 6 and 44 Floor Oil

Cloths, from 40 to 65 cents per yard.

Also, an extensive assortment of elegant

Window Shades,

SILK and WORSTED DAMASK, and Curtain

Materials of every description.

The above comprises a new and elegant assortment of choice goods, recently selected in New York, therefore all those who intend furnishing their dwellings, or are in want of any of the above enumerated articles, will find it to their advantage to call and examine this assortment of the cheapest goods in this city.

Remember the number, 120 Hanover street, second door from Friend Street, upstairs.

FOSS & SWETT, Proprietors.

Boston, Sept. 18.

CHOICE OF GIFTS!

Poetry.

What I Live For.

I live for those who love me,
Whose hearts are kind and true;
For the heaven that smiles above me,
And awaits my spirit too—
For all human ties that bind me—
For the task by God assigned me—
For the bright hopes left behind me,
And the good that I can do.

I live to learn their story,
Who've suffered for my sake—
To emulate their glory,
And follow in their wake.
Bards, patriots, martyrs, sages,
The noble of all ages,
Whose deeds crowd history's pages,
And Time's great volume make.

I live to hold communion
With all that is divine—
To feel there is a mine
"Twixt Nature's heart and mine—
To profit by affliction,
Reap truths from fields of fiction,
Grow wiser from conviction,
And fulfill each great design.

I live to hail that season
By gifted minds foretold;
When men shall live by reason
And not alone by gold—
When man to man united,
And every wrong thing righted,
The whole world shall be lighted
As Eden was of old.

I live for those who love me,
For those who know me true—
For the heaven that smiles above me,
And awaits my spirit too—
For the cause that lacks assistance,
For the wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance,
For the good that I can do.

The Ant.

A little black ant found a large grain of wheat,
Too heavy to lift or roll;
So he begged of a neighbor he happened to meet:
To help it down into his hole.

I've got my own work to look after, said he;
You must shift for yourself, if you please;
So he crawled off as selfish and cross as could be,
And lay down to sleep at his ease.

Just then a black brother was passing the road,
And seeing his brother in want,
Came up and assisted him in with his load,
For he was a good natured ant.

Let all who this story may happen to hear,
Labor to profit by it;
For often it happens that children appear
As crows as the ant every bit.

And the good natured ant who assisted his brother
May teach those who choose to be taught,
That if little insects are kind to each other,
Then children must certainly ought.

The Blue-Bells of New England.

The roses are a regal troop,
And humble folks the daisies;
But blue bells of New England,
To you I give my praises;
To you, fair phantoms in the sun,
Who in merry spring discover,
With blue birds for your laureates,
And honey bees for lovers.

The south wind breathes, and lo! ye throng
This rugged land of ours;
Methinks the pale blue clouds of May Drop down, and turn to flowers!
By cottage doors, along the roads,
You show your winsome faces,
And, like the spectre lady, haunt
The lonely woodland places!

All night your eyes are closed in sleep,
But open at the dawning;
Such simple faith as yours can see
God's coming in the morning.
You lead me, by your holiness,
To pleasant ways of duty;
You set my thoughts to melody,
You fill me with your beauty.

And you are like the eyes I love,
So modest and so tender,
Just touched with morning's glorious light,
And evening's gentle splendor.
Long may the heavens give you rain,
The sunshine its caresses,
Long may the little girl I love
Entwine you in her tresses!

Anecdotes.

A fellow coming out of a tavern one frosty morning, rather too heavy, fell on the door step; trying to regain his footing he remarked:
If it be true that the wicked stand on slippery ground, I am belonging to a different class, for its more than I can do.

A servant girl, whose beauty formed matter of general admiration and discussion, in passing a group of officers in the street, heard one of them exclaim to his fellows:
By heaven she is painted!
Yes, sir, by heaven only, replied the lady.
The officer acknowledged the force of the rebuke, and apologized.

How did you learn that graceful attitude? asked a gentleman for a tipsy fellow leaning against a post.
I have been practicing at a glass, was the reply.

An inquisitive priest, who rather admired a fair penitent, asked her name. She replied with as much wit as modesty.
Father, my name is not a sin.

A minister, who had received a number of calls, and could scarcely decide which was the best, asked the advice of a faithful old African servant, who replied:
Master, go where there is the most devil!

COMPLETE
Dental Establishment.

DRS. CUMMINGS & FLAGG,
SURGEON DENTISTS.

25 Tremont Street, (op stairs.) Boston.

DRS. C. & F., having had extensive experience in every branch of practical and scientific dentistry, and being conversant with the best known methods and latest improvements in the profession, feel qualified to perform all operations in a manner highly satisfactory to patients, and reflecting credit upon themselves.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH. By the improved principle of Attenuated Pressure, teeth, from one to an entire set, are inserted firmly and beautifully, without the use of springs or clasps. Many beautiful specimens of Plate work, on gold, silver and platinum, are on exhibition at our Rooms, which, for taste, style and durability, we believe cannot be surpassed.

EXTRACTING TEETH. In this important and difficult branch of the profession, great care is taken to render the operation the least painful. By the application of a powerful agent to the gum, the operation is performed with comparatively little pain. This new process of extracting teeth has been in use nearly two years, and we feel confident in recommending it to patients and the public, as lessening in a great measure the dread which has heretofore existed, of dental operations. In some cases it entirely removes pain, while, in almost all instances, it does much to relieve the patient of the most painful part of the operation. The application of ether, which is entirely painless, is administered to those who desire it.

FILLING TEETH. This is the most difficult operation the dental practitioner is ever called upon to perform. It often times bulks the skill of operators who have been in practice many years. It is also, when well performed, the most certain and only remedy that can be applied for the cure of decayed teeth. But, it is effective, it must be executed in the most thorough and perfect manner. The preservation of a tooth, when well filled, and with suitable material, if it be afterwards kept constantly clean, may be regarded as certain. At any rate, it will never again be attacked in the same place by disease.

By the use of the new preparation of Crystalline Gold, teeth are not only arrested from decay and partially saved, but veritably restored to the form, comfort and utility of the original structure. By a wonderful property of gold, the metal, in its crystalline or precipitated state, by peculiar manipulation, passes from a pulverulent mass to the state of a solid mass, the same as coin, to a cohesive and solid mass, the same as coin. By its union with the remarkable property it is made to fill the cavity of a tooth, and even to restore its shape, as substantially as if it were cast.

The proprietors of this complete dental establishment will always be pleased to give their advice on the care and preservation of the teeth of children and adults, and the result of their long experience in cases requiring the opinion of practical scientific dentists.

Boston, Oct 31 ly

WHITE HANDS!
PERSIAN BATH
SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE AND SOFT, and is a certain cure for CHAPPED HANDS, TASS, SUN-BURNS, CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes where a Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL,
Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.
C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent
Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy Aug 22 ly

Salt!! Salt!!

JUST received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for Hay.

H. VINAL.

Balsam, Plaster, &c.

DR. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam and Plaster.

Dr. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Sore Throat, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—for sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Aug. 22 ly

CHESAPEE,

BUILDERS DEPOT.

PAINTING.

JOHN O. FOYE.

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of

BUILDING MATERIALS

to be found at any store in New England.

Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE.

Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale:

DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. BLINDS—painted or unpainted.

GLASS—all sizes. STAIRS, RAILS and BALUSTERS, NAILS, LEAD & ZINC.

Hardware and CARPENTERS' TOOLS, in great variety.

Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Funnels, Iron, Oven and Ash Doors.

Barndoor Rollers and Rods for top or bottom of doors. Patent Sash Locks, Self-closing Gate Hinges and Fast; Blind Hinges and Fast, improved. Door Springs and Weather Strips; Window Weights, Lines and Fast; Window Frames made to order; Weather Vanes for Churches, &c.; Garden and Fire Engines; Carpenters' Mortising and Boring Machines, Ornamental Iron Brackets; Hatter, Draft and Tye Chains; House Bells, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent BEE HIVES, &c. &c. &c.

All Goods sold will be delivered at the Railroad Station here free of charge; or at any other place, for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited.

WEYMOUTH LANDING, May, 16.

JOHN O. FOYE.

ly

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,

HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stearns's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING.

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches.

Fab, Curb and Vest Chains,

LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,

Gents' Pins and Studs,

FINGER RINGS.

Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,

Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a

LARGER STOCK

than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented.

Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.

37 Gold Plates Engraved.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.

Quincy Oct 24 ly

GROCERIES, FLOUR,

AND

PROVISIONS

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and

Provisions, where they will find a

Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store,

which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices.

A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound.

500 Tubs of prime dairy Butter.

200 Bushels of Chickens and Long Red Potatoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.

83 Goods delivered to any part of the Town free of expense.

H. VINAL,

at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers.

Quincy, Oct. 27 ly

Salt Pork.

POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 27 ly

Salt Pork.

FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Dec. 6 ly

SALT PORK.

FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price.

H. VINAL.

Quincy, Jan. 10 ly

Are you Nervous?

DODD'S NERVEINE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It is a delicious tonic of repose—calms the agitated mind—always irritates—induces quiet and restful sleep, thus equalizing the nervous fluid

throughout the system. It contains NO OPIUM or

Mercury, neither poisonous mineral nor herb.

The feeblest mind, or mother, will find it ALWAYS

SAFE AND BENEFICIAL. It does not produce costiveness, but induces it, being the best remedy for Nervous Diseases now known. Price $1.00.

WILSON, FAIRBANK & CO., Boston, Mass., Wholesale Agents.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent.

Quincy, June 26 ly

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION,

FOR improving the complexion, and for the

cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,

Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy Feb 6 ly

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25 ly

CHESAPEE,

BUILDERS DEPOT.

PAINTING.

JOHN O. FOYE.

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of

BUILDING MATERIALS

to be found at any store in New England.

Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE.

Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale:

DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. BLINDS—painted or unpainted.

GLASS—all sizes. STAIRS, RAILS and BALUSTERS, NAILS, LEAD & ZINC.

Hardware and CARPENTERS' TOOLS, in great variety.

Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Funnels, Iron, Oven and Ash Doors.

Barndoor Rollers and Rods for top or bottom of doors. Patent Sash Locks, Self-closing Gate Hinges and Fast; Blind Hinges and Fast, improved. Door Springs and Weather Strips; Window Weights, Lines and Fast; Window Frames made to order; Weather Vanes for Churches, &c.; Garden and Fire Engines; Carpenters' Mortising and Boring Machines, Ornamental Iron Brackets; Hatter, Draft and Tye Chains; House Bells, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent BEE HIVES, &c. &c. &c.

All Goods sold will be delivered at the Railroad Station here free of charge; or at any other place, for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited.

WEYMOUTH LANDING, May, 16.

JOHN O. FOYE.

ly

DR. S. STOCKING,

DENTAL SURGEON

No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs.)

Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,

BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on

the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing,

regulating, and extracting, on such terms as

make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what

are called modern improvements in Dentistry,

whatever is of real value; and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty-five years of close application to the duties of the profession, he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession,

whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satis-fication in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with

some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of

the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, though honest in their intentions, and uniting in their efforts,—

must be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are

based, or the want of experience and ingenuity

to apply them. Take, for instance, the process of plugging a tooth,—a process of

great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is

qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where

correct taste and sound judgment are required

in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item connected with the

qualifications and services of the dentist, of permanent importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be im-

properly filled, and even ruined,—artificial ones

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made;—but neither

life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so

in the administration of ether. It is an agent

that should be confined to the care and control

of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration,

though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium.

Either should be so administered as to prevent the air once breathed from entering the lungs a second time. The reason for this has its foundation in the laws of chemical combination in the process of respiration. The natural consequence

of inhaling ether over and over again, from a

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23d, 1858.

NUMBER XLIII.

DRUGS AND MEDICINES!

C. C. JOHNSON,
WOULD respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has opened a NEW DRUG STORE,

IN
GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
(Formerly occupied by Dr. J. Marden,) where he will be happy to wait upon all who may favor him with their patronage, day or night.

His Stock and Fixtures are entirely new, and his Medicines have been selected with great care, and are warranted pure and genuine.

Mr. J.'s Powdered Articles are all fresh, as are his Herbs, and his Tinctures and Syrups have all been manufactured since his arrival here, and can be depended upon by physicians and others as being of the proper strength and purity.

His Stock of Chemicals is large, and comprises all the varieties usually found in a well conducted Apothecary Store. Of Patent Medicines, his Stock is large and varied, and will be enlarged from time to time, as new articles appear.

Of Perfumeries, Fancy Articles, Cigars, &c., a large variety of which he can sell as cheap as a genuine article can be purchased elsewhere.

With his large assortment of Drugs and Chemicals, Mr. Johnson is prepared to compound Physicians' Prescriptions, as well and accurately as they can be prepared in any city in the United States.

Mr. J. trusts by a strict attention to business, to merit a share of public patronage.

C. C. JOHNSON,
Quincy, Oct 24

Apothecary Store.

MRS. F. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for Invalids, Pepp, and prepared Powders, Syringes, Cartridges, Wheat, Sage, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Gum Starch, Broma, &c.

Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Bands, Pump, Glass Pipes and chills, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bedpans, Horse-hair Mittens, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

French Emment Leeches always on hand.

Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as the primary cause of disease, Washington St., west of Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1.

45tf

Hall's Great SCROFULAR REMEDY.

It is a safe and reliable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting nor purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease, regulating the bowels, removing all vitiated secretions, giving healthy action to the Liver and a correct tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and removes and restores the vitality of the Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scurvy, Pimples, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever, Sore, White Swelling, Dropsy, Bells, Barber's Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eruptions or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, affording relief more readily than has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness and Derangement of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness and Headaches.

It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.

Made and sold by Wm. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders must be addressed. Sold also by Retailers, No. 8 State street, Geo. C. Goodnow, No. 99 Union street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT,
Quincy, Dec. 13.

GEORGE R. FRENCH,

Engraver and Plate Printer,
251 Washington, near Winter st., - Boston

Particular attention given to the Engraving and Printing of all kinds of Invitations, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.

A LONG and practical experience in this particular branch, warrants me in saying that persons about ordering Cards of any description, will study their interests by calling, or sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, at prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Maps, Diplomas, Labels, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c., &c., engraved or printed at short notice.

Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.

Orders by mail, express, or otherwise, promptly attended to.

Boston, Feb 29

Neat's Foot Oil.

Of the best quality, for sale low by
D. BAXTER & Co
Quincy, Sept. 27.

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co
Quincy, Feb 28

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co
Quincy, March 25.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Dorchester, ORIN F. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVERLY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

The Culprit Judge.

In one of the Western States I was once a prosecuting attorney. The settler's axe was then familiar music, and the prairies away from the woodland had not yet heard the scream of the steam-whistle. All branches of society, of trade, business and profession were in a transition state. Of course the judges were not men of vast learning or of rare character; and, lest I appear vain, I may add, that the lawyers were by no means Chief Justice Taney's!

The Judge who travelled circuit with us in the counties round about the city of — had been in early life a horse-jockey, and had picked up a large amount of fact, knowledge of men, and of human nature, and of social motives that was of much use to him in his legal walk. At the West he had been a member of the first Constitutional Convention in our State, and being a good talker and of quick natural intellect, had shown in the debates. Of course it was natural that, as he made law, he should claim to be able to expound it. And at the first election after the State was admitted he was chosen a judge.

I never liked him. With all his affability and apparent deference of manner, there was in his composition an understratum of cunning that I suspected and became wary of. When I was chosen people's solicitor he sought my confidence, but I repelled it, and except in court, we were little together. Many a time on the civil side has he given me a favorable charge on facts, or acquiesced in my law when I felt that I was wrong. Nor could I fathom why he thus sought to get the winning side of me.

I suspected him of knavery. When prisoners were convicted, and he had the discretion of punishment, his sentences were oddly inconsistent. He fined when he should have imprisoned, and confined when a nominal punishment would have answered the justice of the case. But I never could get any clew, and with the populace he was regarded as a man of rare integrity and firmness of mind.

One night at the inn in the little village of Washington, where a week's court was to be held, I went to my "boarded off" bedroom for an afternoon nap, and was soon fast asleep. I was awakened by a confused murmuring, that, after I was thoroughly aroused, I perceived to come from the adjoining room — one appropriated to Judge C.

He is committing his Grand Jury charge, said I to myself, when I heard a strange voice say "The boodle is most used up of the old stripe."

Now "boodle" is a flash term used by counterfeiters, and instantly attracted my "prosecuting" attention. As I sat upon the bedside a ray of light came through a chink of the boarded partition. As a man, honor would have forbidden a "peep;" as an officer of the law, prudence commanded it. So drawing myself noiselessly and closely to the "wall," or the boarded separation, I looked through the "crack," and saw Judge C. seated at a table with a sinister-looking man, who wore a pair of remarkably black whiskers; and the two were counting quite a pile of new bank bills. I listened but not another word was spoken for some time. I saw the money divided into three piles, and the Judge placed one in his pocket, the whiskered man took the other, and then drawing off his boots, divided the third pile between each boot in the inside of it, and then again placed them on his feet. Next the Judge said: Be careful and send it to the proper place. His minister companion gave a meaning smile; they shook hands; the stranger left the room cautiously; and the Judge then sat down to some papers. I continued to look for several minutes, but he appeared absorbed in his duties, when, just as I was about quitting my point (literally a point) of observation, he arose, and taking out his roll of bills, placed them up the chimney! and then continued his reading.

I must say my blood ran cold, for a grave suspicion had often crossed my mind that he was a rascal; but I never suspected him of being concerned with the drovers, trappers, and traders who occasionally make bad money of their commodity. Nor as I sat collecting my thoughts, could I conceive it possible, when I remembered how severe he had always been upon the passers of counterfeit money, and how earnestly and solemnly he always in his charges in such cases declaimed against the enormity of offenders who substituted a spurious currency for a good one. I therefore concluded that the word "boodle," and the suspicious "boot stuffing," must relate to some other kind of offence, connected with which I now felt assured he must be.

Stealthily going out, I carefully descended the stairs and entered the bar-room. The heavily whiskered man was seated at a table reading the last Cincinnati paper, as calm and placid as if he were the Methodist minister of the riding. I sat down, and pulling out a law paper pretended to read it, but I was glancing over the top at the stranger.

His eye did not wander from a particular point of the paper, nor did the sheet after several minutes turn; I therefore concluded he was not reading but was reflecting. I endeavored to catch his eye, but could not. I next thought of trying the demeanor of the Judge; so making in my mind some excuse relating to my official duties, I again went up stairs and knocked at his door. His pleasant voice, in an unembarrassed tone, cried, Walk in, and I entered. After getting through my business, I said, in a careless tone, What have you been doing all the afternoon, Judge? He answered, just as carelessly, Going through my charge, and a decision or two I have to make on to-morrow. As yet, I have not seen any one since I arrived.

The last he was an unnecessary one, as I knew its falsity, for he needed not to have asserted the fact—an immaterial one. This, therefore, the more confirmed my suspicions: because I had found these immaterial assertions to be always made by witnesses when they are committing perjury, just as cowards whistle to keep up their courage.

We continued chatting until the bell rang for tea, but not a tone nor an act betrayed that the Judge was troubled or uneasy. We went down stairs together and began our meal. The whiskered stranger sat opposite, but he and the Judge were to each other as if they had never met. One or two table civilities passed between them, but they were accompanied with freezing politeness, somewhat unusual in our Western way of life.

All this satisfied me that there was something out of the way, and I resolved while at the table to furnish myself with some evidence. I finished the meal first, and went up stairs into the Judge's room, and groping to the chimney in the dark, felt for a loose brick, found it, and discovered a roll of paper. I took off one or two pieces, and replaced the balance hastily, and left the room.

Nothing more occurred that night worth narrating, but the next day in Court I found on the calendar the case of a man who had been indicted some months before for counterfeiting, and had been out on bail.

What does this mean? I asked of the clerk. I did not authorize the trial, nor am I prepared with witnesses.

Judge C. ordered it on last term for this day, answered the clerk, and produced your request.

My request? stammered I.

Yes; and here it is, as he handed me a piece of paper bearing in my writing the words, Give Judge C. his request. I remembered, now I saw it, that I had written the paper, but could not recall the apparently trivial circumstance which had prompted it.

Just then Judge C. entered, and Court business began. The case in question being called, I arose to postpone it on the ground of not being prepared.

A stranger arose from among the lawyers, and said he was counsel for the prisoner, and had come from Cincinnati to try the case, at much trouble, and, as he understood, because it had been ordered on for to-day. The counsel was the black-whiskered companion of the Judge!

The latter, with a bland smile, and dipping his pen in ink ready for a memorandum asked, What is your name, Sir?

I was so astounded at this cool impudence that I did not hear the answer, but proceeded to deny any understanding, and to charge that there was some trick.

My opponent wilyly rejoined, and moved, if the case was not tried, that his client be discharged from bail. This was giving him liberty to run when he pleased, and I opposed this motion. My adversary again rejoined, and to my utter astonishment Judge C. granted the request, and ordered the clerk to cancel the bail-bond.

At this juncture I sat down amidst the titers of my brethren, who were ready enough to laugh at W. — being caught napping, as they phrased it. While I was meditating my wrath and revenge, the clerk announced that the panel of Grand Jurors was now complete, and they were ready for business. Judge C. arose to address and charge them. He was cool and placid as the morning itself.

Oh, you hypocrite! I muttered through my teeth, as the black-whiskered counsel—and confederate, as I fully knew him now to be—slyly sneered at me and drew his chair close to the Bench in an attitude of deferential listening.

The charge was an elaborate one. It was an essay on crime and its enormities, and seemed dramatically worked up. Its adjurations to the Grand Jury to fearlessly investigate were very pathetic. Its encomiums on virtue were touchingly true.

Scarcely had the Jury retired, than, in my capacity as prosecuting officer, I followed the members to their chamber. To the formal question, What was their first business? I answered, To investigate a charge of malfeasance in office against the Judge.

The foreman and his fellows looked at each other in astonishment. Finally one of them said, with a smile, Take care, Brother W. —, that your professional rivalry does not get you into trouble!

I replied by telling my story, and narrating all the suspicious circumstances of the past twenty-four hours; and concluded by requesting that the black-whiskered counsel be called and examined. Amidst the astonished silence of the Grand Inquest, the constable in attendance went after and returned with the stranger.

He entered easily and unabashed, saying, as he took a chair, I am told you desire me to be a witness!

Perhaps culprit! I exclaimed, in a passion entirely losing my control. And then, not heeding the hand of the foreman on my shoulder in restraint, I said to the constable who had lingered by the door, Take off his boots!

The stranger made two bounds, and was at the window which led into the garden of the jail. But the grip of the constable caught him securely. In an instant one of the jurors took his arm and another his leg, and before any one had time to speak the boots were off and two rolls of bills on the floor.

The firmness and presence of mind of the stranger forsook him; he trebled in every muscle, and as I whispered to him, Villain, not even your friend, Judge C. —, can save you! he turned ghastly pale.

He was seated on a chair.

Is this good money or bad? said the foreman, breaking the dull silence that had succeeded the struggle.

Am I a witness, or am I accused? he stammered, looking toward me.

Witness, said I, if you tell all you know about Judge C. —, who is far better game than you.

I—know—nothing—about Judge C. —, he stammered; I never saw him before to-day.

Liar! I shouted, forgetting my official dignity in my rage at his falsehood. Last night you and he were together exchanging money and in his presence you concealed your boodle in your boots.

Immediately he stood up in an attitude of defiance—then sat down—half rose again; turned red, then pale; while huge drops of sweat stood on his face.

He saw he was by some means cornered; and, in a moment, recovering himself, answered, I will be witness—the Judge is guilty, then I.

I have not space for his story; but its amount was, that long before the Judge removed to the West they had been confederates at the East in circulating counterfeit money while horse-jockeying. They were connected with a well-organized and secret band. The leaders were the manufacturers and bankers of the "boodle." Middlemen bought it and disposed of it to the underlings who purchased it at a discount of fifty cents to pass it off at par. As fast as the last counterfeit was discovered a new one was made. Judge C. — while on the bench, was able to be as moral and as severe as he pleased with the underling classes who never knew the haunts and ways and companionships of those above them. But the man whose trial was for that day, and for whom Judge C. — had interceded, happened to be one of the upper class, and hence the necessity of the action.

It is time now to see the Judge! I said turning to the Grand Jurymen, who were petrified at the tale they had just heard.

No one answered.

I will go and prepare him for your action. I next said; for to indict him in his own court, while he is upon the bench, will be a scandal upon justice.

As I entered the court room he was announcing the noon recess. There was a little room off containing a few law books and a desk, into which he usually retired, and thither I followed him.

Judge, said I—and my voice trembled like the voice of a man under severe ague, so terribly was I wrought up by the excitement of the morning's accusations and confession—Judge, I have very, very bad news for you.

For me! said he, with the utmost nonchalance, notwithstanding the peculiarity and mystery of my manner.

Yes, for you; the Cincinnati lawyer has told all, I shook out rather than spoke.

He still smiled. It was awful to see his hypocrisy and calmness of demeanor, and for a moment I knew not what to say. Then taking from my vest pocket two of the bills unrolled from his chimney deposit, I held them before him, and said—

He has told all about these; and I myself, last night, saw you place the counterfeit money in the fire place when he placed his in his boots.

His composure was instantly gone. He wilted like a scorched weed on the prairie, and his manhood gave way as if he had been afflicted with sudden paralysis. The room rather swam around before my own eyes, for the sight of a "culprit judge" was not an every day one; and when I recovered my full attention, I found him at my knees groveling on the floor like a dog.

He tore his hair, he wrenched his hands: his eyes glared, and his powerful frame quivered in every part. Indeed I was unmanned myself to behold so sudden and wretched a sight.

Oh, good W. —! dear W. —! I don't betray me! Consider how dreadful! And I a judge! Oh, the disgrace! My poor wife and children! What will they say? Don't don't betray me! I was to be next Governor—you know that! Oh—oh—oh—how dreadful! and he rocked himself on his knees to and fro, as if bursting with agony.

These were some of the heart-harrowing incoherencies which I can now remember over all the dreadful scenes that followed.

I raised him from the floor and placed him on a chair and then said, Alas! Judge C. —, appeals to me are too late. Your confederate has told all, and the Grand Jury have taken his testimony.

His eyeballs glared at me like those of a maniac. Then, as if wrung by some wonderful impulse, he became calm. Indeed that calmness was more dreadful to behold than had been his excitement, imprecations, and agonizing entreaty.

Well, if it must be so, it must. But let me see the foreman only for a moment; bring him up—go for him—leave the room; go—do go—go!

His excitement was returning; and without reflecting, as I should have done, I turned and left the room. I had just crossed the court-room, amidst the curious looks of the crowd who had now gathered—for in those western settlements secessy was of no moment about Grand Jury matters, and half the village knew the story—I had just crossed the court-room, I repeat, when I heard a dreadful groan and a simultaneous pistol report.

It was succeeded by an instant of terrible silence, and then the crowd burst into the room.

Judge C. — lay upon the floor, with his blood and brains, shockingly scattered about the little chamber. When I retired he had drawn his pistol, and to his other crimes added that of self-murder. He was a ghastly sight to see; nor shall I ever forget the memories of that dreadful day when I was compelled to behold the living agony and the dying woes of a "Culprit Judge," in sight of that bench and bar whereat he had so often presided in convicting and sentencing villains less guilty than he had really been all the while.

Use Good Bread.

During the high price of flour which has recently prevailed, many people were compelled from necessity to purchase the cheapest flour, and therefore the poorest material for bread. The consequence of this is manifested in the derangement of health. The digestive organs extract the nutritive part of the food taken into them, and faithfully distribute it into different parts of the system. If the material is good, the extract which they obtain is good, and health is sustained. If the material be bad, they must send out a defective material, and health accordingly suffers.

We do not think much of robbing wheat of a great part of its best and most nutritive matter for the sake of making extra superfine flour. It is robbing nature, and cheating the human system, and the penalty is being paid every day, by the constant degeneracy that is going on in the physical system of the people.

The most wholesome bread is that made of good wheat meal. This contains all the elements necessary for the support of the several organs of the body, and will enable the digestive organs to supply the wear and tear, and sustain thereby the strength of the frame in all its parts. Instead of using this for bread, we, by the means of sieves, and screens, and bolts, in our flour mills, throw away some very essential parts of the wheat, and content ourselves with a portion only, because, forsooth, it is fashionable to live on the "nicest of flour."

In a medical work, we met with some remarks of an experienced physician, who has had his attention turned to the effects of poor flour as food for children. He says he has observed that rickets is a very common disease among the children of those who use baker's bread, and he concludes it may be owing to the alum with which such bread is adulterated. This is in accordance with the well known chemical action of alum, since that salt forms combinations with the phosphoric acid which should unite with lime to form the bone, which combinations are but little tenacious, but are decomposable by any of the alkalies or acids that are in the system. We may observe here in addition to the above remarks, that in bolting the wheat flour and saving only the starch, we throw away much of the phosphate of lime that is required to form bone, and if we combine alum or alkaline substances with the residue, we deprive this of what remains, and thus make in reality unwholesome bread, however nice and palatable it may be.—Maine Farmer.

The Potato Disease.

It appears from researches which have lately been made, that the potato disease was known in Ireland nearly one hundred and twenty years ago, the first record of it being in 1739-40. The principal cause of destruction at that time was, however, severe frost. So total was the failure of the potato crop, that no less than three hundred thousand persons died in consequence of the resulting famine. The next memorable potato blight in Ireland was in 1765; and there were partial failures in 1770, 1779 and 1784. That of 1765 was not confined to Ireland, but extended all over Europe and even to America.

In 1800, the potato partially failed in Ireland and the failure was characterized by the peculiar withering of the stalk which has been so marked a feature in all subsequent attacks of the disease. The years 1801, 1807, 1809, 1811, 1812, and 1816, were all bad years for the potato in Ireland, and during the year last named (1816) as bad in England as in Ireland. In Ireland, almost every second succeeding year since 1816 has seen a failure in the potato crop. In 1840, the potato disease prevailed to such an extent in Germany that the total extinction of the esculent was threatened. The year 1843 was a very bad year for the potato in America, though not very unfavorable in Ireland; but it was the commencement of the great blight which prevailed for the next five or six years. In the year 1848 the crop almost entirely failed, and in 1849 and 1850 the potato failure was very extensive and intense. It seemed to have reached its acme, however, in 1848, and it has since then gradually declined. The severe frosts of 1855 seem to have beneficially changed the liability of potatoes to disease, and the root has again assumed a healthy character and regained its natural flavor.

Manufacture of Camel's Hair Shawls.

In Bokhara, the camel is watched while the fine hair on the under part of his body is growing. This fine hair is cut off so carefully that not a fiber is lost; it is put by until there is enough to spin into a yarn, unequalled for softness, and then it is dyed into all manner of bright colors, and woven into strips eight inches wide, of shawl patterns, such as—with all our pains and cost, with all our schools of design and study of art—we are not yet able to rival. These strips are then sewn together that no European can discover the joints. The precious merchandise is delivered to traders who receive it on credit. On their return from market, they pay the price of the shawls at the Bokhara value, with thirty per cent. interest; or if they cannot do this in consequence of having been robbed, or of any other misfortune, they stay away and are never again seen in their native land. Where is this market? So far away from home that the traders wear out their clothes during their journey; and their fair skins become brown as mulattoes. On, on they go, day by day, month after month, over their paces, camels, or beside them, over table-lands, mounting one above another; over grass, among rocks, over sand, through snows; now chilled to the marrow by icy winds, now scorched by sunshine, from which there is no shelter but the flat cotton caps, with which they thatch their bare crowns; on, on, for fifteen hundred miles, to the borders of Russia, to sell the shawls which are to hang on ladies' shoulders in Hyde Park, and where beauties most do congregate in Paris, Vienna and New York.

Looking Glasses.

The process of their manufacture is one of the most curious of the modern arts, and is an extremely simple one. A sheet of tin foil, somewhat larger than the glass plate, is laid upon a smooth table, and quicksilver poured over it until the foil is covered with a thickness of a tenth of an inch or more. All impurities being swept off from the surface of the mercury, and the glass plate made scrupulously clean, it is brought even with the edge of the table and pushed gently forward, sideways, so as to slide over the mercury bath, its edge just dipping beneath its surface, so as to push before it all impurities and to exclude all air-bubbles. Weights are then evenly applied to the glass, and the whole table inclined to such an angle as to favor the drawing off of the superfluous mercury. This requires some days or weeks, according to the size of the plate. There is a constant risk in the whole process, even when the greatest care is practised. The larger the glass, the greater the danger of breakage and imperfections. Sometimes the amalgam crystallizes, producing flaws, which require the operation to be repeated. It is these causes which make large mirrors so very costly. In addition to this, high wages must be paid to the workmen, as the mercury produces salivation, destroys their health, renders some of them cripples for years, and shortens the lives of all.

A Chapter on First Things.

The Declaration of Independence, with its "glittering generalities, was the first National State paper in which the words "United States of America" were used as the style and title of the nation.

The first schooner ever launched in this country is said to have been built at Cape Ann in 1714.

The first lime made in New England was burned in Newbury, Mass., by James Noyes.

The first cotton factory in the United States was established in Beverly, Mass., in 1787. It continued in operation until 1802, and then stopped, 90 per cent of the capital having been sunk in the enterprise.

The first cast iron edifice erected in America stands upon the corner of Center and Duane streets, New York.

Samuel B. F. Morse of telegraphic fame, studied painting in England, and was the first person to deliver a course of public lectures upon Art, in America.

The first successful experiment of burning anthracite coal in an open grate, was by Judge Jesse

This engine was put on the road by David Matthews, who now resides in this city, and has been connected with railroads since that time. The first Stephenson locomotive ever imported into this country was the Robert Fulton. This engine was brought out in the summer of 1831, for the Mohawk and Hudson Railroad; it was subsequently rebuilt and named the John Bull.—Boston Transcript.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Oct. 23d, 1858.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

SUICIDE OF A WOMAN. Miss Evelyn Glover, a lady about twenty-eight years old, daughter of Mr. Benj. Franklin Glover, committed suicide, at Dedham, on Wednesday last. She left home at ten o'clock in the forenoon, telling her mother that she was going to Quincy, and then went directly to Granite bridge, where she took off her bonnet and shawl, left them on the bridge, and slowly waded from the shore until she passed beyond her depth and was drowned. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide while laboring under an attack of insanity.

BODY FOUND. A dead body, supposed to be one of the crew of the lately wrecked sloop Granite, of Quincy, was picked up on the shore at Dennis, on Saturday evening last. It has been buried.

BRUTALITY. The prize fight between Heenan and Morrissey, came off at Long Point, Canada, on Wednesday afternoon last. Eleven rounds were fought in twenty-two minutes, and Morrissey was the victor.

RESIGNATION. Hon. Abel Cushing of Dorchester, who has filled for many years the position as one of the Justices of the Boston Police and Justices' Court, has tendered his resignation of the office in consequence of infirmities attendant upon an increasing old age. Mr. C. was appointed by Gov. Morton in 1842, and has very acceptably filled the office. May the years in store for him be passed in peace and comfort.

CANDIDATES FOR COUNCILLOR. Joseph Mc Keon Churchill of Milton, has been nominated by the Republicans for Councillor of the City of Boston. The present Councillor is Hon. Laban M. Wheaton of Norton.

Ezra S. Conant of Randolph, is the Democratic candidate for the same office.

The Americans have not selected their candidate in this district.

WELL BESTOWED. The Democratic Convention for the second Congressional District, have nominated John Wilson, Jr., of Cohasset, for Representative to Congress.—This is an excellent selection of a worthy and deserving member of the agricultural portion of the community, and whose education and information eminently qualify him to discharge any political trust or adorn any position to which he may be elevated. The Boston Post very truly says, that "he is a liberal, intelligent and efficient citizen, alive to all the great movements of the day for the improvement of society, and an influential co-operator in all beneficent measures."

NOMINATIONS FOR SENATOR. The Democrats at their meeting, in Randolph, on Tuesday last, Dr. William S. Pattee of this town, President, nominated A. L. Cushing, Esq., of Randolph, his candidate for Senator from the East Norfolk District.

Hon. Abner Holbrook, of Weymouth, the incumbent last year, has been again nominated by the American party as their candidate for Senator.

The Republicans held a convention at Braintree, on Wednesday of last week, Wm. S. Morton, Esq., of this town, presiding, and Mr. Wm. Ditson one of the Vice Presidents. Col. Charles A. French, of Stoughton, was nominated as their candidate for Senator from this district.

COAL. The season is at hand to secure a good article for a warm fire the coming winter, and all are led to inquire where can our wants be supplied. Now, the Black Diamond Coal, a cargo of which has recently arrived and for sale at Brackett's Wharf, is a very superior article, burns beautifully, being free from slate and other mixtures, and while it has all the qualities of the Franklin, possesses none of its impurities. A trial of this coal, such as may now be found at the above place, will prove the facts thus stated.

AN EXTRACT. The Whig State Committee have issued an address from which we extract the following:—

"In view of the policy and conduct of the present State administration, especially towards the Judiciary,—respect for which has ever been a cardinal doctrine in the Whig creed,—we cannot but consider it a paramount duty of the Whigs of Massachusetts to throw their votes in the way most likely to defeat the election of the candidates of the Republican party."

TRUE AND JUST. Sydney Webster, Esq., the accomplished private Secretary of Ex-President Pierce, in closing an eloquent speech before the democracy of Charlestown, lately, said the following handsome tribute to Moses Bates, Jr., Esq., the editor of that sterling democratic newspaper—"Plymouth Rock," and the candidate of the democracy for Congress from the First District. Mr. W. says, "the nomination of a Democrat of so exalted character and true patriotism as Mr. Bates, cannot fail to win to the true faith hundreds of men, who would have been indifferent to the canvas, had a gentleman less known in public affairs, and less beloved by those who have been brought in contact with him, been placed upon the ticket."

COUNTY NOMINATIONS. At the County Convention of Democrats held at Dedham, on Wednesday of last week, Col. I. S. Burdell presiding, Col. A. B. Packard of this town, being one of the Vice Presidents, the following ticket was selected, viz:—

Register of Deeds—Enos Ford, of Dedham.

County Commissioner—Nathaniel F. Sanford, of Dorchester.

County Treasurer—John Fisher, of Dedham.

Register of Probate and Insolvency—Elijah F. Hall, of Weymouth.

District Attorney—Edward Avery, of Braintree.

The Republicans at their Convention at Dedham, last Tuesday, Hon. Asaph Churchill presiding, made the following County nominations, viz:—

Register of Deeds—Charles Endicott, of Canton.

County Commissioner—John W. May, of Roxbury.

Register of Probate and Insolvency—Jonathan H. Cobb, of Dedham.

County Treasurer—C. C. Churchill, of Dedham.

District Attorney—B. W. Harris, of Bridge-water.

The American party of Norfolk County, at their Convention at Roxbury, the present week, Hon. Abner Holbrook of Weymouth, President, selected the following ticket viz:—

Register of Deeds—Enos Ford, of Dedham.

County Commissioner—Nathaniel F. Sanford, of Dorchester.

Register of Probate—Jonathan H. Cobb, of Dedham.

County Treasurer—C. C. Churchill, of Dedham.

District Attorney—B. W. Harris, of Bridge-water.

THE REGISTERS OF PROBATE AND DEEDS. Among the officers to be elected the present year in the various counties, are the Registers of Probate and Deeds. It is highly detrimental to the public interest to have these offices frequently changed. We agree with a cotemporary that when they are in the hands of competent persons no change can ever be made without delaying and obstructing, more or less, the business of the offices. In the registry of probate there are many record books, and perhaps a hundred different forms of blanks, and familiarity in handling them is necessary to accuracy and despatch. In those offices where changes have been made, serious inconvenience and injury has ordinarily been the consequence for months and even years to all doing business with them, and it is to be hoped, where no good reason for the removal of the incumbents prevails, or where no better reason for a change than the promotion of some other aspirant for the station is offered, that the people will re-elect the present incumbents.

EXTENSIVE CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT. Among the largest Clothing Houses of Boston, none sustain a higher reputation than that of J. W. Smith & Co., corner of Elm street and Dock Square. We call attention to their store at this time, because we know that this is the season our friends are about making their purchases for the winter, and we feel confident that by dealing at this well known and widely patronized Clothing Bazaar, they will not only get articles at the lowest possible prices, but that they will find the goods superior to anything heretofore offered. This is a good deal to promise, we know, but their arrangements with the largest manufacturers of first class Clothing, in New York, are such that customers may rely upon getting the very best the market affords, equal in style and finish to the best custom work. In overcoats alone, they are doing an immense business, having introduced an entirely new style, peculiarly adapted for the approaching winter. Customers however unused to purchasing, may rest assured of as good a bargain as if they were well acquainted with the business. No material is used but such as is of the most excellent quality, and none but skillful, careful and experienced hands are employed. The integrity and fair dealing that has characterized Mr. Smith's course in business for many years, is a sufficient guarantee that the inducements he offers will be faithfully fulfilled. Try them, and you will not be disappointed. See their advertisement in to-day's paper.

Rev. Mr. Bell, of Charlestown will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

MASS MEETING. The friends of Hon. C. F. Adams are preparing for a grand ratification meeting, at Dedham, on Tuesday of next week, at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Mr. A. addressed a large meeting at Dorchester, last Thursday evening, and was warmly welcomed by an attentive audience.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION. The Americans of the Third Congressional District had their Convention at Dedham, on Friday of last week, and nominated Major Moses G. Cobb of Dorchester, as their candidate for Congress.

For the Patriot.
A View of Political Matters.

MR. EDITOR: As a democrat of the old school, I have carefully observed the course of Mr. Buchanan's administration, and I am not afraid to say he has widely departed from the principles of democracy as taught by Jefferson and Jackson.

Recent events have shown that his war on the sovereign rights of the people of Kansas, has estranged him from the confidence and support of a large portion of those democrats, who have always held to what is called State Rights, or popular Sovereignty. In other words, that every State and Territory of the Union, have the prerogative to determine, whether the domestic institution of slavery, shall or shall not exist within their respective borders. This principle of non-interference clearly laid down in the federal Constitution, and construed under the name of State Rights, has never failed to lead the democratic party, north and south, to victory in our national elections. The slave-holding states, always the strong advocates of these principles, have now abandoned them, including Mr. Buchanan and his administration.—This has been but too clearly demonstrated by enforcing the odious Lecompton Constitution upon the people of Kansas territory, against the will of a large majority of its legal voters. Proscription at every caprice of the present National Administration is the order of the day in good earnest; and such proscription never had its parallel for bitterness and tyranny since the organization of our federal government. But a brighter era dawns upon us.

The creed of the Anti-Lecompton democracy and of the Republican party on the immutable principles of freedom and state sovereignty are congenial.—Slavery to exist where it now is, or to be abolished just as the people of its several localities, shall in their wisdom determine. Any interference by the Executive or National government, to establish slavery anywhere against the express will of the people residing in its midst, is a direct violation of constitutional power, and one step towards a dissolution of the Union. Home Industry, now in want of encouragement under the influence of a judicious tariff of revenue, finds no favor with Mr. Buchanan's administration. The present exigencies require, such modification in our tariffs will protect the merchant and hard toil of the industrial classes, from undue foreign competition. This is to be one of the issues of the National election in 1860, as laid down in the Republican Platform; and it will meet the response favorably of no small portion of the American people.

The efforts of the National administration to repeal the Fishing Bounties, a poor government boon, to a worthy class of the citizens of New England engaged in Fisheries on the Eastern coasts of British America and Newfoundland, are unworthy of a generous nation. It finds no favor with the northern democrats.

A union of the Anti-Lecompton democracy with the republican party will lead to an easy victory in 1860. All minor differences should be laid aside, and with freedom—popular sovereignty—protection to home industry by federal legislation—the advocacy of economy in the expenses of our general government, and the distribution of government offices, more with regard to fitness and talent, than political partisanship, as our objects, triumph is certain. With these views, I shall vote the republican ticket at the coming state election.

W. B. D.

Cabinet Manufacture
COFFIN WAREHOUSE.
CHARLES H. KIMBALL,
Successor to W. M. French,
Having bought of Mr. French the Stock, Tools, Good-Will, &c., of the old Established Cabinet Factory and Coffin Ware Rooms, corner of Hancock and Temple streets, is now prepared to receive orders in all its Branches; manufacturing new, or REPAIRING OLD FURNITURE TO LOOK
NEARLY AS WELL AS NEW;
or in manufacturing Counters, &c.
He would also say to the patrons of the Old Stand that he intends to keep on hand
An Assortment of Coffins, varying in Size and Material; holding himself in readiness to meet the views of the community, in this particular branch at all times.
Having for the last twelve years served in this capacity under Mr. French, he feels confident that by attention to business, to meet with success, and supply the wants of Quincy and Vicinity.
Quincy, Oct. 23. if

FINE READY-MADE CLOTHING.
FALL AND WINTER
ELEGANT OVERCOATS,
FROCK AND BUSINESS COATS,
PANTS AND VESTS,
superbly made and trimmed,
AT LOWEST PRICES FOR CASH,
BY
J. W. SMITH & CO.,
Dock Square, Cor. Elm street,
BOSTON.

Having connection with all the largest manufacturing establishments in New York together with home facilities, we enjoy superior advantages for supplying the very best goods at the lowest possible prices. The styles will be found to excel any thing made in the New England States, and the workmanship far exceeds any thing heretofore offered in this market, and is so acknowledged by all who patronize our establishment.
We also make to order garments of every description, at short notice, at a Small Advance on the prices of our ready-made clothing.
Boston, Oct. 23. 3m

Special Notices.

GRAND DEMOCRATIC RALLY. Col. I. H. Wright of Boston, will address the Democracy and all National Citizens of Quincy, at the Town Hall, on TUESDAY EVENING, Oct. 26th, at 7 o'clock. Hon. Geo. S. Hilliard is also expected to speak on this occasion.
All National men are invited to attend.
Per Order Town Com.
GEORGE BAXTER, Chairman.
Quincy, Oct. 23. 1w

U. S. A. A regular meeting of U. S. A. No. 23, will be held at Abercrombie's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 25th.
All members are requested to be present, as business of the utmost importance will come before the meeting.
Per Order, R. S. 1w
Quincy, Oct. 23.

NOTICE. The citizens of Quincy, who are desirous of the policy of the National Administration, and in favor of that of the State Administration, are requested to meet at Lyceum Hall, on THURSDAY, Oct. 28th, at 7 1/2 o'clock, P. M., to select a candidate to represent this town in the next Legislature.
WM. S. MORTON,
Chairman Town Com.
Quincy, Oct. 23. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.
In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall,
Miss S. A. Magoon will speak to-morrow at both services.
Quincy, Oct. 23. 1w

Men's Prime Half Welt and double Sole Calf Boots, warranted. Call and see them, at C. Gill and Co's.

A GOOD CHANCE. C. Gill & Co. are closing off some lots of Men's Calf Boots and Men's Congress Boots at very low prices

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION. Just published by FEDERHEN & Co., Booksellers and Stationers, No. 13 Court Street, Boston, a Brief Treatise of 48 pages, on Diseases of the Sexual System of both sexes—their symptoms and treatment—prepared by a physician of the Boston Eclectic Hospital. This work also contains a searching exposure of the deception and imposture practiced by advertising quacks, with some of their names and locations. Sold by periodical dealers generally. Sent by mail, on the receipt of three postage stamps. Address Box 1802, Boston Post Office.
Feb. 27. 1y

Town Meetings.
NORFOLK, SS.—To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy, in said County;

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to warn the Inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, qualified to vote in Town Affairs to assemble at their Town Hall, on TUESDAY, the Second day of November next, at half-past eight o'clock, in the forenoon, to act on the following Articles, viz:—

Article First.—To choose a Moderator.
Article Second.—To see if the Town will appoint a Representative to Congress from this District, to be elected on the 2nd of November next, and answer and do all acts necessary and proper to be done in all actions in which the Town has been summoned as Trustee of Gilman Thompson and also in any and all actions in which the Town is hereafter to be summoned either as principal defendant or as trustee.

AND you are also directed to warn the Inhabitants of said Quincy qualified to vote in Elections to assemble at the same place on the same day at Nine o'clock, in the forenoon, to bring in to the Selectmen on one ballot their votes for a Representative to Congress from the Third District, a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Attorney General, Councilor for the Seventh District, Senator for the East Norfolk District, a Representative to Congress from the Second District, a District Attorney in place of J. M. Keith, Esq., resigned, a County Treasurer, County Commissioner, Register of Deeds, Register of Probate and Insolvency for the County of Norfolk.

Hereof fail not to return this Warrant to the Town Clerk with your doings thereon before the day named for said meetings.

Given under our hands, at Quincy, this Twenty-second day of October, A. D., Eighteen Hundred and Fifty-Eight.

GEORGE MARSH, Selectman of
E. ADAMS, do
DANIEL BAXTER, do
A true copy—
EDWARD A. SPEAR, Constable of Quincy.

Norfolk, ss. Quincy, October 22d, 1858.
Pursuant to the foregoing Warrant, I hereby notify and warn the Inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, qualified as therein expressed to meet at the times, and place, and for the several purposes therein named.

EDWARD A. SPEAR, Constable of Quincy
Quincy, Oct. 23. 2w

FINE READY-MADE CLOTHING.
FALL AND WINTER
ELEGANT OVERCOATS,
FROCK AND BUSINESS COATS,
PANTS AND VESTS,
superbly made and trimmed,
AT LOWEST PRICES FOR CASH,
BY
J. W. SMITH & CO.,
Dock Square, Cor. Elm street,
BOSTON.

Having connection with all the largest manufacturing establishments in New York together with home facilities, we enjoy superior advantages for supplying the very best goods at the lowest possible prices. The styles will be found to excel any thing made in the New England States, and the workmanship far exceeds any thing heretofore offered in this market, and is so acknowledged by all who patronize our establishment.
We also make to order garments of every description, at short notice, at a Small Advance on the prices of our ready-made clothing.
Boston, Oct. 23. 3m

FRUIT TREES.

THE subscriber offers for sale at his Nurseries in

DORCHESTER,
A complete assortment of Fruit Trees, Grape Vines, Raspberries, Strawberries, Currants, &c., viz:—

6000 Extra large Pear Trees, on Quince Roots.

4000 Large Standard Pear Trees on Pear Roots.

10,000 Imported Pyramid Pear Trees on Quince Roots.

5000 Cherry Trees, embracing the new American varieties, Gov. Wood, Black Hawk, Ohio Beauty, &c., &c.

1000 GRAPE VINES, embracing the new and popular American varieties, viz. Rebecca, Union Village, Delaware, Hartford Prolific, Diana and others.

5000 New Currants, in six excellent new sorts, producing much larger fruit than the old varieties.

Also, A superior collection of

APPLES, PLUMS, RASPBERRIES, STRAWBERRIES, NEW RHUBARBS, &c., &c.—ALSO

Ornamental Trees, Evergreens, Roses, Flowering Shrubs, Greenhouse and Herbaceous Plants

The collection of Pear Trees is unsurpassed and embraces all the new and most celebrated sorts extant.

Many of the above are remarkable for the strength and beauty of form, and with proper care will produce fruit the next season.

N. B. Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin st., Boston, several times in the day.

MARSHALL P. WILDER, Dorchester, Oct. 23. if

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 16, A. D. 1858.

SARAH J. NASH, Administratrix of the estate of late of Weymouth in said County, Boot Manufacturer, deceased, having presented her account in her said capacity for allowance.

GEORGE F. NASH,

Ordered.—That said Sarah J. notify all persons interested therein that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the Thirtieth day of October, A. D. 1858, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by publishing this Order two weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE,
Judge of Probate and Insolvency.
Quincy, Oct. 23. 2w

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS.

TAKEN by virtue of an Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on WEDNESDAY, the twenty-fourth day of November next, at three o'clock, P. M., all the right, title and interest, that Jason W. Wood, of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, had on the sixteenth day of June, A. D. 1858, when the same was attached on a debt process, in, or to, the following described Real Estate, subject to a Mortgage, to-wit:—

A certain parcel of Land situated on South street, in Quincy, with the Buildings standing thereon, containing three acres, one-half, and fifteen cents, bounded as follows: South-easterly by land now or formerly of John Arnold, South-westerly by lands of Messrs. Brown, Peay, Pyer, and Pratt, North-westerly and Westerly by lands of John Faxon and Charles E. Miller, North-easterly on South street, being the same premises which Benjamin P. Woods now occupies.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.
Quincy, Oct. 20th, 1858. 3w

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and Vicinity, that they have taken on the Quincy Bake-House, and intend carrying on the baking business in all its branches—adhering strictly to the Cash system—and hope by manufacturing the

Best Quality of Bread,
to merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and the neighboring towns.

Trout & Glover.
Quincy, Oct. 16. if

Removal!

Removal!!

Of Millinery Goods!

I HAVE removed my Goods from my residence on Washington streets, into

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
ROOMS OVER
Caleb Packard's Dry Goods Store,
—CORNER OF—
Hancock and Granite Streets,
Where may be found a good assortment of

Fall & Winter Millinery,
AT LOW PRICES.

I have a great variety of ready made Dress Hats in rich material which SHALL be sold low, also trimmed straw which SHALL be sold cheap.

To any one wishing to engage in a good business I would dispose of my Stock and Fixtures, were the opportunity satisfactory. A lease of the premises may be obtained for a Term of years, and it is one of the best locations in the

CENTRE OF QUINCY.

Until I dispose of my Goods to some party wishing to occupy the premises, I shall endeavor to keep a general assortment of desirable Goods, and would respectfully solicit patronage—daily acknowledging the favors of friends and the public for the LAST TEN YEARS.

A. J. KENISON.
Quincy, Oct. 16. if

Shoemakers' Notice.

RECEIPT for making the BEST BLACK LEATHER for Edges and Top Channels now in use; will not smut, nor strike into the sole, and has a better gloss than any other Blacking; cost to manufacture, 10 cents per gallon. Receipt sent to any one by mail on receipt of 25 cents in cash or stamps. Patent applied for.

E. N. FORBES,
Lynn, Mass.
Oct. 16. 2w

Apples for Sale.

THE Subscriber has from forty to fifty barrels of the first quality of Winter Apples consisting of Golden Russets, Baldwins, Pippins, and Nonsuch, which he will sell cheap for Cash.
SOLOMON NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, Oct. 23. 3w

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a copartnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,
and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.
done to satisfaction, and in a workmanlike manner. Small as well as large jobs thankfully received; and share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES E. POPE.
Quincy, Oct. 9. 3m

MILLINERY

AND
FANCY GOODS STORE.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the Ladies of Quincy and Vicinity, that she has opened a

Millinery and Fancy Goods Store,
at her residence on

FRANKLIN ST., SOUTH QUINCY,
where she will keep on hand a variety of Articles usually found in a Store of this kind.

—ALSO—
DRESS MAKING,
Done at Short Notice.

Mrs. Mary E. Curtis.
Quincy, Oct. 9. if

To Sportsmen.

THE undersigned would call the attention of those who enjoy the sports of

Gunning and Fishing,
to the fact that he has in complete order, boats, bait, lines and decoys, with good boatmen at the

BLACK ROCK HOUSE, COHASSET,
where he will be pleased to see all his friends who wish to partake of the sports of the season.

The advantage of his locality, both for fishing and gunning, need not be mentioned.

Board, $1 per day. Sea Fowls and Smelts, constantly on hand—Game and Fish Suppers served up at short notice.

N. B. There is a good Stable and Bowling Alley upon the premises.

JAMES W. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Oct. 9. 3w.

TO FRUIT GROWERS.

FOR sale an extensive assortment of PEAR TREES, of all the varieties worthy of cultivation, a part of which are on the quince stock.

Also, APPLE, CHERRY, PEACH and other FRUIT TREES. GRAPE VINES—REBECCA, DELAWARE, UNION VILLAGE and all the other "best" kinds. CURRANTS, GOOSEBERRIES and RASPBERRIES in great variety. EVERGREEN and other ORNAMENTAL TREES, Shrubs, Roses, Buckthorns, Rhubarb, Herbaceous Plants, Tulips, &c.

Persons wishing FRUIT TREES in a bearing state may do well to call at the Nurseries and make a selection.

SAMUEL WALKER & CO.
Roxbury, Mass.

A lot of EXTRA SIZED APPLE TREES will be sold very cheap.

Oct. 16. 4w

NEXT DOOR!

ONE DOOR NORTH OF THE OLD STAND WHERE THE BEST OF

Custom Boots & Shoes
ARE made, and where Men's Boots and Shoes from the Best Stock, and Work Warranted, may be found.

Also—An assortment of

Ladies, Misses & Children's BOOTS, SHOES, and GAITERS
of the best kinds manufactured.

Being a practical workman the undersigned is enabled to procure the Best Stock in the Market.

ALL WORK WARRANTED.
All kinds of Repairing as usual.

CALL AND EXAMINE.
Second Door from the Post Office.
J. F. BURRELL.
Quincy, July 17. if

Horses for Sale.

FOR sale by the subscriber one Black Horse, ten years old, weighs 1000 pounds, sound and kind in any harness, a good serviceable work horse and a very fair traveler.

One Sorrel Mare, seven years old, weighs 900 pounds, and is a fine Carriage Horse.

Both of the above named will be sold low.

HOWARD VINAL.
Quincy, Sept. 18. if

Burnett's Cocaine.

FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy.

Thomson's Golden Lustrate. The German Toilet Balsam, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by Apples for Sale.

THE Subscriber has from forty to fifty barrels of the first quality of Winter Apples consisting of Golden Russets, Baldwins, Pippins and Jonathan, which will sell cheap for Cash.

SOLOMON NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, Oct. 23. 3w

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a partnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,
and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.

Small as well as large jobs cheerfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES E. POPE.

Quincy, Oct. 9. 3m

MILLINERY

FANCY GOODS STORE.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a

Millinery and Fancy Goods Store, at her residence on

FRANKLIN ST., SOUTH QUINCY,

where she will keep a full assortment of Articles usually found in a Store of this kind.

Also—

DRESS MAKING,

Done at Short Notice.

Mrs. Mary E. Curtis.

Quincy, Oct. 9. 3w

To Sportsmen.

THE undersigned would call the attention of those who enjoy the sports of

Gunning and Fishing,

to the fact that he has in complete order, boats, bait, lines and decoys, with good boatmen at the

BLACK ROCK HOUSE, COHASSET,

where he will be pleased to see all his friends who wish to partake of the sports of the season.

The advantage of his locality, both for fishing and gunning, need not be mentioned.

Board, 25 per day. Sea Food and Smelts, constantly on hand—Game and Fish Suppers served up at short notice.

N. B. Thoroughly Stable and Bowing Alleys upon the premises.

JAMES W. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Oct. 9. 3w

TO FRUIT GROWERS.

FOR sale an extensive assortment of PEAR TREES, of all the varieties worthy of cultivation, a part of which are on the quincy stock.

Also—APPLE, CHERRY, PEACH and other FRUIT TREES.

BECK'S DELAWARE, UNION VILLAGE and all the other "best" kinds. CURRANTS, GOOSEBERRIES and RASPBERRIES in great variety. EVERGREEN and other ORNAMENTAL TREES, Shrubs, Roses, Blackthorns, Rhubarb, Herbaceous Plants, Tulips, &c.

Persons wishing FRUIT TREES in a bearing state may do well to call at the Nurseries and make a selection.

SAMUEL WALKER & CO.

Roxbury, Mass.

A lot of EXTRA SIZED APPLE TREES will be sold very cheap.

Oct. 16. 4w

NEXT DOOR!

ONE DOOR NORTH OF THE

OLD STAND WHERE THE BEST OF

Custom Boots & Shoes

ARE made, and where Men's Boots and Shoes may be found.

Also—An assortment of

Ladies, Misses & Children's

BOOTS, SHOES, and GAITERS

of the best kinds manufactured.

Being a practical workman the undersigned is enabled to procure the Best Stock in the Market.

ALL WORK WARRANTED.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

Second Door from the Post Office.

J. F. BURRELL.

Quincy, July 17. 3w

Horses for Sale.

FOR sale by the subscriber one Black Horse, ten years old, weighs 1000 pounds, sound and kind in any harness, a good servicable work horse and a very fair traveler.

One Sorrel Mare, seven years old, weighs 900 pounds, and is a fine Carriage Horse.

Both of the above named will be sold low.

HOWARD VINAL.

Quincy, Sept. 18. 3w

Burnett's Cocaine.

FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. Thos. Burnett's Golden Lustrate. The German Toilet Balsam, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, June 26. 3w

For the Teeth &c.

HARRISON'S Balm of Prairie Flowers—a universal cosmetic for the skin, the hair, the teeth, and the complexion.

The Balm is a great Toilette luxury, and a certain cure for the bites of insects.

For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 18. 3w

GRASS SEED.

HERDS Grass, Red Top and Clover Seed for sale at Boston Prices by

D. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, April 2. 3w

Boot and Shoe Findings.

JUST received and for sale low, a lot of Boot and Shoe Findings, &c., by

H. VINAL.

Quincy, Apr. 18. 3w

PETITION.

THE undersigned, Citizens of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, respectfully petition the Honorable Legislature of Massachusetts, for the purpose of widening, straightening and deepening the Channel of Town River, in said Town.

SAMUEL R. EDWARDS,
CHARLES H. EDWARDS.

I hereby approve of the publication of the above petition according to the law in such cases made and provided, in the Boston Daily Atlas and Bee, and the Quincy Patriot.

OLIVER WARNER,
Secretary of Commonwealth.

Secretary's Office,
Boston, Oct. 20, 1858. 4w

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Plymouth.

WILLIAM W. BAXTER, Administrator of the Estate of

MELZAR MERRITT,

late of Abington, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents, that the debts due from said deceased, as nearly as can be ascertained, amount to Six Hundred Dollars; that the charges of administration amount to about Fifty Dollars, and that the value of the personal estate of said deceased amounts to Sixty Dollars. He therefore prays that he may be allowed to sell all of the real estate, of said deceased, as a partial sale would injure the residue.

W. W. BAXTER.

PLYMOUTH, SS.

A Court of Probate holden at East Bridgewater in and for said County, on the fifth day of October, 1858.

Upon the foregoing petition of William W. Baxter, ordered, that the said petitioner notify all persons interested therein to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Abington, in and for said County, on the Second MONDAY of January next, by causing an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, to be published in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy in the County of Norfolk, three weeks successively, prior to said Court, that they may then and there appear and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted.

W. W. BAXTER, Judge of Probate.

A true copy—attest.

SAMUEL H. DOTEN, Register.

Oct. 9. 3w

Executors' Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscribers have been duly appointed Executors of the will of

JOSHUA EMERSON,

late of Milton, in the County of Norfolk, Carpenter, deceased, and have accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

MARY F. EMERSON, Executors.

SIMEON EMERSON, Executors.

Milton, Oct. 16. 3w

Notice!

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscribers have been appointed by the Court of Probate, Commissioners of Insolvency on the estate of late of Dorchester in said County, Physician, deceased, and that they will meet to receive and examine the claims of the creditors of said estate at the office of Edward L. Pierce, Esq., at North Milne, in said Dorchester at One o'clock, P. M. on the twenty-eighth day of October, December, and February next, respectively; at which times all persons claiming to be creditors of said estate are requested to present their claims.

ALBERT E. STETSON,

EDWARD L. PIERCE, Commissioners.

JAMES HUMPHREY, Commissioners.

Dorchester, Sept. 18, 1858. 6w

List of Letters,

Remaining in the Quincy Post Office, Oct. 1st, 1858.

Ackerman J B Kennedy Diantha

Bishop Thomas Lannison George

Ballard Eckley Lines Thomas

Bass Joel Lawton Capt Winslow

Barrett Capt Alpheus Leary Mary

Butters J H Leonard Miss

Birk Michael Mott Joshua—2

Belser Wm R Montgomery David

Benn Wm Elizabeth Miles John F

Bloch Mrs Johan Mann Capt Joseph

Binchard Mrs Jane Martin Thomas

Clark Wm H Mott Mary R

Cott Michael McAuthy Hannah

Chase F A Mahoney Daniel

Clark John N McCarly Kate

Clark Thomas Clark Gilbert & Co

Collier Geo W O'Connell Mary

Carlson Julia B Orlant John—2

Cook Mrs Harvey P Oertz Frederick

Cunningham H L Poignaise Thelestphor

Denton George Richards E A

Duggan Frances Richards J A

Davenport Charlotte E Robinson Geo W & Co

Emmons Sarah F Roberts Edmund

Forten James Regan Anne—2

Flarmon Wm Sanderson Alonzo

Fitzgerald James Sullivan Rev Thomas

Faulstich Mary F Shaw V & Co

Flynn Miss Sect. Quincy Lyceum

Graham Hugh Spear Luther

Gore Henry Sluby John

Glinnery Mary A Sick Thomas

Herring T J—3 Sherman Elizabeth

Hartney Mr Thomas Erasmus

Hawkes J W Tucker Lilla A

Hunt H H Thrasher Mrs Lucy

Hall Jesse Tracy Mrs Morris

Hawes A C Upton Nancy B

Harriman Lewis Very Augusta

Hersey Hiram Wood Henry S

Harrington Warren Woodman Ebenezer F

Herley Catherine Wright Stephen

Hartwell Sarah F Wight Miss Jane

Ingraham D G Witherell Alvira J

Joy Lavan Wood Caroline

Joy David Woods Mary L

Joy Mrs David JOHN A. GREEN, Postmaster.

Quincy Oct. 9. 3w

Fresh Tamarinds,

FOR sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Oct. 16. 3w

Notice!

For Sale at 50 per cent.

LESS THEN COST!

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

COATS, PANTS, AND VESTS.

Joseph W. Lombard,

Over E. Clapp's Store.

Quincy, Aug. 28. 3w

CARPETS,

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

GREAT SALE OF

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths!

CURTAINS, CURTAIN FIXTURES,

RUGS, MATS, &c., AT THE

BOSTON CARPET CO'S

120 Hanover Street,

Second door from Friend Street, (Up Stairs),

BOSTON.

READ the following prices and draw your own conclusions:

55200 Pieces all wool Kidderminster Carpets, 70 cents per yard.

120 Pieces all wool Kidderminster Carpets, 45 cents per yard.

200 Pieces Tapestry, warranted fast colors, 70 cents per yard.

200 Pieces Tapestry, warranted English manufacture, from $1 to $1.25. Sheets Floor Oil Cloths, 18 feet and 12 feet wide, from 75 to $1.25 per yard. 8.4, 6.4 and 4.4 Floor Oil Cloths, from 40 to 65 cents per yard.

Also, an extensive assortment of elegant

Window Shades,

SILK and WORSTED DAMASK, and Curtain

Materials of every description.

Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lime constantly on hand.

Also—Good Pine Wood at $6 a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.

Quincy, May 8. 3w

FOSS & SWETT, Proprietors,

Boston, Sept. 18.

AUTUMN and WINTER.

G. W. Warren Barry & Co.

HAVE OPENED THEIR NEW GOODS.

In all Departments, making a rich show of

New Shawls, Mantles and Scarfs; Talmas, Raglans and Cloaks; and all the new fabrics for Ladies' Garments; Plain and Fancy Silks, colors and black.

VELVETS; POPLINS, Irish and French, MERINOS, THIBETS and CASHMERES, plain and printed.

MOURNING GOODS, in the greatest variety of fabrics.

PRINTED M. DE LAINES & FLANNELS. Plain and Cross-over DRESS GOODS, in many new styles.

FRENCH and ENGLISH PRINTS.

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS, including Blankets and Flannels in large quantities, and Domestic of the best makes.

EMBROIDERIES, LACES and WHITE GOODS of all kinds.

And 1000 Dozen PARIS KID GLOVES—the best article ever received.

Our senior partner having just returned from a visit to all the principal manufacturing districts of Europe, where he has placed our orders directly with the manufacturers for the newest and best fabrics, in styles and colors adapted to our best New England taste, we are prepared to offer, by the Package or at Retail,

THE FINEST STOCK

OF

DRY GOODS!

we have ever had the pleasure of showing to our friends and customers.

IN ALL OUR

Black Silks, Cashmeres, Alpines,

and other Fabrics for

Mourning,

special care has been taken to order a Pure Black, which will neither Rust, nor Destroy the strength of the Fabric, as the usual dyes are prepared to give weight and finish at the expense of the strength of the material.

OUR STOCK OF

Pa in and Fancy Black Silks

is more complete than ever.

THE NEW STYLES OF SHAWLS AND

DRESS GOODS

Are more varied and beautiful than usual.

RETAIL ENTRANCE,

192 Washington Street;

WHOLESALE ENTRANCE,

55 & 57 Hawley Street.

Boston, Sept. 25. 3w

The Atlantic Cable,

HAS been successfully laid, and Foreign Goods of the latest styles are received every week, and sold on the most reasonable terms by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP, Hancock st.

Quincy, Aug. 21. 3w

Coal, Lime, Brick and Sand,

—with a good assortment of—

SEASONED LUMBER,

constantly on hand, and for sale by the subscriber at Quincy Canal Wharf.

NATHANIEL WHITE.

Quincy, April 10. 3w

FLOUR

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he is receiving EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR,

Poetry.

The Bigot's Immersion.

An unbelieving Jew one day,
Was skating o'er the icy way,
Which, being brittle, let him in Just deep enough to catch his chin,
And in that woful plight he hung,
With only power to move his tongue.

A brother skater near at hand,
A papist born in foreign land,
With hasty strokes directly flew
To save poor Mordecai, the Jew;
But first, quoth he, I must enjoin
That you renounce your faith for mine,
There's no entrance else will do,
'Tis heresy to help a Jew.

"Forswear mine faith—no! Cot forbid!
Dat would be fery base indeed;
Come, never mind such things as deese,
Tink, tink, how fery hard it freeze,
Morn cot you do, more cot you be,
Vat signifies your fait to me,
Come tink agen how cold and vet,
And help me out vun little bet."

"By holy mass! 'tis hard I own,
To see a man both hang and drown,
You can't relieve him from his plight
Because he is an Israelite:
The church refuses all assistance,
Beyond a certain pale and distance,
So all the service I can lend
Is praying for your soul, my friend."

"Pray for mine soul! ha, ha! you make me laugh,
You better help me out by half,
Mine soul I warrant vill take care,
To pray for her own self, mine tear;
So tink a little now for me,
'Tis I am in de hole, not she."

"The Church forbids it, friend, and saith,
That all must die who have no faith."

"Vell, if I must believe, I must,
But help me out vun little first."

"No, not an inch without amen—
That seals the whole."

"Vell, hear me den:
I here renounce, for cot and all,
De race of Jews, both great and small,
'Tis the vurst trade beneath de sun;
Or vurst religion, dat all vun.
Dey cheat and get deir livin' by it,
And den and swear de is right.
I'll go to mass as soon as ever
I get to tuder side de river;
So help me out now, Christian friend,
Dat I may do as I intend."

"Perhaps you do intend to cheat,
If once you get upon your feet."

"No, no; I do intend to be A Christian—such a vun as deese."

For, though the Jew, he is as much
A Christian man as I am such.

The bigot Papist, joyful hearted
To hear the heretic converted,
Replied to the designing Jew,
'This was a happy fall for you;
You'd better die a Christian now,
For if you live you'll break your vow."

Then said no more, but in a trice
Fopped Mordecai beneath the ice.

The Looking-glass, or Ill-humor, Corrected.

There was a little stubborn dame,
Whom no authority could tame,
Restive by long indulgence grown,
No will she minded but her own.
At trifles she'd scold and fret,
Then in a corner take a seat,
And, surely, moping all the day,
Disdain alike to work or play.
Papa all softer arts had tried,
And sharper remedies applied;
But both were vain; for every censure
He took still made her worse and worse.
Mamma observed the rising lass
By stealth retiring to the glass,
To practice little airs unseen,
In the true genius of thirteen.
On this a deep design she laid,
To tame the humor of the maid;
Contriving, like a prudent mother,
To make one folly cure another.
Upon the wall, against the seat
Which Jessie used for her retreat,
Whenever by accident offended,
A looking-glass was straight suspended.
That it might show her how deformed
She looked, and frightful, when she stormed;
And warn her, as she prized her beauty,
To bend her humor to her duty.
All this the looking-glass achieved;
The maid, who quailed at all advice,
Grew tame and gentle in a trice;
So, when all other means had failed,
The silent monitor prevailed.

Anecdotes.

A young lad recently ran away from home and went to a tavern, where he was found by a friend, with a cigar in his mouth.
What made you leave home? said his friend.
Oh, confound it, said he, father and mother were so saucy, I could stand it any longer, and I quit 'em.

At a license suit recently tried in Cincinnati,
a witness was called who did not taste the liquor, but testified positively that it was whiskey he saw sold and drank, for he could tell it a mile off. The counsel for defence asked him if he drank any of it.
Drank any of it! he asked: why, no; don't you see I'm alive!

At a duel, a second interfered, and proposed that the combatants should shake hands. To this the other appeared to object, as unnecessary.
For, said he, their hands have been shaking this half hour.

An old miser was obliged reluctantly to consult a physician.
What shall I do with my head? he asked.
It's so dizzy. I seem to see double.
The doctor wrote a prescription and returned.
The recipe ran thus:
When you see double, you will find relief
if you count your money.

ALL KINDS OF

Job Printing,

SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY

PRINTING,

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

T. Dodds,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

HANCOCK STREET,
NEARLY OPPOSITE POST OFFICE
Quincy, April 18

NATHANIEL WHITE,

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Counsellor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, —BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

National Police Gazette.

THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals
is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county
and state where they reside plainly.)
GEO. W. MATSELL & CO.,
Editors & Proprietors of the
National Police Gazette.
New York City, Apr 25

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE

DOORS

BLINDS

SASHES, &c. &c.

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,

we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times

CHEAPER THAN EVER!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,

SASHES,

BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS,

NAILS,

SHEET LEAD,

FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES,

DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS, &c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety.

ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash
Locks;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs; BAILEY'S BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS,

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.
Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's
improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best things ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET
AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.
Quincy, Jan 23

BURYS, &c.

AMES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises,
toothache, chilblains, &c., &c.
For sale by
Quincy, Sept 18

Apothecary Store.

MR. F. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farina, Gents' crueted Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Outdoor Corn Starch, Broom, &c.
Jellies, Raspberries, and Lemon Syrup, Citrus Paste, &c.
Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum
Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass
Pipes and Joints, Patent Narrowing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Tricquans, Horsehair Mat-
tens, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.
Fresh European Leeches always on hand.
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and
attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other Washington at, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, Nov. 1.

DRUGS

AND

MEDICINES!

C. C. JOHNSON,

WOULD respectfully inform the inhabitants
of Quincy and vicinity, that he has opened
A NEW DRUG STORE,
GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
(Formerly occupied by Dr. J. Marden,) where he will be happy to wait upon all who may favor
him with their patronage, day or night.
His Stock and Fixtures are entirely new, and
his Medicines have been selected with great care,
and are warranted pure and genuine.
His Stock of Powdery Articles is all fresh, as
are his Herbs, and his Tinctures and Syrups
have all been manufactured since his arrival here,
and can be depended upon by physicians and others
as being of the proper strength and purity.
His Stock of Chemicals is large, and comprises all the varieties usually found in a well-conducted Apothecary Store. Of Patent Medicines, his Stock is large and varied, and will be culgured from time to time, as new articles appear.
Of Perfumery, Fancy Articles, Cigars, &c., a large variety of which he can sell as cheap as a GENUINE article can be purchased elsewhere.
With his large assortment of Drugs and Chemicals, Mr. Johnson is prepared to compound
Physicians' Prescriptions,
as well and accurately as they can be prepared
in any city in the United States.
Mr. J. trusts by a strict attention to business,
to merit a share of public patronage.
C. C. JOHNSON.
Quincy, Oct 24

Hall's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting or purging. It is adapted to the primary cause of Scrophulous disorders, regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secretions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and a correct tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Lassitude which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.
In thousands of cases of Scrophulous
Disorders, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas,
Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma,
Coughs, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever,
Sore, White Swelling, Dropsy, Boils, Barber's Itch, Piles, Hemorrhoids, or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other known remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.
It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness and Derangement of the Urinary Organs.
It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness and Headache.
It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.
Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co., No. 8 State Street, Geo. C. Goodnow, No. 99
Union Street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.
MR. E. HAYDEN, AGENT.
Quincy, Dec. 13.

GEO. R. FRENCH,

Engraver and Plate Printer,

257 Washington, near Winter st., — Boston
Particular attention given to the Engraving
and Printing of—
Invitation, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.

A LONG and practical experience in this particular branch, warrants me in saying that persons about ordering Cards of any description, will study their interests by calling, or sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, at prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

— WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Maps, Diplomas, Labels, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes,
Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c., &c., engraved or printed at short notice.

Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.

Orders by mail, express, or otherwise,
promptly attended to.
Boston, Feb 20

Neat's Foot Oil.

OF the best quality, for sale low by
D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Sept. 27.

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and
for sale cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Feb 28

Paper Hangings.

JUST received a new style of Paper Hangings
and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

COMPLETE

Dental Establishment.

DRS. CUMMINGS & FLAGG,

SURGEON DENTISTS.

25 Tremont Street, (up stairs,) Boston.

DRS. C. & F., having had extensive experience in every branch of practical and scientific Dentistry, and being conversant with the best known methods and latest improvements in the profession, feel qualified to perform all operations in a manner highly satisfactory to patients,
and reflecting credit upon themselves.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH. By the improved principle of Atmospheric Pressure, teeth, from one paratively little paid. This new process of extracting teeth has been in use nearly two years,
and we feel confident in recommending it to our patrons and the public, as lessening in a great measure the dread which has heretofore existed,
the most certain and only remedy that can be applied for the cure of decayed teeth. But, it is effective, it must be executed in the most thorough and perfect manner. The preservation of a tooth, when well filled, and with suitable material, if it be afterwards kept constantly clean, may be regarded as certain. At any rate, it will never again be attacked in the same place by disease.

FILLING TEETH. This is the most difficult operation the dental practitioner is ever called upon to perform. It often-times baffles the skill of operators who have been in practice
many years. It is also, when well performed,
the most certain and only remedy that can be applied for the cure of decayed teeth. But, it is effective, it must be executed in the most thorough and perfect manner. The preservation of a tooth, when well filled, and with suitable material, if it be afterwards kept constantly clean, may be regarded as certain. At any rate, it will never again be attacked in the same place by disease.

By the use of the new preparation of Crysta Gold, teeth are not only arrested from decay and partially saved, but verily restored to the form, comfort and utility of the original structure. By a wonderful property of gold, the metal, in its crystalline or precipitated state, by peculiar manipulation, passes from a pulve-rulent and cold mass, the same as commonly used, to a soft, malleable, and elastic state, by virtue of this remarkable property, it is made to fill the cavity of a tooth, and even to restore its shape, as substantially as if it were cast.

The proprietors of this complete dental establishment will always be pleased to give their advice on the care and preservation of the teeth of children and adults, and the result of their long experience in cases requiring the opinion of practical scientific dentists.
Boston, Oct 31

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH

SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving,
and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS Superior Soap will make the HANDS
WHITE AND SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TAN, SUN-BURN,
CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes where a
Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL,
Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.

C. DYER, JR., General Travelling Agent.
Price—25 cents per cake.
Sole by
Quincy Aug 22

Balm, Plaster, &c.

DR. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balm
and Plaster.

Dr. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth
Preservative—for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Aug. 22.

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Are you Nervous?

DODD'S NERVE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It produces a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—alleviates irritation—induces quiet and refreshing sleep, thus equalizing the nervous fluid
throughout the system. It contains NO OPIUM or Mercury, neither poisonous mineral nor herb. The feeblest maiden, wife, or mother, will find it always safe and restorative. It does not produce costive-ness, but relieves it, being the best remedy for Nervous Disease now known. Price $1.00.
WILSON, FAIRBANK, & CO, Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Agents.

MRS. E. HAYDEN, Agent.
Quincy, June 26.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the
cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Erup-
tions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,

HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TRUSTEES,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,
Quincy, William S. Morton, Charles Breck,

Isaac W. Munroe, H. W. Blanchard,

Thomas C. Webb, Colchester,

Whitecomb Porter, Hingham,

Stephen Bates, Boston,

William B. Duggan, Alfred Loring,

Thomas Curtis, North Bridgewater,

Albert Thompson, Barnstable,

Randolph, George Marston,

Royal W. Turner, Dedham,

South Braintree, Jonathan A. Cobb

Apollis Randall,

Dedham,

Quincy, April 1.

DR. S. STOCKING,

DENTAL SURGEON

No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs),

Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,

BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on

the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing,

regulating, and extracting, on such terms as

make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what

are called modern improvements in Dentistry,

whatsoever is of real value and enduring, such improvements with the experience of more than

twenty five years of close application to the duties of the profession he is permitted to say

that whatever pertains to the dental profession,

whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with

some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of

the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise,—though honest in

their intentions, and uniting in their efforts,—

must be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are

based, or the want of experience and ingenuity

to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice

operation of plugging a tooth,—a process of

great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is

qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where

correct taste and sound judgment are required

in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item connected with the qualifications and services of the dentist, of important importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be improperly filled, and even raised,—artificial ones

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made,—but neither

life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so

in the administration of ether. It is an agent

that should be confined to the care and control

of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration,

though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best method.

Either should be so administered as to prevent the air from entering the lungs a second time.

The reason for this has its foundation

in the laws of chemical combination in the

process of respiration. The natural consequence

of inhaling ether over and over again, from a

sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faint-

ness, if nothing worse, during etherization, with a distressing headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the

INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr.

Stocking, who gives especial attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth,

preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets.

Boston, May 22 6m

Lard Oil.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers a prime article of Lard Oil, cheap for cash. GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Nov. 29 1f

Iceland Balsam.

DR. Harrison's Iceland Balsam; and Peristaltic Lotion; Also Dr. Norman's

Painful Balsam of Fir Paste.

For sale by Mrs. F. HAYDEN.

Quincy March 28 1f

Cider Vinegar.

GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar,

just received at a low price, for sale by

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Dec. 6 1f

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30th, 1858.

NUMBER XLIV.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK,
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE,
Milton, CHARLES BRECK,
Dorchester, ORIN F. BACON,
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY,
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVERLY,
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER,
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Communications.

For the Patriot.
Ecclesiastical Ideas.

MR. EDITOR: We frequently hear of strife and contention in the Orthodox church between minister and people, cases are before our Courts for adjudication—"wars and rumors of wars" are so constant among those who call themselves orthodox Christians, that one is almost compelled to believe in the prediction of some enthusiastic sects that a new era is about to commence in the religious world—that the old church has performed its mission and a new one is to be organized on a system more congenial to modern times and to the taste of that portion of the Clergy who are more ambitious to rule the people than to instruct them; when we turn over the crimson pages of ecclesiastical history and remember that little more than three centuries have elapsed since

"Mired zeal had bade the fagot blaze," We are not surprised that the readium of that spirit still remains among mankind, modified by the otherwise moral and intellectual improvement of the times, but the evil is with us—Ambition—

"that sin"

By which arch angels fell.

has become a ruling passion with so many of our clergymen, that they seem to exult as much in pulling down a church as building one up when they cannot control it themselves. Meekness and humility, those christian graces that adorn the "pure in heart" do not seem to be a necessary qualification for the christian ministry and those who possess these virtues, and there are some, are not estimated so highly as they ought to be—why build up churches in foreign lands and detach them in our own reformation is as much needed here as elsewhere, and while our actions give the lie to our professions, which it would be easy to show, we cannot expect to make many proselytes abroad.

The "Pitts Street Chapel association" of the city of Boston, invited several clergymen of different denominations to deliver lectures advocating the peculiar views of the sects to which they respectively belonged; among these eminent men Dr. Nicholas Adams gave his views on Congregationalism, a subject of much importance at the present time, and it would seem but little understood by those most nearly connected with it.

Congregationalism is the democratical element of religious polity, the rights of the people in opposition to the power of ecclesiastical dogmatism—it differs only from Independence" says Mr. Adams "in that it recognizes a relationship on the part of each church to sister churches in the way of counsel and mutual admonition, without the least subjection to foreign control; however; each church in the last resort, having liberty to be, in every sense Independent" and he adds "my own belief," is that the original model of Christian churches was one which secured to each body of believers the control of its own government and instruction." The only difference between the independency of the Baptists and the Congregationalists is, that the latter in difficult cases consult "neighbor churches" without being bound by counsel any farther than may be deemed expedient; "for all" he holds who are capable of managing their own temporal concerns and are qualified for admission to the christian church ought to have the entire control of their ecclesiastical affairs" and to impress more forcibly the democratical form of Congregationalism on the mind, he remarks "that Thomas Jefferson said that a little Baptist church near his house in Virginia, which was governed on Congregational principles, was probably the only form of pure democracy which then existed in the world"—The Rev. Mr. Sykes, the exponent of the Baptist faith and church polity, which it will be observed is the same as that of the Congregationalist, with only one exception as we have noticed with regard to consulting Councils, who was selected by these associates, says of the Baptists, "Whom they would they elected to the pastorate, without the permission of any other church or body of men, and when they thought proper, they dissolved that relation in the same spirit of independence. Agreeing in the fundamental principles of church order with the Brownists (Congregationalists) who are of later origin from whom the venerated Pilgrim fathers of New England descended, they practised upon the principles of pure democracy," and again he says "Self government in the church unquestionably originated first government in the State—the church taught the State how to govern and exercise its rights" and he adds in confirmation of Dr. Adams remark, "it is well known that the example of a Baptist Church settling all its questions by the vote of the majority first suggested to the constructive mind of Thomas Jefferson, years before he sketched that immortal Declaration the same idea that was inaugurated in the formation of this Federal Union.—His own words on this subject are "that he considered the Baptist church the only true democracy then existing in the world and had concluded it would be the best plan for the government of the American colonies." "It has become the ruling idea in all our ecclesiastical institutions." This view is strongly confirmed by other authorities which it is not necessary to repeat, although there are some among us who seem to advocate the doctrine which "kindled the faggots of Smithfield and justified the atrocities of Alva," this only proves that every age has its bigots and fanatics its tyrants and oppressors, wanting only the power to put their principles into practice.

It is hoped the age of Councils and Ex parte Councils is at an end for they are usually about as corrupt as the common political gatherings of the day—packed councils are not unusual, they are not now confined to "neighbor churches," but their members are hunted up through the land to serve selfish purposes—they ought to be abolished, they are no longer instruments of good and belong like life settlements to by-gone ages; the church once ruled the State and every magistrate was a member of the church, but times are changed and the State now rules the church, and public sentiment sustains the change.

The contests which in many locations have been carried on between minister and people have weakened the reverence in which the pastoral office was formerly held, kindness and affection were once the bonds which united them, when these are ruptured the separation should be made with christian forbearance and submission to the will of the people for whom the pastor has lost the power of doing good—civil contracts must be settled by the civil law, but all contracts, as Judge Story said, must be construed according to the intention of the parties who make them; cavilling and over-reaching are unworthy of christian ministers and contrary to the precepts they profess to teach; in their ecclesiastical affairs, the people must be supreme for their future happiness and welfare are at stake—clergymen should be bright and shining lights on the darkened path of the future and should guide the earthly wanderer as much by example as by the brilliancy of their talents, unobscured by mere mercenary aims and unsullied by that low ambition which does not belong to their profession and which never stained the character of the great exemplar of their faith; talents are desirable in a christian minister as a means of doing good, like the celestial luminary that has visited our hemisphere and attracted the gaze of all and impressed them with a profound sense of the power of omnipotence and the magnificence of his works, they should scatter light and glory on the upward path of the christian.

"And as a bird with fond endearment tries To tempt its new fledged offspring to the skies"

Should try each art, to prove each dull delay Allure to brighter worlds and lead the way.

We have known part of a church claim to be and exercise all the functions of the whole church—a species of absolutism unknown to Congregationalism, for if six persons can do this, so can one, and the whole power be absorbed in the pastor; it is also contrary to the civil law, for in the case of Baker et al vs Fales Mass Reports 16, the court decided that

"Where a majority of the members of a congregational church separate from the parish, the members who remain, although a minority, constitute the church in such parish, and retain the rights and property belonging thereto."

And in delivering the decision of the court, that eminent jurist Judge Parker said

"The only circumstances therefore which gives the church any legal character, is its connection with some regularly constituted society, and those who withdraw from the society cease to be members of that particular church and the remaining members continue to be the identical church."

On the question then, in case of division, which party constitutes the church, among reasonable men there can be no dispute; those who will not yield to evidence, but choose rather to stultify their conceptions of truth and common justice by an adherence to error and an unchristian spirit, it is useless to attempt to convince—it is more profitable to adopt the scriptural advice of Hosea, "Ephraim is joined to idols, let him alone."

That there may be more harmony between Pastors and their churches than has been exhibited in the records of a few past years, is the ardent wish of those who assume the christian name and profession; and a correct knowledge of the proper position of both and the functions that belong to them respectively, it is believed will accelerate an event which it is hoped they both desire in all truth and soberness—may the suggestions we have made and the extracts we have collated hasten the result so auspicious for all classes of the community around us—and that unity of action be restored among those who cultivate the higher attributes of humanity in moral goodness and open to the darkened soul the portals of unending immortality.

For the Patriot.
The Charitable Association.

MR. EDITOR: I would like to call the attention of "Members of the Charitable Association," to the notice of the next annual meeting of the Society in this issue of your journal. It is naturally a source of profound regret to the Board of Directors, to find after every recurrence of the Annual meeting of the Society, so few of their fellow members, willing to devote even a single hour of charitable labor in behalf of the poor families of the town. Our Association most surely cannot become as influential as it is capable of being made so long as its various members require solicitation to pay into our treasury a single dollar or a common fraction of that amount in a year. It is at least of equal importance that the Society should assemble as often as once in the year, in co-operative sympathy with its Board of Managers—to aid their efforts by friendly counsel, and to supply them as channels of communication with the poor, not only with pecuniary aid to alleviate poverty and pain, but with those gentle influences of true benevolence which will soothe the sorrow and anguish of those who are too frail to labor and afraid to beg. Thirty years ago, a popular and well-beloved clergyman of Quincy, aided by others as philanthropic as himself, organized our Association for the relief of the afflicted poor of the various parishes of this town. During its early existence it felt the impress of his own generous and noble aspirations, and under the influence and fostering care of its first members became a permanent and working charity. In the interval of time between "now and then," our population has more than quadrupled in number, and the demon of poverty has more than kept pace with the race of time—yet the beams of our beacon-light shine no brighter among the abodes of the poor than they did a quarter of a century ago. Every Association whose object is the relief of bodily ailments and mental sorrow, is a monument in memory of fallen humanity and points to the buried hopes and blighted anticipations of those who mourn in its shadow. Let us strive to make our society a Pharos of Light whose burning rays shall rekindle the torch of hope in the homes of the miserable. Let us learn to labor more effectively in the cause of Humanity than we have done in previous years, so that our venerable founder, whose eloquent voice still chimes with the Sabbath bells in a distant city, may not find occasion to reproach our remissness in the labor of love he began in our midst. While the foliage is sweeping from the trees and the leafless branches are creaking responsive to the wintry blasts, let us not forget those among us whose winter of life is setting in with withered hopes and frozen sources of joy to make them more sad than poverty. Let us appeal more earnestly to the community to aid our endeavors to assist its suffering poor. We must look for larger contributions from those who are able of their abundance to give in larger measure than they have ever done before. So that whenever poverty or age asks alms, relief may be granted them without any of those scrupulous qualms of the over-righteous, who draw their purse-strings closer from fear of giving to a morally unworthy object. Every erring sister and brother, has a claim upon our humanity stronger than a belief in creeds or denominations, or in that super-religious fear of the spirit of evil, which is a fashionable controller of deeds of charity in our day.

Miscellaneous.

Home Comforts.

Where are you going George? asked Mrs. Wilson, as her husband rose from the tea-table, and took his hat.

O, I'm going out, was the careless response.

But where? asked his wife.

What odds does it make, Emma? returned her husband. I shall be back at my usual time.

The young wife hesitated, and a quick flush overspread her face. She seemed to have made up her mind to speak plainly upon a subject which had lain unexpressed upon her heart for some time, and she could not let the opportunity pass. It required an effort, but she persevered.

Let me tell you what odds it makes to me, she said in a kind but tremulous tone. If I cannot have your company here at home, I should at least feel much better if I knew where you were.

But you know that I am safe, Emma; and what more can you ask?

I do not know that you are safe, George. I know nothing about you when you are away.

Poor, poor! Would you have it that I am not capable of taking care of myself?

You put a wrong construction upon my words, George. Love is always anxious when its dearest object is away. If I did not love you as I do, I might not be thus uneasy. When you are at your place of business I never feel thus, because I know I can seek and find you at any moment; but when you are absent during these long evenings, I get to wondering where you are. Then I begin to feel lonesome; and so one thought follows another, until I feel troubled and uneasy. Oh, if you would only stay with me a portion of your evenings!

Aha, I thought that was what you were aiming at, said George, with a playful shake of the head. You would have me here every evening.

Well, can you wonder at it? returned Emma. I used to be very happy when you came to spend an evening with me before we were married; and should be very happy in your society now.

Ah, said George, with a smile, those were business meetings. We were arranging then for the future.

And why not continue so to do, my husband? I am sure we could be as happy now as ever. If you will remember, one of our plans was to make a home.

And haven't we got one, Emma?

We have certainly a place in which to live, answered the wife, somewhat evasively.

It is our home, pursued George. And, he added with a sort of confident flourish, home is the wife's peculiar province. She has charge of it, and all her work is there; while the duties of the husband call him to other scenes.

Well, I admit that so far as certain duties are concerned, replied Emma. But you must remember that we both need relaxation from labor; we need time for social and mental improvement and enjoyment; and what time have we for this save our evenings? Why should not this be my home of an evening, as well as in the daytime and in the night?

Well, isn't it? asked George.

How can it be, if you are not here? What makes a home for children, if it be not the abode of the parents? What home can a husband have where there is no wife? And what real home comforts can a wife enjoy where there is no husband? You do not consider how lonesome I am all alone here during these long evenings? They are the very seasons when we could enjoy each other's society if it is worth enjoying. They are the seasons when the happiest hours of home life must be passed. Come, will you not spend a few of your evenings with me?

You see enough of me as it is, said the husband, lightly.

Allow me to be the best judge of that, George. You would be very lonesome here, all alone.

Not if it was my place of business, as it is of yours, returned the young man. You are used to staying here. All wives belong to home.

Just remember, my husband, that, previous to our marriage, I had pleasant society all the time. Of course I remained at home much of my time; but I had a father and mother there, and I had brothers and sisters there, and our evenings were happily spent. Finally I gave all up for you. I left the old home, and sought a home with my husband. And now, have I not a right to expect some of your companionship? How would you like it to have me away every evening, while you were obliged to remain here alone?

Why, I should like it well enough.

Ah, but you would not be willing to try it. Yes, I would, said George, at a venture.

Will you remain here every evening next week, and let me spend my time among my female friends?

Certainly I will, he replied; and I assure you I shall not be so lonesome as you imagine.

With this the husband went out, and was soon among his friends. He was a steady, industrious man, and loved his wife truly; but, like thousands of others, he had contracted a habit of spending his evenings abroad, and thought it no harm. His only practical idea of home seemed to be, that it was a place which his wife took care of, and where he could eat, drink and sleep, as long as he could pay for it. In short, he treated it as a sort of a private boarding-house, of which his wife was landlady; and if he paid all the bills, he considered his duty done. His wife had frequently asked him to stay at home with her, but she had never ventured upon any agreement before, and he had no conception of how much she missed him. She always seemed happy when he came home, and he supposed she could always be so.

Monday evening came, and George Wilson remained true to his promise. His wife put on her bonnet and shawl, and he said he would remain and "keep house."

What will you do while I am gone? Emma asked.

O, I shall read and sing, and enjoy myself generally.

Very well, said Emma. I shall be back early.

The wife went out, and the husband was left alone. He had an interesting book, and he began to read it. He read till eight o'clock, and then began to yawn, and looked frequently at the clock. The book did not interest him as usual. Ever and anon he would come to a passage which he knew would please his wife, and instinctively he turned as though he would read it aloud; but there was no wife to hear it. At half-past eight o'clock he rose from his chair, and began to pace the floor, and whistle. Then he went and got his flute, and played several of his favorite airs. After this he got a chess-board, and played a game with an imaginary partner. Then he walked the floor, and whistled again. Finally, the clock struck nine, and his wife returned.

Poetry.

Be a Woman.

Oh I've heard a gentle mother,
As the twilight hours began,
Pleading with a son, of duty,
Urging him to be a man.
But when her blue-eyed daughter,
Though with love's words quite as ready,
Points out this other duty,
Strive, my dear, to be a lady.

What's a lady? Is it something
Made of hoops, and silks, and airs,
Used to decorate the parlor,
Like the fancy rugs and chairs?
Is it one that wastes on novels
Every feeling that is human?
If 'tis this to be a lady,
'Tis not this to be a woman.

Mother, then, unto your daughter
Speak of something higher far,
Than to be mere fashion's lady—
Woman, is the brighter star.
If in your strong affection,
Urging your son to be a true man,
Urging your daughter no less strongly
To arise and be a woman.

Yes, a woman—brightest model
Of the high and perfect beauty,
Where the mind and soul and body
Blend to work out life's great duty,
Be a woman—no less higher
On the golden list of fame;
On the catalogue of virtue
There's no brighter, holier name.

Be a woman—on to duty,
Raise the world on all that's low,
Place high in the social heaven
Virtue's fair and radiant bow;
Lead thy influence to each effort
That shall raise our natures human;
Be not fashion's gilded lady,
Be a brave—whole-souled—true woman.

Indian Corn.

Seville's soft luxurious clime
Yields the orange and the lime,
And the cool refreshing shade
By the clustering branches made,
Seems to hold the perfumed air
As a willing captive there.

Ceylon, Isle of Spice and Balm, Boasts her groves of stately palm,
Where the lingering sunbeams rest,
As they loved that land the best;
Where the birds build the bowers
Are like gorgeous, winged flowers.

In the vales, fair, sunny France,
Peasants love thy vintage dance;
Where the vines their clusters yield,
Songs are heard from every field;
All the land in festal dress,
Overflows with happiness.

But of all precious stores
Nature's bounties hand outpours
O'er each hill, and vale, and plain,
Flower, fruit, or waving grain,
Dearest to the Northern born Stands the graceful Indian Corn.

When it springs, the verdant leaf
Bursts the seed's enclosing sheaf,
Or, in Summer's glowing light,
The feathery tassel greets the sight,
Grace and beauty still adorn
Every change of Indian Corn.

When the Autumn's gorgeous dyes
Reflect the hues of sunset skies,
O'er the glowing harvest plain,
There the ears of clustered grain,
In the yellow sheath enfolded,
Seem like topaz set in gold.

Blessed be Thy Name Forever.

Bless'd be thy name forever,
Thou of life the guard and giver;
Thou canst guard thy creatures sleeping;
Heal the heart long broke with weeping,
God of stillness and of motion,
Of the desert and the ocean,
Of the mountain, rock and river,
Blessed be thy name forever.

Thou who slumberest not nor sleepest,
Bless'd are they thou kindly keep'st;
God of evening's parting ray,
Of midnight's gloom and dawning day,
That rises from the azure sea,
Like breathings of eternity;
God of life! that fade shall never,
Blessed be thy name forever.

Anecdotes.

A man greatly in debt, on his death-bed said to his friends:
I wish to live until I have paid my debts.
His friend commended the motive of his prayer, and the sick man in a low tone proceeded:
And if heaven would grant me this favor, I know my life would be very long indeed.

A young man who had a light incipient moustache, said to Harry while fingering a few hairs:
Hadden't I better dye this moustache?
O, no! replied Harry, let it alone, and it will die itself.

A fellow was brought to King James I, and it was said he could eat a whole sheep at a meal.

What else can he do, asked the King, more than other men?
Nothing, was the reply.
Hang him then, said James, for it's a pity a man should live who eats the share of twenty men, and can do no more than one.

A clergyman who was consoling a widow on the death of her husband, spoke in a very serious tone, remarking that he was:
One of the few. Such a jewel of a Christian—you cannot find his equal you know.
To which the sobbing fair one replied, with an almost broken heart:
But I will.

A celebrated physician boasting at dinner that he cured his own hams, one of the guests observed:
Doctor, I would a great deal sooner be your ham than your patient.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY.

Having returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stearns's Variety Store, in
JOHNSON'S BUILDING.

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of Gold and Silver Watches,
Gold, Curb and Vest Chains,
LOCKETS,
Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gents' Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS.
Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a
LARGER STOCK
than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented.
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.
Gilt and Silver Plated Engraved.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

GROCERIES, FLOUR,
AND PROVISIONS.

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a

Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store, which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices.

A few more chests of Old Hysen Tea at 25 cents per pound.
50 Tubs of prime dairy Butter.
200 Bushels of Chickens and Long Red Potatoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.
G. L. VINAL,
Quincy, Oct. 27.

Salt Pork.
4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co
Quincy, Sept. 27.

Salt Pork.
FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers. cheap for cash.
GEO. L. VINAL & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK.
FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price.
H. VINAL,
Quincy, Jan. 10.

Are you NERVOUS?
DOBBS'S NERVE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It produces a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—relieves the system—restores the system. It contains NO OPIUM or Mercury, neither poisonous mineral nor herb. The feeblest maiden, wife, or mother, will find it ALWAYS safe and beneficial. It does not produce constipation, but relieves it, being the best remedy for Nervous Diseases now known. Price $1.00.
WILSON, FAIRBANK, & CO., Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Agents.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent.
Quincy, June 26.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.
FOR improving the complexion, and for the cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan, Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6.

Dried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

CEMENT.
BUILDERS DEPOT.
PAINTING.
BUILDING MATERIALS.
BUILDING MATERIALS.
BUILDING MATERIALS.

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of
BUILDING MATERIALS
to be found at any store in New England.

Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE.

Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale:
DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. BLINDS—painted or unpainted. GLASS—all sizes. STAIR POSTS, RAILS and BALUSTERS, NAILS, LEAD & ZINC. HARDWARE and CARPENTER'S TOOLS, in great variety.

Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Fanning Irons, Oven and Ash Doors, Barn-doors Rollers and Rods for top or bottom of doors: Patent Sash Locks, Self-shutting Gate Hinges and Fast; Blind Hinges and Fast; improved—Door Springs and Weather Strips; Window Weights Lines and Fast; Window Frames made to order; Weather Vanes for Churches, &c.; Garden and Fire Engine; Carpenters' Mowing and Boring Machines, Ornamental Iron Brackets; Hatter, Draft and Fire Chains; House Bells, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Edgely's Patent BEE HIVES, &c. &c. &c.

All Goods sold will be delivered at the Railroad Station here free of charge; or at any other place for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited.

WEYMOUTH LANDING, May, 16.

JOHN O. FOYE.

LOCKETS,
Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gents' Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS.

Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

GROCERIES, FLOUR,
AND PROVISIONS.

SALT PORK.
FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers. cheap for cash.
GEO. L. VINAL & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK.
FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price.
H. VINAL,
Quincy, Jan. 10.

Are you NERVOUS?
DOBBS'S NERVE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It produces a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—relieves the system—restores the system. It contains NO OPIUM or Mercury, neither poisonous mineral nor herb. The feeblest maiden, wife, or mother, will find it ALWAYS safe and beneficial. It does not produce constipation, but relieves it, being the best remedy for Nervous Diseases now known. Price $1.00.
WILSON, FAIRBANK, & CO., Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Agents.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent.
Quincy, June 26.

COMPLETE

Dental Establishment.

DRS. CUMMINGS & FLAGG,
SURGEON DENTISTS,
25 Tremont Street, (op stairs,) Boston.

Dence in every branch of practical and scientific Dentistry, and being conversant with the best known methods and latest improvements in the profession, feel qualified to perform all operations in a manner highly satisfactory to patients, and reflecting credit upon themselves.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH. By the improved principle of Atmospheric Pressure, teeth, from one to an entire set, are inserted firmly and beautifully, without the use of springs or clasps. Many beautiful specimens of Plate work, on gold, silver and platinum, are on exhibition at our Rooms, which, for taste, style and durability, we believe cannot be surpassed.

EXTRACTING TEETH. In this important and difficult branch of the profession, great care is taken to render the operation the least painful. By the application of a benumbing agent to the gum, the operation is performed with comparatively little pain. This new process of extracting teeth has been in use nearly two years, and we feel confident in recommending it to our patrons and the public, as lessening in a great measure the dread which has heretofore existed, of dental operations. In some cases entirely removes pain, while, in almost all instances, it does much to contribute to the comfort of patients. The application of ether, which is entirely painless, is administered to those who desire it.

FILLING TEETH. This is the most difficult operation the dental practitioner is ever called upon to perform. It often-times baffles the skill of operators who have been in practice many years. It is also, when well performed, the most certain and only remedy that can be applied for the cure of decayed teeth. But, to be effective, it must be executed in the most thorough and perfect manner. The preservation of a tooth, when well filled, and with suitable material, if it be afterwards kept constantly clean, may be regarded as certain. At any rate, it will never again be attacked in the same place by disease.

By the use of the new preparation of Crysta Gold, teeth are not only arrested from decay, and partially saved, but veritably restored to the form, comfort and utility of the original structure. By a scientific method of filling, the metal, in its crystalline or precipitated state, by peculiar manipulation, passes from a pulverulent to a cohesive and solid mass, the same as coin. By virtue of this remarkable property, it is made to fill the cavity of a tooth, and even to restore its shape, as substantially as if it were cast.

The proprietors of this complete dental establishment will always be pleased to give their advice on the care and preservation of the teeth of children and adults, and the result of their long experience in this respect, requiring the opinion of practical scientific dentists.

WHITE HANDS!
PERSIAN BATH
SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE AND SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURN, CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes where a Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.
C. DYER, JR., General Travelling Agent.
Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by
Quincy Aug 22

Salt!!! Salt!!!
JUST received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for Hay.
H. VINAL.

Balsam, Plaster, &c.
Dr. R. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam and Plaster.

Dr. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Sore Throats, Ring Worms, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Aug. 22.

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.
Having recently made large additions to our stock of
BUILDING MATERIALS,
we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!
We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.
DOORS,
SASHES,
BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS, SCREWS,
&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS—in a great Variety.
ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash Locks.

LOCKS;
MORTICE, THUMB and PEOPLE'S LATCHES;
Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE PULLEYS,
A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
The best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.

BURNS, &c.
AMES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains, &c., &c.
For sale by
Quincy, Sept 15

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKETS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING.
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

T. Dodds,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
HANCOCK STREET,
NEARLY OPPOSITE POST OFFICE
Quincy, April 18

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT,
CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

National Police Gazette.
THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.)
GEO. W. MATSELL & CO.,
Editors and Proprietors of the
National Police Gazette.
New York City, Apr 25

ATTENTION.
The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE
DOORS, SASHES,
BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS, SCREWS,
&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS—in a great Variety.
ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash Locks.

LOCKS;
MORTICE, THUMB and PEOPLE'S LATCHES;
Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE PULLEYS,
A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
The best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.

BURNS, &c.
AMES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains, &c., &c.
For sale by
Quincy, Sept 15

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKETS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING.
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

T. Dodds,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
HANCOCK STREET,
NEARLY OPPOSITE POST OFFICE
Quincy, April 18

ALL KINDS OF

Job Printing,

SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKETS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING.
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

T. Dodds,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
HANCOCK STREET,
NEARLY OPPOSITE POST OFFICE
Quincy, April 18

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT,
CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

National Police Gazette.
THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.)
GEO. W. MATSELL & CO.,
Editors and Proprietors of the
National Police Gazette.
New York City, Apr 25

ATTENTION.
The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE
DOORS, SASHES,
BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS,
SCREWS,
&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS—in a great Variety.
ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash Locks.

LOCKS;
MORTICE, THUMB and PEOPLE'S LATCHES;
Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE PULLEYS,
A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
The best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.

BURNS, &c.
AMES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains, &c., &c.
For sale by
Quincy, Sept 15

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,
SUCH AS
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKETS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING.
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

T. Dodds,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
HANCOCK STREET,
NEARLY OPPOSITE POST OFFICE
Quincy, April 18

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT,
CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

National Police Gazette.
THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.)
GEO. W. MATSELL & CO.,
Editors and Proprietors of the
National Police Gazette.
New York City, Apr 25

ATTENTION.
The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE
DOORS, SASHES,
BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS,
SCREWS,
&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS—in a great Variety.
ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash Locks.

LOCKS;
MORTICE, THUMB and PEOPLE'S LATCHES;
Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE PULLEYS,
A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
The best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.

BURNS, &c.
AMES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Merchants, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Charles Brock,
William S. Morton, Dorchester,
Israel W. Munroe, H. W. Blanchard,
Thomas C. Webb, Cohasset,
Whitcomb Porter, Solomon J. Beal,
Stephen Bates, Hingham,
William B. Duggan, Ebenezer Gay,
Thomas Curtis, Boston,
Albert Thompson, South Hingham,
Randolph, Alfred Leong,
Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,
South Braintree, Sumner A. Hayward,
Apollon Randall, Barnstable,
Dedham, George Marston,
Jonathan A. Cobb

References, by permission:
HON. GEORGE T. HIGGINS, of Boston,
HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,
HON. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,
HON. JAMES MANTON, of Randolph,
HON. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,
HON. CHARLES F. ALBANS, of Quincy, JOSIAH BROWN, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, rear of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1, 1851.

DR. S. STOCKING,
DENTAL SURGEON
No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs),
Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,
BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing, regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what are called modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and confining to the duties of the profession, he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession, whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, though honest in their intentions, and entering into their efforts, must be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principles upon which dental operations are based, or to want of experience and ingenuity to apply them. Take, for instance, the process of operation of plugging a tooth.—It is the most difficult of operations, and it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required in combination with skillful manipulation. There is, however, still another item embraced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth, may be properly filled, and even failed to answer the purpose for which they were made; but neither the nor health is thereby endangered. Not so in the administration of ether. It is an agent that should be confined to the care and control of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium.

Either should be so administered as to prevent the air once breathed from entering the lungs a second time. The reason for this has its foundation in the laws of chemical combination in the process of respiration. The natural consequence of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness, or, in some cases, death. A distressing headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr. Stocking, who gives especial attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth, preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets.

Lard Oil.
JUST received and for sale by the subscriber a prime article of Lard Oil, cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Nov. 29

Iceland Balsam.
Dr. Harrison's Iceland Balsam; and Peruvian Sarsaparilla. Also—Dr. Norman's Pulmonic Balsam of Fir Paste.
For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy March 28

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar just received and for sale low by
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6th, 1858.

NUMBER XLV.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.
The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Porchester, ORIN F. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELLY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

ALARIC, OR The Tyrant's Vault.

A SICILIAN STORY OF EARLY TIMES.

CHAPTER I. ALARIC.

Not far from the city of Syracuse, when it was the metropolis of all Sicily, an object of longing to ambitious conquerors, and one of the finest cities in the world; not far from this place, upon the shore of the sea, stood a man who had just landed from a vessel that was now sailing away towards the North.—He was quite young—not over five-and-twenty—tall and well-proportioned; with a muscular system finely developed; and possessing a face not only striking in its manly beauty, but remarkable, in one so young, for its stern, resolute, and self-reliant expression. His dress was light and simple, and evidently of Greek manufacture; the lower limbs being clothed in close-fitting goat skin, above which he wore a sort of white linen, confined at the waist by a belt of fine mail. Upon his head was a cap of woven stuff, the top drooping over the right ear; and his feet were shod by a pair of sandals. His only weapon was a short, heavy sword, which hung, in a leathern scabbard, from his belt of mail. He stood for awhile, gazing about, as though undecided what course he should pursue; but finally he espied an old fisherman, not far off, who had just come down upon the beach, and towards him he made his way.

A bright, pleasant morning, good sir, said the youth.

The old man cast his net from his shoulders and gazed up. He carefully scanned the features before him, and then replied:

Aye, fair sir, it is a pleasant morning. We have many such on this coast.

And yet it storms sometimes, I suppose, suggested the first speaker.

He is a wise man who little heeds the storms he cannot quell, said the fisherman, with a nod of the head which seemed to give his words more meaning than the circumstances under which they were spoken would imply.

You are right there, responded the other. But tell me—where can I find Artabanus, the hermit?

The fisherman took another careful look into his interlocutor's face, and then answered: He lives upon yonder mountain, which is called Catalano. Do you wish to see him?

Yes.

Then follow the path that leads to yonder cot, until it brings you to a small stream.—Cross that, and then upon your right hand you will see a beaten track. He lives in a cave near the top of the mountain, and this track will lead you directly thither.

The young man thanked his informant, and was upon the point of turning away, when the latter resumed:

I mean no offense. Your face looks familiar. It has the cast of a countenance I fancied I had seen before.

You'll at least remember of having seen such an one on this morning, said the young man; and as he thus spoke he turned away.

Can it be, he said to himself, that my face is so little changed? I think I remember that old man, for he has spread his nets long in these waters; but how should he remember me? I pray the gods that there be not many in Syracuse that will yet be so observant.

With this the traveler kept on up the mountain until he had reached a broad table of rock, from whence he could see the bay, and the city beyond. The great metropolis was spread out before him, with its massive walls, its temples, and its palaces, and a tear started down his cheek as he gazed upon the scene. He clasped his hands upon his bosom, and, with a few muttered words, he started on again. He crossed the stream, and took the path to which he had been directed; but he did not follow it as one who was a stranger to its windings. He pursued his way with an ease and assurance, and, at times, with an abstractedness which could have been indulged in only by one who knew well the way he was going. Up the steep rocky height he climbed, and, when he finally stopped, it was before the entrance to a cave—a cave which Nature had fashioned in the mountain's side, and sheltered from the sun's fervid heat, and the fury of the storm. At the mouth of this cavern sat an old man, over whose head some fourscore years had flowed. His hair and beard were white as the fleecy cloud that sailed above the mount, and floated in silken, wavy masses over his shoulders and breast. A mantle of gray cloth enveloped his frame, and his feet were shod with heavy sandals. He was engaged over an old manuscript, but as he heard the sound of approaching footsteps he closed the volume and raised his head.

Good morning, my son, he said, with a look of simple welcome.

Kind father, I greet thee, the youth returned, at the same time extending his hand.

How! cried the aged man, starting to his feet, as the accents fell upon his ear. He shaded his eyes with the palm of the left hand, and gazed eagerly into his visitor's face. Do I see aught? he added. Is it Alaric—my old pupil?

Aye, good Artabanus, I am Alaric—come once more to see thee.

For some time the hermit gazed into the young man's face in silence, but finally he said:

Sit down—sit down, my son. Thy presence has started a host of varied emotions to life within me, and I must recover my thoughts ere I can talk with thee in reason.

Thank the gods, I find thee alive and in health, replied the youth, as he let go the old man's hand, and took a seat upon a wooden bench close by.

Aye—I am well in body, returned Artabanus. But, he added, thoughtfully, continuing to gaze earnestly into his companion's face as he spoke, the body is but a small part of man, and the ills of the flesh are very joys when compared with some of the pains to which the soul may be subject. But tell me of thyself. Where hast thou been?

I have been in Greece, replied the youth. When I fled from these shores, eight years ago, I sought refuge there, and there I have remained ever since. Oh! I wept this morning, as I gazed down upon the city of my birth. I had thought I had done weeping over those memories; but when I again gazed upon Syracuse they came crowding upon me with a power which I could not resist. I saw the very temple beneath the walls of which my father and my brother were slain; and I could see the roof beneath which my mother died. Artabanus, there were not many of the patrician families escaped that foul butchery.

No, Alaric. Of all who were loyal to the true interests of the people, I have seen only yourself return. There were a few escaped, but not many. Were there any went with you to Greece?

No, father. I escaped alone. I saw my noble parent cut down—I saw my brother fall—and when I knew I had no relative left in the city, I fled. Fortune favored me. I found a small boat by the sea shore, and I put out alone upon the dark waters. I floated away to Melita, and from thence I gained a passage to Greece. The tyrant still reigns in Syracuse?

Alas! yes. And his deeds are evil, and the people suffer. We have had no peace in Sicily since good Helixus died. Thou wert but a mere child then.

I was seven years old. I remember the good king well, for my father, you know, was one of his chief officers.

Aye—you were older than I thought, said the hermit, musingly.

And I remember that there was some mystery connected with the good king's death, remarked Alaric. Am I not right?

There was not much mystery, answered the old man. He was weak and weary, and he left the throne that he might die in peace; and death soon came to him. But why hast thou returned to Syracuse?

Can you not guess? returned the youth. I might guess many things, my son.

And yet but one of them would be right. I have said that I left no relative behind me when I made my escape from this place; but I did leave one whom I loved—one about whom my affections were entwined with a life that could not die. You know of whom I speak.

Aye—you speak of the mason's daughter, Ianthe.

Yes, father. Is she alive?

She is.

And well?

She is well.

And, pursued the youth, in a more eager tone, is she still free?

Why? Have you thought that she would remember you in love through the years that have passed?

O! do not tell me that she has ceased to love me. True, she was a child in years, but I loved her then, and my love has grown stronger in the separation which has followed. I know there is danger to me here, but I came with a will to meet it.

But suppose the very life were in danger if you sought the maiden?

You may warn me of danger, if you will, but do not seek to place the barrier of fear between me and my desire, for I know not the emotion. You, Artabanus, taught me when I was a boy, and your wise lessons have not departed from my mind. You taught me that there were many things more to be feared than death, and I have come, prepared rather to die than live all alone in a distant land, with the sad memories of my unhappy country for my only heritage.

And you would not turn from death, should it raise its threatening front between yourself and Ianthe? The old man's gaze grew more earnest as he thus spoke, and a spark, within, which seemed to gleam some newly awakened hope, burned in his eye.

My father, answered Alaric, with a flushing cheek, I could almost feel offended did I think you doubted me, but I do not think so. Show me that Ianthe loves me, and not even Pyrrho himself, with the blood stained crown of Sicily upon his brow, shall have power to startle me from my course, while life is mine.

Artabanus started to his feet and grasped the youth by the hand.

Noble Alaric, he cried, with a joyful enthusiasm, thou art worthy of the maiden's hand. She does love thee—she cherishes thy memory within her heart as the most precious thing of earth, and for long years she has lived upon the hope that thou wouldst return to her.

O—the gods be praised! ejaculated the young man.

But, added the hermit in a changed voice, there must be danger in thy path. Pyrrho holds his throne only through the fear and enslavement of the people, and he knows it. Your father was one of his bitterest enemies, and he was also one of the first whom the usurper found it necessary to put out of the way. You are not only the very image of your noble parent, but you must remember that you had arrived almost at the full stature of manhood, when you fled from Syracuse. You were then seventeen, and from seventeen to five-and-twenty, especially in one so early developed as you were, there is not much change. You were a man then, and are no more now. So you must expect that you will be known and recognized. But let us speak of that hereafter. First do you see Ianthe, and when you have found all right in that quarter, we will consider further.

I shall find her with her father?

Yes—and his house is just where it was eight years ago.

I will go and seek her, then, and—

Hold, my son. You had better wait till nightfall ere you enter the city, and also exchange that Greek shirt for a garment less likely to attract attention, for I assure you that too much care cannot be taken.

Alaric was impatient to see Ianthe, but he saw the force of the hermit's reasoning, and he was willing to wait. So he sat down by his old teacher's side again—sat as he had sat years before, when receiving instructions from the same lips—and listened to the story of the wrongs that had been done in Sicily during the tyrant's cruel reign.

Merciful heavens! cried the youth, fired almost to phrenzy by the recital, how have the people borne all this?

They have borne it under fear of their lives. Pyrrho's soldiers are posted at every place where a murmur can arise.

And how long shall it last?

Till some spirit with a heart big enough to love Sicily more than life, and a soul that fears not the tyrant, shall arise in Syracuse! pronounced the old man solemnly.

Alaric started as he met the glance of his aged companion, for there was a meaning upon it of more than mortal import. He dared not trust himself to speak then, for the feelings that had sprung to life in his own soul were so wild and strange that they fairly started him. He arose and walked out upon the mountain, and ever and anon, as his eye rested upon the distant city, the tumult in his soul came to startle him again. He did not seek to analyze the emotion, for it was so bold and gigantic, so genie-like in its misty proportions, that he dared not handle it with reason.

After a while Artabanus came out and touched him upon the shoulder.

Alaric, spoke the old man, it is waxing late, and we may be on the move. Let us eat a crust of bread, and then we will descend the mountain together. I must go with you as far as the fisherman's cot, for there we must find a more fitting garb for you. Glycon is my friend, and may be trusted to the verge of the grave.

The frugal supper was soon dispatched, and then the two descended the mountain together. At the fisherman's cot they stopped, and found that Glycon had just returned from his day's labor. Artabanus took him apart, and having explained to him as much of Alaric's story as he deemed advisable, he asked for some garments that would answer for the youth to wear.

The fisherman led the way to his scanty wardrobe, and the necessary garments were soon selected. Alaric's leggings of goat-skin were replaced by long hose of blue cloth, and his white linen shirt was exchanged for a dark brown frock, beneath which he could easily conceal his short sword. After this the hermit accompanied him to the southern shore of the bay, and there stopped.

We had better, not be seen together beyond this point, said the old man. From here the way is plain, and you have had caution enough. At the gate you will not be stopped, unless some of the guard should take the whim to question you. Be wise, now, and cautious, and let me see you to-morrow. I will not forget.

Then may the gods guide and protect you. With this Artabanus turned back towards the mountain, and Alaric kept on. The shades of night were gathering over the city as the youth passed in at the broad gateway, and the guard had already lighted their torches. He had gone a few steps when a rough voice commanded him to stop.

Didn't you promise me a fish for my dinner, you lying knave? the voice continued.

You have mistaken your man, said Alaric, hiding his face as much as possible without seeming desirous so to do.

Good Bacchus, so I have. Thou'rt not Mestor.

No, returned the hero; and as he spoke he kept on.

That's a strange face, said one of the soldiers.

And, I thought, a fair one, added another. How now? asked a third. Has a stranger passed?

Yes—a fisherman.

'Tis said that a Greek vessel was upon the coast this morning, and we should know whom she landed?

Alaric heard no more. He turned the first angle in the street that presented itself, and then hurried on. The way was familiar, and he had no difficulty in selecting the various avenues he needed to follow, but he was not wholly easy. He had reason to believe that he was followed. He took several winding passages for the purpose of avoiding pursuers, but he could not get rid of the echoing foot-fall that sounded upon the pavement behind him. It slackened when he slackened—it stopped when he stopped—and when he hurried on the echo hurried after him.

CHAPTER II. IANTHE.—AN ALARM.

Within a comfortably furnished apartment of an humble abode, near the western wall of the city, sat two individuals. The first was a man some fifty years of age, stout and muscular in frame, and wearing the garb of an artisan, with the dust of toil still clinging to him. He possessed an open, kindly countenance, and if it lacked in comeliness, it certainly made up in honesty and frankness.—Such was Bellerus, one of the most skillful masons in Syracuse, and possessing a fair knowledge of architecture in its higher and more elaborate branches. A genial, comfortable disposition had led him into society of his own choice, and an antipathy to turmoil and strife, and an unwillingness to assume much responsibility, had kept him from rising to any eminence in his profession.

There may have been another cause for his retaining his humble position, though every desire of his social life seemed to be answered where he was.

The other person—the mason's companion—was a female. She had seen just twenty summers, and was as beautiful as the poet's dream. In form she was light and graceful, her limbs full and round, and her whole frame full of life and vigor. Her features were of true Grecian mould, with large dark eyes, over which drooped long lashes of silken texture, while a mass of wavy tresses clustered about her superbly rounded shoulders. Beyond the few honest friends who sometimes partook of the artisan's hospitality, she was not known. Bellerus had guarded her with a miser's care, and few there were in the great metropolis who knew of the treasure of beauty that dwelt within his walls. The humble craftsman who shared her father's confidence loved her devotedly, but they loved with a worshiping love, as the kneeling shepherd loved his goddess; and they were all pledged not to speak of her in their intercourse with the outside world.

Don't call me foolish, father, said the maiden, imploringly.

I do not call thee so, Ianthe, the mason returned. I only wish to help you over what may prove a most bitter disappointment.—How can you hope that Alaric will ever return?

My love tells me so.

Ah—but love is blind.

Then its feelings are the more to be relied upon, for they come from the internal promptings of the soul. But I feel sure that he will come back to me. Only last night the bright goddess Electra appeared to me in a dream, and told me that Alaric should return. At least I will hope yet a while longer; for it is sweet to hope.

Bellerus could not find it in his heart to do more towards dispelling the bright promise which the maiden cherished, and he turned the conversation upon another topic. Only a few words had been spoken, however, when a loud rap was heard without, and the host lighted a torch and went to the door. When he returned, he made a motion for Ianthe to leave the room.

It is a stranger, he said, and it is not meet that thou shouldst be present.

But the maiden neither spoke nor moved. She had heard the tones of the visitor's voice, and her quick ear had caught a familiar sound.

Bellerus would have reminded her again, but the stranger was close behind him, and quickly entered the apartment. Ianthe saw not the humble fisher's garb—she only saw the well remembered features, which she had carried within the sacred repository of her affections for so long a time. They were changed a little—they had assumed more of manhood—but not changed to love.

Sweet Electra, my dream is true! she cried, as she started forward, and put forth her hands. Alaric has come!

So Heaven looks down with richest blessing! the young man responded, as he folded the maiden to his bosom.

May the gods preserve me! exclaimed the old man, gazing upon the youthful pair in wonder. I hope this is no trick of Thaumias to blind me. Alaric, is it thou?

In truth, good Bellerus, it is, returned our hero, extending his hand as he spoke. Surely thou shouldst know me.

Aye, and I do know thee now, the host responded, grasping the youth warmly, and gazing eagerly in his face. By the crown of Pluto, I could not mistake that face. Thou art grown wondrously like thy noble father.

The trio were soon seated, and when they had regained somewhat of their composure, Alaric gave a brief account of his adventures during his absence from Sicily. Ianthe sat all the while with her head upon his bosom, and ever and anon lifting her eyes to catch the warm glances of his love.

At length the old craftsman went out, and the lovers were left alone. They told over the tales of affection they used to tell in other years, and for an hour the world was shut out from their thoughts.

O! murmured Ianthe, after Alaric had imparted a warm kiss upon her brow in token of the renewal of his most solemn pledges, now that thou art near me, and my fount of love is full, I begin to fear the dangers which may beset thee.

Let us not think of danger now, my beloved, replied the youth. This should be a season of joy and happiness unalloyed.

Aye—but we should not forget that there is a future, and that we must be watchful of the joys to day if we would have them with us henceforth.

Thou art right, Ianthe. And I will be watchful. I know there is danger in the way, but I fear it not.

[TO BE CONTINUED IN OUR NEXT.]

Great Memory.

Mithridates king of Pontus, knew each of his eighty thousand soldiers by his right name.

Seneca was able to rehearse two thousand words which were given to him in the same order.

Hortensius kept in his memory all the prices paid on a day of auction.

Hugo Grotius, on being present at a review of some regiments in France, recalled all the names of the single soldiers which were there called up.

Justus Lipsius ventured to rehearse the words of Tacitus, from the first word to the last, forward and backward even when somebody was standing before him with a drawn dagger, to pierce him at the very moment he had forgotten but one word.

A Venetian lady, well known for her erudition, when asked for the sermon she had attended in church, repeated scrupulously every word.

Racine knew by memory all tragedies of Euripides; Bayle, the whole work of Montaigne; Hughes Doneau, the Corpus Juris; Metestio the entire Horatius, and Carteret, lord-lieutenant of Ireland, all the New Testament from the first chapter of Matthew to the end of the Apocalypse. The learned Scotchman Thomas Dempster, affirmed that he knew not what it was to forge; and Scaliger is said to have apprehended within twenty-one days the whole Homerous, and within four months all the Greek poets.

The notorious and mysterious Count of St. Germain surpasses them all. Any newspaper he read once he knew by memory; and he was furnished with such a gigantic comprehensive power of numbers, which he could recite forward, backwards, and pulled out from the middle. From the court of Henry III., in Cragow, he demanded one hundred picket cards, mixed them together in disorder, let him tell all the succession of the cards, ordered it to be noted down exactly, and repeated their following one after the other, without being wrong once. He played almost every musical instrument of the world, was an excellent painter, and imitated any handwriting in the most illusive manner. He had but one passion—playing all games with absolute mastery. In chess, no mortal has vanquished him; and in faro, he could break every bank by calculation.

Saturday Night.

What blessed things Saturday nights are, and what would the world do without them? Those breathing moments in the march of life, those little twilights in the broad and garish glare of noon, when pale yesterday looked beautiful through the shadows, and faces changed long ago, smiling sweetly—again in the bush, when one remembers "the old folks at home," and the old arm chair, and the litter brother that died and the little sister that was "translated."

Saturday nights make people human! set their hearts to beating softly, as they used to do before the world turned them into wax drums, and jarred them in pieces with tattoos.

The ledger closes with a clash; the iron-doored vaults come to with a bang; up go the shutters with a will; click goes the key in the lock. It is Saturday night, and business branches free again. Homeward ho! The door that has been ajar all the week, gently closes behind him, the world is shut out! Shut in, rather. Here are the treasures, after all, and not in vault, not in the book—save the record in the old family Bible—and not in the bank.

May be you are a bachelor, frosty and forty. Then poor fellow, Saturday nights are nothing to you, just as you are nothing to anything. Get a wife, blue-eyed, or black-eyed, but above all, a true eyed one—get a home, no matter how little—and a little sofa, just large enough to hold two or two-and-a-half into it on Saturday night, and then read this paragraph by the light of your wife's eyes, thank God and take courage.

The dim and dusty shops are swept up, the hammer is thrown down, the apron is doffed, and the laborer hastens homeward bound.

Saturday night, faintly murmurs the languishing, as she turns wearily on her couch; and is there another to come?

Saturday night at last! whispers the weeping above the dying; and it is Sunday to-morrow, and to-morrow.

Pedlars.

If people would avoid encouraging professional thieves and practical burglars, let them steadfastly refuse

Apples for Sale.

THE Subscriber has from forty to fifty barrels of the first quality of Winter Apples consisting of Golden Russets, Baldwins, Pippins and Jonathans, which he will sell cheap for Cash.

SOLOMON NIGHTINGALE,
Quincy, Oct. 23.

ESTS, (Custom Made) from 175 to $5.
Quincy, Oct. 31.

Cabinet Manufactory
AND COFFIN WAREHOUSE.

CHARLES H. KIMBALL,
Successor to W. M. French,

HAVING bought of Mr. French the Stock, Tools, Good-Will, &c., of the old Establishment, Factory and Coffin Ware Rooms, corner of Hancock and Temple streets is now prepared to receive orders in all its Branches; manufacturing new, or repairing old FURNITURE TO LOOK NEARLY AS WELL AS NEW.

in manufacturing Counters, &c.

He would also say to the patrons of the Old Stand that he intends to keep on hand

An Assortment of Coffins,

varying in Size and Material; holding himself in readiness to meet the views of the community, in this particular branch at all times.

Having for the last twelve years served in this capacity under Mr. French, he feels confident that by attention to business, to meet with success, and supply the wants of Quincy and vicinity.

Quincy, Oct. 23.

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that they have taken the Quincy Bake-House, and intend carrying on the baking business in all its branches—supplying strictly to the Cash system—and hope by manufacturing the

Best Quality of Bread

to merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and the neighboring towns.

Trout & Glover.

Quincy, Oct. 16.

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a copartnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,

and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.

done to satisfaction, and in a workmanlike manner.

Small as well as large jobs thoughtfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES E. POPE.

Quincy, Oct. 9.

YOU HAD BETTER

TRY

My Mother's Salve.

THIS CELEBRATED PREPARATION has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its great curative properties, and has been the agent for relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage be known this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve"

Is a PERFECT CHEMICAL COMPOUND, prepared from ROOTS, HERBS and GEMS, gathered from the forest, and possesses

HEALING, SOOTHING and PAIN-RELIEVING VIRTUES

never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve"

Is SAFE and EFFECTUAL, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a permanent cure.

"My Mother's Salve"

In a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve"

Is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth. DIRECTIONS for USE

"My Mother's Salve"

Are simple. Every mother and nurse know how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportion, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with the Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ailments, rub as in cases of Rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. BECK.

BURRELL & HUNTING, Sole Proprietors.
No. 6 Tremont Street, Boston.

For Sale in Quincy by Mrs. E. HAYDEN
Oct. 30.

200 Rolls Kidderminster Carpets.

SLIGHTLY imperfect in matching, for 55 cts. per yard. This lot of Carpets are all-wool goods, of superior quality and styles, and are believed to be the cheapest lot of Carpets ever offered in this market. The imperfections are scarcely perceptible.

New England Carpet Co.,
75 Hanover Street, opposite American House.
Boston, Oct. 2.

FRUIT TREES!

THE subscriber offers for sale at his Nurseries in

DORCHESTER,

A complete assortment of Fruit Trees, Grape Vines, Raspberries, Strawberries, Currants, &c., viz.

6000 Extra Large Pear Trees, on Quince Roots.

4000 Large Standard Pear Trees on Pear Roots.

10,000 Imported Pyramid Pear Trees on Quince Roots.

5000 Cherry Trees, embracing the new American varieties, Gov. Wood, Black Hawk, Ohio Beauty, &c., &c.

1000 GRAPE VINES, embracing the new and popular American varieties, viz. Rebecca, Union Village, Delaware, Hartford Prolific, Diana and others.

5000 New Currants in six excellent new sorts, producing much larger fruit than the old varieties.

Also, A superior collection of Apples, Plums, Raspberries, Strawberries, NEW RHUBARBS

ETC.—ALSO—Ornamental Trees, Evergreens, Roses, Flowering Shrubs, Greenhouse and Herbaceous Plants.

The collection of Pear Trees is unsurpassed and embraces also all the new and most celebrated sorts extant.

Many of the above are remarkable for the strength and beauty of form, and with proper care will produce fruit the next season.

N. B. Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin st., Boston, several times in the day.

MARSHALL P. WILDER.
Dorchester, Oct. 23.

TO FRUITGROWERS.

FOR sale an extensive assortment of PEAR TREES, of all the varieties worthy of cultivation, a part of which are on the quince stock.

Also, APPLE, CHERRY, PEACH and other FRUIT TREES. GRAPE VINES—REBECCA, DELAWARE, UNION VILLAGE and all the other "best" kinds. CURRANTS, GOOSEBERRIES and RASPBERRIES in great variety. EVERGREEN and other ORNAMENTAL TREES, Shrubs, Roses, Buckthorns, Rhubarb, Herbaceous Plants, Tulips, &c.

Persons wishing FRUIT TREES in a bearing state may do well to call at the Nurseries and make a selection.

SAMUEL WALKER & CO.,
Roxbury, Mass.

A lot of EXTRA SIZED APPLE TREES will be sold very cheap.

Oct. 16.

OVER COATS, (Custom Made,) from 7 to $12.

Quincy, Oct. 31.

Burnett's Eucaine.

FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. Thomas's Golden Lustrine. The German Toilet Balsam, and various other hair preparations, sold by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 26.

Butter!

50 TUBS of Prime Dairy Butter in pack ages from thirty to one hundred pounds, for sale at the lowest market price, in the tub or pound, for cash by DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

Paper Hangings.

A NEW and splendid assortment of Paper Hangings, Curtains, &c., just received and for sale by

ELBRIDGE CLAPP.
Quincy, March 28

GRASS SEED.

HERDS Grass, Red Top and Clover Seed for sale at Boston Prices by

D. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, April 3

NEXT DOOR!

ONE DOOR NORTH OF THE OLD STAND WHERE THE BEST OF

Custom Boots & Shoes

ARE made, and where Men's Boots and Shoes from the Best Stock, and Work Warranted, may be found.

Also—An assortment of Ladies' Hisses and Children's BOOTS, SHOES, and GAITERS of the best kinds manufactured.

Being a practical workman the undersigned is enabled to procure the Best Stock in the Market.

ALL WORK WARRANTED.

All kinds of Repairing as usual.

CALL AND EXAMINE.
Second Door from the Post Office.
J. F. BURRELL.
Quincy, July 17.

Boot and Shoe Repairing.

THE subscriber, at his Saloon, in the Depot Building, will attend to the Repairing of Gents' and Ladies' BOOTS AND SHOES.

Having had several years' experience in this particular line, he feels confident of doing his work in a satisfactory manner, therefore respectfully solicits a share of public patronage.

JOSEPH N. PAGE.
Quincy, Sept. 4.

Boots and shoes.

ELBRIDGE CLAPP has just received a full assortment of Boots and Shoes, suitable for the season, which he will sell at the VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Give him a call soon.

A lot of Boots and Shoes slightly shop worn are offered Very Cheap.

Quincy, July 31.

FASHIONABLE
Tailoring Establishment

J. W. LOMBARD;

HAS taken rooms over the store of E. Clapp, (formerly occupied by Mr. J. M. Beckford,) and wishes respectfully to inform his friends and the public generally that he intends to carry on

THE TAILORING BUSINESS.

In all its branches; and hopes by punctuality and strict attention to business to merit a share of patronage.

JOS. W. LOMBARD.
Quincy, Apr. 18

Fall and Winter Fashions for 1858

Just received by

JOHN DINEGAN,
Hancock St., a few rods from

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

ALSO—New Styles of Fancy Cassimeres & Vestings

CONSISTING OF

Velvets, Silks and Satins

—ALSO—A CHOICE SELECTION

French, English & German

BLACK AND COLORED

BROADCLOTHS and DOESKINS

which will be

MADE TO ORDER in the LATEST STYLE.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

BROADCLOTH Frock and Sack COATS,

(Custom Made,) from 6 to $12.

Quincy, Oct. 31

LATER FROM EUROPE!!

—OF—

Greater Importance!

FROM THE CELEBRATED

Cash Clothing House,

—OF—

JACKMAN & MERRILL,

Nos. 29 and 30 Dock Square,

BOSTON.

FORMERLY

Messrs. Keith & Thornton.

THE Handmade Spring Styles to be found in the city is manufactured at this Establishment.

WHOLESALE OR RETAIL

Buyers are informed that the mode of conducting business is FOR CASH—buying and selling—and they may also expect the worth of their money.

We guarantee good Goods and protect in prices.

Quincy May 1

Cut this out and keep it for Reference.

Great Chance to Save Money!!

BY HAVING YOUR CLOTHES MADE BY

C. A. COLLINS,

203 Washington Street,
Cor. Bromfield street, up stairs.

REASONS WHY. 1st. My rent is less than any Custom Tailor in Boston.

2. I buy my Goods for Cash, taking advantage of the markets.

3. I sell my Goods for Cash only.

4. I make no bad debts for Customers to pay for.

5. I work for the interest of my Customers.

Gentlemen can depend on having Garments which for style, fit, nice trimming, and faithful work, cannot be surpassed.

6. I pay particular attention to making Pants, being the most difficult of all Garments to fit nicely and at the same time be perfectly easy.

My Pants are cut by a system original with myself, and used by no other person. I warrant my Pants to retain their shape at the boot till worn out, and to fit handsome and be easy in every particular.

Some of the Prices.

I sell a nice Frock or Dress Coat, from German Black or colored Broad Cloths, made to order, for from $15 to $23

Black German Doe Pants, 5 to 8

Side Band and outer style Pants, 5 to 8

Best quality Silk Vests, 4 to 5

Cloth, Valencia and Plaid Vests, 2 to 5

Business Coats, 9 to 13

Spring and Fall Over-Coats, 19 to 25

Winter Over-Coats, 12 to 20

Where gentlemen furnishing their own Cloth, Linen and trim it for them into Garments in the best styles, at less prices than any other Tailor in Boston.

Always on hand the newest and best goods of all the manufacturers of this and foreign countries.

CHESTER A. COLLINS,
203 Washington street, corner Bromfield street, (Up stairs,) - - - - - BOSTON.

Well known as the place to SAVE MONEY.

July 17.

Boot and Shoe Findings.

JUST received and for sale low, a lot of Boo and Shoe Kn. Findings, &c., by

Quincy, Apr. 18

IL VINAL.

Best quality Ladies Rubber Shoes, 40 cts

Boots, $1 10

Cheap Cash Store.

Weymouth Landing.

J. M. GOODHUE

Feb 20

Pure Cider Vinegar.

800 GALLONS PURE CIDER VINEGAR, made on the farm formerly owned by B. V. French, now in store and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, by

GEORGE L. BAXTER, & CO.

Quincy, Aug. 15.

FRANCIS P. LOUD

WOULD respectfully inform the Citizens of Quincy, that he has taken the Store formerly occupied by the late George B. Nightingale,

In the rear of the Stone Temple,

where he has on hand and intends keeping a

A FULL ASSORTMENT

—OF—

WORSTED FOR EMBROIDERY,

Patterns of all kinds, and a

General Assortment of Fancy Articles.

—ALSO—

Ladies' & Children's Ready Made

CLOTHES,

Dress Trimmings, Corsets, Head

Dresses, the best of Spool Cotton,

Sewing Silk, Embroidery Silk,

Shirts and Shirt Bosoms, Overalls,

Cravats, Collars, &c., &c.

—ALSO—A large assortment of

CONFECTIONARY, NUTS, &c.

N. B. Stitching done to Order.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

Removal.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS REMOVED TO

GOODNOW'S BUILDING:

Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.,

Where he will continue to keep his usual large and well selected stock of

Plain and Fancy Silks,

Shawls, Dress Goods of every variety,

Domestic and Housekeeping Goods,

Gloves, Hosiery, Trimmings,

Embroideries and Fancy

Goods, &c.

GENTS' AND BOYS' CLOTHING

AND FURNISHING GOODS!!

Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, &c., &c.

—A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

FURNITURE

Constantly on hand, Mattresses and Featherbeds of every quality, Carpets, Paper Hangings, Crockery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, all of which will be offered at

Very Low Prices for Cash.

He takes this opportunity to thank the citizens of this and neighboring towns for the very liberal patronage which they have given him, and would be happy to see them at his new location, where he will offer such inducements as will secure their continued and increased favors.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Jan. 23

DAVID B. STETSON

WOULD inform his friends and the public that he has

Returned to his Old Stand,

A few rods East of the Stone Temple,

which has been

REMODELLED AND ENLARGED

expressly for his business.

Where he will keep a good assortment of WEST INDIA GOODS, FAMILY PROVISIONS, GROCERIES, BOOTS AND SHOES, FANCY GOODS, TOYS, CONFECTIONERY, RUSSIA SALVE, and all the popular Medicines, Essences, Flavoring Extracts, &c. A good assortment of

CROCKERY, GLASS,

AND

Wooden Ware.

Just received a fresh lot of the improved Rosemary.

A share of public patronage is solicited.

Poetry.

Good Heart and Willing Hand.

In storm or shine two friends are mine,
Go forth to work or play;
And when they visit poor men's homes,
They bless them by the way.
'Tis Willing Hand! 'tis Cheerful Heart,
The two best friends I know;
Around the heart comes Joy and Mirth
Where'er their faces glow.
Come shine, 'tis bright! Come dark—'tis night!
Come cold—'tis warm ere long!
So heavily fall the hammer stroke!
Merrily sound the song!

Who falls my stand, if good Right Hand
Is first, not second best;
Who weeps may sing, if kindly Heart
Has lodging in the breast.
The humble board has dainties pour'd
When they sit down to dine;
The crust they eat is honey sweet,
The water's good as wine.
They fill the purse with honest gold,
They lead no creature wrong.
So heavily fall the hammer stroke!
Merrily sound the song!

Without these twin the poor complain
Of evils hard to bear,
But with them Poverty grows rich,
And finds a load to spare.
Their looks are fire—their words inspire—
Their deeds give courage high;
About their knees the children run,
Or climb they know not why.
Who sails, or rides, or walks with them,
Never finds the journey long.
So heavily fall the hammer stroke!
Merrily sound the song!

The Old Folks' Room.

The old man sat by the chimney side—
His face was wrinkled and wan,
And he leaned both hands on his stout oak cane,
As if all his work were done.

The coat was of good old fashioned grey,
The pockets were deep and wide,
Where his "specks" and his steel tobacco-box
Lay snugly side by side.

The old man liked to stir the fire,
So near him the logs were kept;
Sometimes he mused as he gazed at the coals,
Sometimes he sat and slept.

What saw he on the embers there?
Ah! pictures of other years;
And now and then awakened smiles,
But oftener started tears.

His good wife sat on the other side,
In a high-backed, flag seat chair;
I see 'neath the pile of her muslin cap
The sheen of her silvery hair.

There's a happy look on her aged face,
As she busily knits for him,
And Nellie takes up the stitches dropped,
For grandmother's eyes are dim.

Their children come and read the news,
To pass the time each day;
How it stirs the blood—the old man's heart,
To hear of the world away.

'Tis a homely scene, I told you so,
But pleasant to the eye;
At least I thought it so myself,
And sketched it down for you.

Be kind unto the old, my friend,
They're worn with the world's strife;
Though bravely once perchance they fought,
The stern, fierce battle of life.

They taught your youthful feet to climb
Upward life's rugged steep;
Then let us gently lead them down
To where the weary sleep.

Go for the Right.

Though wealth may allure you
With diamonds and gold,
The strength of your manhood
Must never be sold;
Bid riches await you,
With power and pride,
And go for the right,
Whatever betide.

Though power oppose you
With strength and might,
Oh! never be disheartened
Though hard be the fight;
Oh! never be conquered,
Nor e'er turned aside,
But go for the right,
Whatever betide.

Anecdotes.

During the revolutionary war the Earl of Dartmouth asked an American in London of how many members Congress consisted. To which the reply was:

Fifty-two.
Why, that is the number of cards in a pack, said the lordship; pray, how many knaves are there?
Not one, returned the republican; please to recollect that knaves are court cards.

In a tavern, in a small town, sat a farmer, who was plagued and bantered by a dozen guests who were present.

Well, said the farmer at last, I've got the best of all of you.
How so? asked all.
In you've only got one fool, while in you I've got above a dozen.

A farmer who had employed a green, Em-ceralder, ordered him to give his mule some corn in the ear. On his coming in the farmer asked:

Well, Pat, did you give the corn?
To be sure I did.
How did you give it?
And sure as yez told, in the ear!
But how much did you give?
Well, yez see, the cratther wouldn't hould still, and switched his ears 'bout so, I couldn't git above a fistful in both ears.

A drunken fellow having sold all his goods to maintain himself at the glass, except his bed, at last made away with that too. Being reproved by some of his friends he said:
I am very well, thank God, and why should I keep my bed?

New Stock and New Styles!

PAPER HANGINGS.

HAVING a desire to accommodate many of our customers, and to increase the trade in this place, we have added to our former variety of Goods, an entirely New and beautiful Stock of Paper Hangings, Borderings, Curtains, &c., COMPRISING 100 PATTERNS!
manufactured on the best paper and in the highest perfection of colors and styles.

Our assortment will always be kept good, and we shall spare no efforts to give the best satisfaction to the taste of all who wish to paper their rooms with attractive and pleasing patterns of good paper and in good colors.
Our prices will range lower than is usual with the same qualities and styles in Boston, but we shall engage in no mean underselling any of our neighbors, our object being to present an additional inducement for the Quincy people to bestow their patronage upon their own traders, and find themselves suited in every respect as well or better than in the City.

Builders of new houses will be supplied on the most favorable terms.
C. GILL & CO.,
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, March 27

To Root and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which are prepared to suit the most fastidious tastes.
Black and Colored Dressings, finished especial-Black, Brown and Drab Cases, for Congress sinners, Black Brown and Drab Feltings, for snow shoes, Lastings, all wool. Italian do. Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Serge de Herri's, Rubber Gasket Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes.
Boot and Congress Webs, from 4 in. to 1 1/2 ins., new style.
Gallons, black and colors, 3 and 4 in. widths. Shoe Ducks; Congress and Linon Canvas.
Shoe Ribbons, Bowties, and Sandal Web.
Eyeslets, Corls, Shoe Lacets and Strings, all sizes and lots. Italian do. Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Linen Machine Threads,
Of the well known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Brogues, Shoes and Linon Canvas, from No. 12 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black, Drab, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in Hanks, Balls and Spools, for riding, closing, stitching, binding, straps and counters, topstitching and under threads. Also Shoe Threads.
Machine Silk, all colors and sizes.
Sew Island Hank Cotton, Blacks, Colored, Unbleached and White.
Spool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing
Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required for their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.
BROWN, DIX & CO.,
No. 52 Milk street.
Quincy, June 19

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE and SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURNS, CHAPING, and all medicinal purposes where a Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

WEL SMITH HALL,
Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.
C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent.
Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Aug. 22

Salt!!! Salt!!!
JUST received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for Hay.
H. VINAL.

Balsam, Plaster, &c.
Dr. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam and Plaster.

Dr. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—for sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Aug. 22

CHINA PAINT.
BUILDERS DEPOT.
PAINTING.

JOHN O. FOYE.
BUILDING MATERIALS.

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of

BUILDING MATERIALS

to be found at any store in New England.

Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE.

Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale:

DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. BLINDS—painted or unpainted. GLASS—all sizes. S. S. RAILS, BALUSTERS, NAILS, LEAD & ZINC.

HARDWARE, and CARPENTERS' TOOLS, in great variety. Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Fannel Irons, Oven and Ash Doors.

Barn-doors Rollers and Rods for top or bottom of doors: Patent Sash Locks, Self-shutting Gate Hinges and Fast; Blind Hinges and Fast; Window Frames made to order; Weather Vanes for Churches, &c.; Garden and Fire Engines; Carpenters' Morticing and Boring Machines, Ornamental Iron Brackets; Hatter, Draft and Tie Chains; House Bells, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent DEE HIVES, &c. &c.

All Goods sold will be delivered at the Railroad Station here free of charge; or at any other place for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited.
WEYMOUTH LANDING, May, 16.
JOHN O. FOYE.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY.

HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stearns's Variety Store, in
JOHNSON'S BUILDING,

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of Gold and Silver Watches,
Fob, Curb and Vest Chains,
LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gents' Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of
Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a
LARGER STOCK

than ever offered before in Quincy.
All Goods warranted as represented.
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.
[33-Coffin Plates Engraved.]

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy, Oct. 24

GROCERIES, FLOUR, PROVISIONS

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store, which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices.

A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound.

50 Tubs of prime dairy Butter.
200 Bushels of Chenango and Long Red Potatoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.
[33-Groceries delivered to any part of the Town free of expense.]

H. VINAL,
at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers.
Quincy, Oct. 27

Salt Pork.
4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co
Quincy, Sept. 27

Salt Pork.
FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for cash.
GEORGE L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 6

SALT PORK.
FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price.
H. VINAL.
Quincy, Jan. 10

Are you Nervous?
DODD'S NERVINE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It produces a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—alleviates irritation—induces quiet and refreshing sleep, thus equalizing the nervous fluid throughout the system. It contains NO OPIUM or Mercury, neither poisonous mineral nor herb. The safest medicine for the nervous system, and the most beneficial. It does not produce constipation, but relieves it, being the best remedy for Nervousness now known. Price $1.00.

WILSON, FAIRBANK & CO., Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Agents.

MRS. E. HAYDEN, Agent.
Quincy, June 26

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.
FOR improving the complexion, and for the cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan, Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Feb. 6

Bried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25

CHINA PAINT.
BUILDERS DEPOT.
PAINTING.

JOHN O. FOYE.
BUILDING MATERIALS.

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of

BUILDING MATERIALS

to be found at any store in New England.

Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE.

Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale:

DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. BLINDS—painted or unpainted. GLASS—all sizes. S. S. RAILS, BALUSTERS, NAILS, LEAD & ZINC.

HARDWARE, and CARPENTERS' TOOLS, in great variety. Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Fannel Irons, Oven and Ash Doors.

Barn-doors Rollers and Rods for top or bottom of doors: Patent Sash Locks, Self-shutting Gate Hinges and Fast; Blind Hinges and Fast; Window Frames made to order; Weather Vanes for Churches, &c.; Garden and Fire Engines; Carpenters' Morticing and Boring Machines, Ornamental Iron Brackets; Hatter, Draft and Tie Chains; House Bells, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent DEE HIVES, &c. &c.

All Goods sold will be delivered at the Railroad Station here free of charge; or at any other place for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited.
WEYMOUTH LANDING, May, 16.
JOHN O. FOYE.

CHINA PAINT.
BUILDERS DEPOT.
PAINTING.

JOHN O. FOYE.
BUILDING MATERIALS.

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of

BUILDING MATERIALS

to be found at any store in New England.

DRUGS AND MEDICINES!

C. C. JOHNSON,
WOULD respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has opened A NEW DRUG STORE,

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
(Formerly occupied by Dr. J. Marden.) where he will be happy to wait upon all who may favor him with their patronage, day or night.

His Stock and Fixtures are entirely new, and his Medicines have been selected with great care, and are warranted pure and genuine.

Mr. J. C. Johnson's stock of all fresh, as are his Herbs, and his Tinctures and Syrups have all been manufactured since his arrival here, and can be depended upon by physicians and others as being of the proper strength and purity.

His Stock of Chemicals is large, and comprises all the varieties usually found in a well-conducted Apothecary Store. Of Patent Medicines, his Stock is large and varied, and will be enlarged from time to time, as new articles appear.

Of Perfumeries, Fancy Articles Cigars, &c., a large variety of which he can sell as cheap as a foreign article can be purchased elsewhere.

With his large assortment of Drugs and Chemicals, Mr. Johnson is prepared to compound
Physicians' Prescriptions,

as well and accurately as they can be prepared in any city in the United States.
Mr. J. trusts by a strict attention to business, to merit a share of public patronage.
Quincy, Oct. 24

Apothecary Store.
MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, and prepared Barley, Farina, Groats, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Corn Starch, Broma, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Shells, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spriged Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horsehair Mittens, Fleish Brushes, &c. &c.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of Dr. J. C. Johnson, and has on hand
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.
Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS,

Quincy,
William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Whitecomb Porter, Cohasset,
Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,
William B. Duggan, Hingham,
Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
Boston, South Hingham,
Alfred Loring, North Hingham,
Royal W. Turner, Sumner A. Hayward,
South Braintree, Barnstable,
Apollon Randall, George Marston,
Dedham,
Jonathan A. Cobb

References, by permission:
Hos. GEORGE T. BIGELOW of Boston,
Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
Hos. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
Hos. JAMES MAGUIRE of Randolph,
Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN of Hingham,
Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS of Quincy, JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq.,
" OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, at the Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1.

DR. S. STOCKING,
DENTAL SURGEON
No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs.)
Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,
BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing, regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what are called modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty-five years of close application to the duties of the profession he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession, whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise,—though honest in their intentions, and uniting their efforts, must be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are based, or the want of experience and ingenuity to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth,—a process of great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operations of the dentist. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item embraced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be improperly filled, and even ruined;—artificial ones may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made;—but neither life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so in the administration of ether. It is an agent that should be confined to the care and control of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium. Ether should be so administered as to prevent the air once breathed from entering the lungs a second time. The reason for this has its foundation in the laws of chemical combination in the process of respiration. The natural consequence of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness, if nothing worse, during etherization, with a distressing headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr. Stocking, who gives especial attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth, preparatory to the setting of whole and half

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing, SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING.

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.

Nov. 26.
WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, —BOSTON.

George White, Asa French.

May 20.

National Police Gazette.

This Great Journal of Crime and Criminals
is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely calculated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should send their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.)
GEO. W. MATSELL & CO.,
Editors & Proprietors of the
National Police Gazette.

New York City, Apr 25

May 20.

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE

DOORS

BLINDS

SASHES, &c. &c.

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS.

We are prepared to furnish them at prices to cor-
respond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,

SASHES,

BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS,

NAILS,

SHEET LEAD,

FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES,

DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS,

&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety.

Also—Pail, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS,

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fines Plate,

STRAP, IRON, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS, DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's

Improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best thing ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan 23

BURNS, &c.

MES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises,

toothache, chilblains, &c., &c.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 18

For the Teeth &c.

HARRISON'S Balm of Prairie Flowers—

a universal remedy for the skin, the hair,

the teeth, and the complexion.

The Persian Balm a great Toilette luxury, and certain cure for the bites of insects.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 18

Grass Seed!

40 TO 50 Bushels of Herd's Grass, Red

Top and Clover Seed, just received in store and for sale cheap for cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy March 13

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13th, 1858.

NUMBER XLVI.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged
until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BARBOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Arlington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

ALARIC, OR
The Tyrant's Vault.

A SICILIAN STORY OF EARLY TIMES.

CHAPTER II.—Continued.

At this juncture Bellerus returned in haste and there was a look of trouble upon his brow.
He closed the door behind him, and then turned towards our hero.

Alaric, he said, evidently striving to assume a calmness which he did not feel, have you any reason to suppose that your entrance into the city this evening was particularly noticed?

Why do you ask? demanded the youth.

I'll tell you, answered Bellerus. I have just come from the inn near the Temple of Diana, where I overheard a conversation between two soldiers who had just come from the Southern gate. They said that a Greek vessel was seen upon the coast this morning, and that some one landed from her. I also made out, from their conversation, that the king had been informed of the fact, and that he had given orders that every stranger who entered the city should be watched, and intelligence of his whereabouts conveyed to him.

Then I may be assured that I have been followed, said our hero; for I suspected it while on my way hither.

And if such be the case, said Bellerus, we shall hear more from it.

But before we wait for that, we'll take some steps of our own, cried Alaric. Some safe hiding-place must be found.

Alaric was upon the point of speaking when a loud knocking was heard without, and a voice demanded entrance, in the name of the king.

Fly! fly! cried Alaric, seizing her lover
by the arm.

Hold, said Bellerus, who became calm in the presence of this necessity. If he flies he will not escape now, for our house may be watched upon all hands; and if he is caught in the act of fleeing, a deeper and more deadly suspicion may fasten upon him.

Another thundering knock was heard, and Bellerus started towards the door.

We must meet it now, he said, though I wish I had known your coming had been noticed. Alaric, you had better withdraw.

Not while—

Hush! In this I must be the judge. For the good of him you love I bid you seek your own apartment.

Aye, added the youth, leading her towards the inner court, do as he bids you. I shall be safe enough. At all events, I will see you again.

He kissed her and blessed her; and she passed from the apartment just as the host unbarred and opened the outer door. She stopped and caught hold of her lover by the hand ere she left him, and, with a heavy fear upon her heart, she asked him to be careful.

The thought of these shall be indomitable enough to that end, he replied. And now may the gods be with us both.

In a few moments more Bellerus returned, and with him came four soldiers. They were stout, hard-looking men, whose hearts performed no other office than to furnish them with animal life that they might do the bidding of their master. One, who wore the uniform of a lieutenant, advanced from his companions and gazed into our hero's face.

You entered the city this evening? he said.

Alaric hesitated for a moment, but during that short moment his mind was made up.—
He quickly judged that any falsehood might only injure him and he resolved to tell the whole truth.

I did, he answered.

And you landed from a Greek vessel this morning?

Yes.

Then you will go with us to the royal palace.

But why is this?
Because the king has so commanded.

Will I see him to-night?

We came not answer questions—only to command your attendance at the palace, said
the lieutenant, gruffly.

Our gracious monarch will evidently see you to night, interposed Bellerus, who saw the flash of indignation in Alaric's eye, and feared that he might make matters worse by giving way to his feelings.

The youth saw the old man's meaning,
and he curbed his rising emotions.

Are you ready to go? asked the officer.

At any moment.

Then we have nothing further to detain us here.

Alaric put on his cap, and as they passed out through the narrow passage Bellerus found an opportunity to whisper in his ear:

Be cautious—keep a guard upon your tongue—mention not Alaric's name, nor suffer any allusion to her drop from your tongue.
Let us hope that the danger is not great.

And yet there was a tremulousness in his tone—a terror in his very breathing—that belied the words of hope he spoke. Until this moment the youth had not felt serious alarm, but, as he caught the look of horror upon the honest artisan's face, the bolt struck to his own heart.

The gods be with thee! spoke Bellerus, as they reached the porch.

But Alaric made no reply. At that moment a weighty thought was upon him, and before he could call his senses back for an answer he was hurried into the street. The officer walked by his side, while one of the soldiers led the way, and the other two fell in behind.

A variety of thoughts occupied Alaric's mind as he passed on through the narrow, dimly-lighted streets. He remembered how he had seen his father cut down, and how his brother had been butchered; and the same bloody tyrant who had done it had now sent for him. Is it a wonder that, with all his bravery, the youth felt a cold chill creeping about his heart as he approached the lair of the remorseless monarch?

CHAPTER III.

DARKNESS AND DOOM.

Pyrro, king of Sicily, sat upon his throne of gold and precious stones, and about him were a few of the hardened, cruel, subservient men whom he had dared to trust. He was a middle-aged man; short and clumsy in stature; with a face broad and brutal in its expression, and strongly marked by disipation and debauchery. If he had ever possessed the assurance of a brave man, he had lost it now, and his only hopes of safety were in the willing swords about him, and in the terror which his cruelty inspired. The light from three huge chandeliers of massive gold cast a strange luster over the large apartment—the beams being here reflected from polished mirrors; there from pillars of marble and porphyry; and anon taking deeper hues from the gaudy tapestry that hung upon the walls.

I would like to know who this stranger can be, said the monarch, turning to his chamberlain. Ah—here comes the lieutenant. We shall see.

There was a movement among the guard at the lower end of the chamber, and presently an officer approached the throne, leading Alaric by the arm.

Is he unarmed? the king cried, as his eye rested upon the youth's tall and sinewy frame.

He is, sire. We found only a simple sword upon him, and that we took from him.

A contemptuous look overspread the youth's face as he thus found a monarch so fearful; but when he gazed full upon the features of the tyrant who had slain his loved kindred, an expression of deadly hate swept over his noble brow, and a keen fire burned in his dark eyes.

Ye gods! gasped the king, as he caught a full view of the youth's face, with this deep expression from the soul upon it, what have we here? Come no nearer! guard him well! Who art thou?

Had the sword of death been at that moment suspended over our hero's head, and ready to fall at a breath, he could not have curbed the emotions that swelled in his soul.
In all his nature there was not one principle or incentive that could lead him to bow and cringe before one whom he so utterly despised and detested. Had he thought of the future, he might have spoken differently;
but he thought only of the present and the past—he thought only of the bloody wrongs that had been done, and he allowed his soul to have full sway.

I am Alaric, he answered, looking full into Pyrro's face.

Alaric! Alaric! What Alaric art thou?

Hold, sire, interposed the chamberlain, who had been regarding the youth narrowly. Methinks thou shouldst know that face. He is the son of Orneus.

Ha! Now by the gods, I know him! he cried the king, starting up from his seat, but quickly sinking back again. Art thou the son of the patrician Orneus?

When my noble father lived I was his son, the prisoner replied.

And when your noble father died you fled from the country? said the monarch, with sarcastic emphasis upon the words he had repeated from the youth's speech.

I did flee, was the reply.

Have you been absent ever since?

I have.

Where?

In Greece.

Why hast thou returned now?

To see the noble of my birth.

Who came with thee?

I landed alone upon these shores, your majesty, and had no thought but to find a friend; and then, if need be, to leave the country again.

And who is the friend you sought?

A bosom friend of my early youth, whose influence extends not beyond the walls of her home.

Ah—a female, eh?

Yes.

And lives she with the artisan Bellerus?

I went there to seek her!

And there you found her?

I heard of her there.

Answer me! cried the king in a voice of rage. By the sacred crown of Jupiter, thou hadst better bite off thine own head than answer me again as thou hast done. Who is the maiden thou hast come to seek?

Alaric hesitated ere he replied to this. He remembered the warning he had received from Bellerus, and he began to feel that he had been too rash in his speech. But he had no choice now. If he refused to answer, the king could easily send to the dwelling of the mason, and thus matters might be only made worse.

She is the daughter of Bellerus, he finally said.

The monarch gazed into the youth's face for some moments without speaking. There was a look of deadly meaning upon his hard features, and his fingers moved nervously over his knees. At length he turned to his chamberlain, and said:

This is a curious freak of circumstance.—
But the young man is like a stranger in our city, and we must provide for him—at least for a while. Then turning to Alaric, he added:

Since I have had thee brought hither against thy will, thou shalt be provided for during the night.

I can easily provide for myself, sire.

Aye—but we do not choose that thou shouldst be put to that inconvenience. We have room enough, and to spare; and it will afford us true gratification to know that thou art cared for.

Alaric could not mistake the meaning of these words. The look which accompanied them was a sufficient key to their import. But he could do nothing now to help himself. He could only trust to circumstances as they should present themselves.

The king called one of his officers to his side and whispered something into his ear, and then turned once more to the youth.

It is waxing late now, and we all have need of rest, he said; so thou shalt be conducted to a place of safety until the morrow.

But, sire, interposed our hero, why should you keep me here to-night? I can be found when you want me.

We are not so sure of that. But it is our will that you remain.—Hippion, you will conduct him to a place of rest, and report to me when thou hast done it.

The man thus addressed approached our hero, and placed his hand upon his arm.

Come, he said.

Alaric started as he heard the tones of that voice, for they sounded like a knell.—
The word was not spoken as speaks one who leads a guest to a quiet chamber.

Go with him, spoke the king.

Alaric turned and was led away. In an ante-room his conductor was joined by four dark, sinister-looking men, who had more the appearance of common ruffians than waiters upon a king, and then he was seized by both his arms, and hurried on through a vaulted passage to a dimly-lighted corridor. Presently the officer, who was Hippion, the jailer, stopped at a deep niche, where a guard was posted, and procured a torch, by the glaring light of which he led on once more.

On, through dark and narrow passages—and down, down, down, long and steep stairways, the youth was led; and when his conductors finally stopped, Hippion opened a door of solid metal, which swung out from a jagged wall, and the prisoner was forced roughly in, and the massive door was closed.

It was shut with a dull, heavy sound, the re-verberations being drunk up by the solid walls as soon as they fell upon the air—and the prisoner was left in utter darkness. He closed his eyes, and then opened them again to see if some glimmer might not be found to break the horrible gloom; but it was all in vain. He groped his way to the wall, and leaned against it for support, for there was no seat save the floor.

The youth was not long in making up his mind that he had been doomed to death. He knew the character of the monarch, and that no deed would be too evil for him. He knew, also, how fear could make the tyrant more cruel than before, and to what deeds of darkness the fear-stricken usurper could descend.

It was a terrible thought, and for a while Alaric was inclined to blame himself for what he had done; but when he came to reflect upon the transactions of the day, he could not see how the present result could have been avoided. It had flown from causes over which he could have exercised no control without the power of foreknowledge. He thought of Alaric, and he wondered if he should ever see her again. The chances were against it, but he was not prepared to give up all hope. He had just started to groping his way around the slimy wall, when he heard the sound of footsteps without, and presently the moving of bolts fell upon his ear.

In a few moments more the door of his dungeon was opened, and three men entered one of them bearing a flaming torch. They were huge fellows, clad in sombre garbs, and each bore a naked sword in his hand.

Alaric recognized those garbs, for he had seen them years before, and he knew that only the executioners wore them! The moment his eye rested upon the grim visitors, he knew that his doom had been spoken, and that the time for execution had come! Instinctively he placed his hand upon his hip, but there was no weapon there. He was all unarmed, and seemingly powerless against the gigantic ruffians. The man who held the torch leaned it up against the wall, where a projecting point of rock helped support it,
and

9. In going out from a warm room to the cold air, it is desirable to protect the teeth from the influence of the sudden change, by breathing, if at night, through two or three folds of a silk handkerchief, or through a woolen comforter. When the teeth and lower part of the face are left exposed in such circumstances, rheumatism and toothache not unfrequently ensue from the direct impression of the cold air upon parts rendered more susceptible by the preceding heat.

The great source of injury to the teeth, however, both in childhood and in mature age, is disordered digestion. If the health be good, and the stomach perform its functions with vigor, the teeth will resist much exposure without sustaining injury. But if these conditions fail, they will rarely continue long unscathed.

It is almost always from the latter cause that, in infancy, teething give rise to serious constitutional disorder.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Nov. 13th, 1858.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

Buy at Home.

A common mistake, says the Salem Gazette, in all the towns surrounding a metropolis, is that of neglecting the mechanics and shop-keepers of their own neighborhoods, and bestowing their patronage upon those in the capital; thus favoring and supporting a class of people, who do not know, and will never thank them, to the neglect and injury of their neighbors, and personal acquaintances. This is usually done without any real benefit to the purchaser, and often as much to his (or her) disadvantage as to that of the town or village shopkeeper. Many a person has paid more for an article in Boston than the same would have cost in this place; and nothing is more common than to give as much, or about as much, without the advantage of being any better suited than they might be at home.

This, it appears to us, is all wrong. Our shopkeepers and mechanics pay their rents here. They pay their proportion of the public expenditure. They perform all the duties of good citizens. And they have a right to expect that the support which they extend to their neighbors, shall be reciprocated by those neighbors. A good citizen, who wished well to those by whom he was surrounded, might very well afford to add a trifle to the price he might pay, rather than to turn the profits of his custom, whatever they may be, away from those who have upon him the claims of fellow citizenship.

IN FAVOR OF THE SOCIETY. In the Supreme Judicial Court at Dedham, the equity case of Nelson Clark and others against the Committee of the Evangelical Congregational Society, in this town, was recently taken up and decided, we learn, in favor of the Society—the Court ordered the case to be dismissed—here endeth another chapter in this unfortunate controversy and puts an end to the injunction asked for, and all other matters relating to this suit.

FEMALE MURDERER SENTENCED. The Supreme Court, at a late session at Taunton, overruled the exceptions taken in the case of Abigail Gardner, who poisoned her husband, Hosea J. Gardner, at Hingham, two years since. She was convicted of murder in the second degree, which by the new law is punished by imprisonment for life. She has been sentenced to the House of Correction, as women are not sent to the State Prison in this Commonwealth.

TEMPERANCE. Dr. Charles Jewett, well known throughout New England, as one of the ablest advocates of temperance in the United States, has already commenced his labors in Massachusetts under the auspices of the State Temperance Committee.

LIVERY STABLE. We understand that Mr. David E. Roby, whose advertisement appears in to-day's paper, has added horses and carriages to the stock already in the livery stable at the time he purchased, and that he now has excellent carriages and good horses to meet the wishes of patrons. As his endeavors will be to merit custom by keeping first rate teams, he hopes to secure a fair share of encouragement.

Children's heavy and light Boots, Booties, and Brogans, Misses' cloth and leather Boots; Women's fine serge kid and goat Boots; Men's calf, kip and cowhide Boots, calf congress, calf and fine and heavy kip Brogans, making a complete and excellent assortment of seasonable goods, warranted for the prices, as can be afforded by any dealer in Boot and Shoe stock, at C. Gill & Co's.

APPOINTMENT. Hon. Sebeus C. Maine, of Chelsea, Mass., has been appointed by the Governor, Justice of the Police Court in Boston, in place of Justice Cushing, who has resigned.

Representative to Congress—DISTRICT NO. 3.

The candidates were Charles F. Adams of Quincy, American Republican; Arthur W. Austin of West Roxbury, Democrat; Moses G. Cobb of Dorchester, American.

At the previous election the vote was:
Whole number, 16,962
William S. Danrell, Rep., 10,432
Arthur W. Austin, Dem., 5,077
A. B. Ely, American, 1,435
Scattering, 15.

	Adams.	Austin.	Cobb.
Bellingham,	89	35	9
Blackstone,	192	186	85
Brighton,	160	163	10
Braintree,	234	171	58
Canton,	130	156	35
Dedham,	359	228	92
Dorchester,	437	238	133
Foxboro',	155	20	24
Holliston,	151	22	11
Holliston,	207	116	67
Medfield,	79	40	7
Medway,	203	57	67
Mendon,	81	35	21
Milton,	139	90	24
Needham,	498	442	40
Newton,	131	76	23
Northbridge,	462	175	40
Quincy,	159	47	41
Randolph,	294	235	184
Sharon,	313	278	53
Sherborn,	108	42	9
Stoughton,	81	21	32
Uxbridge,	339	167	34
Walpole,	143	43	22
Watertown,	194	143	8
West Roxbury,	139	41	27
Weymouth,	203	101	34
Wrentham,	281	315	32
	357	127	198
	169	55	34
	6524	3893	1464

East Norfolk Senatorial District.

	French.	Holbrook.	Cushing.
Quincy,	260	201	238
Milton,	133	105	14
Braintree,	207	93	158
Randolph,	315	57	289
Stoughton,	320	170	38
Weymouth,	361	240	78
	1,605	866	815
French's plurality,			739

Representatives Elected in Norfolk Co.

District 1. Dedham, one; Ezra W. Taft, Republican.	District 12. Foxboro', Wrentham and Medway—two. E. C. Craig and William H. Temple, Republicans.
District 2. West Roxbury, one; William McCarty, Democrat.	District 13. Franklin and Bellingham—one. Horace Rockwood, Republican.
District 3. Brookline, one; Thomas Parsons, American.	District 14. Needham, Medfield and Dover—one. Henry Horton, Republican.
District 4. Roxbury, three. Charles W. Bryant, American; Roland Worthington, Republican; and R. C. Nichols, Republican.	Total—15 Republicans, 3 Democrats, 2 Americans.
District 5. Dorchester, two. Edward H. Ruggles and George Rankin, Republicans.
District 6. Quincy, one; Wm. S. Morton, Republican.
District 7. Braintree, one; William L. Walker, Democrat.
District 8. Weymouth, two. Daniel Lovell and E. S. Beal, Republicans.
District 9. Randolph, one. Daniel Howard, Democrat.
District 10. Stoughton, one. W. H. Tucker, Republican.
District 11. Milton, Canton, Walpole and Sharon—two. John S. Eldridge and A. D. Bacon, Republicans.

CLERICAL. We learn that Rev. James Pratt, a native of this town, has accepted the call extended to him by the Church in Philadelphia over which the late Rev. Dudley A. Tyng was Rector, and that he has sent in his resignation of the Rectory of St. Stephen's Church, in Portland, Me.

While we, says the Eastern Argus of that city, with thousands of our citizens, regret the departure of Mr. Pratt from among us, we cannot but hope that the change will entirely restore the health of the Reverend gentleman, and that his labors in his new parish may be as abundantly blessed as they have been here. He cannot be better beloved anywhere than he is here, where, for eighteen years, he has labored so faithfully.

STOLEN. We understand that the dwelling house, opposite the residence of Eleazer Frederic, Esq., in this town, which is being repaired, was entered last Thursday night, and a lot of carpenter's tools stolen.

Men's heavy double sole calf congress Boots. A first rate article, sold by C. Gill & Co.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

Licenses in Marysville, Cal., are payable monthly, in advance. Among a published list, tenpin alleys and billiard tables are taxed three dollars per month; theatres, five dollars for each performance.

There have been two days during the present year when not a single death occurred in Boston; one day in the month of February, the other in April. On an average there are twelve deaths a day in that city.

The New Haven Register gives an account of a farmer in Indiana who plants four thousand acres of corn. He sends his husks to London, and last year, they brought fifteen thousand dollars.

The people of Weldon, North Carolina, a town of six hundred inhabitants, are evidently more intellectual than practical. They support a weekly newspaper, but there is not a boot or shoemaker within eight miles.

In New Orleans a man was fined twenty five dollars for beating a slave, and attempting to pass through a funeral procession of colored persons.

There are forty-six persons in England who have incomes of £450,000 a year, equal to two millions and a quarter dollars.

The Manchester (N. H.) Mirror says that pigeons have not been so plenty for many years as they are this season. The woods about Manchester are full of them.

A huge anchor, weighing three thousand pounds, and supposed to have belonged to one of Commodore Barclay's vessels during the war of 1812, has been fished out of the river near Detroit, Mich. It is peculiarly shaped, its shank being thirteen feet long, with flukes or hooks of not more than three feet.

In Biddeford, (Me.), not a single place of worship is supplied with a bell. The Factory bells are rung upon the sabbath.

Everybody must have altered very much in a short time; only a few years since Gen. Jackson, being seated between two ladies, said that he felt like a thorn surrounded by roses. A friend said a few days ago, while riding in an omnibus, and being seated between two ladies, he felt like a stave in a hoghead of molasses, surrounded by hoops.

In an advertisement offering an estate in Worcestershire, (Eng.), for sale, the auctioneer announces in a line of capital letters, as one of the tempting inducements to purchasers, "Political influence over twelve hundred honest yeoman!" Talk about purity of elections!

In one family in Nelson county, (Va.), are five married sisters whose paragates ages amount to 434 years—on the 1st of January last the eldest sister was 93, the second 91, the third 88, the fourth 82, and the fifth 80.

The Provincetown, (Mass.) Banner says there has been more new dwelling houses erected in Provincetown the past summer than for some years previous.

It is stated that actual statistics show that during the last fifty years, "the number of members of the evangelical churches in the United States, has increased from four hundred thousand to three millions and a half, being an increase of, eight-fold; while our population has increased four-fold."

There is a female pickpocket in Philadelphia, who is believed to have accumulated about twenty-five thousand dollars by her profession.

The Secretary of War has despatched to West Point, two stands of colors taken from the British at Yorktown; also the flag carried by our victorious troops at the taking of Mexico. They were considered unsafe at Washington, owing to the department not being fire-proof.

Within one week, ten thousand children have applied to the public schools in New York city, and have been turned away because there was no room for them.

George Roberts, for many years proprietor of the "Boston Times," is about to start a new penny paper in the city of New York.

The New York Tribune says Wm B. Astor has paid his tax bill to the Recorder, the amount being twenty-five thousand dollars on personal property, and sixty thousand dollars on real estate. Total, eighty-five thousand dollars.

A Halifax paper says that a tinsmith of that place is building a wherry to contest the championship at a coming regatta. It is constructed of tin, the framework merely being of wood, and is eighteen feet in length, and two feet broad in the centre.

An effort is being made in Arkansas to secure the expulsion of free negroes from that State. The matter was agitated two years ago, but vainly.

A cante Yankee in Kansas, sells liquor in a gun barrel, instead of a glass, that he may avoid the law, and make it appear beyond dispute that he is selling liquor by the barrel. Of course, his customers are liable to go off half-cooked.

The Russians in their treaty with China, have received an immense tract of land watered by the river Amoor, which they have been settling and fortifying, and now talk of railroads, almost to the very gates of Peking.

It is said that more than three thousand first class houses are now being erected in the upper part of New York city.

In a prize fight near Detroit, lately, one man's ear was chewed off by the gentlemanly antagonist with whom he was fighting. A spectator, by way of consolation, humanely picked the piece up, wrapped it up in a bit of paper, and put it in the pocket of the owner.

Thirty-one years ago, the first coal from the mountains of Pennsylvania, was carried to Philadelphia; few would purchase it, and still fewer knew how to make it burn.

An epicure of New York City, says he employs four men constantly to catch rats, and that he has obtained upwards of three thousand from the Astor House, and two thousand from the St. Nicholas Hotel; about the same number from the New York Hotel, and lots from Taylor's and a number of other hotels.

During the year 1856, upwards of eleven thousand males and six hundred females were imprisoned for debt in England.

A young man recently died at Savannah, Georgia, from excess of fat, producing pressure upon the heart; he was growing at the rate of one pound and a half per day, and three days before his death, weighed six hundred and forty-six pounds.

An individual at Waverly, New York, one day threw his shoulder out of joint by sneezing.

The shipment of blackberries alone from Madison, Indiana, the present season, amounted to nearly seven thousand bushels.

The wool business in California is becoming of great importance. In time, California will be the greatest wool growing State in the Union.

Twelve births were reported in Heber C. Kimball's family, at Salt Lake, on the night of the 12th ult. He is one of the Mormon leaders.

The number of slaves in the United States, who are church members is 468,000, or nearly half a million.

To purify the river Thames, about two hundred and fifty tons of lime are every day thrown into it near the London sewers, at an expense of seventy-five hundred dollars per week. Men have also been engaged during the period of low water in covering both banks with lime.

Twelve cast iron columns, said to be the largest in the United States, are now in process of construction at Cincinnati. They are each fifty feet in height, four feet two inches in diameter, weigh between two hundred and eight hundred tons, and will cost about three hundred thousand dollars. They are designed for the State House, Madison, (Wis.).

The Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts have passed resolutions signifying their intention to recommend to subordinate lodges that each member contribute one dollar towards the purchase of Mount Vernon.

Death has at last divided the oldest pair in the United States. Mrs. Ludwick Snyder died a few days since in Burnside township, Clearfield county, Pennsylvania, at the age of one hundred and eight. Her husband was one hundred and twelve years old survives her.

A knitting machine that will knit a perfect pair of stockings in less than five minutes has been invented by a New Yorker.

In Sweden, a man who is seen four times drunk, is deprived of his vote at elections.

One of the best remedies to ease a cough, and relieve tightness of the chest, is an application of "MY MOTHER'S SALVE." It relieves pain. It heals wounds. Sold by dealers in medicines generally. See advertisement.

Low Prices. The New England Carpet Co. of our city are advertising Carpets for sale at much below the usual prices. Their recent large purchases at the New York Auction Sales, where goods have been sacrificed under the hammer gives their customers unusual facilities for supplying themselves at low prices. Their warehouse is located at 75 Hanover street, opposite the American House.—Boston Traveller.

Special Notices.
SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.
In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall,
Miss Emma Houston will speak to-morrow, forenoon and afternoon.
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1w

Deaths.
In this town, on the 3d inst., Mr. Joseph Reardon, aged 28 years.

J. W. LOMBARD
Having replenished his Stock for
FALL & WINTER
DESIRES to invite the public generally to call and examine his Stock—which he has selected with careful choice consists in part of Pilot Cloth, Beavers, Doeskins, Kerseymeres, Velvet and Satin Vestings, Over Coats, Ready Made, from $8 to $19.
Business Coats, Ready Made, from $6 to $8.
Ready Made Pants from 2 25 to $5 50.

Gentlemen Furnishing their own Cloths can have their Garments made with care.
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

One Cent Reward.
RUN away from the subscriber, on the 31st ult., a boy, named James Conners, thirteen years old. All persons are forbidden harboring or trusting the said boy, and whoever will return him shall receive the above reward.
CHARLES C. PERIGO.
North Weymouth, Nov. 6. 3w

Kitchen Furnishing Articles.
A NEW Store, for the sale of the above, has been opened at 29 SCHOOL STREET, near City Hall, Boston, where may be found the best assortment of useful articles in the city.
At prices 25 per cent. less than usual charges.
BROWN & CO.
Boston, Nov. 6. 3m

Sulphite of Lime.

LOVERS of good Cider who wish to preserve their Cider through the season in Casks, can do so by the use of Sulphite of Lime, the substance recently discovered by Prof. Horsford of Cambridge, to possess such powerful antiseptic qualities. The chemical can be obtained at the store of

C. C. JOHNSON,
Druggist and Apothecary, corner of HANCOCK and GRANITE STREETS.
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

For Sale.
1000 EXCELLENT POSTS AND RAILS.
Also—50 cords of Oak and Walnut WOOD.
Apply to
JEREMIAH NIGHTINGALE.
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Notice!
A NEW and SPLENDID ASSORTMENT of VELVET VESTINGS,
for sale cheap, at
Joseph W. Lombard's.
Over E. Clapp's Store.
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

REMOVAL.
Joseph Moran, Tailor,
RESPECTFULLY informs his friends, that he has removed from Goodnow's Building, corner of Hancock and Granite streets, to the corner of Hancock Street and Cottage Avenue.
Opposite Panton's Currying Shop.

He warrants to supply his customers with all kinds of Garments on the MOST REASONABLE TERMS
and in the
BEST AND NEWEST STYLES.
He also pledges himself to FIT, in any style of Garment, as he has had no misfit since his commencement in business.
Call and Give Him a Trial. 40
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

LIVERY STABLE.
THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends and the public with Horses and Carriages.
PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest notice.
Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.
DAVID F. RORY.
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

C. C. JOHNSON,
Druggist and Apothecary,
GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
CORNER of Hancock and Granite streets.
Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, Perfumery, Havana Cigars, Foreign Fruits and Swedish Lincthes.

Physicians' Prescriptions,
Carefully compounded, with neatness, accuracy and despatch; and warranted of the purest quality.
Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Neck Ties
etc., etc., etc.
JOSEPH W. LOMBARD,
HAS just received a large assortment of Bark Gloves, from $7 to $1 50. Also—Driving Gloves, at low prices.
Neck Ties, Stocks, False Bosoms, White Shirts; Black Silk Handkerchiefs from 75 cents to $1 62.
Quincy Nov. 13. 1f

Money Wanted.
J. F. BURRELL has just received a lot of Men's Thick Sole Calf Congress Boots, which he is selling for $1 75 per pair.
You can get a pair of French Calf Boots, made to fit your foot,
FOR $4 00.
Quincy, Nov. 6. 1f

Cabinet Manufactory
AND COFFIN WAREHOUSE.

CHARLES H. KIMBALL,
Successor to W. M. French,
HAVING bought of Mr. French the Stock, Tools, Good-Will, &c., of the old Established Cabinet Factory and Coffin Ware Rooms, corner of Hancock and Temple streets is now prepared to receive orders in all its Branches; manufacturing new, or
REPAIRING OLD FURNITURE TO LOOK
NEARLY AS WELL AS NEW,
or in manufacturing Counters, &c.
He would also say to the patrons of the Old Stand that he intends to keep on hand

An Assortment of Coffins, varying in Size and Material; holding himself in readiness to meet the views of the community, in this particular branch at all times.
Having for the last twelve years served in this capacity under Mr. French, he feels confident that by attention to business, to meet with success, and supply the wants of Quincy and Vicinity.
Quincy, Oct. 23. 1f

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS.
TAKEN by virtue of an Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the thirteenth day of December next, at two o'clock P. M., on the premises, all the right, title and interest, the Jason W. Wood, of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, has on the sixteenth day of June, A. D., 1858, when the same was attached on mesne process, in, or to, the following described Real Estate, subject to a Mortgage, to wit:—

A certain parcel of Land situated on South street, in Quincy, with the Buildings standing thereon, containing three acres, one-half, and fifteen rods, bounded as follows: South-easterly by land now or formerly of John Arnold, South westerly by lands of Messrs. Brown, Peay, Dyer, and Pratt, North-westerly and Westerly by lands of Job Faxon and Charles E. Miller, North-easterly on South street, being the same premises which Benjamin P. Woods now occupies.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.
Quincy, Nov. 8th, 1858. 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Notary Public, Office, Oct. 23, A. D. 1858.
UPON the petition of SETH ADAMS, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

SOLOMON TORREY,
late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Mariner, deceased, Ordered—That said petitioner notify and cite all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the Thirtieth day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1858, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.
Oct. 30. 3w

For Sale or to Let,
A GOOD Second-hand PIANO FORTE.
Apply to
S. HUNT, Elm Street.
Quincy, Nov. 6. 3w

VESTS, (Custom Made) from 1 75 to $5.
Quincy, Oct. 31. 1f T. DODDS.

Quincy Bakery.
THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and Vicinity, that they have taken the Quincy Bake-House, and intend carrying on the baking business in all its branches—adhering strictly to the Cash system—and hope by manufacturing the

Best Quality of Bread
to merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and the neighboring towns.

Trout & Glover.
Quincy, Oct. 16. 1f

Fainting Business.
THE subscribers having formed a copartnership, and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.
done to satisfaction, and in a workmanlike manner.
Small as well as large jobs thankfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.
WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES E. POPE.
Quincy, Oct. 9. 3w

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
My Mother's Salve.
THIS CELEBRATED PREPARATION has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its great curative properties, and has been the agent for relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve"
IS A PERFECT CHEMICAL COMPOUND, prepared from ROOTS, HERBS and GUMS, gathered from the forest, and possesses
HEALING, Soothing and PAIN-RELIEVING VIRTUES
never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve"
IS SAFE and EFFECTUAL, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a permanent cure.

"My Mother's Salve"
In a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve"
Is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth. DIRECTIONS for USE—

"My Mother's Salve"
Are simple. Every mother and nurse know how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with the Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ailments, rub as in cases of Rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. BECK.

BURRELL & HUNTING, Sole Proprietors.
No. 6 Tremont Street, Boston.
For Sale in Quincy by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Oct. 30. 1f

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

BOOK BINDERY.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS.

MAKED by virtue of an Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, thirteenth day of December next, at two o'clock P.M., on the premises, all the right, title and interest that Jason W. Wood, of Weymouth, in County of Norfolk, Yeoman, had on the sixth day of June, A.D., 1858, when the same was attached on mesne process, in, or to, the following described Real Estate, subject to a mortgage, to wit:—

A certain parcel of Land situated on South Street, in Quincy, with the Buildings standing thereon, containing three acres, one-half, and five rods, bounded as follows: South-easterly by now or formerly of John Arnold, South westerly by lands of Messrs. Brown, Pray, Dyer, and others, North-westerly and Westerly by lands of Faxon and Charles E. Miller, North-easterly by South Street, being the same premises which Jason P. Woods now occupies.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.
Quincy, Nov. 8th, 1858.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Probate Office, Oct. 23, A.D. 1858.
UPON the petition of SETH ADAMS, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

SOLOMON TORREY,
of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, Married, deceased.
Ordered—That said petitioner notify and cite persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be held at Roxbury, in said County, on the Thirteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord, at two o'clock in the afternoon, by causing Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, in said County of Norfolk, by GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate.

For Sale or to Let,
GOOD Second-hand PIANO FORTE.
Apply to S. HUNT, Elm Street.
Quincy, Nov. 6.

TESTS, (Custom Made) from 175 to $5.
Quincy, Oct. 31. T. DODDS.

Quincy Bakery.
THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that they have taken the Quincy Bake-House, carrying on the baking business in all branches—adhering strictly to the Cash system and hope by manufacturing the

best Quality of Bread
merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and neighboring towns.

Trout & Glover.
Quincy, Oct. 16. if

Painting Business.
THE subscribers having formed a copartnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,
having opened a Shop, on the premises of George White, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.
WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES POPE.
Quincy, Oct. 9.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
My Mother's Salve.

THIS CELEBRATED PREPARATION has obtained an enviable and wide reputation for its great curative properties, and has been the agent for curing so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors are daily they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, make it accessible to rich and poor, that all who may avail themselves of its healing virtues.

"My Mother's Salve"
PERFECT CHEMICAL COMPOUND, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gems, gathered from the mountains, and possesses

GLAZING, Soothing and PAIN-RELIEVING VIRTUES before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve"
SAFE and EFFECTUAL, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, SICKLEHEAD, GOUT, PILES, and such diseases, will find in its use great relief, in most cases a permanent cure.

"My Mother's Salve"
BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any preparation.

"My Mother's Salve"
worthy of confidence, and thousands having tried it and recommended it to their friends and to their friends. DIRECTIONS for USE.

"My Mother's Salve"
simple. Every mother and nurse know to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and to use the Salve will apply it in proportion to the times, as good judgment direct. For Rheumatism and other ailments, rub the parts smartly with the Salve.

For Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Throat, and such like ailments, rub as in Rheumatism. In any case of pain a result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. BECK.

RELL & HUNTING, Sole Proprietors.
No. 6 Tremont Street, Boston.
Quincy in Quincy by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

30.

QUINCY BOOKSTORE

AND

BOOK BINDERY.

Established in the Year 1838.

BOOKS, STATIONERY

AND

FANCY GOODS.

C. GILL & CO. have always on hand a large assortment of the above—being fully prepared to meet all the wants of this market.

BLANK BOOKS
of any particular pattern, made to order.
STATIONERY, IN GREAT VARIETY,
at the lowest prices.

Miscellaneous and Juvenile Books,
will be sold low.
ALL SCHOOL BOOKS,
and in this and neighboring towns,
at publishers' prices.

Book Binding.
ALL KINDS OF MAGAZINES, PAMPHLETS,
SHEET MUSIC &c.,
bound in a neat and durable style.
"Small Profit" to ensure "Ready Sales."
Full equivalent for your money.

Twenty years' practice has proved these rules to be good ones, and we shall continue to be governed by them, in all branches of our business.

C. GILL & CO.
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, March 20. if

FRUIT TREES!

THE subscriber offers for sale

at his Nurseries in

DORCHESTER,

A complete assortment of Fruit Trees, Grape

Vines, Raspberries, Strawberries,
Currants, &c., viz:—

6000 Extra large Pear Trees, on

Quince Roots.

4000 Large Standard Pear Trees on

Pear Roots.

10,000 Imported Pyramid Pear

Trees on Quince Roots.

5000 Cherry Trees, embracing the new American varieties, Gov. Wood, Black Hawk, Ohio Beauty, &c., &c.

1000 GRAPE VINES, embracing the new and popular American varieties, viz: Rebecca, Union Village, Delaware, Hartford Prolific, Diana and others.

5000 new Currants in six excellent varieties, viz: new sorts, producing much larger fruit than the old varieties.

Also, A superior collection of

APPLES, PLUMS, RASPBERRIES,
STRAWBERRIES, NEW RHUBARBS
&c., &c.

Ornamental Trees, Evergreens, Roses, Flowering Shrubs, Greenhouse and Herbaceous Plants.

The collection of Pear Trees is unsurpassed and embraces also all the new and most celebrated sorts extant.

Many of the above are remarkable for the strength and beauty of form, and with proper care will produce fruit the next season.

N.B. Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin st.,

Boston, several times in the day.

MARSHALL P. WILDER,
Dorchester, Oct. 23. ifREMOVAL.*CALROW & COMPANY,*Fashionable Tailors,

FOR the past eighteen years corner of Hanover and Elm Streets, Boston, have removed to the more spacious store,

85 WASHINGTON STREET,
Joy's Building,

and will open on FRIDAY, the 5th inst., with

an entire New Stock, of RICH and DESIRA-

BLE FALL and WINTER GOODS, for Gents',
Youths', and Boys' Wear. Gentlemen will find an assortment all that can be desired, surpassing all former offerings. Parents and Guardians, Especially Ladies, will find our assortment ofYOUTHS' and BOYS' CLOTHING, decidedly the best in the city. We have fitted up a Beautiful Sewing Room, Light and Convenient for this branch of our business.

Orders for Custom Work, any style will receive prompt attention. Remember 85 Washington street, nearly opposite State Street, Boston.

Boston, Nov. 6. 6wOVER COATS, (Custom Made,) from

7 to $12. T. DODDS.

Quincy, Oct. 31. if

Burnett's Cocaine,FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. Thom-son's Golden Liniment. The German Toilet Balm, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, June 26. if

Butter!

50 TUBS of Prime Dairy Butter in pack

for sale at the lowest market price, by the tub or cask, for cash by DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Dec. 20. ifPaper Hangings.

A NEW and splendid assortment of Paper

Hangings, Curtains, &c., just received and for sale by ELBRIDGE CLAPP.

Quincy, March 28. if

Boots and Shoes.

ELBRIDGE CLAPP has just received a full assortment of Boots and Shoes, suitable for the season, which he will sell at theVERY LOWEST PRICES.

Give him a call soon.A lot of Boots and Shoes slightly shop worn are offered Very Cheap.
Quincy, July 31. ifMILLINERY

AND

FANCY GOODS STORE.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a

Millinery and Fancy Goods Store,
at her residence onFRANKLIN ST., SOUTH QUINCY, where she will keep a full assortment of Articles usually found in a Store of this kind.

ALSO

DRESS MAKING,

Done at Short Notice.

Mrs. Mary E. Curtis.

Quincy, Oct. 9. if

Removal!

Of Millinery Goods!

I HAVE removed my Goods
from my residence on Washington Street, into

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
ROOMS OVERCaleb Packard's Dry Goods Store,
— CORNER OF —
Hancock and Granite Streets,
Where may be found a good assortment ofFall & Winter Millinery,
AT LOW PRICES.

I have a great variety of ready made Dress

Hats in rich material which SHALL be sold low, also trimmed straw which SHALL be sold cheap.To any one wishing to engage in a good business
I would dispose of my Stock and Fixtures, were the opportunity satisfactory. A lease of the premises may be obtained for a Term of years, and it is one of the best locations in the

CENTRE OF QUINCY.

Until I dispose of my Goods to some party
wishing to occupy the premises, I shall endeavor
to keep a general assortment of desirable Goods, and would respectfully solicit patronage—daily acknowledging the favors of friends and the public for the LAST TEN YEARS.As usual, Grave Cloths and Mourning
Goods constantly on hand or made to order.

A. J. KENISON.

Quincy, Oct. 16. if

PANTS, (Custom Made,) from 175 to $5.

Quincy, Oct. 31. T. DODDS.

FINE READY-MADEFALL AND WINTER*CLOTHING.*ELEGANT OVERCOATS,*FROCK AND BUSINESS COATS,*PANTS AND VESTS,superbly made and trimmed,
AT LOWEST PRICES FOR CASH,
BYJ. W. SMITH & CO.,
Dock Square, Cor. Elm street,
BOSTON.HAVING connection with all the largest manufacturing establishments in New York together with home facilities, we enjoy superior advantages for supplying the very best goods at the lowest possible prices. The styles will be found to excel any thing made in the New England States, and the workmanship far exceeds any thing heretofore offered in this market, and is so acknowledged by all who patronize our establishment.We also make to order garments of every description, at short notice, at a Small Advance on the prices of our ready-made clothing.

BOSTON, Oct. 23. 3m

CARPETS,CHEAPER THAN EVER.*GREAT SALE OF*Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths!*CURTAINS, CURTAIN FIXTURES,*RUGS, MATS, &c., AT THE*BOSTON CARPET CO'S120 Hanover Street,
Second door from Friend Street, (Up Stairs),
BOSTON.READ the following prices and draw yourown conclusions:
55200 Pieces all wool Kidderminster Carpets,
cents per yard.
150 Pieces all wool Kidderminster Carpets,
45 cents per yard.
200 Pieces Tapestry, warranted fast colors,
70 cents per yard.
200 Pieces Tapestry, warranted English manufacture, from $1 to $125. Sheets Floor Oil Cloths, 18 feet and 12 feet widths, from 75 to $125 per yard. 8-4, 6-4 and 4-4 Floor Oil
Cloths, from 40 to 65 cents per yard.

Also, an extensive assortment of elegant

SILK and WORSTED DAMASK, and Curtain
Materials of every description.The above comprises a new and elegant assortment of choice goods, recently selected in New York, therefore all those who intend furnishing their dwellings, or are in want of any of the above enumerated articles, will find it to their advantage to call and examine this assortment of the cheapest goods in this city.Remember the number, 120 Hanover street, second door from Friend street, up stairs.FOSS & SWETT, Proprietors.
Boston, Sept. 18. 3mWindow Shades,

SILK and WORSTED DAMASK, and Curtain

Materials of every description.

The above comprises a new and elegant assortment of choice goods, recently selected in New York, therefore all those who intend furnishing their dwellings, or are in want of any of the above enumerated articles, will find it to their advantage to call and examine this assortment of the cheapest goods in this city.Remember the number, 120 Hanover street, second door from Friend street, up stairs.FOSS & SWETT, Proprietors.
Boston, Sept. 18. 3mFresh Tamarinds,

FOR sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Oct. 16. if

GRASS SEED.HERDS Grass, Red Top and Clover Seed for sale at Boston Prices byD. BAXTER & CO Quincy, April 8. ifCOAL. COAL.

At $5.50 per Ton.

BEST of Red Ash Coal, for sale at $5.50.

NATHANIEL WHITE.

Quincy, July 3. if

COAL. COAL.

THE Undersigned has for sale at

WEBSTER, SWATARA, and EAGLE MOUNTAIN

Also, Nova Scotia Wood!

Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store, Mr.

Averill's, at South Depot, Dea. Geo. Baxter's or at the Office, will be promptly attended to.

OFFICE, and entrance to Wharf, on

WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR DEA. GEORGE BAXTER'S.OWEN ADAMS,
Quincy, Sept. 4. ifADAMS & HERSEY,

GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point.)

HAVE just received one cargo of FRANK-

LIN COAL, which they will sell at $7.00 per ton.

OTHER KINDS OF

Coal at $5.50 per Ton.

Orders left at Geo. L. Baxter & Co.'s

Store, George H. Locke's, or with Geo. W. Kennison, will receive early attention.

Quincy, July 3. if

GRANULAR FUEL.

Patented, June, 1852.

Manufactured from Brushwood and Twigs

For Kindling Coal FiresAND all purposes for which a quick hot fire is needed. It is intended

By its Cheapness and Cleanliness

TO SUPERSEDE CHARCOAL.

It is especially adapted for Summer Use, when a quick fire is wanted but a short time. As it can be used in all kinds of Stoves, and being allowed to go out immediately after using, enables the consumer to practice Economy.The extreme low price of this Fuel is also a great advantage, being but one-half the price of charcoal. It kindles quick, is clean and cheap, and will be sold and delivered at the following
low prices for cash:—

Under 25 bushels, 10 cents per bushel.

Over 25 " " 9 " "

Orders left at the Store of E. Clapp, Henry A.

Newcomb, Peter W. Newcomb, Quincy Point, or at Badger & Hanson's Machine Shop, will be promptly attended to.

MANUFACTURED AND SOLD BY

GEORGE SAVIL,
Rear of Badger & Hanson's—Cemetery st.
Quincy, Aug. 14. ifSEASONED LUMBER.

Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times.

DIMENSION FRAMES,

Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand.

ALSO—Good Pine Wood at $6 a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.

Quincy, May 8. if

Coal, Lime, Brick and Sand,

— with a good assortment of —

SEASONED LUMBER,

constantly on hand, and for sale by the subscriber at Quincy Canal Wharf.

NATHANIEL WHITE.

Quincy, April 10. if

J. T. & W. V. HAYWARD

HAYWARD taken the Shop in the rear of

W. M. French's Cabinet Manufactory

— are now ready to execute

PAINTING,GLAZING, GRADING, MARBLING,*Paper-Hanging, &c.,

All Orders Promptly Attended To

A share of the public patronage is solicited.

JOHN T. HAYWARD,
WILLIAM V. HAYWARD.

Quincy, April 3. if

REWARD.

A REWARD OF

Two Hundred Dollars

WILL be paid by the Town of Quincy, to any person who will furnish evidence sufficient to convict any person who shall set fire to any building within limits of the Town of Quincy, previous to March 1859.GEORGE MARSH, } Selectmen EBEN ADAMS, } of Quincy.

DANIEL BAXTER. }

Quincy, Sept. 11. if

RICH'S PATENTIRON BEAM PLOW.

Is Agent for the County of Norfolk,

FOR THE SALE OF THIS PLOW.

Poetry.

We, too, have our Autumn.
We, too, have Autumns, when our leaves
Drop loosely through the dampened air,
When all our good seems bound in sheaves,
And we stand reaped and bare.

Our seasons have no fixed returns,
Without our will they come and go;
At noon our sudden summer burns,
Ere sunset all is snow.
But each day brings less summer cheer,
Crisp more our indolent spring,
And something earlier every year
Our singing birds take wing.

As less the olden glow abides,
And less the chiller heart aspires,
With drift wood beached in past spring-tides,
We light our sullen fires.

By the pinched rushlight's starving beam
We cower and strain our wasted sight,
To stich youth's shroud up, seam by seam,
In the long arctic night.

It was not so—we once were young—
When Spring, to womanly Summer turning,
Her dew-drops on each grass-blade strung,
In the sunbeams dancing.

We trusted then, inspired, believed
That earth could be re-made to-morrow;
Ah, why be ever undecieved?
Why give up faith for sorrow?

O, then, whose days are yet all spring,
Trust, blighted ones, in past retrieving;
Experience is a dumb dead thing;
The victory's in believing.

Be Kind to the Poor.

Hasten to the scenes of sorrow,
Where the poor in anguish lay;
Wait not for the coming morrow,
Good works are better done today.

Lay aside your dreams of pleasure,
Hasten on, but do not stray;
I must wait till I find leisure,
Better do good works to-day.

Whilst at your tables filled with plenty,
The rich, the gay, and great are fed;
Many mothers broken-hearted,
Hear their children cry for bread.

And whilst you are sweetly sleeping,
In your warm and downy beds;
Many pass their nights in weeping,
Not knowing where to lay their heads.

Think you, at your dying day,
When before your Judge you stand,
You deserve to hear Him say,
Come, possess the Promised Land.

Come, ye blessed of My Father,
Faithful Stewards! e'er true,
Come, possess the blessed Kingdom,
I have long prepared for you.

I was hungry, and you fed me,
Naked and you clothed me well;
In the persons of my brethren,
You now your deeds of mercy tell.

Hear you not that in his anger
He may drive you far away?
All are called, but few are chosen,
On the Great Accounting day.

The Light at Home.

The light at home! how bright it beams,
When evening shades around us fall,
And from the lattice far it gleams,
To love, and rest, and comfort all!

When warmed with the toils of day,
And strife for glory, gold, or fame,
How sweet to seek the quiet way,
Where loving lips will kiss our name.

When through the dark and stormy night,
The wayward wanderer homeward flies,
How cheering is the twinkling light,
Which through the forest gloom he spies!

It is the light of home. He feels That loving hearts will greet him there,
And safely through his bosom steals
The joy and love that banish care.

The light at home! how still and sweet
It peeps from yonder cottage door,
The weary laborer to greet,
When the rough toils of day are o'er!

Sad is the soul that does not know
The blessings that the beams impart,
The cheerful hopes and joys that flow,
And lighten up the heaviest heart.

Quintessence.

A celebrated barrister, retired from practice, was one day asked his sincere opinion
of the law.

Why, the fact is, rejoined he, if any man were to claim the cost upon my back, and threaten my refusal with a law suit, he should certainly have it, lest, in defending my coat,
I should lose my waistcoat also.

A drunken chap, blundering through the jerked hall of his boarding house, was accused by his landlady to know if he would not have a candle.

No, madam! said he, it's so dark out here
I couldn't see if I had eight.

An old lady walked into an office of a Judge of Probate, and asked:
Are you the Judge of Probates?
I am Judge of the Probate.

Well, I pect that's it, said the lady; and you see my father died detested, and he left several little infidels, and I want to be their executioner.

A youth who desired to wear the matrilmonial yoke, had not sufficient courage to pop the question. On informing his father of the difficulty he labored under, the old man replied, quite passionately:
Why, you booby, how do you suppose I managed when I got married?

Oh, yes! said the promising lover, you married another, but I've got to marry a strange girl.

Job Printing,

ALL KINDS OF
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING.

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick & Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE, ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

National Police Gazette.

THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals
is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in
any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county
and state where they reside plainly.)

GEORGE W. MATSELL & CO.,
Editors & Proprietors of the
National Police Gazette.

New York City, Apr 25

ATTENTION.
The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF
HARDWARE

DOORS, SASHES, &c. &c.,
Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be
found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,
we are prepared to furnish them at prices to cor-
respond with the times

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!
We warrant Satisfaction by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS, SASHES,
BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS,
SCREWS,
&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety.
ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Fast.

Locks;
MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S
LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Blagony Knobs;
A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought Iron, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Growth's
improved Blind Fast. Also—A great Variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
The best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET
AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan 23

BURNS, &c.
AMES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises,
toothache, chilblains, &c. &c.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept 18

For the Teeth &c.
HARRISON'S Balm of Pearline Flowers—a universal restorative for the skin, the hair,
the teeth, and the complexion.

The Pearline Balm a great Toilette luxury, and a certain cure for the bites of insects.
For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept 18

Grass Seed!
40 TO 50 Bushels of Herd's Grass, Red Top and Clover Seed, just received in store and for sale cheap for cash.

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy March 13

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, incorporated in 1851, for the purpose of insuring against Fire, for five years or less, on favorable
terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra-hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance,
will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON.

TRUSTEES,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Israel W. Munroe, H. W. Blanchard,
Thomas C. Webb, Colman,
Whitecomb Porter, Solomon J. Beal,
Stephen Bates, William B. Duggan,
Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
Boston, South Hingham,
Alfred Loring, North Bridgewater,
Royal W. Turner, Sumner A. Hayward,
South Braintree, Barnstable,
Apollon Randall, George Marston,
Dedham,
Jonathan A Cobb

References, by permission:
Hon. GEORGE T. BIGLOW, of Boston,
Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
Hon. AMASA WALKER of North Brookfield,
Hon. JAMES MAGUIRE, of Randolph,
Hon. SIMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,
Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq.,

OFFICE,
Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple,
Quincy, April 1.

DR. S. STOCKING,
DENTAL SURGEON

No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs),
Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street,
BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing, regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what
are called modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and confining each improvement with the experience of more than twenty-five years of close application to the duties of the profession he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession,
whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth, and the failure of any man in accomplishing what he promises, though honest in his intentions, and untiring in his efforts, is not to be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are based, or to the want of experience and industry to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth,—a process of
great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so true, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required
in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item embraced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering justice in the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be improperly filled, and even ruined,—artificial ones
may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made;—but neither
life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so the administration of ether. It is an agent that should be confined to the use of a man of intelligence and skill, who has learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration,
though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium.
Ether should be administered so as to prevent the danger of breathing from the ether being a second time. The reason for this lies in the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness, if nothing worse, during etherization, with
a distressing headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the use of the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr.
Stocking, who gives special attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth,
preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets.
Boston, May 22

NEW STOCK AND NEW STYLES!
PAPER HANGINGS.

HAVING a desire to accommodate many of our customers, and to increase the trade of our place, we have added to our former variety of Goods, an entirely New and beautiful Stock of Paper Hangings, Borderings, Curtains, &c.,
COMPRISING 100 PATTERNS!
manufactured on the best paper and in the highest perfection of colors and styles.

Our assortment will always be kept good, and we shall spare no efforts to give the best satisfaction to the taste of all who wish to paper their rooms with attractive and pleasing patterns, on good paper and in good colors.

Our prices will range lower than is usual with the same qualities and styles in Boston, but we shall engage in no mean underselling any of our neighbors, our object being to present an additional inducement for the Quincy people, to bestow their patronage upon their own traders, and find themselves suited in every respect as well or better than in the City.

Buildings of new houses will be supplied on the most favorable terms.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance,
will be promptly attended to.

C. GILL & CO.,
HANCOCK STREET,
Quincy March 27

To Boot and Shoe
MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dressing, finished especial Black, Brown and Drab Cases, for Congress smokers,
Black Brown and Drab Pelings, for snow shoes.
Lastings, all wool. Italian do. Silk and Cotton
Warp do.
Serge de Berri's,
Rubber Goggles, Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes,
Boot and Congress Webs, from 1/2 in. to 1 1/2 in.,
new style.
Galbans, black and colors, 2 and 3 in. widths.
Shoe Ducks; Congress and Lamin Canvas.
Shos Ribbons, Rosetts, and Sandal Web.
Eyetels, Cords, Shoe Laces and Straps, all sizes and lots. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads,
Of the well known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Brogans, Shoes and Congress Work, from No. 18 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black, Drab, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in Hanks, Balls and Spools, for stitching, closing, stitching, binding, straps and counters, top stitching and under threads. Also Shoe Threads.
Sea Island Hank Cotton, Black, Colored, Unbleached and White.
Spool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing
Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, BIX & Co.
No. 52 Mill Street.
Quincy, June 19

WHITE HANDS!
PERSIAN BATH
SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving,
and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS
WHITE AND SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURN,
CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes where a
Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

W. M. SMITH HALL,
Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.
C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent
Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Aug 22

Salt!! Salt!!
JUST received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for Hay.

H. VINAL.

Halsam, Plaster, &c.
Dr. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam
and Plaster.

Dr. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.
Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth
Preservative—for sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Aug. 22

Lard Oil.
JUST received and for sale by the subscriber a prime article of Lard Oil, cheap for cash.

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Nov. 29

Island Balsam.
DR. HARRISON'S Island Balsam; and Peristaltic Lozenges. Also—Dr. Norman's Pulmonic Balsam of Fir Paste.
For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy March 28

Cider Vinegar.
300 GALLONS of pure Cider Vinegar
just received and for sale low by
GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
HAYDEN returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, in JOHNSON'S BUILDING.

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of Gold and Silver Watches,
Gold and Silver Chains,
LOCKETS,
Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gents' Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS.

Together with a large assortment of
Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK
than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented.
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.
G-3-Coin Plates Engraved. G-3
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

GROCERIES, FLOUR,
AND—PROVISIONS

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call
and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a
Good assortment of all kinds
of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store,
which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices.
A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents
per pound
50 Tubs of prime dairy Butter.
200 Bushels of Chenango and Long Red Potaetoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it to their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.
G-3-Goods delivered to any part of the Town
free of expense.

H. VINAL,
Quincy, Oct. 27

Salt Pork.
4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co
Quincy, Sept. 27

Salt Pork.
FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by
the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for cash.

GEORGE L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK.
FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market prices.

H. VINAL.
Quincy, Jan. 10.

Are you Nervous?
DODD'S NERVEINE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It produces
a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—alleviates irritation—induces quiet and refreshing sleep, thus equalizing the nervous system throughout the system. It contains NO OPIUM or Mercury, neither sedatives, mineral nor herb. The feeblest maiden, wife, or mother, will find it ALWAYS SAFE AND RESTORATIVE. It does not produce constipation, but relieves it, being the best remedy for Nervous Diseases now known. Price $1.00.

WILSON, FAIRBANK, & CO., Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Agents.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent.
Quincy, June 26.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION,
FOR improving the complexion, and for the prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan,
Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions,
&c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.
2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

CHEAP!
BUILDERS DEPOT.

PAINTING.

JOHN O. FOYE.

BUILDING MATERIALS

to be found at any store in New England.
Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE.

Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale:
DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. BLINDS—painted or unpainted.
GLASS—all sizes. STAIR POSTS, RAILS and BALUSTERS, NAILS, LEAD & ZINC.
HARDWARE and CARPENTERS' TOOLS, in great variety.
Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Fannel Irons, Oven and Ash Doors, Barn-doors Rollers and Rods for top or bottom of doors; Patent Sash Locks, Self-shutting Gate Hinges and Fast; Blind Hinges and Fast, improved—Door Springs and Weather Strips; Window Weights Lines and Fast; Window Frames made to order; Weather Vanes for Churches, &c.; Gables and Fire Engine; Carpenters' Morticing and Boring Machines, Ornamental Iron Brackets, Hails, Drail and Eye Chains; House Bells, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent BEE HIVES, &c. &c. &c.

All Goods sold will be delivered at the Railroad Station here free of charge; or at any other place for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited.

JOHN O. FOYE.
Weymouth Landing, May, 16.

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of improved Family Medicines, select ed with care

Also—various articles for Invaluable, Peard and prepared Barley, Farina, Groats, cracked Wheat, Sage, Tapioca, Outdoor, Corn Starch, Brown, &c.
Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c.
Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum
Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass
Pipes and Tubes, patent Nos.
Bottles, sprinal Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mi-
tens, Flesh Brushes, &c. &c.

Fresh Eccepsus Liniments always on hand.
Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and
attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in dials and other States.
Quincy, Nov. 1.

Hall's Great
SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant
and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting or purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease—regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secretions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and a correct tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Lassitude which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma,
Coughs, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever,
Sore, White Swelling, Dropsy, Boils, Barber's Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eczema or Eruptions on the skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, and ever since known

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20th, 1858.

NUMBER XLVII.

Apothecary Store.

MR. F. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, select cut with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Barley, Farina, Grouns, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Corn Starch, Broma, &c. &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. &c. Shredded Brains and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Nozzles, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Boas, the spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Springs, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mattresses, &c. &c. Fresh European Leeches always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and dispatch.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington, at rear of Stone Temple. Quincy, Nov. 1. 451

Ball's Great SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting nor purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease—regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secretions, giving a healthy action to the Liver, and a prompt tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and removes and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cold Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Brouchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Induratory Rheumatism, Fever, Scurvy, White Swelling, Dropsy, Boils, Barber's Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eczema or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other known remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an efficient cure for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Constiveness and Derangement of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Headaches and Headaches.

It can be given with perfect safety and most favorable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.

Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co., 8 State Street, Boston; and C. C. Johnson, No. 39 Union Street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

MR. F. HAYDEN, AGENT. Quincy, Dec. 13. 19

DRUGS AND MEDICINES!

C. C. JOHNSON, WOULD respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that he has opened a NEW DRUG STORE,

IN GOODNOW'S BUILDING, (formerly occupied by Dr. J. Marden,) where he will be happy to wait upon all who may favor him with their patronage, day or night.

His Stock and Fixtures are entirely new, and all Medicines have been selected with great care, and are warranted pure and genuine.

Mr. J.'s Powdered Articles are all fresh, as are his Herbs, and his Tinctures and Syrups are all been manufactured since his arrival here, and can be depended upon by physicians and others, being of the proper strength and purity.

His Stock of Chemicals is large, and comprises all the varieties usually found in a well-kept Apothecary Store. Of Paris Medicines, Stock is large and varied, and a full catalogue from time to time, as new articles appear.

Of Perfumeries, which are Articles Cigars, &c., large variety of fancy he can sell as cheap as a retail article can be purchased elsewhere.

With his large assortment of Drugs and Chemicals, Mr. Johnson is prepared to compound

Physicians' Prescriptions, well and accurately as they can be prepared in any city in the United States.

Mr. J. trusts by a strict attention to business, merit a share of public patronage.

C. C. JOHNSON.

Quincy, Oct 24

GEO. R. FRENCH,

Engraver and Plate Printer,

7 Washington, near Winter St. - Boston

Particular attention given to the Engraving and Printing of—

Invitation, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.

LONG and practical experience in this particular branch, warrants me in saying that persons about ordering Cards of any description, will study their interests by calling, sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, at prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Maps, Diplomas, Medals, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes, Bills of Exchange, &c., &c., engraved or printed at short notice.

Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.

Orders by mail, express, or otherwise, promptly attended to.

Boston, Feb 20. 6m

Neat's Foot Oil.

OF the best quality, for sale low by

D. BAXTER & Co Quincy, Sept. 27. 19

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap by

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co Quincy, Feb 28 19

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co Quincy, March 25. 19

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged full ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BEECK.
Dorchester, OLIN P. RACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brookline, (N. Y.) GERSTON DREW.

Miscellaneous.

How She Found The Time.

Ah! said Mrs. Nelson, as drawing his chair to the centre-table, his eye resting on one of the popular novels of the day, so you have a new book to read, Sarah? Where did you get it?

I borrowed it of Mrs. Merton, or rather she lent it to me—insisted upon my taking it, because, she said, she knew it would interest me, fascinate me, indeed. I told her it was not much use to take it, for I should never find time to read it.

But she had found time, hadn't she? asked her husband, a little reproachfully.

Of course she had. She always finds time to do anything she wants to; I never saw such a woman in my life.

And yet she has four children, and keeps but one girl!

And I have only two children, and as many girls, I suppose you would like to add, wouldn't you? responded the wife, just a little bit out of humor.

I must confess you have guessed aright, my dear. But I would not have said it in a fault-finding way, but simply from a desire to find out if we can, why you have so little time to devote to reading—why you always have so much to do. Does Mrs. Merton do up everything so neatly as yourself? Her priors, I know, always seem the perfection of order and comfort, her husband's and children's clothes are always tidy, and she herself, in appearance, the personification of neatness and taste. But, after all, perhaps there may be some oversight that is kept out of view.

You are mistaken, said Mrs. Nelson, emphatically. She is one of the most thorough housekeepers I ever knew. I have been sent there when she has been taken suddenly ill, and so violently, too, as to be unable to give a single direction, and yet everything needed was found without the least trouble, every drawer and closet was in order, and the whole house would have borne the rigid scrutiny of the prime member of the Quaker sisterhood. And yet she is never in any hurry, and though always doing something, never complains of being wearied. She does all her own and children's sewing, even to cutting dresses, and coats, and pants, embroiders all her collars and sleeves, and little girl's ruffles; writes more letters every year than I have done since my marriage, and reads more than any other woman not purely literary that I ever knew. But how she does it is a mystery.

Why don't you ask her to solve it? I have thought of doing so; but—but—well, to own the truth, I am ashamed to. It would be a tacit confession that I am in the wrong somehow.

But do you think you are?

Sometimes I do, and then again I think my failures to do what I would so dearly love to, are the results of the circumstances which I cannot control. For instance, yesterday afternoon I meant to have emptied my mending basket entirely. I could have done so easily, and then one worry of the week would have been over. But Mrs. Lawrence and her friend from Boston came in quite early and as you know, passed the afternoon. I could not blame them for coming as, and when they did, for I had told them to come any afternoon this week, and I was glad to see them, and enjoyed their visit. Yet it upset my mending entirely, for, of course, it would never have done to have littered the parlor with that. The afternoon was lost, as far as work was concerned.

But there was nothing you could do?

Yes, if I had only had it. There were the handkerchiefs and cravats you want to take with you next week, which I might have hemmed if I had only had them. But you see I had designed them for this afternoon, and so did not go out to buy them till to-day. And so it goes. I wish sometimes the days were forty-eight, instead of twenty-four hours long.

Well, I don't, I'm sure, said her husband, good humoredly, for I get tired enough now, and I doubt, Sarah, if either you or I would find any more time than we do now.

Well, one thing is certain, I shall never find time, as the times are now, to do what I want to do.

But you say Mrs. Merton does.

Yes, but she is an exception to all the rest of my acquaintances.

An honorable one.

Yes, an honorable one. I wish there were more with her faculty.

Perhaps there would be were her example followed.

I understand you, and perhaps some day will heed the hint—but here her further reply was prevented by a request from his head clerk to see her husband alone on urgent business.

All this time, while Mrs. Nelson had been bewailing the want of time, she had sat with her hands lying idle in her lap. To be sure, she was waiting for Bridget to bring the baby to be undressed, but she might easily have finished hemming the last cravat in those precious moments, and there it lay on her workstand, and her thumb and thread both with it. But she never thought of taking it, not she. She never thought it worth while to attempt to do anything while waiting to do some other duty that must soon have to be performed. And thus in losing those moments, she lost the evening chance to finish the legs; for when the baby did come, he was cross and equally, and would not let her lay him in his crib until 9 o'clock, and then she was so tired and nervous, she couldn't, she said, set a stitch to save her life.

It happened one day, in the following week, after a morning of rather more hurry and worry than usual, that she went to the centre-table to hunt for a misplaced memorandum. In her search for it, her glance fell upon the borrowed novel, and with that glance the foregoing conversation rushed forcibly over her memory.

Declare, said she, I have half a mind to run over to Mrs. Merton's this afternoon, and cross question her, till I learn her secret. Such a life as I am living is unbearable. I cannot stand it any longer. If she can, find time I know I can, if I only knew how.

And true to her resolution, for though seemingly hasty, it had been for some time maturing in her mind, almost unconsciously, she found herself at an early hour at her friend's parlor, her bonnet and shawl thrown aside, and herself, work-bag in hand, singly escorted in a low rocker beside her little workstand.

You have not finished your collar, then? she observed to Mrs. Merton, after a while, by way of leading the conversation in the desired channel.

Oh, yes, indeed, answered the hostess, tossing her head to one side, easily, with a pretty affectation of pride. Didn't you notice how becoming it was?

And commencing another so soon?

Only basting on the pattern so as to have it ready for some odd moment.

But how can you bear to spend so much time in embroidery? Why not purchase it at once? It is so much cheaper in the end.

For the wealthy, it is, I grant, and for those not very wealthy, if their eyesight is poor, or if lacking in taste and needle skill. But I find it cheaper to do it myself. My husband's salary does not allow us many luxuries, and the small sum we can spend for them, I prefer should go towards purchasing what my own fingers cannot make. I can embroider collars and sleeves, not so perfectly, it is true, as they do in foreign climes, but handsomely enough to suit my own and husband's eyes—but I cannot write books, magazines, reviews or newspapers, and they are luxuries more essential to happiness than these articles of dress, so I do my own needlework, and with the money thus saved, we purchase something that will never go out of fashion—an intellectual heritage for our little ones, as well as a perpetual feast for us.

But how do you find time to do so much work? I cannot conceive how or where.

Well, I hardly know myself, said Mrs. Merton laughingly. My husband sometimes tells me he believes the fairies help me. I seldom sit down to it in earnest, but I catch it up at odd moments, and before I am aware of it myself, it is done.

O, dear, said Mrs. Nelson sighed. I wish I had your faculty. Do pray, Mrs. Merton, tell me the secret of your success in everything. How do you always find time for everything?

Do you question me seriously, or only mockingly, to remind me how much I leave undone?

Seriously. Very seriously. To own the truth, it was to learn this that I came over here to-day. There are a thousand things I long to do, because they would not only increase my own joys, but those of my husband and household, but I cannot find the time. Yet you do them, and you have more cares and duties than I. If you tell me your secret, by heaven, I shall feel under the deepest obligations to you.

Her friend hesitated a moment. She was not wont to speak very much of herself, believing that character should reveal itself by actions mostly, and conscious that it will, too, whether it be a perfect or a faulty one. Yet there was such an urgency at length it conquered the scruples of modesty.

I am afraid I shall remind you of "great I" if I undertake it, said she, with a blush, yet I can hardly give you my experience without subjecting myself to the charge of egotism. Yet, as we are alone, and as you seem to think I have avoided some of the besetting evils of this life, why I will reveal to you what you call my secret.

My mother early instilled into my mind and heart, by precept and example, a few rules of action that I have sedulously endeavored to follow, and which, I believe, almost more than anything else, have contributed to my domestic peace and happiness.

One of them, is to have a time for every ordinary duty, to have that time at such a day or such an hour of the day as is best adapted to its perfect fulfillment, and always, extraordinary cases only excepted, to perform the duty at the time.

For instance, my general sweeping day is on Friday, because to my mind, it is the most suitable one of the week. And the best portion of the day to do it in is very early in the morning, for then I can throw open my doors and windows to the freshest, purest breezes we get at all, and I am not disturbed by the din of travel, nor annoyed by the dust, and then by postponing my bath and breakfast toilet, merely throwing on a wrapper, and cap to sweep in, till the house is clean, why, I am tidy for the rest of the day.

Whereas, if I wait till after breakfast, I must spend time to take another bath, and take another change of dress. Now I confess, it is hard sometime to keep to this rule.

When my sleep has been broken by the restlessness of the baby, or when something has kept me up later than usual the previous evening, I feel strongly inclined to lie in bed and let the sweeping hour go by. But the direful consequences always stare me in the face so ruefully, that sleep, and weary though I may be, I struggle out of bed, for it is verily a struggle, and bring down the hair, and buttoning on my wrapper, and drawing on my gloves, as my old aunt used to say, I make business fly. And I assure you I always find myself enough happier to compensate me for my efforts, hard though they seemed.

And then, for a second rule, I always have a place for everything, and always put it in its place, and thus waste no time in looking after things. For an example, perhaps you will laugh at it, but I always make it a rule to put my shawl in my sewing bag when I leave my work, no matter how great a hurry, and you can have no idea until you have tried it, how much time it has saved. Why I have one friend who says she lost so much time in looking up her shawl, that she has bought herself three, so that when one is missing, she needn't wait to hunt it up. Yet this rule, which soon would become a habit, would have saved time and money.

The third and last rule necessary to specify is this: to be always busy, or perhaps I ought to say employed, for with housekeepers, generally, the fault is to be in a worry over too much work.

But you don't mean to say you never rest, that you never get tired?

By no means, I both rest and get tired, and many times each day. But rest does not always imply cessation from labor. Sometimes it does, I grant, and when, after any unusual fatigue, I always indulge the feeling. It is one of Nature's promptings, which, to insure health and joy, should be heeded. And I do not feel that I ever lose any time that way, for the half or even hour's sleep so invigorates me, that I can work with twice the ability afterward, than I could, if I had striven on with weary limbs and fretted nerves. But many times a change of employment or occupation will rest one as much, nay, more than idleness. You know yourself, after a busy forenoon on your feet, that it rests you to sit down in your rocker and busy yourself with your sewing. And sometimes, when I have been handling heavy clothes, such as coats and pantaloons, for my boys, till my arms and fingers ache, I rest them by taking up some light garment for my babe or little girl. Or when my limbs ache severely from some arduous duty, and yet I have no inclination to sleep, as is frequently the case after rocking a worrisome child to sleep, I lie down on my old fashioned lounge and rest myself in body by that course while I soothe and gladden, and improve my mind by reading, always, being careful, though, to put by the book just as soon as I feel that I am enough recruited.

Yesterday, when I was going to cut and baste a dress for myself. But unexpectedly a friend from the country came in to take tea with me. Now, I did not want to litter the parlor with my pieces, so I went to my basket and took out a pretty little sack for Harry, and spent my time on sewing that I always kept something in my basket suitable for such odd times, and when I have nothing really necessary, I take up my embroidery. And then you know we wives are frequently obliged to wait till a considerable time has elapsed, for the appearance of our husbands, at the table, and those odd moments, usually so tickle to women, are precious to me. I always mean to have the meals ready at the hour, but if Mr. Merton is not here then, and being head clerk, scarcely a day passes but some meat must wait; instead of watching the clock or thumbing on the windows, I read the newspapers and magazines. I assure you I never take any other time to read them, and yet I am never behind hand with them. And when I have none of them on hand, I catch up some popular story that I want to read, and yet don't want to give that time which I usually devote to solid reading. The volume I lent you—Mrs. Nelson, blushed; she had had it a week and read only the first chapter—I read it in four days in this way. And when I have no reading that I am anxious to do, I spend the moments in writing. Most of my letters are penned while waiting for the tea-bell to ring. And—hark, there it is now.

A pleasant sound for your ears, too, I guess, after the hourly I have just given you. Please—and she rose gracefully—let great I usher, dear you to the dining-room.

With pleasure, yet I wish the bell had not rung so early. I have not heard half enough.

Have you never observed, my dear friend, that many serious lose half their effectiveness by undue length? The benediction at such a time is noted as a relief, not a blessing. Some other time I will preach the rest. I pray Heaven.

Enough to practise what you have already taught. Sure I am, if I do so, my life, what is left of it, will be like mine, a perpetual sermon, and my daily benediction be like yours, also, the blessings of my children and the praises of my husband.

Stupidities.

Walking along the street with the point of an umbrella sticking out behind, under the arm or over the shoulder. By suddenly stopping to speak to a friend, or other cause, a person walking in the rear may have his eye pincched or otherwise injured.

Stepping into a church aisle, after dismissal, and standing to converse with others, or to allow occupants of the same pew to pass out and before, for the courtesy of precedence, at the expense of a greater boorishness to those behind him.

To carry a long pencil in vest or outside coat pocket. Not long since, a clerk fell, and a long cedar pencil so pierced an important artery, that it had to be cut down upon from the top of the shoulder to prevent his bleeding to death, within three months' illness.

To take exercise, or walk for the health, when every step is a drag, and instinct urges to repose.

To guzzle down glass after glass of cold water, on getting up in the morning, without any feeling of thirst, under the impression of the health giving nature of its washing out qualities.

To sit down to a table and "force" yourself to eat, when there is not only no appetite, but a positive aversion to all food.

To economize time by robbing yourself of necessary sleep, on the ground that an hour saved from sleep, is an hour gained for life, when in reality it is two hours actually spoiled.

To persuade yourself that you are destroying one unpleasant odor by introducing a stronger one; that is, attempting to sweeten your own unwashed garments and person by enveloping yourself in the fumes of muck, camde Cologne, or rose water; the best perfume being a clean skin and well-washed clothing.

Bringing up daughters in such a way as to make poor helpless, tailow-colored things of them. This may easily be done by anticipating all their wants, "fixing" everything for them, and confining them to a life of utter inactivity and worthlessness. One of the advantages to this course is, that they will certainly attract the notice of none but fortune-seekers, sap-heads, or sensualists. Or, if a man of worth should happen to marry one of them, he will be very sure to regret it all the days of his life.

Didn't See It.

A short time since a young man, whose name we shall call George, took to drinking rather more than usual, and some of his friends endeavored to cure him.

One day after he had been drinking several times, they got him in a room, and commenced conversing about delirium tremens, directing all their remarks to him, and telling what fearful snakes and rats were always seen by the victims of this horrible disease.

When the conversation waxed high on this terrible theme, one of the number stepped out of the room, and from a trap which was at hand, let a large rat into the room. None of his friends appeared to see it; but the young man who was to be the victim, seized a chair and hurled it at the rat, smashing it to the floor, and with terror depicted in their faces, demanded to know what was the matter.

Why, don't you see that—big rat? said he, pointing to the animal, which, after the manner of rats, was making its way around the room, close to the walls.

They all saw it, but all replied that they didn't see it—there was no rat.

But there is! said he, as an other chair went to pieces in an ineffectual attempt to crush the rat.

At this moment they again seized him, and after a terrific scuffle, threw him down on the floor, and with terror in their faces, yelled—

Charley run for a doctor!

Charley started for the door, when George desired to be informed what in—was up.

Up! said they, why you've got the delirium tremens!

Charley opened the door to go out, when George raised himself on his elbow, and said—

Charley, where are you going?

Going! said Charley, going for a doctor.

Going for a doctor! for what?

For what? why, you've got the delirium tremens!

Easy enough, says Charley; you've come seeing rats! said George, in a sort of musing way, seeing rats. Think you must be mistaken, Charley.

Mistaken! said Charley.

Yes, mistaken; I ain't the man—I haven't seen no rats!

The boys let George up after that, and from that day to this he hasn't touched a glass of liquor, and hasn't seen no rats.

Reunion in Heaven.

How short is the earthly history of a family! How brief this life?—a shadow that comes and is gone! How uncertain!—so that the young and strong often die before the old and the weak, and not a day, not an hour passes, but that some one is called from this earthly stage. A few years, and those who are now embraced in a family circle, will be here no more. Their happiness, affections, anxieties and sorrows will be a lost and forgotten history.

Every heart in which it was written will be mouldering in the dust. And is this all? Is this the whole satisfaction that is provided for some of the strongest feelings of our hearts? If so, how dare we pour forth our affections on objects so fleeting? How can such transitory beings, with whom our connection is so brief, engage all the love we are capable of feeling? Why should not our feelings toward them be as feeble and unsatisfactory as they? But this is not all. Of this God has given us perfect assurance.

Though to the eye of unenlightened nature these ties of affection seemed scattered into dust, cannot the spiritual eye of faith perceive that they have been loosened on earth, only to be resumed under happier circumstances, in the regions of everlasting love? Though the history of a family may seem to be forgotten, when the last member of it is laid in the grave, will not the memory of it live in immortal souls, and when the circle is wholly dissolved on earth, will it not again be completed in heaven?—Gospel Banner.

Slander.

Yes, you pass it along, whether you believe it or not. You don't believe the one-sided whisper against the character of another, but you will use your influence to bear up the false report and pass it on the current. Strange creatures are mankind. How many benevolent deeds have been chilled by the shrug of a shoulder. How many individuals have been shunned by a gentle, mysterious hint; how many chaste bosoms have been wrong with grief at a single nod. How many graves have been dug by false report. Yet you will keep it above the water by a wag of your tongue, when you might sink it forever. Destroy the passion for tale telling, we pray. Lasp not a word that may injure the character of another. Be determined to listen to no slander, that, as far as you are concerned it may die. But tell it once and it may go as on the wing of the wind, increasing with each breath, till it is circulated through the State, and has brought to the grave one who might have been a blessing to the world.

Unhealthy Positions of the Body.

Those persons engaged in occupations requiring the hands alone to move, while the lower limbs remain motionless, should bear in mind that without constantly raising the frame to an erect position, and giving a slight exercise to all parts of the body, such a practice will tend to destroy their health. They should, moreover, sit in an erect position as possible. With seamstresses there is always more or less stooping of the head and shoulders, tending to retard circulation, respiration, and digestion, and produce curvature of the spine. The head should be thrown back, to give the lungs full play. The frequent long draws breath of the seamstress evinces the cramping and confinement of the lungs. Health cannot be expected without free respiration. The life-giving element is in the atmosphere, and without it in proportionate abundance must disease intervene. Strength and robustness must come from exercise. Confined attitudes are in violation of correct theories of healthy physical development and the instincts of nature. Those accustomed to sit writing for hours, day after day, can form some idea of the exhausting nature of the toilsome and ill-paid labor of the poor seamstress.

Bachelors.

The credit or shame of originating a legal preference of married men to bachelors, does not rest with the Yankees, who have only applied the means used by the ancient nations for the promotion of marriage. The Roman censors frequently imposed fines on old bachelors. Dion. Halicarnassus mentions an old constitution, by which all persons of full age were obliged to marry. But the most celebrated law of this kind was the law which Horace mentions, made under Augustus, by which premiums were awarded to married men, and bachelors were made incapable of receiving legacies or inheritances, except from their near relatives.

The Jewish rabbins maintain that, by the laws of Moses, all persons, with a few exceptions, are obliged in conscience to marry at twenty years of age. One of their maxims declares bachelors to be homicides.

Lycurgus, the Spartan lawgiver, was especially hostile to celibacy. By his laws, bachelors were pronounced infamous, excluded from all offices, civil and military, and even from the shows and public sports. At certain feasts

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Nov. 20th, 1858.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

SCHOOL MATTERS.—Hon. George White having resigned the office of School Committee of Quincy, and also Secretary of the Board, Dr. W. B. Duggan was chosen as Secretary.

At a meeting of the Selectmen and School Committee, held on Monday last, Thomas Curtis, Esq., was chosen to fill the vacancy in the School Committee, occasioned by the resignation of Mr. White.

FIFTIETH WEDDING DAY. Mr. Kettell, who resides in the west district of this town, will, with his wife, (if their lives are spared), reach the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day on the fourth of December of this year. Mr. Kettell is a descendant of Sarah Boylston, sister of John Boylston, an eminent merchant of Boston.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—This popular magazine for December has fifty-one engravings, (seventeen full length figures of fashions), sixty articles, and one hundred pages. Two steel plates contrast Christmas for the poor and for the rich. The following extract shows the extent of Godey's arrangements in the issuing of the Lady's Book:

"We keep six power presses, and Adams's best at that, constantly employed in bringing our edition out. We have at least one hundred and fifty women employed upon the Book. We give work to some two hundred men, if you take into consideration the whole ramifications of our business. We pay one firm alone in this city (Philadelphia) over fifty thousand dollars a year for the white paper alone, used on the Lady's Book, and that only the printing paper. We pay over eight thousand dollars a year for printing plates, about eight thousand dollars a year for wood engraving, over six thousand dollars each year for coloring plates, sixteen thousand dollars a year for printing, over five thousand dollars a year for merely stitching the Book together. And we could go on for tens of thousands more in other matters—such as editing, authorship, paying for steel engravings, wrapping paper, twine, (by the way, this last is a curious item; our twine bill alone is over two hundred dollars a year), salaries, rent, and a hundred other et ceteras."

For the Patriot.

When will Neponset Bridge be Free.

Similar to the above are daily asked the subscriber—to avoid their repetition I wish to make a public answer:

An Inhabitant of Quincy, in April last, petitioned the County Commissioners of Norfolk, to lay out the Neponset and Braintree & Weymouth Turnpikes and Bridges as common Highways, in accordance with law. The County Commissioners (notwithstanding one of them resided in a town in which lies a part of the Neponset Turnpike road,) caused a notice to be served on the several corporations interested, (except the Town of Milton, about a quarter of a mile of the Neponset Turnpike lies in said town,) of the time, place and object of meeting, and subsequently in June last they met at the Hancock House in Quincy, and there heard all parties who desired to be heard, and then adjourned to their June term and then to their September term, at which they decided to lay out said roads and bridges as common highways; and they have ordered notices to be served on all corporations interested, (except the Town of Milton,) that the Commissioners will meet at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on Tuesday the twenty-third day of November inst., at two o'clock, A. M., to lay out said roads and bridges as common highways. All those persons who feel a special interest in the project are invited to attend said meeting, and there obtain the necessary information.

By reference to the Map of Quincy by Walling, or the Map of Quincy and Milton by Fosdick, a tolerably correct idea may be had of the dividing lines between Milton and Quincy: those who are more particular can examine the records of either town, and see the doings of Selectmen when they have made the perambulations required by law. I will give an extract from one of said returns: "Began on the south side of Neponset River at the mouth of Sagamore Creek, which is the line to a stone post on Neponset Turnpike marked M. & Q., thence north 45 degrees, east 212 feet to a stone post marked M. & Q. on land of J. M. Glover, from thence the line runs between the upland and salt marsh to the culvert on the Squantum road, thence continuing between upland and salt marsh around Mount Hope to a white oak tree marked M. & Q."

GEORGE MARSH.

English Tapestry Brussels Carpets are sold for ninety-five cents per yard by the New England Carpet Company, 75 Hanover street, Boston.

Winter Cape for men and boys—new styles and fresh stock at C. Gill & Co.'s.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

By advice and with the consent of the Council I have appointed and do hereby appoint Thursday, the 25th day of November next, a day of Thanksgiving and Praise; and I recommend to the people in observance of this ancient and religious custom of the founders of the Commonwealth, to suspend ordinary vocations and pleasures, and to assemble on that day in the usual places of public worship, for the purpose of acknowledging our continued dependence upon His Providence, and to render thanks to Almighty God for the manifold and signal mercies He has bestowed upon us, upon our fathers, and upon the great family of man:

That He has preserved our people in health, in prosperity, in peace and in freedom:

That He has secured to us the rewards of intelligent industry, and the wealth of the seas, the soil and the seasons:

That He has crowned with success all our institutions and labors for the moral and mental culture of our people, and the relief of those oppressed in mind, in body, or estate:

That He has protected us in the enjoyment of the privileges of a government, which combines with rare felicity the freedom of individuals, the supervision of the family, and the authority of the State:

That He has suppressed traditional feuds and assuaged the animosities of nations, leading them through the marvelous developments of science to cultivate a civilizing and Christian intercourse with each other, instead of increasing the atrocities of war, and strengthening the lust for dominion:

And especially that He has given us that fixed and abiding faith in His Providence, sustains us amid the direst calamities, and teaches us that all events in life and death—sometimes interpreted by the imperfect wisdom of man as misfortune—may be overruled through His grace, for the welfare of His people, and the glory of His name.

N. P. BANKS, Governor.

We say to every one having pains to relieve, wounds to heal, or sores to cure, use "My Mother's Salve." A box should be in every house. See advertisement.

At C. Gill & Co.'s may be found a full assortment of heavy and light Rubber Boots, Shoes and Sandals, for men, women and children, warranted of the best quality, and which, considering the great rise in the prices of these goods, they will sell at low prices.

Special Notices.

ATTENTION! Every member of C. H. is requested to meet at their Amory, on TUESDAY EVENING next, Nov. 23d, at 7 1/2 o'clock. Per order, 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING. Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon. In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall, Miss S. A. Magoun will speak to-morrow, forenoon and afternoon. Quincy, Nov. 20. 1w

Children's heavy and light Boots, Breeches, and Breeches' cloth and leather Boots; Women's fine serge kid and goat Boots; Men's calf, kip and cowhide Boots, calf congress, calf and fine and heavy kip Breeches, making a complete and excellent assortment of seasonable goods, warranted of as good quality of stock and manufacture for the prices, as can be afforded by any dealer in Boot and Shoe stock, at C. Gill & Co.'s.

Men's heavy double sole calf congress Boots. A first rate article, sold by C. Gill & Co.

Deaths.

In this town, at Saug Harbor, on the 12th inst., Mr. John Mc Morrow, aged 58 years.

On the 13th inst., after a long and protracted illness, which the sufferer bore with patience, Mr. Thomas Pratt, aged 73 years and 10 months.

On the 13th inst., Caroline, daughter of Mr. Charles and Mrs. Charlotte Anderson, aged 2 years.

In Dorchester, on the 13th inst., Mrs. Mary, wife of Mr. Samuel Savil, aged 79 years and 4 months.

In Tampa, (Florida), on the 13th ult., of Fever, Sarah Jane, youngest daughter of Mrs. Jane Spear and of the late Capt. James Spear, aged 6 years and 10 months. [Baltimore papers please copy.]

I know that mother's heart Full oft by death is riven; But, let her think her child Is called by Christ to Heaven.

Early the fairest die, The brightest and the best; God, in his mercy sweet, But call them to their rest.

In beauty she has died, Like a young budding flower; Unborn by sorrow's storm, And dark affliction's power.

Little Sarah Jane has laid Her little head to rest; Softly and sweetly she went to sleep On her mother's breast.

C. W. P.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

It appears from the return that there were at the Eastern encampment F91 men on duty, including the Major General and Staff, 7; First Brigade, 553; Second, 844; Boston Cadets, 87.

Among the vows that a man has to make in Japan when he is married, is one that he will find plenty of tea and rice for his wife during her life.

Great uneasiness exists in Ireland with regard to the formation of a new order of sedition societies, which are spreading over the country, and whose members bind themselves not to divulge their plans to the priests. They are supposed to derive inspiration and money from America.

Thanksgiving has now been appointed in 26 States and the District of Columbia; and, in all but five of the States, for the 25th inst. From the latest statistics it is ascertained that there are 4,202 Lodges and 183,833 Free Masons in the United States.

The Bullion in the Banks of Europe exceeds a hundred and sixty millions sterling, more than one-fourth of which is held by the Banks of France and England.

The eyes of other people are the eyes that ruin us. If all but myself were blind, I should never want a fine house nor fine furniture.—Franklin.

It is vain to stick your finger in the water and, pulling it out, look for a hole; and equally vain to suppose that, however large a space you occupy, the world will miss you when you die.

Not long ago an album leaf, on which Byron had written a few lines of poetry, was sold at Venice, and a Russian gave sixteen hundred dollars for it. There were but four lines—four hundred dollars a line.

The United States Economist estimates the consumption of boots and shoes in the United States at seventy-six million pairs per year, valued at eight million dollars. About twelve million pairs are made in Massachusetts, one half of them in Lynn.

James Rogers, the boy-murderer, has been hung in the prison yard of the Tombs in New York City. He remained tolerably firm to the last. His father, when the boy was cut down, threw himself upon it in paroxysms of grief.

The yellow fever, which, for many weeks past, has been the cause of a fearful mortality in New Orleans and several other Southern cities, is beginning to abate since the advent of Jack Frost.

Kansas Territory has had seven governors—Reeder, Dawson, Shannon, Geary, Walker, Stanton and Denver.

The city of New York consumes ten million dollars and five hundred in bread.

A good looking girl, sixteen years old, was lately captured in the woods near Covington Kentucky, who was dressed in male attire, and had been living some time on stolen poultry and other provisions which she had purloined.

A lady in Caswell county, (N. C.), whose child recently fell into a well sixty feet deep, seized hold of the rope attached to the water bucket, went to the bottom of the well, took the child in her arms, and then ascended the rope, bringing the child along with her—an unparalleled feat.

An individual of West Troy, (N. Y.), after dancing at a ball, ate heartily, went to bed and died of indigestion before morning.

A remarkable case has just been decided in the Brooklyn City Court, New York, to the effect that a single woman can recover damages of a married man for breach of promise.

The appearance of the comet created an immense sensation in Egypt; for several days all business and labor were at a stand still, the inhabitants believing that it forboded some great calamity.

A seat in the English Parliament sometimes costs it occupants sixty thousand dollars. Poor men have a little chance for a seat there.

A new census of Spain has been approved by the Queen, and is to be published. The population is stated at 15,464,330.

The Lafayette (Ind.) Courier says that at a recent county fair in Indiana, a couple of fashionable ladies, attired in very low-necked dresses were much mortified because all the infants from the rural districts cried after them.

Gerrit Smith has issued his circular on the New York election. He confesses himself disappointed in the smallness of his vote, and has come to the conclusion that there are only about five thousand men in New York who are earnestly in favor of freedom and temperance.

The Great Western Railway Company are going to place three sleeping cars on the line, fitted up with berths, spring mattresses, damask quilts, &c., and a servants to bring soda water and black the travellers' boots in the morning.

A recent work states that there are but three hundred and seventy-eight houses of ill-fame in New York city; a statement which is probably erroneous, unless previous statements for years have been wrong.

Dr. Stone, a celebrated physician in New Orleans, on being asked how many yellow fever patients he had lost, replied "about twenty-five hundred," as that number still remains unaccounted for after the other physicians made their reports.

It is becoming the custom out West for newly married people to send to newspaper publishers, along with the marriage notice, the amount of a year's subscription. This is a very sensible custom.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS. QUINCY, NOV. 13TH, 1858.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public Auction, on FRIDAY, the seventeenth day of December next at two o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, all the right in equity which Bartholomew Donahue had on the fifth day of April last, at thirty minutes past twelve o'clock, P. M., being the time when the same was attached on meane-process, of redeeming the following described mortgaged real estate, to-wit:—

A certain lot of Land situated in Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, with the buildings thereon, bounded Southerly on a private way, laid out by S. R. & C. H. Edwards, there measuring thirty-three rods more or less, Easterly on Land of Daniel Baxter, fourteen rods more or less, and Northerly on Land of Daniel Ford and Land of John Coffey, there measuring about twelve rods.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, Nov. 13. 3w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Marry, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment, on or before the 1st day of December next.

SOLOMON TORREY,

SETH ADAMS, Administrator.

Quincy, Oct. 20, 1858. 3w

India Rubber Boots, Shoes, &c.

NOTWITHSTANDING the great advance in the prices of India Rubber Boots and Shoes,

HENRY A. HALL & CO. being headquarters for every variety of India Rubber and Gutta Percha goods, will sell these indispensable articles, all warranted first quality, until further notice at the following low rates:—

Men's Heavy Boots per pair $3 37

" Light and Heavy Overshoes 75

Ladies' do do do do 56

Misses' Long Boots 1 20

Misses' do do 1 50

Misses' Overshoes and Sandals 45

Children's do do 25

Boys' Boots 2 25

Youths' do 1 50

Fishermen's Boots, extra heavy and wide, 4 00

Men's Wood-Lined Mittens 50

Also—India Rubber Soleing and Cement, of superior quality.

WAREHOUSE, 146 CONGRESS ST.

Boston, Nov. 20. 6w

Notice.

THE copartnership, (if any,) now or heretofore existing between the subscriber and John Bateman Jr., and John S. Lyons is dissolved.

WILLIAM TORREY.

Boston, Nov. 20th 1858. 3w

THE CITIZENS'

CLOTHING HOUSE

STILL AHEAD.

Mark the Prices!

GOOD HEAVY, WARM, SERVICEABLE

Double Breast

OVER COATS!

$3 00.

HEAVY, WARM,

Durable, Fall and Winter

PANTS,

ONLY $1 25 PER PAIR.

UNDER SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,

FROM 40 TO 50 CENTS,

In connexion with other styles of Fashionable Clothing, as low in proportion.

We challenge the entire trade to produce a parallel instance.

Nos. 29 and 30 Dock Square,

Is the ONLY place for these bargains

IN BOSTON.

JACKMAN & MERRILL,

Nov. 20. 1f

J. W. LOMBARD

Having replenished his Stock for

FALL & WINTER

DESIRES to invite the public generally to call and examine his Stock—which is carefully selected with care—consists in part of

Pilot Cloth, Beavers, Doeskins,

Kerseymeres, Velvet and Satin Vestings.

Over Coats, Ready Made, from $ to $10.

Business Coats, Ready Made, from $6 to $8.

Ready Made Pants from 25 to $5 50.

Gentlemen Furnishing their own Cloths can have their Garments made with care.

Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

One Cent Reward

RUN away from the subscriber, on the 31st

inst., a boy, named James Conners, thirteen years old. All persons are forbid harboring or trusting the said boy, and whoever will return him shall receive the above reward.

CHARLES C. PERIGO.

North Weymouth, Nov. 6. 3w

Kitchen Furnishing Articles.

A NEW Store, for the sale of the above, has been opened at 29 SCHOOL STREET, near City Hall, Boston, where may be found the best assortment of useful articles in the city.

At price 25 per cent. less than usual charges.

BROWN & CO.

Boston, Nov. 6. 3m

For Sale or to Let,

A GOOD Second-hand PIANO FORTE.

Apply to

S. HUNT, Elm Street.

Quincy, Nov. 6. 3w

REMOVAL.

Joseph Moran, Tailor,

RESPECTFULLY informs his friends, the inhabitants of Quincy, and the public generally, that he has removed from Goodnow's Building, corner of Hancock and Granite streets, to the corner of

Hancock Street and Cottage Avenue.

Opposite Panton's Currying Shop.

He warrants to supply his customers with all kinds of Garments on the

MOST REASONABLE TERMS

and in the

BEST AND NEWEST STYLES.

He also pledges himself to FIT, in any Style of Garment, as he has had no misfit since his commencement in business.

Call and Give Him a Trial. 40

Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

C. C. JOHNSON,

Druggist and Apothecary,

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,

CORNER of Hancock and Granite streets.

Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, Perfumery, Havana Cigars, Foreign Fruits and Swedish Liqueurs.

Physicians' Prescriptions,

Carefully compounded, with neatness, accuracy and despatch, and warranted of the purest quality.

Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

For Sale.

1000 EXCELLENT POSTS AND RAILS.

Also—50 cords of Oak and Walnut WOOD.

Apply to

JEREMIAH NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Cabinet Manufactory

AND

COFFIN WAREHOUSE.

CHARLES H. KIMBALL,

Successor to W. M. French,

HAVING bought of Mr. French the Stock, Tools, Good-Will, &c., of the old Established Cabinet Factory and Coffin Ware Room, corner of Hancock and Temple streets is now prepared to receive orders in all its Branches; manufacturing new, or

REPAIRING OLD FURNITURE TO LOOK

NEARLY AS WELL AS NEW,

or in manufacturing Coasters, &c.

He would also say to the patrons of the Old Stand that he intends to keep on hand

An Assortment of Coffins,

varying in Size and Material; holding himself in readiness to meet the views of the community, in this particular branch at all times.

Having for the last twelve years served in this capacity under Mr. French, he feels confident that by attention to business, he will be able to supply, and supply the wants of Quincy and Vicinity.

Quincy, Oct. 23. 1f

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest notice.

Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.

Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a copartnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,

and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.

done to satisfaction, and in a workmanlike manner. Small as well as large jobs promptly received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT,

CHARLES E. POPE.

Quincy, Oct. 9. 2w

Money Wanted.

J. F. BURRELL has just received a lot of Men's Thick Solid Calf Congress Boots, which he is selling for $1 75 per pair.

You can get a pair of French Calf Boots, made to fit your foot,

FOR $4 00.

Quincy, Nov. 6. 1f

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS.

TAKEN by virtue of an Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the thirtieth day of December next at two o'clock P. M., on the premises, all the right, title and interest, that Jason W. Wood, of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, had on the sixteenth day of June, A. D. 1858, when the same was attached on meane-process, in or to, the following described Real Estate, subject to a Mortgage, to-wit:—

A certain parcel of Land situated on South street, in Quincy, with the Buildings standing thereon, containing three acres, one-half, and fifteen rods, bounded as follows: Southerly by the land now or formerly of John Arnold, South-westerly by lands of Messrs. Brown, Pryer, Dyer, and Pratt, North-westerly and Westerly by lands of John Faxon and Charles E. Miller, North-easterly on South street, being the same premises which Benjamin P. Woods now occupies.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, Nov. 8th, 1858. 6w

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that they have taken the Quincy Bake House, and intend carrying on the baking business in all its branches—adhering strictly to the Cash system—and hope by manufacturing the

Best Quality of Bread

to merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and the neighboring towns.

Trout & Glover.

Quincy, Oct. 16. 1f

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscribers will respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that they have taken the Quincy Bakery House, and intend carrying on the baking business in all its branches—adhering strictly to the Cash system—and hope by manufacturing the merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and neighboring towns.

Best Quality of Bread

Trout & Glover.
Quincy, Oct. 16. tf

Sulphite of Lime.

OVERS of good Cider who wish to preserve their Cider through the season in casks, can do so by the use of Sulphite of Lime, a substance recently discovered by Prof. Howard of Cambridge, to possess such powerful antiseptic qualities. The chemical can be obtained at the store of

C. C. JOHNSON,
Druggist and Apothecary, corner of
HANCOCK and GRANITE STREETS.
Quincy, Nov. 13. tf

VESTS, (Custom Made) from 175 to $5.
Quincy, Oct. 31. tf T. DODDS.

Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Neck Ties
etc., etc.

JOSEPH W. LOMBARD,
HAS just received a large assortment of Black Gloves, from 37 to $1.50. Also—Living Gloves, at low prices.
Neck Ties, Stocks, Fane Bosoms, White suits, Black Silk Handkerchiefs from 75 cents
to $1.62.
Quincy Nov. 13. tf

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and by restoring their regularity to health, correct, wherever they exist, such obstructions as are the first causes of disease. Extensive trials of their virtues, by Physicians, Apothecaries, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief; were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position of character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth, their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents, who are named are used to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.
FOR CONSTIPATION.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Constipation is frequently the aggravating cause of fevers, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a habit of body. Hence it should be, as it is, promptly relieved.
It is sometimes the cause of
FOR DYSPEPSIA, which is sometimes the cause of Constipation, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses, from one to four—stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and clear the bowels, and remove the cause of dyspepsia, and rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't get what cured you.
For a Foul Stomach, or Morbid Inaction of the bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity of strength is restored to the system.

For NEURALGIC, SICK HEADACHE, NERVOUSNESS, in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred diseases because your system is foul.

ON SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, till the bowels open. The eruptions will disappear, and the system will be cleared. Many skin ulcers and sores have been healed up by purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and the disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their power, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Hence, your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself around the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all the various diseases of the skin, because you want cleansing.

PURIFY THE BLOOD, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of mortal diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property do as much good in preventing sickness as by any remarkable cure they are making every

EVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Biliousness arise from some derangement—either city, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver, and congestion within the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom of obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a dangerous train of evils. Constipation, or costiveness, or diarrhea, prevails, bilious symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, drowsiness, and the bowels are sometimes inclined to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin the white of the eye become a greenish yellow; stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, it may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer when you can cure them for 25 cents.

ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Fevers rapidly cured by the purifying effects of Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which afford to the vital principle of Life. For these all kindred complaints they should be taken in doses, to move the bowels, with a tendency to fever, a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and safe. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, certainly none has been made more effectual to remove for which a dinner pill is employed.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Chemical and Analytical Chemists,
LOWELL, MASS., AND SOLD BY

COAL. COAL.

At $5.50 per Ton.
BEST of Red Ash Coal, for sale at $5.50.
NATHANIEL WHITE.
Quincy, July 3. tf

COAL. COAL.

THE Underdesigned has for sale at EDWARD'S WHARF,
WEBSTER, SWATARA, and
EAGLE MOUNTAIN COAL.
Also, Nova Scotia Wood!

Orders left at D. Baxter & Co.'s Store, Mr. Averill's, near South Depot, Des. Geo. Baxter's or at the Office, will be promptly attended to.
OFFICE, and entrance to Wharf, on
WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR DE A. GEORGE BAXTER'S.
OWEN ADAMS,
Quincy, Sept. 4. tf

ADAMS & WESLEY,

GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point).
HAS just received one cargo of FRANK-LIN COAL, which they will sell at $7.00 per ton.

OTHER KINDS OF
Coal at $5.50 per Ton.

Orders left at Geo. L. Baxter & Co.'s
Store, George H. Locke's, or with Geo. W. Kenyon, will receive early attention.
Quincy, July 3. tf

GRANULAR FUEL.

Patented, June, 1852.

Manufactured from Brushwood and Twigs

For kindling Coal Fires

AND all purposes for which a quick hot fire is needed. It is intended

By its Cheapness and Cleanliness

TO SUPERSEDE CHARCOAL.

It is especially adapted for Summer Use, when a quick fire is wanted but short time. As it can be used in all kinds of Stoves, and being allowed to go out immediately after using, enables the consumer to practice Economy.

The extreme low price of this Fuel is also a great advantage, being but one-half the price of charcoal. It kindles quick, is clean and cheap,
and will be sold and delivered at the following
low prices for cash—

Under 25 bushels, 10 cents per bushel.
Over 25 " " " " " "

Orders left at the Store of E. Clapp, Henry A.
Newcomb, Peter W. Newcomb, Quincy Point, or
at Badger & Hanson's Machine Shop, will be promptly attended to.

MANUFACTURED AND SOLD BY
GEORGE SAVIL.
Rear of Badger & Hanson's—Cemetery at Quincy, Aug. 14. tf

REWARD.

A REWARD OF

Two Hundred Dollars

Will be paid by the Town of Quincy, to any person who will furnish evidence sufficient
to convict any person who shall set fire to any building within limits of the Town of Quincy, previous to March 1859.

GEORGE MARSH, } Selection of HENRY ADAMS, } Quincy.
DANIEL BAXTER. } tf

J. T. & W. V. HAYWARD

HAVING taken the Shop in the rear of

W. M. French's Cabinet Manufactory

are now ready to execute

PAINTING,

GLAZING, GRADING, MARBLING,

Paper-Hanging, &c.,

All Orders Promptly Attended To

A share of the public patronage is solicited.

JOHN T. HAYWARD,
WILLIAM V. HAYWARD.

Quincy, April 3. tf

YOU HAD BETTER

TRY

My Mother's Salve.

THIS CELEBRATED

PREPARATION has obtained an enviable world-wide reputation for its great curative properties, and has been the agent for relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve"

IS A PERFECT CHEMICAL COMPOUND, prepared from ROOTS, HERBS and GUMS, gathered from the forest, and possesses

HEALING, Soothing and PAIN-RELIEVING

VIRTUES

never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve"

IS SAFE and EFFECTUAL, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM,

ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a permanent cure.

"My Mother's Salve"

IS A BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve"

IS WORTHY of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth. DIRECTIONS for Use

"My Mother's Salve"

Are simple. Every mother and nurse know how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with the Salve.

In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs,

Sore Throat, and such like ailments, rub as in cases of Rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. BECK.

BURRELL & HUNTING, Sole Proprietors.

No. 6 Tremont Street, Boston.

For Sale in Quincy by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Oct 30. ly

Removal.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS REMOVED TO
GOODNOW'S BUILDING:
Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.,
Where he will continue to keep his usual large and well selected stock of

Plain and Fancy Silks,
Shawls, Dress Goods of every variety,
Domestic and Housekeeping Goods,
Gloves, Hosiery, Trimmings,
Embroideries and Fancy
Goods, &c.

GENTS' AND BOYS' CLOTHING
AND FURNISHING GOODS!!
Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, &c., &c.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF FURNITURE
Constantly on hand. Mattresses and Feathers of every quality. Carpets, Paper Hangings, Crockery, China, Glass and Britannia Ware, all of which will be offered at

Very Low Prices for Cash.
He takes this opportunity to thank the citizens of this and neighboring towns for the very liberal patronage which they have given him, and would be happy to see them at his new location, where he will offer such inducements as will secure their continued and increased favors.

CALEB PACKARD.
Quincy, Jan 23. tf

DAVID B. STETSON
WOULD inform his friends and the public that he has

Returned to his Old Stand,
A few rods East of the Stone Temple,
which has been

RE-MODELLED AND ENLARGED
Where he will keep a good assortment of
WEST INDIA GOODS, FAMILY PRO-VISIONS, GROCERIES, BOOTS AND SHOES, FANCY GOODS, TOYS, CON-FECTIONERY, RUSSIA SALVE, and all the popular Medicines, Essences, Flavoring Extracts, &c. A good assortment of

CROCKERY, GLASS,
AND Wooden Ware.

Just received a fresh lot of the improved Rosemary.
A share of public patronage is solicited.
Quincy, June 12. tf

FRANCIS P. LOUD
WOULD respectfully inform the Citizens of Quincy, that he has taken the Store formerly occupied by the late George H. Nightingale,
In the rear of the Stone Temple,
where he has on hand and intends keeping a

A FULL ASSORTMENT
OF
WORSTED FOR EMBROIDERY,
Patterns of all kinds, and a General Assortment of Fancy Articles.

ALSO—
GEORGE MARSH, } Selection of HENRY ADAMS, } Quincy.
DANIEL BAXTER. } tf

Ladies' & Children's Ready Made
CLOTHES,
Dress Trimmings, Corsets, Head
Dresses, the best of Spool Cotton,
Sewing Silk, Embroidery Silk,
Shirts and Shirt Bosoms, Overalls,
Cravats, Collars, &c., &c.

ALSO—A large assortment of
CONFECTIONARY, NUTS, &c.
N. B. Stitching done to Order.
Quincy, Sept. 11. tf

NEW STORE.
NO. 5 TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON.

BLAKE & CO.,
Having refitted and remodelled this
MAMMOTH STORE,
DESIRE to call the attention of the public, (Ladies in particular,) to their new and elegant stock of

RICH FALL SILKS,
SHAWLS, CAPES, CLOAKS,
CLOAKINGS AND VELVETS,
RICH AND NEW STYLES.

VALENTIAS,
DELAINES, CASHMERES, THIBETS,
DOMESTIC GOODS, &c.

We are constantly receiving Goods from New York Auctions, and are enabled to give to the public some decided bargains, particularly in Silks, and Shawls.

A new and novel style of Fall and Winter
Cloaks just received.

BLAKE & CO.,
5 TREMONT ROW,
Opposite head of Hanover street.
Boston, Sept 18. 3m

No. 9 TREMONT ROW.

NAY & MCCLURE
would call the attention of ladies to their

ELEGANT STOCK OF
New Fall Silks!

ALSO—
SHAWLS, CAPES, VELVETS,
CLOAKING, MERINOS, PLAIDS, DELAINES, PRINTS,
HOUSEKEEPING GOODS, &c.

WE would call attention particularly to the fact, that in all desirable and fashionable goods, our assortment is very extensive.

Goods received every week from New York Auctions, from which we can give some VERY DECIDED BARGAINS, in Silks, Shawls, and Dress Goods.

NAY & MCCLURE.
No. 9 Tremont Row.
Boston, Sept. 11. 3m

Notice!

A NEW and SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF VELVET VESTINGS,
for sale cheap, at
Joseph W. Lombard's.
Over E. Clapp's Store.
Quincy, Nov. 13. tf

REMOVAL.
CALROW & COMPANY,
Fashionable Tailors,
FOR the past eighteen years corner of Hanover and Elm Streets, Boston, have removed to the more spacious store,
85 WASHINGTON STREET,
Joy's Building,
and will open on FRIDAY, the 5th inst., with
an entire New Stock, of RICH and DESIRA-BLE FALL and WINTER GOODS, for Gents',
Youths', and Boys' Wear. Gentlemen will find our assortment all that can be desired, surpassing all our former openings. Parents and Guardians, Especially Ladies, will find our assortment of YOUTHS' and BOYS' CLOTHING,
decidedly the best in the city. We have fitted up a beautiful Sales Room, Light and Convenient for this branch of our business.
Orders for Custom Work, any style will receive prompt attention. Remover 85 Washington street, nearly opposite State Street, Boston.
Boston, Nov. 6. 6w

OVER COATS, (Custom Made,) from 7 to $12. T. DODDS.
Quincy, Oct. 31. tf

QUINCY BOOKSTORE
AND
BOOK BINDERY.
Established in the Year 1838.

BOOKS, STATIONERY
AND
FANCY GOODS!

C. GILL & CO. have always on hand a large assortment of the above—being fully prepared to meet all the wants of this market.

BLANK BOOKS
of any particular pattern, made to order.
STATIONERY, IN GREAT VARIETY,
at the lowest prices.

Miscellaneous and Juvenile Books,
will be sold low
ALL SCHOOL BOOKS,
used in this and neighboring towns,
at publishers' prices.

Book Binding.
ALL KINDS OF MAGAZINES, PAMPHLETS,
SHEET MUSIC, &c.,
bound in neat and durable style.
"Small Profit" to ensure "Ready Sales."
Full equivalent for your money.

Twenty years' practice has proved these rules to be good ones, and we shall continue to be governed by them, in all branches of our business.

C. GILL & CO.
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, March 20. tf

FRUIT TREES!
THE subscriber offers for sale
at his Nurseries in
DORCHESTER,

A complete assortment of Fruit Trees, Grape
Vines, Raspberries, Strawberries,
Currants, &c., viz:—

6000 Extra large Pear Trees, on Quince Roots.

4000 Large Standard Pear Trees on Pear Roots.

10,000 Imported Pyramid Pear
Trees on Quince Roots.

5000 Cherry Trees, embracing the new American varieties, &c.
Wood, Black Hawk, Ohio Beauty, &c., &c.

1000 GRAPE VINES, embracing the new and popular American varieties, viz. Rebecca, Union Village, Delaware, Hartford Prolific, Diana and others.

5000 New Currants in six excellent sorts, producing much larger fruit than the old varieties.

Also, A superior collection of
APPLES, PLUMS, RASPBERRIES,
STRAWBERRIES, NEW RHUBARBS
—ETC.—ALSO—

Ornamental Trees, Evergreens, Roses, Flowering Shrubs, Greenhouse and Herbaceous Plants.

The collection of Pear Trees is unsurpassed
and embraces also all the new and most celebrated sorts extant.

Many of the above are remarkable for the strength and beauty of form, and with proper care will produce fruit the next season.
N. B. Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin st.,
Boston, several times in the day.

MARSHALL P. WILDER.
Dorchester, Oct. 23. tf

Burnett's Cocaine,
FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. Thomson's Golden Lustrate. The German Toilet Balm, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 26. tf

Butter!
50 TUBS of Prime Dairy Butter in packages from thirty to one hundred pounds, for sale at the lowest market price, by the tub pound, for cash by DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 20. tf

Removal!

Of Millinery Goods!
I HAVE removed my Goods
from my residence on Washington street, into

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
ROOMS OVER
Caleb Packard's Dry Goods Store,
—CORNER OF—
Hancock and Granite Streets,
Where may be found a good assortment of

Fall & Winter Millinery,
AT LOW PRICES.

I have a great variety of ready made Dress
Hats in rich material which SHALL be sold low,
also trimmed straw which SHALL be sold cheap.
To any one wishing to engage in a good business I would dispose of my Stock and Fixtures, were the opportunity satisfactory. A lease of the premises may be obtained for a Term of years, and it is one of the best locations in the

CENTRE OF QUINCY.
Until I dispose of my Goods to some party
wishing to occupy the premises, I shall endeavor
to keep a general assortment of desirable Goods, and would respectfully solicit patronage—fully acknowledging the favors of friends and the public for the LAST TEN YEARS.

As usual, Grave Cloths and Mourning
Goods constantly on hand or made to order.

A. J. KENISON.
Quincy, Oct. 16. tf

Poetry.

The Spot that I Love Best.

Oh! would you seek to know the spot
That's ever nearest to my heart,
That ne'er by me will be forgot,
Till I with life and memory part?
Tis where my infant head first leant
Upon a loving mother's breast,
This is the spot,
The happy spot,
The spot that I love best.

'Tis where that gentle mother taught
My little lips their evening prayer;
'Tis where with love maternal fraught,
She watched me with an angel's care;
'Tis where beside my tiny couch,
She sat and lulled me off to rest—
This is the spot,
The happy spot,
The spot that I love best.

'Tis where with sister dear I've strayed,
To call the droll gems of spring,
And linger 'neath the old elm's shade,
To hear the skylark gaily sing;
'Tis where the old familiar spire
Reflects at eve the gilded west—
This is the spot,
The dear, dear spot,
The spot I love the best.

'Tis where those old companions dwell,
Who shared their childhood's sports with me
Who played the games I love so well,
Beneath the dear old trying tree;
'Tis where the fond old aunt and uncle
Their merry peal o'er mound and dell—
This is the spot,
The dear, dear spot,
The spot I love so well.

Even sweet Italia's glorious skies,
Have charms which I would coldly spurn,
While anxious hearts and tearful eyes
Plead not for my safe return;
'Tis where the smiles of those I love
May be my constant quest—
This is the spot,
The dear, dear spot,
The spot that I love best.

Though angry billows 'twixt us roll—
No matter through what lands I roam—
True as the magnet to the pole,
My heart still yearns for scenes of home;
'Tis there earth's sweetest joys are found,
There where every smile is blessed—
Home is to me
The dearest spot,
The spot that I love best.

When I Would Die.

I would not die in Winter,
When snows are falling round;
They would so coldly cover
My now made, frozen ground.
Friends could not bend above me,
And with affection's care,
Plant violets blue upon my grave,
Or scatter roses there.

I would not die in Spring time,
When flowers are blooming round;
And the budding grain stands thickly
Upon the tiller's ground.
When harvest joys are opening fast,
And harvest songs are heard,
Richer than rarest, joyful notes,
Of sweetest singing birds.

But in sad, sober Autumn,
When leaves are brown and sore—
When the deep winds breathe a requiem
For the waning, passing year—
When bright things fade from earth away
Without one murmuring sigh—
I too would lay me quiet down,
And calmly, peacefully die.

Charity.

When you meet with one suspected
Of some secret deed of shame,
And for this by all rejected
As a thing of evil fame;
Guard him every look and action,
Speak no word of heartless blame,
For the slanderer's vile detraction
May yet soil thy goodly name.

When you meet with one pursuing Ways the lost have entered in,
Working out his own undoing,
With his recklessness and sin;
Think if placed in his condition,
Would a kind word be in vain?
Or a look of cold suspicion
Win thee back to truth again?

There are spots that tear no flowers,
Not because the soil is bad,
But the summer's genial showers
Never make their blossoms glad;
Better have an act that's kindly Treated sometimes with disdain,
Than by judging others blindly,
Doom the innocent to pain.

Anecdotes.

I and Daniel Webster put up at the same tavern last night, said a rough-looking fellow.
It must have been a house of accommodation for man and beast, replied a bystander.

An Irishman, being called to testify in court as a witness, was told by the clerk to hold up his right hand. The man immediately held up his left hand.

Hold up your right hand! said the clerk.
Place your honor, said the witness, still keeping up his left, please your honor, I am left-handed.

How do my customers like the milk I sell them?
Oh, they all think it of "the first water."

I am afraid of the lightning, murmured a pretty young coquette, during a storm.
Well, you may be, sighed a despairing lover, when your heart is steel!

ATTENTION!

The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF
HARDWARE

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,
we are prepared to furnish them at prices to cor-
respond with the times

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!
We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,
SASHES,
BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS,
SCREWS,
&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS—in a great Variety.
ALSO—Pail, Rim, Chest, Store and Sash

LOCKS; MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S
LATCHES;
Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;
BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE PULLEYS,
A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.
Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRIP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Growth's
Improved Blind Fast. Also—a great variety of South Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
The best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET
AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.
Quincy, Jan 23

ALL KINDS OF
Job Printing,
POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILLS—HEADS, BILLS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office,
WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick & Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,
Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.
Weymouth Mass.
Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,
Room No. 3, Webster Bank Building.
Exchange Street, — BOSTON.
GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

National Police Gazette.
THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals
is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in
any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county
and state where they reside plainly.)
GEO. W. MATSELI, & CO.,
Editors & Proprietors of the
National Police Gazette.
New York City, Apr 25

BURNS, & Co.
AMES' Lotion for Burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothaches, chilblains, &c., &c.
For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept 18

For the Teeth &c.
HARRISON'S Balm of Prairie Flowers—
is a universal cosmetic for the skin, the hair,
the teeth, and the complexion.
The Prairie Balm a great Toilette luxury, and
a certain cure for the bites of insects.
For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept 18

Grass Seed!
40 TO 50 Bushels of Herd's Grass, Red Top and Clover Seed, just received in store and for sale cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy March 13

DR. S. STOCKING,
DENTAL SURGEON

No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs),
Directly opposite the head of Beattie Street,
BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on
the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing,
regulating and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what
are called modern improvements in Dentistry,
whatever is of real value, and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty-five years of close application to the duties of the profession he is permitted to say
that whatever pertains to the dental profession,
whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To his skill and fine natural faculties in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, though honest in
their intentions, and uniting in their efforts,
must be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are based, or the want of experience and ingenuity
to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth—a process of
great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required
in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item embraced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be improperly filled, and even ruined—artificial ones
may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient
may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent
the air from entering the lungs, and the lungs
from becoming saturated with the vapor of the
ether. The reason for this is, that the vapor of
the ether, if inhaled, enters the lungs, and the process of respiration. The natural consequence
of inhaling ether over and over again, from a
sponge, and the lungs becoming saturated with
the vapor of the ether, is, that the patient

may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but the health
of the patient is thereby endangered. Not so
in the administration of ether. It is an agent
that should be confined to the care and control
of intelligent men, who have learned its properties and effects, and the best system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though
a little more convenient for the administrator,
is not, by any means, the best medium.
Either should be so administered as to prevent the air from entering the lungs,

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27th, 1858.

NUMBER XLVIII.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary price and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BREEK.
Dorchester, OLIN P. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVERLY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.), GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

Look for the Bright Spots.

Sarah Blake was a very sunny character. She was not what you would call merry; her happiness was of a more gentle and quiet kind. She never laughed loud, but she had a winning smile for every one, which brightened up her whole face, giving it a charm which mere beauty could never impart. And she was always just so beautiful. Pleasant or stormy weather made no difference to her; there was always sunshine upon her.

This was owing partly to natural temperament. She felt that it was her duty to be cheerful. Having professed to renounce the world, and choose God in Christ for her present and eternal portion, she would never give any one reason to suppose that she had chosen an unsatisfying portion. Neither would she encourage the idea that religion had anything gloomy about it. She would let every one see that she was even more happy and more cheerful than before. The darkest cloud had for her a silver lining; the gloomiest day had always some bright spots, which she never failed to discover. It was her belief that there was a bright side to everything, and she seldom failed to find it. Thus, the little vexations and disappointments of life lost their sting; and when real trials came, she bowed meekly to the chastening rod, and kissed the hand that dealt the blow. In the bitterest cup she gratefully acknowledged some lingering drops of sweetness.

Brothers and sisters had once made her home glad; now they all slept in the graveyard beside their father's side, and Sarah was left, the sole comfort and support of her widowed mother. When the strong arm that they had leaned upon was cut off, and the husband and father slept in death, they were no longer able to keep the old homestead, which had so many years been the scene of their joys and sorrows. So their beautiful house was sold, and they retained only furniture enough for the little cottage which they had taken in Ashton.

The cottage was indeed a great contrast to their former home, and Sarah felt it keenly; but she was not one to allow regrets for the past to unnerve her for present duty. She endeavored to arrange their small stock of furniture so as to give the cottage as much of a home-like as possible; and, though she dropped a few tears over the precious relics of happier days, they were soon wiped away.

How desolate it looks here with no shrubbery, said Mrs. Blake, as she entered the gate.

It will not look so long, dear mother, for you see I have set out some rose bushes, which I brought from the old house; and here is a slip of woodbine, which we will train to run over the roof, just as it did at home. I dare say we shall be very happy here.

Mrs. Blake thought that any home would look pleasant where Sarah was, and she thanked God that he had left one sunbeam to cheer her darkened lot. The inmates of the cottage did not seek much society; but some of the neighbors formed their acquaintance, and Sarah became a great favorite with the little children who used to go by to school, and for whom she always had a bunch of flowers, a few pleasant words, or a cheerful smile. And Mr. Sutton, who was too feeble to work, would often, on a pleasant day, walk down the lane to see the good young lady, who did not despise him because he was an old, gray-headed man.

Mr. Harrington, the richest man in Ashton, lived near Mrs. Blake's cottage, and his daughter Annette took a special fancy to Sarah Blake. The contrast in their characters may have contributed to this feeling. Annette was charmed by the unvarying cheerfulness of her new friend. Petted and spoiled child as she was, bred in luxury and indulged in everything which wealth could purchase, she was never satisfied, but was always fretful and discontented. She was not ill-tempered, but a habit of fault-finding had insensibly grown upon her, which even the religion she professed had failed to overcome.

If Sarah had an uncommon faculty of finding bright spots even in the darkest sky, Annette was quite as skilful in detecting shadows in the most glowing sunshine. To Sarah, everything seemed to present itself on the sunny side; to Annette, on the shady side. Annette was a girl of good sense, and she often asked herself why it was that Sarah was so much happier than herself, when she had, apparently, so much less to make her happy. With Annette, it was always too hot or too cold, too wet or too dry; while Sarah never troubled herself about the weather. No one could enjoy a fine day more than she did; and when it rained, she seemed equally happy with her in-door occupations. Annette always wanted things a little different; Sarah took them as they came, and made the best of them.

Annette had just returned with her parents from an excursion to Niagara, and Sarah hastened to welcome her friend home again. How much you will have to tell me! said she; of course you had a pleasant time? Of course I did not. You would have had, I dare say; for you seem to derive pleasure from everything, while I always seem to meet with annoyances.

I should think it must be a great annoyance which would destroy the pleasure of a trip to Niagara, replied Sarah. What could have happened?

O, nothing in particular; only the thousand petty annoyances which meet one at every turn. I do hate traveling!

Sarah thought if she had Annette's purse, how much she could enjoy the change and variety of an occasional journey; though she did not feel in the least discontented at being obliged to remain at home. Annette entertained her with a long catalogue of the grievances which she had met; and, said she, the most provoking of all was, that we had to wait at the depot three whole hours to-day; so near home, too! Wasn't it really provoking?

Why, I don't know, said Sarah; I never feel impatient of such delays. I almost always become interested in some of the people whom I see.

Yes, said Annette; I remember, last summer, when you went to Boston on business, you had a great deal to talk about when you got home. Why, I might travel around the world, and not meet with so many pleasing incidents.

You must learn to look out for the bright spots. There are always some, if people will only see them.

That is a favorite expression of yours, Sarah. Is it original?

O, no; but I like it very much, on account of the pleasant associations connected with it.

Then there is a story about it. Do let us hear it.

It is not much of a story.

Nevertheless, I must hear it, now that you have raised my curiosity.

Well, then, said Sarah. Years ago, when I was a mere child, I went to visit my grandparents. They had been very urgent for this visit, but my parents hesitated at first, because neither of them could accompany me. There was no railroad on that route; and, as I was to travel by stage, it was necessary that I should go a part of the distance the previous day. My father carried me to L—, where I stayed with some friends, who promised to see me safe in the stage the next morning.

But did you not feel dreadfully to go alone? asked Annette, who was already looking on the dark side.

O, no; I was full of courage; but I was rather disappointed the next morning, to wake up and find it raining. I had heard a great deal of the delightful scenery through which my route lay; and, from my childhood, I had a passionate fondness for scenery.

O, how provoking! What a miserable day you must have had!

By no means. It was a day which I have looked back on ever since with the greatest interest.

Just like you. You always find the bright spots. For my part, I think a rainy day is horrible at any time, but when one is on a journey it is intolerable; and then the disappointment, when you were expecting to enjoy the scenery so much.

Well, said Sarah, hear my story through, and then you will know why I review it with so much pleasure. When I entered the stage, there was but one woman in it. I seated myself by the window, where I might see what was to be seen; and very soon an elderly man entered, and seated himself opposite to me. He had a most benevolent expression—

I dare say, said Annette. You always find interesting people wherever you go; while I never see any but what look as though they were just out of State Prison, or ought to be there. Well, what did your old gentleman say to you?

He ascertained where I was going, and, learning that I had never been on that route before, expressed his regret at the weather, as he was sorry I should lose the delightful prospect. O, said I, perhaps it will not rain all day. It may clear up at noon, he replied; and then you will have the pleasantest part of your journey by sunshine. He conversed in a manner which showed him to be very intelligent and kind-hearted. He evidently wished to make the journey as agreeable to me as the unpleasant weather would allow.

And did it clear up at noon?

No; the clouds seemed, at one time, to be breaking away, but soon grew thicker and darker than ever. But whenever I espied a bright spot, I was sure to point it out to my new friend, who was quite amused at the number I found. I believe, said he, smiling, you have a wonderful faculty of finding out the bright spots. I hope you will always retain it and apply it to every situation in life. There are always some bright spots, if people will only look for them. When almost at our stopping place, he said, I should like to have pointed out to you the beauties of our unrivaled scenery; but I think, after all, we had a pleasant day. O, yes; said I, looking after the bright spots was quite an amusement, even if we could not find any of them. The old gentleman was the first to be left. He shook hands cordially with me, said the journey had been much pleasanter for my company, and added with a smile, We shall probably never meet again in this world, but remember, my dear, all through life, always look out for the bright spots.

And you have followed his advice most faithfully.

Well, do you not think it was quite a pleasant adventure?

Certainly, I do; but it had been in your place, instead of looking out for the bright spots, I should have cried all day on account of the rain; and the old gentleman would have thought me a peevish, discontented girl, and taken no notice of me.

Well, Annette, I wish you was more apt to look on the bright side of things, because I think you would be a great deal happier.

No doubt I should; but I was not made to be happy in this world.

But, dear Annette, continued Sarah, more gravely, did you never think it was a Christian duty to cultivate cheerfulness?

Why, what solemn views you always take of things. No, I do not think there is any duty about it. It is my misfortune to have things always go wrong, and, as for cultivating cheerfulness, how can we cultivate a trait of character which is not natural to us?

If we wish to please God, we must cultivate a great many things which are not natural to us, and root up a great many that are. We must cultivate meekness, humility, and forgiveness of injuries, none of which are natural to the unrenewed heart. We should not need new hearts at all, if we were naturally what we ought to be. When you first felt that you were bought with a price, did you not wish to consecrate yourself unreservedly to the Saviour, and to make his glory the great object of thought, word, and deed?

Yes, said Annette, thoughtfully.

And can you not glorify Him much more if you recommend his religion to others by a cheerful demeanor, than if you repel them by your discontented state of mind? If they see that religion fails to make you happy, will they not be led to doubt its efficacy?

This was opening a new train of thought to Annette. Though sincere in her religion, as far as it went, she had, like many other Christians, failed to perceive its intimate connection with every day life. She was as much annoyed by the little trials and vexations of life, as if she had not professed to set her affections on things above. She had never thought that it was her duty to be happy. The "exceeding weight of glory" which she hoped to receive in another world was not sufficient to enable her to bear with patience the trials of this. Her soul was not so firmly anchored within the veil, but that it was the sport of every wind and wave.

Anticipations of home never made her forget the weariness and inconvenience of the way. But had she really been dishonoring her Saviour by yielding to this discontent? Then she must begin anew to learn and practice the duties of a Christian.

Sarah, said she, after a long pause, supposing you could convince me that it is my duty to be happy, how am I to set to work?

I can give you no better advice than my travelling friend gave me—always look out for the bright spots.

That will be new and, consequently, hard work for me.

Yes, but if you feel it your duty to struggle against this "easy-besetting sin," you know where to go for help. We have many a struggle to go through with here, but we do not have to fight in our own strength. He who has made it your duty and your privilege to be a cheerful, happy Christian, will enable you to be so.

Well, Sarah, I never thought before of making it a subject of prayer. Indeed, I never thought of it as a duty; but I will do so from this time.

And when you have prayed you must practice. Strive constantly against the habit of looking on the dark side. When you feel inclined to dwell upon your trials, think of your mercies. You will find that your trials are, in comparison, but as the small drop in the bucket.

O, I know I have no real trials; but little things, which you would scarcely notice, are trials to me.

I know it; but you must strive against the habit. Determine that you will be happy, and then, by God's grace, you can. And, when real trials come, as they will come to every one, sooner or later, look above and beyond the clouds. There is bright sky somewhere. Do not expect life to be all sunshine—do not make it all gloom. Light and shade are always intermingled here; but remember that it is your duty, as well as your happiness, always to look out for the bright spots.

"The Salt, if you Please."

Salt is a chemical compound of twenty-three parts by weight of a beautifully silver white but soft metal, called sodium, discovered by Sir H. Davy in 1807, and thirty-five parts of a pungent, yellowish green gas, called chlorine, discovered by Scheele in 1774—these two combined form this, the most widely diffused and useful of any compound in the world. It is found in the sea, and in the rocks, from which our principal supply comes. The most wonderful deposits are in Poland and Hungary, where it is quarried like a rock, one of the Polish mines having been worked since 1251. These Polish salt mines have heard the groan of many a poor captive, and have seen the last agonies of many a brave man, for until lately, they were worked entirely by the state prisoners of Austria, Russia, or Poland, whichever happened to be in power at the time; and once the offender, or fancied hindrance to some other person's advancement, was let down into this subterranean prison, he never saw the light of day again. So salt has its history as well as science. Other large deposits are found in Cheshire, England, where the water is forced down by pipes into the salt, and is again pumped up as brine, which is evaporated and the salt obtained. To such an extent has this been carried that one town in the "salt country," as it is called, has scarcely an upright house in it, all the foundations having sunk with the ground, to fill up the cavity left by the extracted salt.

In Virginia there are beds of salt, and the Salmon Mountains, in Oregon, are capable of affording large quantities of the same material. The brine springs of Salina and Syracuse, in New York, are well known, and from about forty gallons of their brine one bushel of salt is obtained. There are also extensive salt springs in Ohio. The brine is pumped up from wells made in the rock, and into which it flows and runs into boilers. These boilers are large iron kettles set in brick-work, and when fires are lighted under them, the brine is quickly evaporated. The moment the brine begins to boil, it becomes turbid, from the compounds of lime that it contains, and which are soluble in cold, but not in hot water; these first sediments are taken out with ladles called "bittern ladles," and the salt being next deposited from the brine is carried away to drain and dry. The remaining liquid contains a great quantity of magnesia in every form.

But how did this salt come into the rock? is the natural query, and the wonder seems greater when we recollect that salt-beds are found in nearly every one of the strata composing the earth's crust. This fact proves another, that as the majority of these salt-beds have come from lakes left in the hollows of the rocks by the recedence of the sea, the sea has through all the geologic ages been as salt as it is to-day. Let us take the Great Salt Lake as an illustration, it being the largest salt lake in the world, but by no means the only one, as such inland masses of saline water are found over the whole earth, but as ours is the greatest in extent, it will form the best example. It is situated at an elevation of four thousand two hundred feet above the sea, on the Rocky Mountains, and has an area of two thousand miles; yet, high as it is, "once upon a time," as the story-books of our juvenility used to say, it was part of the sea, which retired, by the upheaval of the rocks, and that great basin took its salt water up with it. Should this in time evaporate, and its salt become covered with mud and sand, and the land again be depressed; then at some distant future age, the people would be wondering how the salt got there, little thinking that the Mormons had ever built a city on its shores when it was a great salt lake. There are also, however, salt rocks taking their place in regular geologic series with other rocks, interpersed between red, sandstone, magnesian and carboniferous strata; these we can only account for, as we do for other stratified rocks, viz., that they were deposited from their solution in water or carried mechanically to the spot where now found by that ever mobile liquid.—Scientific American.

Poison of the Common Toads.

It is an ancient and common opinion that toads and salamanders possess a subtle venom; this, however, has been generally deemed fabulous by those engaged in scientific pursuits. MM. Grottolet and Cloes, in a report to the French Academy, show that there is in reality some foundation for the common belief, and that toads and salamanders do secrete a deadly poison. These gentlemen inoculated small animals with the milky fluid contained in the dorsal and parotid pustules of these animals, and found it productive of fatal effects in a short space of time. A turtle-drove slightly wounded in the wing and inoculated with the liquid secreted by the salamander, died in terrible convulsions in eight minutes. Five small birds inoculated with the lactescent humor of the common toad, died in five or six seconds, but without convulsions. The liquid of the pustule of the toad, even after being dried, kills birds, though not with the same rapidity as when fresh.

Fighting other People's Battles.

There are many people who seem to think that editors regard it as one of the intellect's duties to fight the battles of others, and they suppose themselves to have conferred a great favor by furnishing belligerent contributions, in which some person, corporation, or society is soundly abused. Such people may take a hint from the following:

A noted chap once stepped into the sanctum of a venerable and highly respected editor, and indulged in a tirade against a citizen with whom he was on bad terms.

I wish, he said, addressing the man with the pen, that you would write a very severe article against R—, and put in your paper.

Very well, was the reply.

After some more conversation, the visitor went away. The next morning he came rushing into the office, in a violent state of excitement.

What did you put in your paper? I have had my nose pulled, and been kicked twice.

I wrote a severe article, as you desired, calmly replied the editor, and signed your name to it.

Hints to Young Mechanics.

The first object of a mechanic, as it should be that of every one, is to become thoroughly acquainted with his particular business or calling. We are apt to learn our trade or profession by halves—to practise it by halves—and hence are compelled to live by halves and die by inches.

Study and labor to excel your competitors, and then you will not fail to command the patronage of the most discerning and liberal paymasters. There is a great variety of highly useful knowledge which appertains to every branch of business, that may be acquired by a course of judicious reading. This knowledge, well digested and systematized, constitutes the sciences of every occupation. Thus, if you are a carpenter, the science of Architecture should be studied with profound attention; if a ship builder, the science of Navigation and Hydrostatics, and that combination of them which will give the largest capacity to a vessel with the least resistance from the water, and the greatest safety in time of danger from the elements. If you are a machinist or mill-wright, the mechanic powers should be well understood, and if the machinery is to be propelled by steam or water, you should study the science of Hydraulics, and should have a perfect knowledge of the chemical combination of heat and water, both in its latent and active state, and understand how it happens that a quart of water, converted into steam, which, by a thermometer, is no hotter than boiling water, yet will bring a gallon of water up to the same temperature. If you are a hatter—a dyer—a painter, or a tanner, there is no study so useful as Chemistry.

The fact was known a quarter of a century to chemists, that gum shellac was insoluble in water, before any hatter ever used it to make water-proof hats. The whole art of giving beautiful and durable colors to different bodies, depends entirely upon the chemical affinity of such bodies for the coloring material and the affinity of this latter, for the different colored rays of light.

We speak understandingly when we say that the tanners and the public in the United States, lose millions of dollars annually, from the lack of scientific knowledge how best to combine vegetable tannin with animal gelatin, which is the chemical process of making leather—call it by what other names you please.

There is a vast amount of knowledge which is now completely useless, that ought to be brought home to the understanding of every operative in this republic. We love industry and respect all who practice it. But labor without study, is like a body without a soul. Cultivate and enrich the mind with all useful knowledge, and rest assured that an intelligent understanding will teach the hands how to earn dollars, when the ignorant ears only cents.

Extravagance of the Day.

In the town of Somewhere, lived Mr. Manygirls. He is a toilsome merchant, his wife a hard-working housekeeper. Once they were poor, now they are ruinously rich. They have seven daughters, whom they train up in utter idleness. They are doing nothing. They spend much money, but not in works of humanity—not even in elegant accomplishments, in painting, dancing, music, and the like—so paying in spiritual beauty what they take in material means. They never read nor sing; they know nothings, exist only in vain show, as useless as a ghost, and as ignorant as the block on which their bonnets are made.

Now, these seven "ladies," (as the newspapers call the poor things, so insignificant and helpless,) are not only idle, can earn nothing, but they consume much. What a load of finery is on their shoulders, and heads and necks. Mr. Manygirls hires many men and women to wait on his daughters' idleness, and these consume as much money from the productive work of the shop or the farm, and to the unproductive work of nursing these seven grown-up babies.

On the other side of the way, Hon. Mr. Manyboys has seven sons, who are the exact match of the merchant's daughters; rich, idle, some of them dissolute; debauchery coming before their beads; all useless, earning nothing, spending much, and wasting more. Their only labor is to kill time, and in summer they emigrate from pond to pond, from lake to lake, having a fishing line with a worm at one end and a fool at the other. These are first families in Somewhere. Their idleness is counted pleasure. Six of these sons will marry, and five, perhaps, of Manygirls' daughters, and what families they will found, to live on the toil of their grandfathers' bones, until a commercial crisis, and the wear and tear of time, has dissipated their fortune, and they are forced reluctantly to toil.

Besides, this is an enormous waste of food, fuel, clothing, of everything. We are the least economical civilized people on the earth. Of course the poor are wasteful everywhere; they do not know how to economize, and they have not the means. They must live from hand to mouth, and half of what is put into the hand perishes before it reaches the mouth. So likewise are the rich wasteful who have inherited money, almost never such as have earned it. The great mass of the people are not economical, but wasteful; it is the habit of the whole country.—Theodore Parker.

Scientific Paradoxes.

The water which drowns us, a fluent stream, can be walked upon as ice. The bullet which, when fired from a musket, carries death, will be harmless if ground to dust before being fired. The crystallized part of the oil of roses so grateful in its fragrance—a solid at ordinary temperatures though readily volatile—is a compound substance, containing exactly the same elements, and in exactly the same proportions, as the gas with which we light our streets. The tea which we daily drink, with benefit and pleasure, produces palpitations, nervous tremblings, and even paralysis, if taken in excess; yet the peculiar organic agent called theine to which tea owes its qualities, may be taken by itself (as theine, not as tea) without any appreciable effect. The water which will allay our burning thirst, augments it when congealed into snow; so that Capt. Ross declares the natives of the Arctic regions "prefer enduring the utmost extremity of thirst rather than attempt to remove it by eating snow." Yet if the snow be melted, it becomes drinkable water. Nevertheless, although, if melted before entering the mouth, it assuages thirst like other water, when melted in the mouth it has the opposite effect.

Weights and Prices.

Domestic, 3 hours, 125¢ the price, $13 50
No. 1, 2 hours, 125¢ " " 42 00
Washington, No. 2, 2 1/2 " 110 " " 11 00
Improved, " " " 90 " " 9 00
Corn Plow, 1 horse, 60 " " 5 00
Corn Plow, 1 horse, 40 " " 4 00
Double Mould Board, 40 " " 4 75
Hill and Level Land, 100 " " 30 00
Either of the Plows weighing 100 pound or upwards, with an extra point, 30 cents more, under 100 weight, 35 cents.
Weymouth April 2.

GEO. R. FRENCH, Engraver and Plate Printer.

Washington, near High St.—Boston Particular attention given to the Engraving, Lettering, and Printing of Invitations, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.

LONG and practical experience in this particular branch, warrants me in saying I am prepared to execute any and every description, will study their interests by calling, sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Maps, Diplomas, Medals, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes, Bills of Exchange, &c., &c., engraving or printing of short notice.

Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.

Orders by mail, express, or otherwise, promptly attended to.
Boston, Feb 20.

Apothecary Store.

MR. F. HAYDEN returns thanks to his friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared barley, farina, grouts, cracked wheat, sago, tapioca, and flour, Corn Starch, Broma, &c., Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Sarsaparilla, Brown and Sarsaparilla, various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and bulbs, patent Nursing Shields, and all the latest and spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mitts, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c. French European Leeches always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and despatch.

He is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other cities. Washington St., opposite Stone Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1.

Hall's Great SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS French Vegetable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting nor purging. It is directly to the primary cause of disease, and cures the most inveterate scrofular taint, acting locally on the liver and a direct tonic to the stomach. It overcomes that King of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and restores and removes the wind and cramps, the red Stomach, and the humors of the skin, and all diseases which originate from the blood.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofular taint, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Itch, Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Gout, Rheumatism, Asthma, Coughs, Indigestion, Rheumatism, Fever, and all the various kinds of Scrofula, Bacteria, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which originate from the blood, or from the liver, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other known remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint, scrofular Ulcers, Constipation and Derangement of the Urinary Organs. It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and all diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as pain and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, and all the various kinds of Scrofula.

It can be given with perfect safety and most valuable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.

Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders should be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co., 8 State Street; Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99 Corn Street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

Neat's Foot Oil.

OF the best quality, for sale low by D. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 27.

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap for cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Feb 28.

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25.

Boots and Shoes.

CLARIDGE CLAPP has just received a full assortment of Boots and Shoes, suitable for the season, which he will sell at the VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Give him a call soon.

A lot of Boots and Shoes slightly shop worn offered Very Cheap.

Quincy, July 31.

</

To render this paradox more striking, we have only to remember that ice, which melts more slowly in the mouth, is very efficient in allaying thirst.—Blackwood's Magazine.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Nov. 27th, 1858.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

MINOT'S LEDGE LIGHTHOUSE. We learn from the Boston Ledger, that the work on the new structure has been discontinued, as the weather has become too rough to admit of any further progress this year. The work will be recommenced in the spring, and will then proceed rapidly, as the most difficult part, the completion of the foundation, and the laying of six layers of granite has been accomplished.

FIRE AT MILTON. The extensive storehouses connected with the paper mill of Messrs. Tilton & Hollingsworth, at Milton, were destroyed by fire at one o'clock last Wednesday morning. The loss is estimated at twenty thousand dollars. Spontaneous combustion is supposed to have been the cause of the fire.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. The New York Evening Post states that the rough draft of the President's Message has been submitted to the cabinet.

Congress meets, this year, on the 6th of December. The House assembles in its new hall, the Senate in its old one.

RASPBERRIES. We learn that Mrs. John Kirk, of this town, picked one pint of ripe raspberries, on the first day of this month, which she found growing in the woods not far from Bunker Hill Lodge. There were upon the vines many green berries, and even blossoms, and at this season of the year such a fact is a remarkable instance in the growth of this fruit.

OLD COLONY AND FALL RIVER RAILROAD. The stock of this road is now worth ninety-nine cents to one dollar, and but little in the market at that rate. It must be a gratifying fact to the President, Alexander Holmes, Esq., to know that the flourishing condition of this road is mainly owing to his skillful and energetic efforts, as, at the time of his assuming its management, the stock was only worth about seventy cents.

FOUND. We learn that the carpenter's tools recently stolen from the house on Adams street, in this town, have been found in the stacks of hay, in the rear of the stable, on the premises of Hon. C. F. Adams.

ENTERPRISE. E. N. Holbrook, Esq., of Randolph, has just completed three large stores in Boston. They are on Pearl street, of the best style granite fronts, six stories, and in all cost about one hundred thousand dollars. These stores are already rented for five years, the rent amounting to about ten thousand dollars a year.

NEW INVENTION. The Abington Standard states that H. M. Whitmarsh of that town has invented an ingenious and effectual arrangement for fastening the mouths of grain bags, dispensing with strings used in the common way of tying.

MASSACHUSETTS SENATOR. The Washington National Era says, that Hon. Charles Sumner will return to the United States the latter part of this month, and resume his post in the Senate, at the opening of the session of Congress.

FIRE. About half past four o'clock, on Thursday afternoon last, the dwelling-house belonging to the estate of the late Captain Benjamin Gay, on the corner of Gay and Summer streets, in this town, was found to be on fire in one of the attic chambers, and so rapid was the progress of the flames that the upper part of the entire building was nearly destroyed. When discovered the fire was bursting through the roof, but most of the furniture in the lower part of the house was saved. It was occupied by Mr. Theodore W. Fowle, Widow Drury, Mrs. Wildman, and Widow Gay, who was absent, and has lost her clothing, beds and bedding, etc., which were stored in the burnt portion. Her case, in particular, calls strongly upon the generous sympathies of the public, to whom no doubt a charitable hand will be extended. We learn that there was an insurance on the building of five or six hundred dollars. Our firemen deserve many thanks for their efforts. Cause of the fire, unknown.

The entire stocks on hand of seven defunct Carpet factories have been purchased by the New England Company of Boston, since the crisis. These Carpets are being retailed at less than the cost of production. Their warehouse is located at 75 Hancock street, opposite American House.

REMOVAL. The room in the Town Hall building, lately occupied as a clothing store, has been fitted up for the Post Office, to which place we understand it will be removed during the ensuing week.

NORFOLK AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. A meeting of the Trustees of this Society was held at the Phoenix House, in Dedham, on the 18th inst. The President, Col. Wilder, called the meeting to order, and stated that it was held for the purpose of hearing reports of Committees, and for the revision of the Premium list.

The President stated that the receipts of the regular departments of the late Exhibition were somewhat more than seventeen hundred dollars. The indefatigable Secretary reported that the net receipts of the Ladies' Fair were $530.44, which had been paid to the Treasurer. The Secretary also reported the accession of a large number of new members, thirty of whom with entrance fees amounting to one hundred and fifty dollars, were procured by Joseph H. Billings, Esq., of West Roxbury. Thomas Motley, Jr. Esq., of Dedham, also paid in about sixty dollars for new members, and gave the whole amount of the premiums awarded him at the late Exhibition. Nearly one hundred new members have been procured since the last annual meeting. More than fifteen hundred dollars of the debt of the Society has been extinguished since the Exhibition. The Reports of Committees were presented and approved.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENT. The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, has appointed G. A. W. Chamberlain of Roxbury, Master in Chancery for Norfolk County, in place of James M. Keith, resigned.

ACCIDENT. Miss Hannah Foye, recently fell from the top to bottom of a stair way at the house of John O. Foye, at Weymouth Landing. The bone of the thigh was broken.

LONGEVITY. The town of Mattapoisett contains seventy persons who have attained the age of seventy years and upwards.

NORFOLK MEDICAL SOCIETY. The semi-annual meeting of this flourishing society was held at the Phoenix House, in Dedham, on the 10th inst. The attendance was large, and the proceedings were of unusual interest, so says the Gazette of that village. The meeting was called to order by the President, Dr. Henry Bartlett, of Roxbury, who occupied the chair. Two very interesting dissertations upon the use and effect of Chelidonic Agents were read—one by Dr. B. E. Cutting, of Roxbury, and the other by Dr. George Faulkner, of West Roxbury. A very interesting discussion ensued upon the subject matter of the essays which lasted during the entire session. The next Quarterly meeting will be held in Roxbury in January next, the subject selected, being—The proper diet to be administered in Typhoid Fever.

LIBERAL DONATION. The New York papers contain a correspondence between Hon. Edward Everett and Robert Bonner of the New York Ledger, who proposed to donate ten thousand dollars to the Mt. Vernon fund, if Mr. Everett would furnish one original article per week to his paper for the space of one year. Mr. Everett accepts the proposition, and the money has been paid to the treasurer of the fund. The series will be called the "Mount Vernon Papers." Mr. Everett has already contributed fifty thousand dollars to this noble object.

APPOINTMENT. Nehemiah Ripley, Jr., of Hull, has been appointed by the Executive Council, Commissioner of Wrecks in Plymouth County.

RUBBER AND GUTTA PERCHA GOODS. Messrs. H. A. Hall & Co. of Boston, (see Advertisement in our columns,) have the largest variety of goods in this line of business in the city, from a child's toy to a suit of clothes; also coats, tents, etc. On his late trip to Europe, which we recently noticed for its remarkable shortness in the time occupied, Mr. H. made arrangements with the prominent firms across the water, whereby he will receive at the earliest period the prominent articles of utility and novelty which may be there produced. Bidders should not fail to call at the spacious store of Messrs. H. & Co., as they will find everything they may desire, the prices asked very low and reasonable, and the members of the firm affable and attentive, especially the senior partner, whose enterprise and courtesy is cheerfully acknowledged by a host of friends.

GRAND CHANCE FOR BARGAINS. We understand that our friend, Caleb Packard, shortly intends making important changes in his business, and consequently will sell for a short time his extensive stock at greatly reduced prices, thus making it an object for buyers to give him an early call, as they will find in his store a good, large and fashionable assortment as at any place in this vicinity. His attentive clerks will gladly wait upon all who may call, with courtesy and alacrity.

A face covered with pimples, or blotched with cutaneous sores, is cured by the application of "My Mother's Salve." It has cured some bad cases of "Jackson Itch." See advertisement.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

New York City pays eight hundred thousand dollars annually in support of Astor Houses, or about two thousand two hundred dollars per day; two hundred and fifty thousand dollars annually for cleaning streets, or about six hundred and eighty dollars per day; four hundred thousand dollars for lamps and gas, or about eleven hundred dollars per day; nine hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars for police, or two thousand six hundred dollars per day; four hundred and eighty thousand dollars annually for salaries, or about thirteen hundred dollars per day; one million four hundred thousand for public schools annually, or about thirty-eight hundred dollars per day.

The Burlington (Iowa) Hawkeye tells of a lady in that vicinity, who, by marriage, has got herself into the following distressing situation in regard to her own family. She is sister-in-law to her father, aunt to her brother, sister to her uncle, daughter to her grandfather, and great aunt to her own children.

It is becoming the custom out West for newly married people to send to newspaper publishers, along with their marriage notice, the amount of a year's subscription. This is a very sensible custom. Next to a good wife or husband, the greatest earthly blessing is a good newspaper.

It is stated that all the railroad companies between New York and Chicago have discontinued the running of second-class cars. The emigrant trains will do the second-class business, and the fare on the latter has been raised from five to seven dollars between Buffalo and Chicago. The first-class fare is fifteen dollars from Buffalo or Suspension Bridge to Chicago.

The hog crop of the West, it is reported, will be about fifteen per cent larger than last year, and there is on hand a large supply of old pork.

A letter from Senator Douglas of Illinois, announces that he will not be in Washington until the 15th of December.

A man who was working on the tower of the suspension bridge over the Scioto river, (Ohio) wishing to get over to the opposite side of the river, got down, on all fours, on the cables stretched from shore to shore, and crawled over. The distance is about five hundred feet, and the height from the water seventy-five feet.

In the State of New York, according to the late State census, out of a population of three and one-half millions, ninety-seven thousand can neither read nor write.

The first fire engine, proper, was made in the sixteenth century. It was on the plan of a squirt gun. Two stout men worked it. One alternately lowering the nozzle into the fire, the other pushing at the piston.

Joshua Bradley, Esq., of Boston, sent a Thanksgiving dinner for the inmates of the Sailor's Snug Harbor, at Quincy.

The labors of Senator Douglas in the recent canvass in Illinois were almost equal to the labors of Hercules. It seems that he addressed his constituents in fifty-seven counties, and met his opponent in debate, once in each Congressional district.

The Memphis Advocate states that James B. Clay has sold the residence of Henry Clay, at Andover, for two hundred thousand acres of Texas land.

A dissolute white man was recently sold in Louisville, (Ky.) in front of the Court House, under the vagrant act, for one dollar.

Napoleon's funeral car, made use of at St. Helena, has arrived at Paris from England, in charge of Sir J. Burgoyne, and was received with distinguished honors, in the name of the Emperor, as a testimony of Her Majesty's desire to efface the poignant remembrances of St. Helena, and as a pledge of the friendship which unites the two nations.

The new steam sloop-of-war Hartford has been successfully launched at the Navy Yard in Charleston, on Monday last, with some two hundred persons on board, a fair proportion of whom were ladies.

Adams Bailey, a gentleman well known from his official connection of forty-two and a half years with the Boston Custom House, died the present week, in that city, after an illness of about three months.

The Georgia Legislature has in contemplation the enacting of a statute to prevent the use of any Latin phrase in any of the Legislative acts of that State.

Every man in China must pay up his debts at the beginning of the year, and also at the time of a religious festival, about the middle of the year. If unable to settle at these times, his business stops until his debts are paid.

The Postmaster General has received from the owners of the Astor House, New York, a proposition to sell that building for a site for the City Post Office.

A white man, for enticing and persuading slaves to run away from Dorchester county, (Md.) has been sentenced to the Penitentiary for forty-five years.

The Board of Aldermen of the city of Boston have passed an order to expend one thousand dollars, for the purpose of flooding the Parade Ground on the Common, so that it can be used for skating purposes.

The influenza is quite prevalent in the vicinity of Boston at the present time. The extent of the disease is attributed to the recent unseasonable cold weather.

A little girl, six years of age, died in Hartford (Ct.) lately, from a fit induced by drinking rum left in her way by her father.

A fellow in New York city, who lives in a cellar, has five wives, all of whom sleep in the same apartment, and occupy one bed.

MEASURING COAL. The Philadelphia papers state that the plan of measuring coal to verify its weight is effecting a reform in the retail coal trade of that city. Coal put into bins and levelled can be measured from one to ten thousand tons, with as much accuracy as it can be weighed on scales. For instance, Lehigh white ash coal, per ton of two thousand pounds, of egg or stove size, will uniformly measure thirty-four and a half feet cubical, while white ash Schuylkill coal will measure thirty-five; and the pink, gray and red ash will reach thirty-nine cubical feet per ton of two thousand pounds, or forty feet for two thousand two hundred forty pounds, the difference of cubical contents between a net and gross ton being exactly four feet. The length, breadth and height of the bin multiplied together, and divided by the aforementioned contents of a net, the quotient must show the number of tons therein.

HIGH TIDE. The tide, during the present week, was higher in this vicinity than it has been since the storm which destroyed Minot's Ledge Light, in Boston, wharves were overflowed and many cellars flooded. At New York, the tide was very high.

FIRE IN COHASSET. We are informed that the Depot at Cohasset was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Insured at Quincy Mutual for $2500, and Weymouth Mutual, $2000.

Special Notices.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.

Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon. In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall. Mr. E. S. Wheeler will speak to-morrow, forenoon and afternoon. Quincy, Nov. 27. 1w

Winter Caps for men and boys—new styles and fresh stock at C. Gill & Co's.

At C. Gill & Co's may be found a full assortment of heavy and light Rubber Boots, Shoes and Sandals, for men, women and children, warranted of the best quality, and which, considering the great rise in the prices of these goods, they will sell at low prices.

Children's heavy and light Boots, Booties, and Brogans, Misses' cloth and leather Boots; Women's fine serge kid and goat Boots; Men's calf, kip and cowhide Boots, calf congress, calf and fine and heavy kip Brogans, making a complete and excellent assortment of goods of stock and manufacture for the prices, as can be afforded by any dealer in Boot and Shoe stock, at C. Gill & Co's.

Men's heavy double sole calf congress Boots. A first rate article, sold by C. Gill & Co.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION. Just published by FEDERHEN & Co., Booksellers and Stationers, No. 13 Court Street, Boston, a Brief Treatise of 48 pages, on Diseases of the Sexual System of both sexes—their symptoms and treatment—prepared by a physician of the "Boston Eclectic Hospital." This work also contains a scorching exposure of the deception and imposture practiced by advertising quacks, with some of their names and locations. Sold by periodical dealers generally. Sent by mail, on the receipt of three postage stamps. Address Box 1802, Boston Post Office. Feb. 27. 1y

Marriages.

In this town on Thanksgiving day, by Rev. J. Paulson, Mr. Wm. W. Penniman to Miss Eliza A. Gould, both of Q.

In Dorchester on the 21st inst., by Rev. Mr. Allen, Mr. Frederick A. Nickerson to Miss Esther R. Bryan, all of D.

In Bridgewater, on the 24th inst., by Rev. Mr. Wilcox, Mr. Charles P. Tirrell of this town, to Miss Laura F. Dunbar of the former place.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 21st inst., Mr. John Holden, Jr., aged 59 years.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

T. Dodds Has received a Fresh Supply OF

THAT CABLE CLOTH!! Those that were disappointed in getting some of the other, can now be supplied. Quincy, Nov. 27. 2w

Quincy Loan Fund Association. The regular monthly meeting, will be held at the Lyceum Room, on WEDNESDAY Evening, December 1st, at 7 o'clock.

Cash on hand for the redemption of shares, fifteen hundred dollars. LOUIS CONGDON, Sec'y. Quincy, Nov. 27. 1w

Money Wanted.

J. F. BURRELL has just received a lot of Men's Thick Sole Calf Congress Boots, which he is selling for $1.75 per pair.

You can get a pair of French Calf Boots, made to fit your foot, FOR $4.00. Quincy, Nov. 6. 1f

India Rubber Boots, Shoes, &c.

NOTWITHSTANDING the great advance in the prices of India Rubber Boots and Shoes,

HENRY A. HALL & CO.

being headquarters for every variety of India Rubber and Gutta Percha goods, will sell these indispensable articles, all warranted first quality, until further notice at the following low rates: Men's Heavy Boots per pair $3.37 " Light " " " 2.25 " Light and Heavy Overboots 75 " Ladies' do. do. do. do. 56 " Ladies' Long Boots 1.50 " Misses' do. do. 1.25 " Misses' Overboots and Sandals 46 " Children's do. do. 33 " Boys' Boots 2.25 " Youths' do. 1.50 " Fishermen's Boots, extra heavy and wide, 4.00 " Men's Wool-Lined Mittens 50

ALSO—India Rubber Soles and Cement, of superior quality.

WAREHOUSE, 146 CONGRESS ST. Boston, Nov. 20. 6w

Notice.

THE copartnership, (if any,) now or heretofore existing between the subscriber and John Bauman Jr., and John S. Lyons is dissolved.

WILLIAM TORREY. Boston, Nov. 20th 1858. 3w

REMOVAL.

Joseph Moran, Tailor, RESPECTFULLY informs his friends, the Inhabitants of Quincy, and the public generally, that he has removed from Goodnow's Building, corner of Hancock and Granite streets, to the corner of Hancock Street and College Avenue, Opposite Pantons' Currying Shop.

He warrants to supply his customers with all kinds of Garments on the

MOST REASONABLE TERMS.

BEST AND NEWEST STYLES.

He also pledges himself to FIT, in any Style of Garment, as he has had no misfit since his commencement in business.

Call and Give Him a Trial. 40 Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscribers would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity, that they have taken the Quincy Bake-House, and intend carrying on the baking business in all its branches—adhering strictly to the Cash system—and hope by manufacturing the

Best Quality of Bread

to merit the patronage of the Citizens of this and the neighboring towns.

Trout & Glover.

Quincy, Oct. 16. 1f

Sulphate of Lime.

OVERS of good Cider who wish to preserve their Cider through the season in Casks, can do so by the use of Sulphate of Lime, the substance recently discovered by Prof. Howard of Cal. bridge, to possess such powerful antiseptic qualities. The chemical can be obtained at the store of

C. C. JOHNSON, Druggist and Apothecary, corner of HANCOCK AND GRANITE STREETS. Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Vests, (Custom Made) T. DODDS.

Quincy, Oct. 31. 1f

Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Neck Ties

etc., etc., etc.

JOSEPH W. LOMBARD

Has just received a large assortment of Buck Gloves, from 37 to $1.50. Also—Driving Gloves, at low prices.

Neck Ties, Stocks, False Bosoms, White Shirts, Blue Silk Handkerchiefs, from 75 cents to $1.62.

Quincy Nov. 13. 1f

C.C. JOHNSON,

Druggist and Apothecary,

GOODNOW'S BUILDING,

CORNER of Hancock and Granite streets.

Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Articles, Perfumery, Havana Cigars, Foreign Fruits and Swedish Liqueurs.

Physicians' Prescriptions, Carefully compounded, with neatness, accuracy and dispatch, and warranted of the purest quality. Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a copartnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,

and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.

Small as well as large jobs thankfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT, CHARLES E. POPE. Quincy, Oct. 9. 3w

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest notice. Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited. DAVID E. ROBY. Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

For Sale.

1000 EXCELLENT POSTS AND RAILS.

Also—50 cords of Oak and Walnut WOOD.

Apply to JEREMIAH NIGHTINGALE. Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Cabinet Manufactory

AND COFFIN WAREHOUSE.

CHARLES H. KIMBALL,

Successor to W. M. French,

HAVING bought of Mr. French the Stock, Tools, and Machinery, &c., of the old Established Cabinet Factory and Coffin Ware Rooms, corner of Hancock and Temple streets is now prepared to receive orders in all its Branches; manufacturing new, or

REPAIRING OLD FURNITURE TO LOOK NEARLY AS WELL AS NEW,

or in manufacturing Counters, &c.

He would also say to the patrons of the Old Stand that he intends to keep on hand

An Assortment of Coffins,

varying in Size and Material; holding himself in readiness to meet the views of the community, in this particular branch at all times.

Having for the last twelve years served in this capacity under Mr. French, he feels confident that by attention to business, to meet with success, and supply the wants of Quincy and vicinity.

Quincy, Oct. 23. 1f

Kitchen Furnishing Articles.

A NEW STORE, for the sale of the above, has been opened at 29 SCHOOL STREET, near City Hall, Boston, where may be found the best assortment of useful articles in the city.

At prices 25 per cent. less than usual charges.

BROWN & CO. Boston, Nov. 6. 2w

J. W. LOMBARD

Having replenished his Stock for

FALL & WINTER

DESIRES to invite the public generally to call and examine his Stock—which he has selected with care—which consists in part of Pilot Cloth, Beavers, Doeskins, Kerseymeres, Velvet and Satin Vestings.

Over Coats, Ready Made, from 8 to $10.

Business Coats, Ready Made, from 6 to $8.

Ready Made Pants from 2 25 to $5 50.

Gentlemen Furnishing their own Cloths can have their Garments made with care.

Quincy, Nov. 13. 1f

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS. QUINCY, Nov. 13th, 1858.

TAKEN on execution and will be sold at public sale, on FRIDAY, the seventeenth day of December next at two o'clock, in the afternoon, on the premises, all the right in equity which Bartholomew Donahue had on the fifth day of April last, at thirty minutes past two o'clock, P. M., being the time when the same was attached on mesne process, of redeeming the following described mortgaged real estate, to-wit:—

A certain lot of Land situated in Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, with the buildings thereon, bounded Southerly on a private way, laid out by S. R. & C. H. Edwards, there measuring thirteen rods more or less, Easterly on Land of Daniel Baxter, fourteen rods more or less, and Northerly on Land of Daniel Ford and Land of John Coffey, there measuring about twelve rods.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff. Quincy, Nov. 13. 2w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Marine, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

SOLOMON TORREY,

And all persons having claims against the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

SETH ADAMS, Administrator, Quincy, Oct. 20, 1858. 3w

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS.

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hanover street, and made additions thereto, is prepared to accommodate his friends with public with

Horses and Carriages.

ASURE PARTIES furnished with teams (wheeled, or single carriages, at the shortest notice, and at the lowest rates.

Special attention given to the business, and a support from the public solicited.

DAVID E. ROBY.

Nov. 12.

For Sale.

EXCELLENT POSTS AND RAILS.

20 cords of Oak and Walnut WOOD.

Apply to

JEREMIAH NIGHTINGALE.

Nov. 12.

Cabinet Manufactory

AND

COFFIN WAREHOUSE.

CHARLES H. KIMBALL,

Successor to W. M. French,

Having bought of Mr. French the Stock, Tools, Good-Will, &c., of the old Establishment, and having taken possession of the same, he is prepared to receive orders in all its branches, and to execute them with promptness and accuracy.

BRING OLD FURNITURE TO LOOK NEARLY AS WELL AS NEW.

Manufacturing Counters, &c.

would also say to the patrons of the Old that he intends to keep on hand

An Assortment of Coffins,

in Size and Material; holding himself out to meet the views of the community, in particular branch at all times.

For the last twelve years served in this under Mr. French, he feels confident of his ability to meet with success the wants of Quincy and Vicinity.

Oct. 23.

Kitchen Furnishing Articles.

NEW Store, for the sale of the above, has been opened at 25 SCHOOL STREET, City Hall, Boston, where may be found the assortment of useful articles in the city.

At prices 25 per cent. less than usual charges.

BROWN & CO.

Nov. 6.

J. W. LOMBARD

Having replenished his Stock for

FALL & WINTER

SHIRTS to invite the public generally to call and examine his Stock, which he has with care—consists in part of

Not Cloth, Beavers, Doeskins, Symers, Velvet and Satin Vestings.

Coats, Ready Made, from $8 to $10.

Coats, Ready Made, from $6 to $8.

Coats, Ready Made, from $2 to $5.50.

Home Furnishing their own Cloths and Garments made with care.

Nov. 12.

Sheriff's Sale.

VOLK, SS. QUINCY, Nov. 12th, 1858.

TAKEN execution and will be sold at public Auction, on FRIDAY, the seventeenth day of December next at two o'clock in the afternoon, at the premises, all the right in equity

Bartholomew Dunbar had on the fifth day of last, at thirty minutes past twelve o'clock, being the time when the same was at

on mortgage, of redeeming the following mortgaged real estate, to wit:—

Lot of Land situated in Quincy, in County of Norfolk, with the buildings thereon, bounded Southerly on a private way, laid out by C. H. Edwards, there measuring four rods more or less, Easterly on Land of Baxter, fourteen rods more or less, and westerly on Land of Daniel Ford and Land of office, there measuring about twelve rods.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.

Nov. 12.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Estate of

SOLOMON TORREY.

Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Massachusetts, and has accepted and taken upon him the duties of said office, and will receive all claims against the Estate, and pay all claims due to the Estate, on MONDAY, the fourth day of December next, at two o'clock in the afternoon, at the premises, all the right in equity

Bartholomew Dunbar had on the fifth day of last, at thirty minutes past twelve o'clock, being the time when the same was at

on mortgage, of redeeming the following mortgaged real estate, to wit:—

Lot of Land situated in Quincy, in County of Norfolk, with the buildings thereon, bounded Southerly on a private way, laid out by C. H. Edwards, there measuring four rods more or less, Easterly on Land of Baxter, fourteen rods more or less, and westerly on Land of Daniel Ford and Land of

office, there measuring about twelve rods.

SETH ADAMS, Administrator.

Nov. 12.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS.

VEN by virtue of an Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the fourth day of December next, at two o'clock in the afternoon, at the premises, all the right in equity

Bartholomew Dunbar had on the fifth day of last, at thirty minutes past twelve o'clock, being the time when the same was at

on mortgage, of redeeming the following mortgaged real estate, to wit:—

Lot of Land situated in Quincy, in County of Norfolk, with the buildings thereon, bounded Southerly on a private way, laid out by C. H. Edwards, there measuring four rods more or less, Easterly on Land of Baxter, fourteen rods more or less, and westerly on Land of Daniel Ford and Land of

office, there measuring about twelve rods.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.

Nov. 12.

Burnett's Cocaine.

Preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. Thomson's Lustrate. The German Toilet, and various other hair preservatives, for

Nov. 26.

Fresh Tamarinds.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Oct. 16.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Nov. 12.

Poetry.

Where There's a Will There's a Way.

We have faith in old proverbs full surely,
For Wisdom has traced what they tell,
And Truth may be drawn up as purely
From them, as it may from a "well."
Let us question the thinkers and doers,
And hear what they honestly say,
And you'll find they believe like bold wooers,
In "Where there's a will there's a way."

The hills have been high for Man's mounting,
The woods have been dense for his axe;
The stars have been thick for his counting,
The sands have been wide for his tracks;
The sea has been deep for his diving,
The poles have been broad for his way,
But bravely he's proved in his striving,
That "Where there's a will there's a way."

Have you vices that ask a destroyer?
Or passions that need your control?
Let Reason become your employer,
And your body be ruled by your soul.
Fight on, though ye bleed in the trial,
Resist with all strength that ye may—
Ye may conquer Sin's host by denial,
For "Where there's a will there's a way."

Have ye Poverty's pinching to cope with?
Does suffering weigh down your might?
Only call up a spirit to hope with,
And down may come evil of the night.
Oh! much may be done by the night,
The ghosts of Despair and Dismay,
And much may be gained by relying
On "Where there's a will there's a way."

Should you see afar off that worth winning,
Set out on the journey with trust;
And ne'er heed if your path at beginning
Should be among brambles and dust;
Though it is but by footstep ye do it,
And hardships may hinder and stay,
Keep a heart, and be sure you'll get through it,
For "Where there's a will there's a way."

The Bachelor's Burial.

Two old maid, at shut of day,
A bachelor's carcass here away,
With wrinkled brow and matted hair,
And heart that never loved the fair.

Bring briars, they groaned, bring weeds unblown,
Bring rakes of weeds of name unknown,
Bring weathered boughs from dreary wild,
To strew the bier of error's child;

And make his grave where the lizard hides,
Where nightshade strews the swamp-creek side,
For out of sight where gentle spring
Shall send no gentle birds to sing

His old jack-knife lay with him low,
To cut the strings of Cupid's bow;
The sad house-cat shall whine around
His lonely grave in grief profound.

Here lay him who was often "high,"
Here, where shall fall no pitying eye,
For him—for him no loving heart
Shall ache, for him no tear shall start.

His bloodless lips shall fall to dust;
His old jack-knife shall waste with rust;
He whom we hide from light of men,
Shall never fight the babes again.

For we have laid him from the light,
Beneath the ground and out of sight;
But this epigraph shall stand—
"He who to no one gave his hand."

The Drinker and the Bottle.

DRINKER TO THE BOTTLE.
You long-necked devil,
Don't you look evil?
One would suppose,
You eschewed all evil.

Black at the bottom,
Black at the rim,
Black all over,
Hell fire within.

Silently watching,
Looking demure,
Waiting to snarl up
The simon pure!

BOTTLE'S REPLY.
None of your whining,
I'll pose I don't know
You'd cease to lecture
Before you go!

Don't Mr. Drinker,
Need you be told,
While you are waiting
To take a hold!

Need I remind you,
That when you buy me,
That you that's sold!
"Tis you that's sold!

Down with your quarter,
That is the price;
Once that you've tried me,
Sure of you've tried me.

DRINKER TO HIS COMPANION.
There's wit in that devil
Let him alone!
The more that you know him,
The less he is known.

Anecdotes.

May I leave a few tracts, asked a colporteur of an elderly lady who responded to his knock.
Leave some tracts—certainly you may, said she, looking at him most benignly over her spectacles, but leave them heels towards the house, if you please.

A ragged individual was saluted by a little urchin thus:
I say, you, sir, don't you belong to the army?
No! was the indignant reply.
Well, said the boy, I thought that you did, as you are out under arms.

A nobleman having given a grand party, his tailor was among the company, and was thus addressed by his lordship:
My dear sir, I remember your face, but forget your name.

The tailor whispered in a low tone:
I make your breeches.
The nobleman taking him by the hand, exclaimed:
Major Bridges, I am happy to see you.

RICH'S PATENT

IRON BEAM PLOW.

J. WADSWORTH JR.
South Weymouth,
Is Agent for the County of Norfolk,
FOR THE SALE OF THIS PLOW.

Will visit the various parts of the County during the first of April. Plows delivered in any part of the County free of charge. Terms, cash on delivery.

Weights and Prices.
Old Dominion, 3 horse, 135 lbs. price, $13 50
C. No. 1, 2 horse, 125 " " 12 00
Washington, No. 2, 2 horse, 110 " " 11 00
D. Improved, 90 " " 9 00
E. Corn Plow, 1 horse, 60 " " 5 00
F. Corn Plow, 1 horse, 40 " " 4 00
Double Mould Board, 40 " " 4 75
Side Hill and Level Land 100 " " 10 00
Either of the Plows weighing 100 pound or upwards, with an extra point, 50 cents more; under 100 weight, 38 cents.
Weymouth April 3

GEO. R. FRENCH,

Engraver and Plate Printer.

257 Washington, near Winter st., - Boston
Particular attention given to the Engraving and Printing of—

Invitation, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.

A LONG and practical experience in this particular branch, warrants me in saying that persons about ordering Cards of any description, will study their interests by calling, sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, at prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Maps, Diplomas, Labels, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c., &c., engraved or printed at short notice.

Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.
Orders by mail, express, or otherwise, promptly attended to.
Boston, Feb 20

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers a large stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Bailey's Farina, Cracked Wheat, Sugar, Tapioca, Oat-flour, Corn Starch, Broom, &c. &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. &c. Shalimar, Balm, and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Bells, patent Nursing Shields, Teats, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horsehair Mitts, Flesh Brushes, &c., &c.

Fresh European Receipts always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington street, near Stone Temple. Quincy, Nov. 1.

Hall's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting or purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease, regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secretions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and correct tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and restores and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scald Head, Tumor, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever Sore, White Swelling, Dropsy, Bells, Boils, Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all other eruptions of the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other human remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness and Derangement of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness and Headache.

It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness and Headache.

It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.

Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders must be addressed. Sold also by Red line & Co. No. 8 State street; Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99 Union street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT.
Quincy, Dec. 13.

Neat's Foot Oil.

OF the best quality, for sale low by
D. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 27.

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Feb 28

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

Boots and Shoes.

ELBRIDGE CLAPP has just received a full assortment of Boots and Shoes, suitable for the season, which he will sell at the VERY LOWEST PRICES.
Give him a call soon.
A lot of Boots and Shoes slightly shop worn are offered Very Cheap.
Quincy, July 31.

GROCERIES, FLOUR,

AND PROVISIONS!

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the Inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a

Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store, which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices. A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound.

200 Tons of prime dried Butter.
200 Bushels of Cheanago and Long Red Potatoes.
All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.

Goods delivered to any part of the Town free of expense.
J. VINAL,
at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers,
Quincy, Oct. 27.

Salt Pork.

4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Sept. 27.

Salt Pork.

FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers. Cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK.

FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price.
J. VINAL,
Quincy, Jan. 10.

Are you Nervous?

DODD'S NERVE is a positive tonic to nervous system. It produces a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—alleviates irritation—induces quiet and refreshing sleep. It contains NO OPIUM or other morbid ingredients. It is a safe and reliable remedy for Nervous Diseases, No. 30, Boston, Mass.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent.
Quincy, June 26.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan, Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples.

2000 POUNDS for sale cheap for cash
DANIEL BAXTER & Co.
Quincy, March 25.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
HAYDEN returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stearns's Store, No. 30, State St.

JOHN'S BUILDING.
Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of Gold and Silver Watches.

Feb, Curb and Vest Chains, LOCKETS, Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS, Gents' Pins and Studs, FINGER RINGS, Together with a large assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. Coffee Plates Engraved—25¢
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. Coffee Plates Engraved—25¢
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. Coffee Plates Engraved—25¢
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. Coffee Plates Engraved—25¢
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. Coffee Plates Engraved—25¢
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. Coffee Plates Engraved—25¢
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

To Boot and Shoe

MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Doan's, finished especial Black, Brown and Dark Calfs for Congress shoes, all wool, Italian do. Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Black Brown and Dark Felings, for snow shoes. Lastings, all wool, Italian do. Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Rubber Garter Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes, all colors and sizes.

Root and Congress Webs, from 1 in. to 1 1/2 in. new style.

Galaxy, Black and colors, 1/2 and 3/4 in. widths. Shoe Ducks; Congress and Lion Canvas. Shos Ribbons, Rosetts, and Sandal Web.

Yakets, Cords, Shoe Laces and Strings, all sizes and lots. Shoe Butters of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads, Of the well known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Brogans, Shoes and Congress Webs, from No. 18 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black, Gray, Green, Yellow and W. Brown, in Hanks, Balls and Spools, for sewing, closing stitching, binding, straps and counters, top stitching and under threads. Also Shoe Threads.

Seal Island Hank Cotton, Blacks, Colored, Unbleached and White. Linen and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DEX & Co.,
Quincy, June 19.

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH SOAP.
For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE and SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURNS, Itching, and all medicinal purposes where a Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL,
Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.
C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent
Price—25 cents per cake.
Sold by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Aug 22

New Stock and New Styles!

PAPER HANGINGS.
HAVING a desire to accommodate many of our patrons, we have added to our former variety of Goods, an entirely

New and beautiful Stock of Paper Hangings, Borders, and Curtains, &c. &c. COMPREHENSIVE 100 PATTERNS! manufactured from the best paper and in the highest perfection of colors and styles.

Our assortment will always be kept good, and we shall spare no efforts to give the best satisfaction to the taste of all who wish to paper their rooms with attractive and pleasing patterns, on good paper and in good colors.

Our prices will range lower than is usual with the same quality and styles in Boston, but we shall engage in no mean underestimating any of our neighbors, our object being to present an additional inducement for the Quincy people to bestow their patronage upon their own traders, and find themselves suited in every respect as well or better than in any other City.

Builders of new houses will be supplied on the most favorable terms.

C. GILL & CO.,
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy March 27

Salt!! Salt!! JUST received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for Hay.

Balsam, Plaster, &c. DR. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam

Dr. Saml B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—For sale by Quincy, Aug. 22 Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

THE Subscriber now offers for sale his new Store the most extensive assortment of BUILDING MATERIALS to be found at any store in New England. Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from ten to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE.

Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale:
DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—pointed or unpainted.
GLASS—all sizes, STAIR POSTS, RAILS and BALUSTERS, NAILS, LEAD & ZINC.
HARDWARE and CARPENTER'S TOOLS in great variety.

Burn Doors, Rollers and Rods for top or bottom of doors; Patent Sash Locks, Self-shut Gate Hinges and Fast; Blind Hinges and Fast; improved; Door Springs and Weather Strips; Window Weights, Lines and Fast; Window Frames made to order; Weather Vane for Churches, Bells; Hatter, Draft and Tye Chains; House Bells, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent BEE HIVES, &c. &c. &c.

Goods sold will be delivered at the Railroad Station here free of charge; or at any other place for a fair compensation.
Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited.
JOHN O. FOYE,
Weymouth Landing, May 16.

DR. S. STOCKING,

DENTAL SURGEON

No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs.)
Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street, BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing, regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what are called modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty years of close application to the duty of the profession he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental efforts, whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, though honest in their intentions, and striving in their efforts, must be attributed, either to their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are based, or the want of experience and ingenuity to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth—a process of great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item connected with the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be imperfectly filled, and even ruined—artificial ones may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made—but neither life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so in the administration of ether. It is an agent that should be confined to the care and control of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though a little more convenient for the patient, is a gross error, and one that has caused the death of many. The natural consequence of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness. If nothing worse, during etherization, with a depressing headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr. J. H. B. STOCKING, who gives special attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth, preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets.

Boston, May 22

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
William Porter, Cohasset,
Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,
William B. Duggan, Hingham,
Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
Boston, South Hingham,
Albert Thompson, Alfred Loring,
Royal W. Turner, Sumner A. Hayward,
South Braintree, Barnstable,
Apollus Randall, George Marston, Dedham, Jonathan A. Cobb,

References, by permission:
Hos. GEORGE F. BIGELOW, of Boston,
Hos. JOSHUA QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,
Hos. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,
Hos. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph,
Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,
Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy, JOSHUA BRIGHAM, Esq., of

OFFICE:
Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple
April 1.

National Police Gazette.
THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.)
GEO. W. MATHILL & CO.,
Editors & Proprietors of the National Police Gazette.
New York City, Apr 25

Attention. The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE!

DOORS, SASHES, &c. &c., Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of BUILDING MATERIALS, we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!! We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS, NAILS, SHEET LEAD, FRAMING PINS, WINDOW FRAMES, DOOR BELLS, SCREWS, &c. &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety. ALSO—Pa d, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks; MORTICE, THUMB and PEOPLE'S PATENT LOCKS;—in a great Variety.

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs; BLAKE'S BUTTS, AND AXLE PULLEYS.

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds. Wrought, Fancy Plate, STRAP, BLIND, AND THINGES; SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS; Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crown's Improved Blind Fast. Also—A great Variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter, The best thing ever used in the place of weights; DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER. DON'T FORGET AT THE OLD STAND OF BAILEY, CARVER & CO., SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing, SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BL

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE

DOORS.
SASHES, &c. &c.,
Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon
Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of
BUILDING MATERIALS,
we are prepared to furnish them at prices to cor-
respond with the times.
CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound,
DOORS,
SASHES,
BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS,
SCREWS,
&c., &c.

PORTICE LOCKS—in a great variety.
1.50—Pa d, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash
locks.

Locks;
PORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S
LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;
BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE PULLEYS,
good assortment of Rings of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND THINGIES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's
improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of job Fastenings.

Forster's Patent Window Supporter,
the best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET
AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23. if

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,
SUCH AS

POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,
BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,
AND EVERY VARIETY OF

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY
PRINTING,
Daily Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office.

WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—BY THE WAY—

LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852. if

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counselor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of
MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-
MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.
July 26. if

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,

on No. 5, Webster Bank Building,
Exchange Street, —BOSTON—

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.
July 20. if

SEASONED LUMBER,
descriptions, at prices to suit the times.

DIMENSION FRAMES,
Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand.
50—Good Pine Wood at $6 a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.
Quincy, May 8. if

al, Lime, Brick and Sand,
—with a good assortment of—

SEASONED LUMBER,
partly on hand, and for sale by the subscriber Quincy Canal Wharf.

NATHANIEL WHITE.
July, April 10. if

Pure Cider Vinegar.
10 GALLONS PURE CIDER VIN-EGAR, made on the farm formerly of B. V. French, now in store, and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, by

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Aug. 15. if

Foot and Shoe Findings.
ST received and for sale low, a lot of Boe Foot and Shoe Findings, &c., by
H. VINAL.

Quincy, Sept 18. if

BURNS, &c.
ES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, eczema, chilblains, &c., &c.

For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept 18. if

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4th, 1858.

NUMBER XLIX.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if
delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged
until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid, will receive early attention.

AGENTS.
The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BUCK.
Barnstable, ORIN P. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Communications.
Editorial Correspondence.

Boston, November 24th, 1858.

City Election—State Legislature—Meeting of Congress—Omens of the next Presidential Election—California and Foreign News.

Our political circles in the City are in active motion on the subject of the municipal election, which takes place the second Monday of December next. A host of gentlemen has been named as candidates for Mayor; and no wonder, for it is an honorable office, worth some four thousand dollars per annum, with large patronage. With some,
a straight party nomination is advocated. —
Many of the friends of temperance strongly urge this course. The Republican party incline that way. The Democrats have not yet published their programme. The opponents of the Maine Liquor Law are well organized, and, on this issue, would throw a large vote. The liquor interest is mighty in Boston, commanding a quarter of the twenty-two thousand voters. It is probable that Mayor Lincoln and a mixed ticket for Alderman will be elected. The Common Council, forty-eight in number or four from each ward, will be composed of a sprinkling of all parties.

Our State Legislature meets the first Wednesday in January next, and is largely Republican in all branches. The chances of Charles Hale, Esq., of the Boston Advertiser, for Speaker, seem at the present time flattering to him. He would fill the chair with ability. Among the knowing ones it seems generally conceded the session will be short, notwithstanding some great reforms are contemplated, as the abolition of the State Tax &c. But, as an offset to this, the long wished Report of the Commissioners, for consolidating and arranging the Statutes of the Commonwealth, will be made early in January, and in their adoption, rejection, or modification may keep the great and General Court together until the flowers of June bloom.

General Wilson will doubtless be re-elected to the United States Senate for six years, and in the event of Mr. Sumner's resignation, either Gov. Banks or Ex-Gov.
Boutwell for the unexpired term.

Congress convenes a week from next Monday, and will close its labors on the fourth of March next. Its proceedings will be watched with interest.

A new feature is to be given to the presidential election of 1860, and old political lines obliterated. Of all men in the political constellation of American statesmen, the star of Senator Douglas, with his popular sovereignty views, now shines brightest.

And he, of himself, can create a party that would have no small hold on the leading strings of the next presidential election. He is at war with Mr. Buchanan's administration, and it would be hard for the southern wing of the Democratic party to concede to his views, whom they have denounced as a renegade;—and to take the back track in his favor, would be the most gracious condescension. On the other hand, the Republicans claim his state and territorial sovereignty doctrines as homogeneous with theirs; but many of that growing, free state party await the future movements of Mr. Douglas, before they give him their adhesion. Thus the matter stands, and before the Ides of March, as father Ritchie used to say, "we shall see what we shall see."

The latest advices from California, eight-teen days since, assure us of the return of good times in that distant but growing State of the Union. The news is most cheering.

European intelligence up to the moment of my writing indicate unusual prosperity in the old countries. The business re-action will soon be realized in our own New England, and the ensuing year promises a healthy one to enterprise.

Miscellaneous.

For the Patriot.

IDA WOODFORD; OR,
Love shines Brightest amid the Darkness.

BY BLANCHE HERVEY.

CHAPTER I.

The lights were gleaming brightly from the windows of many a spacious mansion on one of the most aristocratic squares of Philadelphia, on a cold, bitter night in January, when carriages, drawn by their impatient horses, whirled rapidly through the streets, and foot passengers wrapped their garments more closely around them as they hurried through the gathering gloom.

Strikingly in contrast with the scene without was the small boudoir and dressing-room of one of the most splendid residences on Franklin square. The room, as a small silver light shed its rays over the delicate tapestry, pictures, and statuettes, shows rare elegance and taste. The soft carpet yielding to the pressure of the light foot was a delicate fawn hue, intermingled with rosebuds and green leaves of almost living freshness; the windows were hung with pale pink silk, rendered still softer by their draping of rich white lace, paintings of old masters, and exquisite gems of sculpture were tastefully arranged, while the perfume of rare exotics floated through the air, and the song of the pet canary greeted one as from a tropic clime.

On a low ottoman sat a young girl reading.
A more truly beautiful girl than Ida Woodford one seldom meets—clear, strong, intellect spoke from the eyes and forehead, tempered to womanly tenderness by the soft lines of the smiling mouth and rounded chin.
The full dark eyes, shaded by still darker lashes, flashed sometimes with fire, then overflowed with tears, as she caught the inspiration of her author. The glossy curls of her dark hair were turned about her head, fastened by a silver comb, and the rich winter robe disclosed a form of perfect symmetry.

Come, Ida dear, said the soft voice of a lady, who sat in the adjoining dressing-room, which opened from the boudoir, I fear you will not be dressed for the party.

She sat before the glowing fire, while a servant was plaiting the soft brown hair; her age was perhaps thirty-five, yet in the prime of woman's loveliness.

The bright fire-light fell upon her face, showing a fair complexion, soft blue eyes, and a brow as fair as early girlhood. And life had, indeed, been one of uninterrupted happiness to Mary Woodford.

Come, my love, said the mother to the young girl, who still perused her book.

Yes, mamma, said Ida, approaching, but I had much rather read these old German poets than go to Mrs. St. Clair's brilliant parties.

What if we could bring to life some of these old authors for a husband for Ida? said Mrs. Woodford, smiling.

A truce to your "badinage," dear mother;
I love these old authors for their deep and holy thoughts, because they raise me above this life to one purer and higher, nearer heaven and God.

Her mother was silent—for this fashionable worldling understood little of her daughter's enthusiastic, poetical mind.

And these are my dresses? said the young girl, turning to the window.

Upon a snowy couch lay beautiful dresses,
some of thick texture of silk and velvet, others of soft and delicate tissues, blue and silver sashes, fine French flowers and tiny slippers, with pearl and diamonds enough to have decked a bevy of fair maidens.

Ida carelessly turned them over, selecting those she wished, and sat down to submit the glossy curls to the skilful fingers of Annette, and in a few moments stood before her mother. Very beautiful was she in her robe of snowy satin, and light illusion skirt, a pearl necklace and bracelet, spanning her throat and arms, while a single white japonica mingled with the dark curls of her hair.

The mother gazed with loving eyes upon her noble daughter's face, and imprinting a kiss upon her brow, turned to the mirror, which reflected her own passive, yet still lovely face and form, in her jeweled head-dress and rich robe of black velvet.

Just then a servant entered saying, Mr.
Woodford had been home and was obliged to leave again, but had desired the carriage to be ordered for Mrs. Woodford and Ida, and he would meet them at Mrs. St. Clair's.

Very strange, murmured Mrs. W., very awkward! who missed the support of her husband's strong arm.

Unexpected business, undoubtedly, said
Ida; papa will meet us there.

And while the carriage bears away its fair burdens, let us glance at the history of the family. Henry Woodford was reputed one of the richest and most influential merchants in the city. Living in a style of princely magnificence, his society, and that of his brilliant wife and daughter, was sought by the elite of the city. He married in early life a belle and beauty, sweet Emma Clifton, but no fortune. Two children only had been born to them; a son, now in a neighboring college, and the young Ida of our story, a girl of eighteen. This was her first winter in society, and already had her beauty and station gained her many admirers; but, as yet, her heart was untouched.

CHAPTER II.

"Life is a strange, varying tissue, a web of many colors; sometimes the light shines on it and the threads are all golden, and then clouds before the sunlight give the web a leadens hue."

Lights were flashing with dazzling brightness in the gay saloon of fashion of the elegant Mrs. St. Clair. Gay strains of soft music floated on the evening air, to which light feet were dancing merrily, and soft words were uttered which made bright eyes gleam brightly, and young hearts beat with pleasure.

Conspicuous among all, for grace and beauty, stood Mrs. Woodford and Ida, whose hand had been sought for the dance by the most distinguished in the room. Dance after dance succeeded, until, weary with exertion, Ida withdrew from the gay circle of her admirers and wandered to the Conservatory, wondering what could have detained her father so late.

An undefinable presentiment of coming evil filled her soul; and passing to the window, where she was completely hidden by the heavy folds of the curtains, she looked forth on the calm, cold heavens with a sad foreboding glance.

Suddenly she was startled by the entrance of two gentlemen, who commenced speaking in low tones.

A forgery, Mowbray! Can it be true?
I fear it is, Mr. Clarks. It was whispered on 'Change, but with caution. It is said the house of Bartlett & Co. are involved to the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

But who could have been the villains?
I know not, but still circumstances are strongly against Woodford!

The very soul of honor—an upright man and merchant. Impossible! but hush, others are coming; and the two gentlemen passed out to make way for a gay group, who came to seek Ida to sing.

Come, Ida love, said the laughing Helen Mowbray—what are you playing recluses when every one is waiting for you, the very "queen of song?"

Ida stood as one paralyzed, by the conversation she had overheard, and yielding passively to her young friend, she was drawn unconsciously towards the music-room. She seated herself mechanically at the instrument, and passed her hands lightly over the keys, when, glancing towards the door, there stood her father, with pale, haggard face and disordered dress, with wildness in his eye.

The unusual sight, in the calm, dignified parent, corroborated all her fears, and with a low groan, she fainted.

The heat—dancing—was echoed, and they bore her to another room. She soon recovered, to find her father and mother bending over her in agony.

Let us go home, she said, in a low hollow tone, and in a few minutes the carriage was bearing them to their residence. It stopped at the gate; and as the footman opened the door two men stepped forward—I arrest you in the name of the Commonwealth, said the officers.

For what? shrieked Mrs. Woodford.
For forgery! It is said business, ma'am, said the officers.

Mrs. W. was borne fainting to the house, while Ida stood on the steps, her hands clapped, looked toward heaven for aid, as she saw her father hurried into a carriage by the two officers, and disappeared from her sight.

CHAPTER III.

"Ah! yes, it is when the storm and darkness come, woman's love shines brightest."

Come, bring my cloak, good Annette, and your black hood, which will conceal my face;
now get your shawl girl, take the lantern,
and follow me.

The cold night air sent a shiver through her frame as she stepped upon the sidewalk, and her face was deadly pale as the light of the street lamp fell upon it, but she hesitated not; and drawing her cloak more closely around her, pressed on through the deserted streets. The clock struck the hour of midnight; the watchman eyed them suspiciously, but allowed them to pass till they reached the city jail. The door was opened by the jailer at the ringing of the bell.

Can I see Mr. Woodford, my father? said

Ida, throwing back the hood from her face, slipping a piece of money into his hand.

It is against orders, Miss, but I cannot refuse you, said the man, as he led the way through the dark corridors to the cell. The door grated on its hinges, and Ida stood before her parent, as he leaned his head on the pine table in the gloomy room.

My father! said the weeping girl, and buried her face in his bosom.

Ida, how came you here at night? said Mr.
Woodford, as he pressed kisses on the fair cheek of his weeping child.

Tell me only one word, said the girl, drawing herself up proudly to her full height, tell your child, father, that you are "not guilty."

Never, in the whole course of his life, did the proud man feel so humbled as in the presence of the innocent girl, and his only reply was to bury his face in his hands. Ida turned away bitterly; could she believe that one whom from her childhood her soul had reverenced, could do a deed of wrong! It was a stern trial for her proud spirit; but immediately recalling herself, she flung her arms round her father's neck, and entreated his forgiveness. And there in the solitary prison, won by the caresses of his child, did Henry Woodford disclose the cause of his rash act
For years they had been living beyond their income; to gratify the tastes of his wife and child he had launched into a thousand extravagancies, until ruin stared him in the face—and then he had forged the names of his dearest friends, the Bartletts, hoping, in the intricacies of money, he might not be detected. But he felt even now, could money be procured, the Bartletts would save him before the matter became public. Where could such an amount be obtained?

Uncle Charles, said Ida, hopefully.

That is useless, darling. He never forgave my favoring Emma's marriage with Johnson.

Oh! yes, father, he has bitterly repented his harshness towards his dead child, and loves me because I am like her, I will go to him.

You know not Charles Woodford, Ida.

Trust me, said the young girl, as she glided from the cell.

Ida, I must go and get some, she said to the trembling servant, whom she now rejoined.

Oh! Miss Ida, remonstrated the girl.

Ida silenced her with a look, and spoke not till they reached her uncle's mansion in Arch street.

Tell Mr. Woodford a lady wishes to see him, she said to the servant who answered her ring.

He has not yet risen.

Then call him, said Ida imperatively.

She waited impatiently for many minutes in the dim morning twilight. Then the door opened, and her uncle stood before her.

Your business, Madam? said the old man bowing.

Ida replied by throwing back her hood and disclosing her face.

Ida Woodford, what has brought you here at this hour and in this disguise?

Ida sank on her knee before him, murmuring only one word, "Father," and in low smothered tones she there related her father's difficulties and guilt.

And what would you have me do? said
the old man sarcastically, as she concluded.
Henry Woodford has caused me sorrow enough already.

Oh! but he did it unmeaningly. Think, uncle, of my poor mother, of my brother and me; our father a forger! Oh! money, money is all I ask, and I would willingly be your slave for life.

Tush, girl, if Henry Woodford has disgraced his name and family we must bear it as best we can, and he must pay the penalty
of the law.

Ida turned away in despair, letting her cloak fall off, and disclosing her beautiful party dress, and the masses of her dark, damp hair falling over her snowy shoulders, as she turned again with streaming eyes to implore the old man's mercy. By the memory of your once loved Emma, now sleeping in the grave—by your darling wife, now an angel in Heaven, who is even now watching over us, grant my prayer Uncle Charles, and God will ever bless you!

Who could have resisted the lovely petitioner? No longer Charles Woodford, when he saw a face and figure almost the same as that of his injured daughter pleading where she had once plead, vainly; and he said,
"rise Ida, it shall be done! would your father were worthy so noble a child!" He passed to his writing table, and giving her a check for the required amount, hurried from the room to conceal his emotion. Ida grasped the paper convulsively; one more effort, her father would be free! and hurrying through the streets she gained the house of her father's friends, the Bartletts, whom he had now so deeply wronged. But when Ida stood before him, and related to him with all the earnest love of her young heart, of her night's work, it was not difficult for him to forgive his friend, and use every effort to secure his liberation.

And now when the joyful anticipations became certainty, the tried spirit could sustain itself no longer, and Ida sank fainting at his feet, to wake again and find her idolized parents bending over her with joyful hearts, clashed by the night's sorrow.

Prudence and careful attention to business
retrieved Henry Woodford's fallen fortunes.
Men never knew, when they spoke of the honorable merchant and upright Christian man, that he had once occupied a forger's cell, but through a long life never did he forget what he owed his devoted child; and when, in after years, he gave his treasure to the keeping of one so noble and upright as to be worthy of her he had won, he disclosed to her husband her act of love which saved him from a felon's doom, exalting her still more in the eyes of her husband, who received her as a holy gift from God, whose love would shine bright in hours of joy and gladness, still brighter and steadier in sorrow and gloom.

A Caution to Young Men.

A young medical student from Michigan, who had been attending lectures in New York for some time, and considered himself very good looking and fascinating, made a deadly onset on the heart and fortune of a blooming young lady who was boarding in the same house with him. After a prolonged siege the lady surrendered. They were married. The same afternoon the 'young wife' sent for and exhibited to the astonished student a 'beautiful little daughter,' three and a half years of age.

'Good heavens! then you were a widow,' exclaimed the astonished student.

'Yes, my dear, and this is Amelia, my youngest; to-morrow, Augustus, James and Reuben, will arrive from the country, and then I shall have all my children together once more.'

The unhappy student replied not a word;
his feelings were too deep for utterance. The next day the 'darlings' arrived. Reuben was six years old, James nine, and Augustus a sweet boy of seven. These were delivered to her by a 'new papa,' because they could now live at home and have all the play-things they wanted! The 'new papa,' as soon as he could speak, remarked that Augustus and James did not much resemble Reuben and Amelia.

'Well no,' said the happy mother; 'my first husband was quite a different style of man from my second—complexion, temperament, color of hair and eyes—all different.'

This was too much. He had not only married a widow, but was her third husband, and the astonished step father of her four children.

'But her fortune,' thought he, 'that will make amends.' He spoke of her fortune.

'These are my treasures,' says she, in the Roman matron style, pointing to her children.

The concert was now quite taken out of the Michigan student going down instead of up. The few persons in the street at that early hour were wonder-struck, and as one accosted another, it was to turn and gaze together at the strange and captivating sight.

Several, say five, more or less, were in the northern heavens at a time, and but for the impetuosity of the daylight, which seriously affected their brilliancy at the point of time up to which they had continued to increase in brightness, any one of the falling stars must have excelled in show anything we have seen in the sky during October evenings.

The most absurd and extravagant pictorial representations of the falling stars were published soon after; but the utmost exaggeration of the fancy, which seemed to be largely drawn upon by the artists, failed to give anything like a just idea of the real splendor of those long hours' display.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Dec 4th, 1858.

"BORN TO MASTER, OR NO SERVANT WE."

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS. Our Advertising friends are earnestly requested to hand in their favors before 10 o'clock on Friday, if they wish them to appear in the next day's issue.

APPOINTMENT. His Excellency Governor Banks, with advice of the Executive Council, has commissioned Charles A. Cummings, Esq., of this town, a Justice of the Peace, for and within the County of Norfolk. This is a good selection, and the appointee well qualified for the honorable position conferred upon him.

BURNT TO DEATH. Mrs. Elizabeth Penno, believed to be the oldest female resident of this town, residing with her son-in-law, John J. Carr, was accidentally burnt last Thursday. She was about eighty-eight years of age, and although left but a few minutes by her daughter, yet her clothes took fire, and before assistance could be rendered, she was so badly burnt that death soon followed.

SODDEN DEATH. We understand that Mr. Edward Ryan of this town, while at work at one of the stone quarries, fell dead last Thursday, doubtless from an affection of the heart. He was a quiet and industrious

WHAT WE DRINK. Dr. Hiram Cox, of Cincinnati, has been analyzing various kinds of wine, particularly certain specimens of fine old port, sherry, and Madeira. He says that they none of them contained one drop of the juice of the grape. The basis of the port wine was diluted sulphuric acid, colored with the elder berry juice, with alum, sugar, and neutral spirits. The base of the sherry wine was a sort of pale malt, sulphuric acid, from the bitter almond oil, with a per centage of alcoholic spirits from brandy. The basis of the Madeira was a decoction of hops, with sulphuric acid, honey, and spirits from Jamaica rum.

"THE FOUR SISTERS." "This is a tale of social and domestic life in Sweden, and it is in the best style of its charming authoress. Miss Bremer is a great favorite in this country. Her works are familiar as household words." T. B. Peterson & Brothers have issued the only authorized American edition and they have given it in a manner every way creditable to their establishment. We are sure that every lover of a pure and healthy literature will welcome this translation by Mary Howitt, of this last story of the gentle and amiable Swedish authoress. The purity of the writings of Miss Bremer, their sympathetic power, and the excellent morals which she ever inculcates, renders her novels welcome to the family circle. They teach patience, affection and endurance in such a manner as to improve and gratify every mind. This story is her best, and possesses deep and touching interest, the incidents are natural, the characters are distinctly marked, and the moral is all that could be desired, and proceeds with a mild and artistic delineation to the denouement. The style is glowing, the sentiments are pure, and the Four Sisters may be read with pleasure as well as profit by all classes of society. We especially recommend it as a story which it will do any one good to read. This edition is authorized by Miss Bremer, and it contains a dedication by herself to the memory of her friend, the late A. J. Downing. The price is but $1.25, and copies of it will be sent, free of postage, to any one, by the publishers, T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, on sending that amount to them in a letter.

PAINTING BUSINESS. That old veteran in the painting business, E. B. Hersey, offers new inducements in his advertisement, which appears in to-day's paper. For many years Mr. H. has been located in this town, and has very acceptably fulfilled all orders in a truly faithful manner. It affords us pleasure to add testimony to an honest man, in the various relations connected with our fellow-citizens.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston, Dec. 2, 1858.

The New York Ledger and Hon. Edward Everett-Jefferson Davis at Home, his latest Manifesto—Judge Douglas at New Orleans—Municipal Speculations—Trial of the Junior Mutineers, their conviction.

No small interest is now manifested in the literary community by reason of the munificent sum of ten thousand dollars being given to the Hon. Edward Everett, by Robert Bonner, proprietor of the New York Ledger, to be placed at the disposal of Mr. Everett (the finest scholar in America), for the benefit of the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association; he has accepted that sum, which, you will recollect, goes into the fund for the purchase of Mount Vernon Farm, on the banks of the Potomac, and containing the tomb of Washington. As a condition, Mr. Everett agrees to write a weekly original article for the Ledger one year, commencing January first next. The articles to be called "The Mount Vernon Papers." The circulation of the Ledger is now said to be a half million weekly. With Mr. Everett as a new contributor, it is presumed by many the number may increase, during the next year, to one million. Great praise is bestowed from the American press by this disinterested act, so generous, patriotic and honorable alike to Mr. Everett and the accomplished editor of the New York Ledger. Mr. Everett has already contributed fifty thousand dollars to this noble object, and before he concludes his labors, it will probably reach the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars. It will be the noblest laurel he ever won.

Jefferson Davis, United States Senator from Mississippi, who spent the past summer in New England, on his return home, defined his position on Thursday last week, in a flaming speech, made in the Hall of the House of Representatives at Vicksburg. The speech is "a fire eating" in the extreme; he denounces Mr. Douglas, and the Republican party alike, considering their views on slavery destructive to the rights of the South, and at war with the Constitution. He professes to be a Union man, and recommends the Southern States to withdraw from the confederation and resort to Minnie rifles, in the event of the success of the Douglas or Republican party in 1860. If these are to be the sentiments of the South, in the next presidential election, the North should meet the contest without a surrender of a single principle of popular sovereignty, be the consequences what they may. Should the usurpation towards the General Government, on the advent of the new president in 1861, by the South, be followed by the shedding of blood with their Minnie rifles, from the bosoms of Northern men, the Union would be but an idle name. We still believe that the revolutionary doctrines of Mr. Davis will find but little favor with the Southern people.

Mr. Douglas is even now in New Orleans, and if need be, will carry the political war into Africa. His reception there will be significant of what the future is to be in the political history of our country.

The city is comparatively quiet after Thanksgiving week, as was expected. Business is dull, with a plethora money market, and the prices of many home products are at an extremely low figure. The early advent of winter forebodes much suffering among the poor. A large number of mechanics are out of employ, with no good prospect before them.

The nominees for Mayor are now in the field. Mr. Lincoln, the present incumbent; Hon. Moses Kimball, proprietor of the Boston Museum, and Mr. Benj. L. Allen. Mr. Kimball will run well; but Mayor Lincoln will probably be re-elected by a small plurality. At least, such are present indications. The prominent issues of the city election, are the question of enforcing the Maine Liquor Law, and the abolition of the police uniform. As the city government of Boston is now in the hands of no political organization, a party triumph would fasten the responsibility where it belongs, and be productive of greater reform than at present.

The trial of the Junior Mutineers, after nineteen days of slow and contested progress before the U. S. Circuit Court here, has resulted in the conviction of Plumer for murder, and Carther, Herbert and Stanley of manslaughter. It will be remembered that the American ship Junior, Capt. Mellen, was taken on the high seas about one year since, and the captain and one of the mates barbarously murdered. Plumer, the ringleader, stands a chance to forfeit his crimes on the gallows.

MILITIA OF MASSACHUSETTS. The Massachusetts Volunteer Militia for the year 1858, as received at the Adjutant-General's office from the three Major-Generals, foot up as follows:

	Present.	Absent.	Total.
First Division,	1,791	401	2,192
Second Division,	1,936	245	2,181
Third Division,	1,172	225	1,397
	4,899	871	5,770

Since August last, seven companies of Infantry have been disbanded, in due course of law, on account of diminution of numbers. No new companies can be chartered, so long as the returns reach the number of five thousand officers and men.

ANOTHER NEW PAPER. George Roberts, Esq., the former publisher of the Boston Daily Times, has issued a Prospectus for the publication of a new weekly paper in the city of New York, to be called "The Constellation, and to be under the editorial charge of Park Benjamin, Esq. The terms are $2 per annum, with a liberal discount to clubs and news agents.

FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING. Jackson & Merrill, at the old stand in Dock square, Boston, have one of the largest and the most complete assortment of garments to be found in the city. To the purchaser of a good over coat, a dress coat, a pair of pants, vest, or any other article, this is the place to be first consulted by the buyers of clothing. Call at any rate, examine the goods offered for inspection, and the result for a good and cheap article, at a low price, will be at this far-famed emporium.

Great boast is made of remedies put before the public to cure all diseases, and all complaints. But for "My Mother's Salve" nothing is claimed, only what facts warrant. A trial is recommended. See advertisement.

One hundred and eight banks of New England, favorable to the new Bank of Mutual Redemption, held a convention in Boston, and passed resolutions declaring that it is their duty to redeem their bills in Boston, that they have a right to select their own agent for that service, and that the Bank of Mutual Redemption is based upon sound principles.

At the Old South Chapel in Boston a prayer meeting has been held every morning for eight years.

A CARD.

The subscriber would return her sincere thanks to the Firemen of Quincy, and to all persons who rendered aid in saving her property from the devouring flames on Thanksgiving day. This act of kindness will be long remembered.

MRS. BENJAMIN GAY.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

Special Notices.

LYCEUM. Notice is hereby given that the first lecture before the Quincy Lyceum will be delivered on THURSDAY, the 9th day of December, at the Town Hall, by the Rev. I. H. KALLOCK, of Boston.

He will be succeeded by Messrs. EDWARD G. PARKER, JOHN S. ELDERBROOK, and JOSHUA QUINCY, Jr., and other distinguished lecturers. In the order of the lectures, the Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, of Ohio, is expected during the Christmas holidays. Tickets to be had at the Bookstore, or of JOHN O. HOLDEN, Secretary. Quincy, Dec. 4.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING. Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon. In Johnson's (Marion) Hall. Miss Rosa P. Amesly will speak to-morrow forenoon and afternoon. Quincy, Dec. 4.

Winter Caps for men and boys—new styles and fresh stock at C. Gill & Co's.

At C. Gill & Co's may be found a full assortment of heavy and light Rubber Boots, Shoes and Sandals, for men, women and children, warranted of the best quality, and which, considering the great rise in the prices of these goods, they will sell at low prices.

Children's heavy and light Boots, Booties, and Brogans, Misses' cloth and leather Boots; Women's fine serge kid and goat Boots; Men's calf, kip and cowhide Boots, calf congress, calf and fine and heavy kip Brogans, making a complete and excellent assortment of reasonable goods, warranted of as good quality of stock and manufacture for the prices, as can be afforded by any dealer in Boot and Shoe stock, at C. Gill & Co's.

Men's heavy double sole calf congress Boots. A first rate article, sold by C. Gill & Co's.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION. Just published by FEDERHEN & Co., Booksellers and Stationers, No. 13 Court Street, Boston, a Brief Treatise of 48 pages, on Diseases of the Sexual System of both sexes—their symptoms and treatment—prepared by a physician of the "Boston Eclectic Hospital." This work also contains a scathing exposure of the deception and imposture practiced by advertising quacks, with some of their names and locations. Sold by periodical dealers generally. Sent by mail, on the receipt of three postage stamps. Address Box 1802, Boston Post Office.

Feb. 27. 1y

To Let,

A GOOD House, Shoemakers' Shop, Barn, and other out buildings, and 2½ Acres of good Land. There is a plenty of Fruit—Apples, Peaches, Cherries, Grapes, Currants, &c.—on the premises, which is situated on Washington street, 1 mile from the Depot—a mile from the Point School. Apply to Jonathan Baxter, 24, near Quincy, Dec. 4.

GEORGE BAXTER, Hancock st.

Money Wanted.

J. BURRELL has just received a lot of Men's Thick Sole Calf Congress Boots, which he is selling for $1.75 per pair. You can get a pair of French Calf Boots, made to fit your foot, FOR $4.00. Quincy, Nov. 6.

Marriages.

In this town, on the 25th ult., by Rev. Willard M. Harding, Mr. Warren Higgins to Miss Amelia B. Reed.

In this town, on the 28th ult., by Rev. W. H. Knapp, Mr. John Q. A. Field to Miss Sylvia E. Wellington of Braintree.

In Boston, on the 24th ult., by Rev. Dr. Ellis of Charlestown, Hollis Bowman, Esq., Mayor of Bangor, Me., to Mrs. Philinda G. Bates, of Boston.

In Milton, on the 27th ult., by Rev. Edwin Leonard, Mr. Borden B. Derry to Miss Ellen R. Nightingale, both of Quincy.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 2d inst., Mrs. Elizabeth Penno, widow of the late Jesse Penno, aged 88 years and 3 months.

Funeral on Sunday, at 3 o'clock, at the residence of John J. Carr's. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

In this town, very suddenly, Mr. Edward Ryan, aged 25.

Petition.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Supervisors of the Adams Temple and School Estate, in the County of Norfolk, intend to apply to the General Court of Massachusetts, at the next session thereof for an amendment to the third Section of their Charter, specifying the purposes for which they are empowered to receive donations and devises.

GEORGE WHITE, Clerk.

I hereby approve of the publication of the foregoing notice, as by law provided, in the Boston Daily Advertiser and the Quincy Patriot.

OLIVER WARREN, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Secretary's Office, Dec. 1, 1858.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the will of

REBECCA T. HOWE,

late of Milton, in the County of Norfolk, Widow, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, Executor.

Milton, Dec. 4.

A Great and Good Book for every family

THE NEW ILLUSTRATED

Hydropathic Encyclopedia.

A COMPLETE System of Hydropathy and Hygiene, in one volume—Embracing Outlines of Anatomy, Illustrated—Philosophy of the Human Body—Hygienic Agencies and the Preservation of Health—Dietetics and Hydropathic Cookery—Theory and Practice of Water Treatment—Special Pathology and Hydropathic Therapeutics, including the Nature, Causes, Symptoms, and Treatment of all known Diseases—Application of Hydrotherapy to Midwifery and the Nursery—with Three Hundred Engravings, and nearly one thousand pages, including a Glossary and Table of Contents, and a complete Index. By R. T. TRAIL, M.D. Published by Fowler and Wells. In the plan of this work, the wants and necessities of the people have been steadily kept in view, while almost every topic of interest in the departments of Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Hygiene, and Therapeutics is presented, those of practical utility are always prominently forward. The prevailing errors, whims, and conceits of the day and age are exposed and refuted. The theories and hypotheses upon which the popular drug practice is predicated are controverted, and the why and the wherefore of their fallacy clearly demonstrated. The following is a brief analysis of its contents:

History of Medicine. Bathing and Medication. Bathing. Illustrated by 129 Engravings.

Phyiology Illustrated, comprising the Rationale of Muscular Action—The Nervous Influence—Philosophy of Mind—Mensuric Phenomena—Functions of Digestion, Circulation, Respiration, Nutrition, Secretion, Excretion, Calorification and Temperaments—The Race of Man and Theory of Population.

Hygiene, embracing all the relations of Air, Light, Drink, Food, Temperature, Exercise, Sleep, Clothing, Bathing, and the Passions, to the growth and development of Body and Mind, the Preservation of Health, and the Attainment of Longevity.

Dietetics, comprising the Bile, Anatomical, Physiological, Chemical, and Experimental Evidence concerning the Dietetic Character of Man.

Hydropathic Cooking, with Special Directions for the Preparation of Food. Philosophy of Water Cure, with Illustrated Explanations of all the Water-Cure Appliances, a Philosophical Exposition of the modus operandi of Water Treatment and the rationale of Drug Treatment.

Dietaries, containing the Therapeutic Distinctions of Diet for Invalids.

The Nature, Symptoms, and Treatment of all known diseases are examined, and the ill-effects of Drug Practice exposed, and the proper Medication recommended and specified.

The Treatment of Surgical Diseases, illustrated, and directions for the minor operations given.

The Management of Lying in Women and the Treatment of Children, &c.

The work is intended to be plain, intelligible, and a sufficient guide for Domestic Practice or Home treatment in all ordinary Diseases, embracing the whole range of subjects connected with the Philosophy of Life, the Preservation of Health, and the Treatment of Diseases.

This great work may be had in one large volume, bound in library style. Price by mail to any Post-office in the United States, only $3. All letters and orders should be directed to

FOWLER & WELLS,

305 Broadway, New York.

Agents in every neighborhood will be supplied in packages of a dozen or more copies by express or as freight. Single copies by mail. Every family should have a copy.

Editors copying the above a few times, including this notice, and calling attention to the same, will be entitled to a copy of the work, deliverable to their order, at 305 Broadway, New York, Dec. 4.

Apples for Sale.

THE Subscriber has from 25 to 30 barrels of the first quality of Winter Apples, consisting of Golden Russets, Baldwins and Pippins, which he will sell cheap for Cash.

ALSO—A few barrels of second quality, which he will at $1.50 per barrel.

SOLOMON NIGHTINGALE,

Quincy, Dec. 4.

FOUND.

PICKED UP on the Neponset Turnpike, on SATURDAY last, a Box of Boots, which the owner can have by proving property and paying charges, on applying to

PHILIP WHELAN.

Quincy, Dec. 4, 1858.

House, Sign, & Carriage Painting.

Ebenezer B. Hersey, a specially trained artist in Carriage Painting, will be always at my rooms and answer all calls. Few can excel him in artistic beauty or skillful delineation.

Paints, Oils, &c., of the best quality, on hand or furnished at the earliest notice.

Come in old customers, one and all; Bring in your jobs ever so small—And that will make the subscriber laugh. He'll work by the day for a dollar and a half.

EDWARD NUTTER,

an acknowledged artist in Carriage Painting, will be always at my rooms and answer all calls. Few can excel him in artistic beauty or skillful delineation.

Grateful for liberal manifestations of public support, in by-gone years, the subscriber anticipates a renewed patronage.

EBENEZER B. HERSEY.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

READ THIS

PROFIT BY IT!

AS this is about the time that I would like to reduce my stock, I shall offer

Extra Inducements.

Declins, Prints, Valencia Flannels, Alpaca, or Dress Goods of any kind, SHAWLS, HOSERY, GLOVES, Collars, Underclothes, Embroideries, Flannels, Casimeres and Clothing, that I shall offer the above named articles

At Reduced Prices,

and will guarantee to those who will favor me with a call that they shall be satisfied with prices. Please call and examine and judge for yourself.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

Pimple Destroyer, &c.

GARDNER'S Pimple Destroyer, for the cure of pimples, ringworms, salt-heals, and all other eruptions of the skin. Fertilizer's Woodland Creams, a beautiful article for the face.

Wright's Frigipanzan, an ever-lasting perfume, for the handkerchief.

For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

Commissioners' Notice.

To the Honorable the County Commissioners for the County of Norfolk.

THE subscribers inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, in said County, respectfully represent, that a petition was presented to the Selectmen of said Quincy, early in the month of September last, praying said Selectmen to take a town view, leading from Elm street in said Town to Washington street, passing over land marked out for a way or street, and now used as such, formerly belonging to S. R. & C. H. Edwards; that said Selectmen have unreasonably neglected and refused to lay out said town way. They therefore pray your Honorable body to proceed to view and lay out said town way according to law.

Dated at said Quincy, November, 1858.

HUGH MONDY, and 97 others

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK SS.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, within and for said County of Norfolk, on the eighteenth day of November, A. D. 1858, by adjournment of the September meeting next preceding.

ON the Petition aforesaid, Ordered that the County Commissioners meet at the Town House, in Quincy, in said County, on THURSDAY, the sixth day of January next, at eleven o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Quincy, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view, and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Quincy, fourteen days at least before said view, that all persons and corporations interested for or against said petition may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true Copy of the original Petition on file and order thereon.

Dec. 4. EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Kitchen Furnishing Articles.

A NEW Store, for the sale of the above, has been opened at 29 SCHOOL STREET, near City Hall, Boston, where may be found the best assortment of useful articles in the city.

At prices 25 per cent. less than usual charges.

Boston, Nov. 6.

BROWN & CO.

For Sale, EXCELLENT POSTS AND RAILS.

Also—50 cords of Oak and Walnut WOOD.

Apply to JEREMIAH NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS. Quincy, Nov. 13th, 1858.

TAKEN in execution and will be sold at public Auction, on FRIDAY, the seventeenth day of December next at two o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, all the right in equity which Bartholomew Dunsen had on the fifth day of April last, at thirty minutes past twelve o'clock, P. M., being the time when the same was attached on mortgage process, of redeeming the following described mortgaged real estate, to wit:—

A certain lot of Land situated in Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, with the buildings thereon, bounded Southerly on a private way, laid out by S. R. & C. H. Edwards, there measuring thirteen rods more or less, Easterly on Land of John Faxon and Charles E. Miller, North-easterly on Land of Daniel Ford and Land of John Collier, there measuring about twelve rods.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK SS.

TAKEN in virtue of an Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the thirtieth day of December next at two o'clock P. M., on the premises, all the right in equity and interest, that Jason W. Woolf, of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, had on the sixteenth day of June, A. D. 1858, upon the same was attached on mortgage process, in or to, the following described Real Estate, subject to a Mortgage, to wit:—

A certain parcel of Land situated on South street, in Quincy, with the Buildings standing thereon, containing three acres, one-half, and five rods, bounded as follows: South-easterly by land now or formerly of John Arnold, South-westerly by lands of Messrs. Brown, Pray, Dwyer and Pratt, North-westerly and Westerly by lands of John Faxon and Charles E. Miller, North-easterly on South street, being the same premises which Benjamin P. Woods now occupies.

SETH ADAMS, Deputy Sheriff.

Quincy, Nov. 13th, 1858.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscribers hereto duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Mariner, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

SOLOMON TORREY,

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

SETH ADAMS, Administrator.

Quincy, Oct. 29, 1858.

Poetry.

The Nobleman of Earth.

The truest nobleman of earth,
Is he who loves to be
The first companion of the good,
The hero of the free,
Who works undisturbed for the poor,
Whose hopes ascend to heaven in crowds,
As sparks fly up from flames!

Give me that nobleman of earth,
Who loves a noble cause,
The right of labor's sturdy sons,
And freedom's righteous laws,
The hater of each evil scheme,
A tyrant may advance his
A giant's strength about his heart,
Thoughts brilliant in his glance!

I love the nobleman of earth,
Who strives to bless the age;
And leaves a glory that is caught
On history's faithful page.
Whose name the millions love to hear,
Truth's pure unflinching guest;
Who shines in love as does the sun
In palace of the West!

He's deathless as the mighty skies,
When justice through with stars;
Could feel God's beauty in his face,
Burst through his prison bars!
No mandate from the tyrant breaks
His spirit's upward bound;
While high on every liberal creed
His name is blazoned round!

And perjured king may pass from earth,
Their pomp and lustre fade;
But nature's noblesman unclasp
The cruel laws they've made.
His worshipped monarch is his God,
He leaves a name behind
Flashed with effulgence that reflects
His majesty of mind!

The First Smile.

Tears from the birth the doom must be
Of the sun burn—but wait awhile,
Young mother, and thine eye shall see
The dawning of the first smile
It comes in a smile, gently steals O'er the fair cheek, as light on dew;
Some inward joy that smile reveals;
Sit by and muse, such dreams are true.

Closed eyelids, limbs supine, and breath
So still, you scarce can calm the doubt
If life can be so like to death—
"This life, but all of earth shut out."

"This perfect peace; yet all the while O'er marbled brow and dimpled chin
Mantles and glows that radiant smile, Noting the spirit stirred within."

O, mind to this the flashing ray,
Thou'rt dear as life to mother's heart,
From waking smiles, that later play
In these, earth claims the larger part.

"This child's sport, or frolic mirth,
Or the fond mother's blushing smile,
Or glittering toy—some glad of earth,
That stirs him to that merry smile."

Or if in penitence it creeps
With gradual light and softer grace,
Yet shades of earth's sorrows reveal,
Still sleep upon his beauteous face.

But did the smile disclose a dream
Of bliss that had been his before?
Was it from heaven's deep sea a gleam
Not faded quite on earth's deep shore?

Or told some angel from above,
Of glories to be his at last,
The sunset, crowning hours of love—
His labors done—his perils past?

Or, thought of trial for her breast,
Did the mild spirit's whisper then,
"From the baptismal font, O child, Thou shalt be ours, dear child, again!"

"Thou shalt be ours, and heaven be thine,
Thy victory without peril given;
Sent a brief while on earth to shine,
And then to shine a light in heaven."

"And her that holds thee now so warm,
And hushly thinks 'twere death to part,
Her shall a holier love inform,
A clearer faith enlarge her heart."

Blest smile! so let me live my day
That when my latest sun shall set,
That smile, reviving once, may play,
And glad my dying features yet.

That smile to cheer the mourners round
With hope of human sins forgiven;
Token of earthly ties unbound,
Of heart intent on opening heaven.

Anecdotes.

A little urchin in a Sunday school was asked:
"What did our Saviour say when he knew that Judas betrayed him?"
The urchin scratched his head a few moments and then gravely answered:
"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty!"

A dying planter in the South, groaning to his faithful negro servant sighed out:
"Ah! Sambo, I'm going a long, long journey."

Never mind, massa, said the negro, consolingly, him all de way down hill.

Really, ladies and gentlemen, says the auctioneer, I'm giving these things away.
Are you? said an honest lady, well I thank you for that silver pitcher you have in your hand.

A celebrated wit was asked why he did not marry a young lady to whom he was very much attached.
I know no reason, replied he, except the great regard we had for each other.

A man who had a case in court, said that if he lost in the Common Pleas, he would appeal to the Supreme Court, and thence to Heaven.

And there, replied a gentleman, you will be sure to lose, for you will not be present to answer for yourself, and no attorney is ever admitted there.

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public, for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also—various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Bailey, Parina, Groat, cracked Wheat, Sago, Tapioca, Oat Flour, Corn Starch, Broma, &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c. Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Bells, patent Nursing Shields, Tubes, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mittens, Flesh Brushes, &c. &c. Fresh European Lotions always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they are called, the Stone Temple Quincy, Nov. 1.

Hall's Great SCROFUL REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting, nor purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease, regulates the bowels, removes all vitiated secretions, gives a healthy action to the liver and restores the vital energy of the system. It is a correct tonic to the stomach, and is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vital energy of the system. In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever, Sore, White Swelling, Dropsy, Boils, Barbs, Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eruptions or Eruptions on the skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Constipation and Derangement of the Urinary Organs. It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness and Headache. It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age. Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co., No. 3 State Street; Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99 Union Street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States. Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT, Quincy, Dec. 13.

WM. SMITH HALL,
Engraver and Plate Printer,
257 Washington, near Winter St., - Boston
Particular attention given to the Engraving and Printing of — Invitations, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards, &c. &c.
A LONG and practical experience in saying that persons about ordering cards of any description, will find their interests by calling, or sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, at prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Clap, Diplomas, Labels, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c. &c., engraved or printed at short notice.
Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.

Orders by mail, express, or otherwise, promptly attended to.
Boston, Feb 20 6m

RICH'S PATENT IRON BEAM PLOW.

Is Agent for the County of Norfolk, FOR THE SALE OF THIS PLOW.

WHO will visit the various parts of the County during the first of April. Plows delivered in any part of the County free of charge. Terms, cash on delivery.

Weights and Prices.
Old Dominion, 3 horse, 125 lbs. price, $13.50
C. No. 1, 2 horse, 125 " " 10.00
Washington, No. 2, 2 horse 110 " " 11.00
D. Improved, 90 " " 9.00
E. Corn Plow, 1 horse 60 " " 5.00
F. Corn Plow, 1 horse 40 " " 4.00
Double Mould Board, 40 " " 4.75
Side Hill and Level Land 100 " " 10.00
Either of the Plows weighing 100 pound or upwards, with extra point, 50 cents more; under 100 weight, 25 cents.
Weymouth April 3

Neat's Foot Oil.
OF the best quality, for sale low by D. BAXTER & Co Quincy, Sept. 27.

Pickles.
50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Feb 28

Paper Hangings.
JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap for cash.
DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 25.

Boots and Shoes.
ELBRIDGE CLAPP has just received a full assortment of Boots and Shoes, suitable for the season, which he will sell at the VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Give him a call soon.
A lot of Boots and Shoes slightly shop worn are offered very cheap.
Quincy, July 31.

BURNS, & Co.
MES' Lotions for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains, &c. &c.
For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Sept 18

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE!

DOORS, SASHES, &c. &c. BLINDS

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of BUILDING MATERIALS, we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!! We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS, NAULS, SHEET LEAD, FRAMING PINS, WINDOW FRAMES, DOOR BELLS, SCREWS, &c. &c.

MORTICE LOCKS, in a great variety. ALSO—P. J. Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks; MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs; BLAKE'S BUTTS, AND AXLE PULLEYS,

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds. Wrought, Fancy Plate, STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGERS;

SHOVELS, DOOR SCRAPERS; Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Growth's Improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter, The best thing ever used in the place of weights; DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DOOR LOCKS, AT THE OLD STAND OF BAILEY, CARVER & CO., SCHOOL STREET. Quincy, Jan. 23.

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing, SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING.

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office, WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE, HAS FOR SALE—LUMBER, Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood. QUINCY CANAL WHARF. July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY, Counsellor at Law, Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass. Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH, Attorneys at Law, Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH. May 20.

SEASONED LUMBER, Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times. DIMENSION FRAMES; Furnished at short notice. Best quality of Lime constantly on hand. ALSO—Good Pine Wood at $6 a Cord. For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF. Quincy, May 8

Coal, Lime, Brick and Sand, with a good assortment of SEASONED LUMBER, constantly on hand, and for sale by the subscriber at Quincy Canal Wharf.

NATHANIEL WHITE. Quincy, April 10.

Pure Cider Vinegar. 800 GALLONS PURE CIDER VINEGAR, made on the farm formerly owned by B. V. French, now to store and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, by GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO. Quincy, Aug. 15.

Boot and Shoe Findings. JUST received and for sale low, a lot of Boot and Shoe Kit, Findings, &c. &c., by Quincy, Apr 18

H. VINAL.

BURNS, & Co.
MES' Lotions for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains, &c. &c.
For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Sept 18

DR. S. STOCKING,

DENTAL SURGEON, No. 19 Tremont Row, (up stairs.) Directly opposite the head of Brattle Street, BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing, regulating, and extracting, on such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what are called, modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty five years of close application to the duties of the profession, he is permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession, whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform. To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise,—though honest in their intentions, and uniting in their efforts,—must be the result of their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are based, or the want of experience and ingenuity to apply them. Take, for instance, the nice operation of plugging a tooth,—a process of great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences, of any within the range of operative dentistry. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so too, with setting teeth, especially whole and half sets, where correct taste and sound judgment are required in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item embraced in the duties of the dentist, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth. The natural teeth may be improperly filled, and even ruined;—artificial ones may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made;—but neither life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so in the administration of ether. It is an agent that should be confined to the care and control of intelligent men, who have learned its peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium. Ether should be so administered as to prevent the air once breathed from entering the lungs a second time. The reason for this basis foundation in the laws of chemical combination, in the process of respiration. The natural consequence of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness, if not worse, during etherization, with a distressing headache, faintness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS, used by Dr. Stocking, who gives special attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth, preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets. Boston, May 22 6m

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, and of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Merchants, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, and all others, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON, TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE, SECRETARY.

STEPHEN BATES, DIRECTORS, Quincy, Milton, Charles Brock, H. W. Blanchard, Colchester, Solomon J. Beal, Hingham, Ebenezer Gay, South Hingham, Alfred Loring, North Bridgewater, Sumner A. Hayward, Barnstable, George Marston, Dedham, Jonathan A. Cobb.

References, by permission: HOS. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston, HOS. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston, HOS. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield, HOS. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph, HOS. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham, HOS. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy, JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE: Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple April 1.

National Police Gazette. THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.) GEO. W. MATSELL & CO. Editors & Proprietors of the National Police Gazette. New York City, Apr 25

GROCERIES, FLOUR, AND PROVISIONS!

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a

Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store, which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices. A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound.

50 Tubs of prime dairy Butter, 200 Bushels of Cheunggo and Long Red Potatoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices. Goods delivered to any part of the Town free of expense.

H. VINAL, Quincy, Oct. 27.

Salt Pork. 4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by the barrel or by the pound. DANIEL BAXTER & Co Quincy, Sept. 27.

Salt Pork. FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or by smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for cash. GEO. L. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK. FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price. Quincy, Jan. 10.

Are you Nervous? DODD'S NERVEINE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It produces a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—alleviates irritation—induces quiet and refreshing sleep, thus equalizing the nervous fluid throughout the system. It contains NO OPIUM, Mercury, neither poisonous mineral nor herb. The feeblest man, wife, or mother, will find it ALWAYS SURE AND BENEFICIAL. It does not produce constipation, but relieves it, being the best remedy for Nervous Diseases now known. Price $1.00. WILSON, FAIRBANK, & CO., Boston, Mass. Wholesale Agents.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent. Quincy, June 26.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION. FOR improving the complexion, and for the cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan, Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy Feb 6

Dried Apples. 2000 POUNDS of Salt cheap for cash by DANIEL BAXTER & Co Quincy, March 25.

New Store! New Goods! B. F. MESERVEY, HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, in JOHNSON'S BUILDING. Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of Gold and Silver Watches, Fob, Curb and Vest Chains, LOCKETS, Cameo, Gold Seal, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS, Gents' Pins and Studs, FINGER RINGS, Together with a large assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a

LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy. All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. (G) Coffin Plates Engraved. Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED. Quincy Oct 24

Balsam, Plaster, &c. DR. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam and Plaster.

DR. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—for sale by Quincy, Aug. 22 Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

CELEBRATED BUILDERS DEPOT

JOHN O. FOYE, BUILDING MATERIALS AND HARDWARE

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of BUILDING MATERIALS to be found at any store in New England.

Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE. Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale: DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. STAIR POSTS, RAILS and BALUSTERS. NAILS, LEAD & ZINC. HARDWARE and CARPENTER'S TOOLS in great variety. Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Funnel Irons, Oven and Ash Doors, Hinges and Fastenings; Patent Sash Locks, Self-acting Gate Weights, Lines and Fastenings; Window Frames made to order. Weather Vanes for Churches, Brackets; Hailers, Draft and Tye Chains; House Belles, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited. JOHN O. FOYE, Weymouth Landing, May 16.

To Boot and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Doekings, finished especial-sinners, Black Brown and Drab Cashe, for Congress Tops.

Black Brown and Drab Feltings, for snow shoes. Lastings, all wool, Italian do. Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Serge de Berri's Rubber-Clas, Boots and Counters, top stitching Congress Shoes, of beautiful quality for Boot and Congress. Webs, of 4 in. to 1 1/2 in. new style.

Gallons, black, and colors, 1/2 and 3/4 in. widths. Shoe Ducks; Congress and Canvas. Shos Ribbons, Rosettes, and Sandal Web. Eyelets, Cords, Shoe Lacets and Strings, all sizes and lots. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads. Of the well known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Browsers, Shoes and Congress Work, from No. 15 to 100; from 2 to 10 cord, in Black, Drab, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in stitching, binding, at-sept and counters, top stitching and under threads. (Also Shos Threads.) Machine Sift, all colors and sizes. Sew Island and Cotton, Black, Colored, Unbleached and White.

Spool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions. Manufacturers of Clothing Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DIX & Co. No. 52 Milk street. Quincy, June 19

WHITE HANDS! PERSIAN BATH SOAP. For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE AND SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURNS, CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes, where a Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass. C. DYER, Jr., General Traveling Agent. Price—25 cents per cake. Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy Aug 22

New Stock and New Styles! PAPER HANGINGS. HAVING a desire to accommodate many of our customers, and to increase the trade of our place, we have added to our former variety of Goods, an entirely

New and beautiful Stock of Paper Hangings, Borders, Curtains, &c. COMPRISING 400 PATTERNS! manufactured on the best paper and in the highest perfection of colors and style.

Our assortment will always be kept good, and we shall spare no efforts to give the best satisfaction to the taste of all who wish to paper their rooms with attractive and pleasing patterns, on good paper and in good colors.

Our prices will range lower than is usual with the same quality and style in Boston, but we shall engage in no mean underestimating of our neighbors, our object being to present an additional inducement for the Quincy people to bestow their patronage upon their own traders, and find themselves suited in every respect as well or better than in the City.

Best times new houses will be supplied on the most favorable terms.

C. GILL & CO., HANCOCK STREET. Quincy March 27

Salt!! Salt!! JUST received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for Hay.

H. VINAL.

Balsam, Plaster, &c. DR. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam and Plaster.

DR. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—for sale by Quincy, Aug. 22 Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

CELEBRATED BUILDERS DEPOT

JOHN O. FOYE, BUILDING MATERIALS AND HARDWARE

THE Subscriber now offers for sale at his new Store the most extensive assortment of BUILDING MATERIALS to be found at any store in New England.

Purchasers can find a stock to select from worth from five to ten thousand dollars at most all times, at prices that DEFY COMPETITION ANYWHERE. Carpenters and Builders are respectfully invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

The following are a few of the principal articles kept for sale: DOORS—all sizes and qualities. SASHES—all sizes. STAIR POSTS, RAILS and BALUSTERS. NAILS, LEAD & ZINC. HARDWARE and CARPENTER'S TOOLS in great variety. Copper, Wood and Chain PUMPS. Framing Pins, Funnel Irons, Oven and Ash Doors, Hinges and Fastenings; Patent Sash Locks, Self-acting Gate Weights, Lines and Fastenings; Window Frames made to order. Weather Vanes for Churches, Brackets; Hailers, Draft and Tye Chains; House Belles, Shovels, Forks and Hoes; Eddy's Patent for a fair compensation.

Orders by mail or otherwise respectfully solicited. JOHN O. FOYE, Weymouth Landing, May 16.

DEVOTED

VOLUME XXII.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS. Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and delayed until the end of the year, then TEN DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid) will receive early attention.

AGENTS. The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers: Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK, West District, GEORGE W. LOCKE, Milton, CHARLES BRECK, Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON, Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY, Abington, JOSEPH CLEVER, South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER, Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHON DREW.

Miscellaneous. A Rainy Evening.

A pleasant little group was gathered round Uncle Ned's domestic hearth. He sat on one side of the fire place, opposite Aunt Mary, who, with her book in hand, watched the children seated at the table, some reading, others sewing, all occupied, but one child "of larger growth," a young lady, who, being a guest of the family, was allowed to indulge in

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 11th, 1858.

NUMBER L.

To Boot and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress Shirts, and Drab Cas-ty for Congress Ties.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid), will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers:
Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK,
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE,
Milton, CHARLES BREECK,
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON,
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY,
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVERLY,
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER,
Brooklyn, (N. Y.), GERSHON DREW.

Miscellaneous.

A Rainy Evening.

A pleasant little group was gathered round Uncle Ned's domestic hearth. He sat on one side of the fire place, opposite Aunt Mary, who, with her book in hand, watched the children seated at the table, some reading, others sewing, all occupied, but one, a child of larger growth, a young lady, who, being a guest of the family, was suffered to indulge in the pleasure of idleness without reproach.

"Oh! I love a rainy evening," said little Ann, looking up from her book, and meeting her mother's smiling glance, it is so nice to sit by a good fire and hear the rain pattering against the windows. Only I pity the poor people who have no house to cover them, to keep off the rain and the cold.

"And I love a rainy evening, too," cried George, a boy of about twelve. I can study so much better. My thoughts stay at home, and don't keep rambling out after the bright moon and stars. My heart feels warmer, and I really believe I love everybody better than I do when the weather is fair.

Uncle Ned smiled, and gave the boy an approving pat on the shoulder. Every one smiled, but the young lady, who, with languid, discontented air, now played with a pair of scissors, now turned over the leaves of a book, then, with an ill-suppressed yawn, leaned idly on her elbow, and looked into the fire.

"And what do you think of a rainy evening, Elizabeth?" asked Uncle Ned. I should like to hear your opinion.

"I think it is very dull and uninteresting, indeed," answered she. I always feel so stupid, I can hardly keep myself awake—one cannot go abroad, or hope to see company at home; and one gets so tired of seeing the same faces all the time. I cannot imagine what George and Ann see to admire so much in a disagreeable rainy evening like this.

"Supposing I tell you a story, to enliven you?" said Uncle Ned.

"Oh! yes, father, please tell us a story," exclaimed the children, simultaneously.

Little Ann was perched upon his knee as if by magic, and even Elizabeth moved her chair. George still held his book in his hand, but his bright eyes, sparkling with unusual animation, were riveted upon his uncle's face.

"I am going to tell you a story about a rainy evening," said Uncle Ned.

"Oh! that will be so pretty!" cried Ann, clapping her hands; but Elizabeth's countenance fell below zero. It was an ominous announcement.

"Yes," continued Uncle Ned, a rainy evening. But though clouds darker than those which now mantle the sky were lowering abroad, and the rain fell heavier and faster, the rainbow of my life was drawn most beautifully on those dark clouds, and its fair colors still shone most lovely on the sight. It is no longer the bow of promise, but the realization of my fondest dreams.

George saw his uncle cast an expressive glance towards the handsome matron in the opposite corner, whose color perceptibly heightened, and he could not forbear exclaiming—

"Ah! Aunt Mary is blushing. I understand uncle's metaphor. She is his rainbow, and she thinks life is one long, rainy day.

"Not exactly so. I mean your last conclusion. But don't interrupt me, my boy, and you shall hear a lesson, which, young as you are, I trust you never will forget. When I was a young man, I was thought quite handsome—

"Pa is as pretty as he can be, now," interrupted little Ann, passing her hand fondly over his manly neck.

Uncle Ned was not displeased with the compliment, for he pressed her close to him, while he continued—

"Well, when I was young, I was of a gay spirit, and a great favorite in society. The young ladies liked me for a partner in the dance, at the chess board or at the evening walk, and I had reason to think some of them would have made no objection to take me as a partner for life. Among all my young acquaintances, there was no one whose companionship was so pleasing as that of a maiden whose name was Mary. Now there are a great many Marys in the world, so you must not take it for granted that I mean your mother or aunt. At any rate, you must not look so significant till I have finished my story. Mary was a sweet lovely girl—with a current of cheerfulfulness running through her disposition that made music as it flowed. It was an under current, however, always gentle, and kept within its legitimate channel, never overflowing into boisterous mirth or unmeaning levity. She was the only daughter of her mother, and she was a widow. Mrs. Carlton, such was her mother's name, was in lowly circumstances, and Mary had none of the appliances of wealth and fashion to decorate her person, or gild her home. A very modest competency was all her portion, and she wished for nothing more. I have seen her in a simple white dress, without a single ornament, unless it was a natural rose, transcending all the gaudy belles, who sought by the attractions of dress to win the admiration of the multitude. But, alas! for poor human nature. One of these dashing belles so fascinated my attention that the gentle Mary was for a while forgotten. Theresa Vane, was indeed a rare piece of mortal mechanism. Her figure was the perfection of beauty, and she moved as if strung on wires, so elastic and springing were her gestures. I never saw such lustrous hair—it was perfectly black, and shone like burnished steel; and then such ringlets!—

How they waved and rippled down her beautiful neck. She dressed with the most exquisite taste, delicacy and neatness, and whatever she wore assumed a peculiar grace and fitness, as if art loved to adorn what nature made so fair. But what charmed me most, was that sublimely simple that was always waiting to light up her countenance. To be sure she sometimes laughed a little too loud, but then her laugh was so musical, and her teeth so white, it was impossible to believe her guilty of rudeness, or want of grace. Often, when I saw her in the social circle, so brilliant and smiling, the life and charm of everything around her, I thought how happy the constant companionship of such a being would make me—what brightness she would impart to the fireside at home—what light, what joy, to the darkest scenes of existence!

"Oh! uncle, interrupted George, laughing, if I were Aunt Mary, I would not let you praise any other lady so warmly. You are so taken up with her beauty you have forgotten all about the rainy evening.

Aunt Mary smiled, but it is more than probable that he touched one of the hidden springs of her woman's heart, for she looked down and said nothing.

"Don't be impatient," said Uncle Ned, and you shall not be cheated out of your story. I began it for Elizabeth's sake, rather than yours, and I see she is wide awake. She thinks I was by this time more than half right. There had been a great many parties of pleasure, riding parties, sailing parties, and talking parties; and summer slipped by almost unconsciously. At length the autumnal equinox approached, and gathering clouds, north-eastern gales, and drizzling rains, succeeded to the soft breezes, mellow skies and glowing sunsets, peculiar to that beautiful season. For two or three days I was confined within doors by the continuous rains, and I am sorry to confess it, but the blues got actually complete possession of me—one staid upon my nose, another dangled on the top of my head, one pinched my ears, and another turned summer-sets on my chin. You laugh, little Nannie, but they are terrible creatures, these blue gentlemen, and I could not endure them any longer. So the third rainy evening, I put on my coat, buttoned it up to my chin, and taking my umbrella in my hand, set out in the direction of Mrs. Vane's. Here, thought I, as my fingers pressed the latch, I shall find the moonlight smile that will illuminate the darkness of my night—the dull vapors will disperse before her radiant glance, and this interminable equinoctial storm be transformed into a mere vernal shower, melting away in sunbeams in her presence. My gentle knock not being apparently heard, I stepped into the ante-room, set down my umbrella, took off my drenched overcoat, arranged my hair in the most graceful manner, and claiming a privilege to which, perhaps, I had no legitimate right, opened the door of the family sitting room, and found myself in the presence of the beautiful Theresa—

Here Uncle Ned made a provoking pause.

"Pray, go on. How was she dressed? And was she glad to see you?" assailed him on every side.

"How was she dressed?" repeated he, I am not very well skilled in the technicalities of a lady's wardrobe, but I can give you the general impression of her personal appearance. In the first place there was a jumping up and an old-hand sliding step towards an opposite door, as I entered; but a disobliging chair was in the way, and I was making my lowest bow, before she found an opportunity of disappearing. Confused and mortified, she scarcely returned my salutation, while Mrs. Vane offered me a chair, and expressed, in somewhat dubious terms, their gratification at such an unexpected pleasure. I have no doubt Theresa wished me at the bottom of the Frozen Ocean, if I might judge from the freezing glances she shot at me through her long lashes. She sat uneasily in her chair, trying to conceal her siphoid shoes and furtively arranging her dress about the shoulders and waist. It was a most rebellious subject, for the body and skirt were at open warfare, refusing to have any communication with each other. Where was the graceful shape I had so much admired? In vain I sought its exquisite outlines in the folds of that loose, slovenly robe. Where were those glistening ringlets and burnished locks that had so lately rivalled the tresses of Medusa? Her hair was put in tangled bunches behind her ears, and tucked up behind in a kind of Gordian knot, which would have required the sword of an Alexander to untie. Her frock was a soiled and dingy silk, with trimmings of shallow blonde, and a faded fancy handkerchief was thrown over one shoulder.

"You have caught me completely on disoblige," said she, recovering partially from her embarrassment; but the evening was so rainy, and no one but mother and myself. I never dreamed of such an exhibition of gallantry as this.

She could not disguise her vexation, with all her efforts to conceal it, and Mrs. Vane evidently shared her daughter's chagrin. I was wicked enough to enjoy their confusion, and never appeared more at my ease, or played the agreeable with more signal success. I was disenchanted at once, and my mind revelled in its recovered freedom. My goddess had fallen from the pedestal on which my imagination had enthroned her, despoiled of the beautiful drapery which had imparted to her such ideal loveliness. I knew that I was a favorite in the family, for I was wealthy and independent, and perhaps of all Theresa's admirers, what the world would call the best match. I maliciously asked her to play on the piano, but she made a thousand excuses, studiously keeping back the true reason, her disordered attire. I asked her to play a game of chess, but she had a headache; she was too stupid; she never could do anything on a rainy evening.

At length I took my leave, inwardly blessing the moving spirit which had led me abroad that night, that the spell which had so long enthralled my senses might be broken. Theresa called up one of her lambs and smiled at me as I bade her adieu.

Never call again on a rainy evening, said she, sportively; I am always so wretchedly dull. I believe I was born to live among the sunbeams, the moonlight and the stars. Clouds will never do for me.

Amen, I silently responded, as I closed the door. While I was putting on my coat, I overheard, without the smallest intention of listening, a passionate exclamation from Theresa.

"Good heavens, mother! was there ever anything so unlucky? I never thought of seeing my neighbor's dog to-night. If I have not been completely caught!"

I hope you will mind my advice next time, replied her mother, in a pained tone. I told you not to sit down in that slovenly dress. I have no doubt you have lost him forever.

Here I made good my retreat, not wishing to enter the penetralia of family secrets. The rain still continued unabated, but my solial feelings were very far from being dampened. I had the curiosity to make another experiment. The evening was not very far advanced, and as I returned from Mrs. Vane's fashionable mansion, I saw a modest light glimmering in the distance, and I hailed it as the shipwrecked mariner hails the star that guides him o'er the ocean's foam, to the home he has left behind. Though I was gay and young, and a passionate admirer of beauty, I had very exalted ideas of domestic felicity. I knew there was many a rainy day in life, and I thought the companion who was born alone for sunbeams and moonlight, would not aid me to dissipate their gloom. I had, moreover, a shrewd suspicion that the daughter who thought it a sufficient excuse for shameful personal neglect, that there was no one present but her mother, would, as a wife, be equally regardless of a husband's presence. While I pursued these reflections, my feet involuntarily drew nearer and more near to the light, which had been the lodestone of my opening manhood. I had continued to meet Mary in the gay circles which I frequented, but I had lately become almost a stranger to her home. Shall I be a welcome guest? said I to myself, as I crossed the threshold. Shall I find her en disoblige, likewise, and discover that feminine beauty and grace are incompatible with a rainy evening? I heard a sweet voice reading aloud as I opened the door, and I knew it was the voice that was once music to my ears. Mary rose at my entrance, laying her book quietly on the table, and greeting me with a modest grace and self-possession peculiar to herself. She looked surprised, a little embarrassed, but very far from being displeased. She made no allusion to my estrangement or neglect; expressed no astonishment at my untimely visit, nor once hinted that being alone with her mother, and not anticipating visitors, she thought it unnecessary to wear the habiliments of a lady.

Never, in my life, had I seen her look so lovely. Her dress was perfectly plain, but every fold was arranged by the hand of the Graces. Her dark brown hair, which had a natural wave in it, now uncured by the dampness, was put back in smooth ringlets from her brow, revealing a face which did not consider its beauty wasted because a mother's eye alone rested on its bloom. A beautiful cluster of autumnal roses, placed in a glass vase on the table, perfumed the apartment, and a bright fire on the hearth diffused a spirit of cheerfulness around, while it relieved the atmosphere of its excessive moisture. Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and suffered also from an inflammation of the eyes. Mary had been reading aloud to her from her favorite book. What do you think it was? It was a very old-fashioned one, indeed. No other than the Bible. And Mary was not ashamed to have such a fashionable young gentleman as I then was to see what her occupation had been. What a contrast to the scene I had just quitted! How I loathed the infatuation which had led me to prefer the artificial graces of a belle to the pure child of nature! I drew my chair to the table and entreated that they would not look upon me as a stranger, but as a friend, anxious to be restored to the forfeited privileges of an old acquaintance. I was understood; and, without a single reproach, was admitted again to confidence and familiarity. The hours I had wasted with Theresa seemed a kind of mesmeric slumber, a blank in my existence, or, at least, a feverish dream. What do you think of a rainy evening, Mary? asked I, before I left her.

I love it of all things, replied she, with animation. There is something so home-drawing, so heart-knitting, in its influence. The dependencies which bind us to the world seem withdrawn; and, retiring within ourselves, we learn more of the deep mysteries of our own being.

Mary's soul beamed from her eye as it turned, with a transient obliquity, towards heaven. She paused, as if fearful of unsettling the fountains of her heart. I said that Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and consequently retired early to her chamber; but I lingered; nor did I go till I made a confession of my folly, repentance, and awakened love; and, as Mary did not shut the door in my face, you may imagine she was not sorely displeased.

"Ah! I know who Mary was. I knew all the time, exclaimed George, looking archly at Aunt Mary. A bright tear, which at that moment fell into her lap, showed that though a silent, she was no uninterested auditor.

You haven't done, father? said little Ann, in a disappointed tone: I thought you were going to tell a story. You have been talking about yourself all the time.

I have been something of an egotist, to be sure, my little girl, but I wanted to show my dear young friend how much might depend upon a rainy evening. Life is not made all of sunshine. The happiest and most prosperous must have their seasons of gloom and darkness, and woe be to those from whose souls no rays of brightness emanate to gild those darkened hours. I bless the God of the rain as well as the sunshine. I can read his mercy and his love as well in the tempest, whose wings obscure the visible glories of his creation, as in the splendor of the rising sun, or the soft dews that descend after his setting radiance. I began with a metaphor. I said a rainbow was drawn on the clouds that lowered on that eventful day, and that it still continued to shine with undiminished beauty. Woman, my children was sent by God to be the rainbow of man's darker destiny. From the glowing red, emblematic of that love which warms and gladdens his existence, to the violent melting into the blue of heaven, symbolical of the faith which links him to a purer world, her blending virtues, mingling with each other in beautiful harmony, are a token of God's mercy here, and an earnest of future blessings in those regions where no rainy evenings ever come to obscure the brightness of eternal day.

the light, which had been the lodestone of my opening manhood. I had continued to meet Mary in the gay circles which I frequented, but I had lately become almost a stranger to her home. Shall I be a welcome guest? said I to myself, as I crossed the threshold. Shall I find her en disoblige, likewise, and discover that feminine beauty and grace are incompatible with a rainy evening? I heard a sweet voice reading aloud as I opened the door, and I knew it was the voice that was once music to my ears. Mary rose at my entrance, laying her book quietly on the table, and greeting me with a modest grace and self-possession peculiar to herself. She looked surprised, a little embarrassed, but very far from being displeased. She made no allusion to my estrangement or neglect; expressed no astonishment at my untimely visit, nor once hinted that being alone with her mother, and not anticipating visitors, she thought it unnecessary to wear the habiliments of a lady.

Never, in my life, had I seen her look so lovely. Her dress was perfectly plain, but every fold was arranged by the hand of the Graces. Her dark brown hair, which had a natural wave in it, now uncured by the dampness, was put back in smooth ringlets from her brow, revealing a face which did not consider its beauty wasted because a mother's eye alone rested on its bloom. A beautiful cluster of autumnal roses, placed in a glass vase on the table, perfumed the apartment, and a bright fire on the hearth diffused a spirit of cheerfulness around, while it relieved the atmosphere of its excessive moisture. Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and suffered also from an inflammation of the eyes. Mary had been reading aloud to her from her favorite book. What do you think it was? It was a very old-fashioned one, indeed. No other than the Bible. And Mary was not ashamed to have such a fashionable young gentleman as I then was to see what her occupation had been. What a contrast to the scene I had just quitted! How I loathed the infatuation which had led me to prefer the artificial graces of a belle to the pure child of nature! I drew my chair to the table and entreated that they would not look upon me as a stranger, but as a friend, anxious to be restored to the forfeited privileges of an old acquaintance. I was understood; and, without a single reproach, was admitted again to confidence and familiarity. The hours I had wasted with Theresa seemed a kind of mesmeric slumber, a blank in my existence, or, at least, a feverish dream. What do you think of a rainy evening, Mary? asked I, before I left her.

I love it of all things, replied she, with animation. There is something so home-drawing, so heart-knitting, in its influence. The dependencies which bind us to the world seem withdrawn; and, retiring within ourselves, we learn more of the deep mysteries of our own being.

Mary's soul beamed from her eye as it turned, with a transient obliquity, towards heaven. She paused, as if fearful of unsettling the fountains of her heart. I said that Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and consequently retired early to her chamber; but I lingered; nor did I go till I made a confession of my folly, repentance, and awakened love; and, as Mary did not shut the door in my face, you may imagine she was not sorely displeased.

"Ah! I know who Mary was. I knew all the time, exclaimed George, looking archly at Aunt Mary. A bright tear, which at that moment fell into her lap, showed that though a silent, she was no uninterested auditor.

You haven't done, father? said little Ann, in a disappointed tone: I thought you were going to tell a story. You have been talking about yourself all the time.

I have been something of an egotist, to be sure, my little girl, but I wanted to show my dear young friend how much might depend upon a rainy evening. Life is not made all of sunshine. The happiest and most prosperous must have their seasons of gloom and darkness, and woe be to those from whose souls no rays of brightness emanate to gild those darkened hours. I bless the God of the rain as well as the sunshine. I can read his mercy and his love as well in the tempest, whose wings obscure the visible glories of his creation, as in the splendor of the rising sun, or the soft dews that descend after his setting radiance. I began with a metaphor. I said a rainbow was drawn on the clouds that lowered on that eventful day, and that it still continued to shine with undiminished beauty. Woman, my children was sent by God to be the rainbow of man's darker destiny. From the glowing red, emblematic of that love which warms and gladdens his existence, to the violent melting into the blue of heaven, symbolical of the faith which links him to a purer world, her blending virtues, mingling with each other in beautiful harmony, are a token of God's mercy here, and an earnest of future blessings in those regions where no rainy evenings ever come to obscure the brightness of eternal day.

the light, which had been the lodestone of my opening manhood. I had continued to meet Mary in the gay circles which I frequented, but I had lately become almost a stranger to her home. Shall I be a welcome guest? said I to myself, as I crossed the threshold. Shall I find her en disoblige, likewise, and discover that feminine beauty and grace are incompatible with a rainy evening? I heard a sweet voice reading aloud as I opened the door, and I knew it was the voice that was once music to my ears. Mary rose at my entrance, laying her book quietly on the table, and greeting me with a modest grace and self-possession peculiar to herself. She looked surprised, a little embarrassed, but very far from being displeased. She made no allusion to my estrangement or neglect; expressed no astonishment at my untimely visit, nor once hinted that being alone with her mother, and not anticipating visitors, she thought it unnecessary to wear the habiliments of a lady.

Never, in my life, had I seen her look so lovely. Her dress was perfectly plain, but every fold was arranged by the hand of the Graces. Her dark brown hair, which had a natural wave in it, now uncured by the dampness, was put back in smooth ringlets from her brow, revealing a face which did not consider its beauty wasted because a mother's eye alone rested on its bloom. A beautiful cluster of autumnal roses, placed in a glass vase on the table, perfumed the apartment, and a bright fire on the hearth diffused a spirit of cheerfulness around, while it relieved the atmosphere of its excessive moisture. Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and suffered also from an inflammation of the eyes. Mary had been reading aloud to her from her favorite book. What do you think it was? It was a very old-fashioned one, indeed. No other than the Bible. And Mary was not ashamed to have such a fashionable young gentleman as I then was to see what her occupation had been. What a contrast to the scene I had just quitted! How I loathed the infatuation which had led me to prefer the artificial graces of a belle to the pure child of nature! I drew my chair to the table and entreated that they would not look upon me as a stranger, but as a friend, anxious to be restored to the forfeited privileges of an old acquaintance. I was understood; and, without a single reproach, was admitted again to confidence and familiarity. The hours I had wasted with Theresa seemed a kind of mesmeric slumber, a blank in my existence, or, at least, a feverish dream. What do you think of a rainy evening, Mary? asked I, before I left her.

I love it of all things, replied she, with animation. There is something so home-drawing, so heart-knitting, in its influence. The dependencies which bind us to the world seem withdrawn; and, retiring within ourselves, we learn more of the deep mysteries of our own being.

Mary's soul beamed from her eye as it turned, with a transient obliquity, towards heaven. She paused, as if fearful of unsettling the fountains of her heart. I said that Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and consequently retired early to her chamber; but I lingered; nor did I go till I made a confession of my folly, repentance, and awakened love; and, as Mary did not shut the door in my face, you may imagine she was not sorely displeased.

"Ah! I know who Mary was. I knew all the time, exclaimed George, looking archly at Aunt Mary. A bright tear, which at that moment fell into her lap, showed that though a silent, she was no uninterested auditor.

You haven't done, father? said little Ann, in a disappointed tone: I thought you were going to tell a story. You have been talking about yourself all the time.

I have been something of an egotist, to be sure, my little girl, but I wanted to show my dear young friend how much might depend upon a rainy evening. Life is not made all of sunshine. The happiest and most prosperous must have their seasons of gloom and darkness, and woe be to those from whose souls no rays of brightness emanate to gild those darkened hours. I bless the God of the rain as well as the sunshine. I can read his mercy and his love as well in the tempest, whose wings obscure the visible glories of his creation, as in the splendor of the rising sun, or the soft dews that descend after his setting radiance. I began with a metaphor. I said a rainbow was drawn on the clouds that lowered on that eventful day, and that it still continued to shine with undiminished beauty. Woman, my children was sent by God to be the rainbow of man's darker destiny. From the glowing red, emblematic of that love which warms and gladdens his existence, to the violent melting into the blue of heaven, symbolical of the faith which links him to a purer world, her blending virtues, mingling with each other in beautiful harmony, are a token of God's mercy here, and an earnest of future blessings in those regions where no rainy evenings ever come to obscure the brightness of eternal day.

the light, which had been the lodestone of my opening manhood. I had continued to meet Mary in the gay circles which I frequented, but I had lately become almost a stranger to her home. Shall I be a welcome guest? said I to myself, as I crossed the threshold. Shall I find her en disoblige, likewise, and discover that feminine beauty and grace are incompatible with a rainy evening? I heard a sweet voice reading aloud as I opened the door, and I knew it was the voice that was once music to my ears. Mary rose at my entrance, laying her book quietly on the table, and greeting me with a modest grace and self-possession peculiar to herself. She looked surprised, a little embarrassed, but very far from being displeased. She made no allusion to my estrangement or neglect; expressed no astonishment at my untimely visit, nor once hinted that being alone with her mother, and not anticipating visitors, she thought it unnecessary to wear the habiliments of a lady.

Never, in my life, had I seen her look so lovely. Her dress was perfectly plain, but every fold was arranged by the hand of the Graces. Her dark brown hair, which had a natural wave in it, now uncured by the dampness, was put back in smooth ringlets from her brow, revealing a face which did not consider its beauty wasted because a mother's eye alone rested on its bloom. A beautiful cluster of autumnal roses, placed in a glass vase on the table, perfumed the apartment, and a bright fire on the hearth diffused a spirit of cheerfulness around, while it relieved the atmosphere of its excessive moisture. Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and suffered also from an inflammation of the eyes. Mary had been reading aloud to her from her favorite book. What do you think it was? It was a very old-fashioned one, indeed. No other than the Bible. And Mary was not ashamed to have such a fashionable young gentleman as I then was to see what her occupation had been. What a contrast to the scene I had just quitted! How I loathed the infatuation which had led me to prefer the artificial graces of a belle to the pure child of nature! I drew my chair to the table and entreated that they would not look upon me as a stranger, but as a friend, anxious to be restored to the forfeited privileges of an old acquaintance. I was understood; and, without a single reproach, was admitted again to confidence and familiarity. The hours I had wasted with Theresa seemed a kind of mesmeric slumber, a blank in my existence, or, at least, a feverish dream. What do you think of a rainy evening, Mary? asked I, before I left her.

I love it of all things, replied she, with animation. There is something so home-drawing, so heart-knitting, in its influence. The dependencies which bind us to the world seem withdrawn; and, retiring within ourselves, we learn more of the deep mysteries of our own being.

Mary's soul beamed from her eye as it turned, with a transient obliquity, towards heaven. She paused, as if fearful of unsettling the fountains of her heart. I said that Mrs. Carlton was an invalid, and consequently retired early to her chamber; but I lingered; nor did I go till I made a confession of my folly, repentance, and awakened love; and, as Mary did not shut the door in my face, you may imagine she was not sorely displeased.

"Ah! I know who Mary was. I knew all the time, exclaimed George, looking archly at Aunt Mary. A bright tear, which at that moment fell into her lap, showed that though a silent, she was no uninterested auditor.

You haven't done, father? said little Ann, in a disappointed tone: I thought you were going to tell a story. You have been talking about yourself all the time.

I have been something of an egotist, to be sure, my little girl, but I wanted to show my dear young friend how much might depend upon a rainy evening. Life is not made all of sunshine. The happiest and most prosperous must have their seasons of gloom and darkness, and woe be to those from whose souls no rays of brightness emanate to gild those darkened hours. I bless the God of the rain as well as the sunshine. I can read his mercy and his love as well in the tempest, whose wings obscure the visible glories of his creation, as in the splendor of the rising sun, or the soft dews that descend after his setting radiance. I began with a metaphor. I said a rainbow was drawn on the clouds that lowered on that eventful day, and that it still continued to shine with undiminished beauty. Woman, my children was sent by God to be the rainbow of man's darker destiny. From the glowing red, emblematic of that love which warms and gladdens his existence, to the violent melting into the blue of heaven, symbolical of the faith which links him to a purer world, her blending virtues, mingling with each other in beautiful harmony, are a token of God's mercy here, and an earnest of future blessings in those regions where no rainy evenings ever come to obscure the brightness of eternal day.

Earth's Fashions.

Earth's fashions never change. Glorious, too, the sky above her, in its vesture of fadeless blue and studding of blazing brilliants. The race run mad after new fashions, and brains are racked for new styles. But earth wears the one she wore six thousand years ago. It annually fades, and leaf and bloom drop from its field, but the mysterious alchemy of the season retouches the garments with the same varied and beautiful coloring. Not a leaf, or blade, or flower, has changed. The sky has the same blue, and the stars are as bright as when they sang together in the morning of creation. The lilies of the valley—they toil not, neither do they spin—yet the creation of art cannot vie with their beauty. How calmly and how grandly nature marches on to the music of the winds, the streams, the songs of birds, and the falling of the rain, her night journeys lit by the "lamps on high," and the sunbeams of the days, glistening her peaceful armor of flowers and foliage, and shimmering flowers. Hay banners rustle in the winds of summer, and in autumn, rent, but still gorgeous and flaunting, sweeping by to the beat of the flail and the reaper's song, and the dreamy piping of the crickets in the fields. We are glad that earth's fashions never change.—Wisconsin Chief.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Dec 11th, 1858.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS. Our Advertising friends are earnestly requested to hand in their favors before 10 o'clock on Friday, if they wish them to appear in the next day's issue.

NEW BOOKS. Several notices of new books prepared for this week's paper are necessarily omitted, as well as several communications.

Particular Notice

A copy of the Revised Statutes of this Commonwealth is missing from this office, and if taken by any person with the intention of returning it, he is requested to do so without delay, but if stolen a reward of three dollars will be paid for the recovery of the book and the detection and conviction of the thief.

JOHN A. GREEN.

Quincy, Dec. 11th, 1858.

Quincy Lyceum.

On Thursday evening last, the Lyceum in this town was inaugurated under very happy auspices. The evening was fine, and the air, though cold, was clear and bracing, and a goodly assemblage of our most intellectual men and fairest ladies left their firesides to be present at the opening course of lectures, and lend their aid in establishing successfully this useful institution. The preliminary address was made by the President, Mr. Morton, in his usual happy manner, who, after stating briefly the reasons why the lectures were not commenced at an earlier date—the course intended to be pursued—the determination of the officers not to present any lecturers except those of high reputation and commanding talents, and extending a hearty welcome to the assembled audience, introduced the Rev. Mr. Kallach of Boston.

Circumstances having brought the lecturer, within a few years past, prominently before the public, much interest was naturally excited to look upon one whose name had so long been tossed about on every tongue; and when he rose, and the deep tones of his voice were heard, his tall and manly form, and his face beaming with intelligence and integrity, commanded the admiration and respect of all. His address was deeply interesting, and portrayed the advantages of antagonism in bringing out the hidden strength of human intellect, and causing the fires of genius, that otherwise might have smoldered on unheeded, to burst forth into a blaze, whose lights have illumined every corner of the wide world. His illustrations were happy, and were conveyed to his hearers in words well chosen, distinct and eloquent—some of which came home to the audience with touching and peculiar power. We do not remember ever to have listened to a lecture that commanded such close attention. Through its whole duration not a sound was heard except the voice of the speaker, and every eye was fixed intently on him. We wish the lecture might be repeated, for it is fraught with incalculable good.

CONGRESS AND THE MESSAGE. The second session of the Thirty-fifth Congress commenced at noon, on Monday last. In the Senate, fifty members were in attendance. In the House, about two hundred members responded to their names.

President Buchanan's second annual message was immediately transmitted, and is a lengthy document, crowded with important details of public affairs. It presents to the country a clear, full, and honest exposition of his administration in its plans and results, up to the present time. Our correspondent from Boston has given a synopsis of its contents, and its length alone prevents its publication in our columns.

HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY. Firemen's Aid, No. 1, of this town, had quite a pleasant time at their monthly meeting last Monday evening. After the transaction of business, the company, with a number of invited friends, partook of excellent refreshments—the fish and clam chowder being all the most decided epicure could desire. Songs, stories and dancing, each, occupied a portion of the time, until an alarm of fire was sounded. Capt. Newcomb, the energetic Foreman, deserves great credit for the highly creditable and hospitable manner these meetings are conducted.

SOUTH SHORE RAILROAD. At the annual meeting of this Corporation, in Boston, on the 8th inst., after a warm discussion, the old Board of Directors were re-elected, viz:—Wm. Humphrey, Charles Humphrey, John W. Loud, Joseph Loud, Jr., Elliot L. White, Lahan Souther, James C. Doane, William Schier, and Minot Tirrell.

MAD DOGS. The North Bridgewater Gazette states that about a dozen dogs have been put to death in that place, recently, in consequence of apprehensions of hydrophobia. We understand that an individual in this town, has been bitten by a dog supposed to be rabid, during the present week.

QUINCY LYCEUM. As it appears to be the intention of the officers of the Quincy Lyceum to give the public a superior course of lectures, we hope that the community, by their presence at the Town Hall on Thursday evenings, will aid them in their laudable endeavors.

PLENTY OF COAL. At Pittsburgh, (Pa.) about a week ago, 1,053,000 bushels of coal were sent down the river, filling one hundred and thirty-five barges, drawn by nineteen tow-boats.

ABUNDANCE OF POULTRY. The New York poultry market has been abundantly supplied the past week, the average receipts by two express companies having been more than fifty tons a day for the last six days. Even at low prices it was found impossible to get rid of all before spoiling. What is the price of poultry in this vicinity?

APPLES. Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire have supplied the apple market, the present year, to a great extent. The markets of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Charleston, and other cities, have been supplied by Massachusetts traders. The New England crop has been large, but diminutive in size.

SNOW IN NEW YORK. There are six inches of snow in the Mohawk valley, and from ten to twelve inches on the hills.

A PLENTIFUL SUPPLY. New Orleans papers state that the aggregate receipts of the products of the Mississippi valley, at that port, for the year, will more than double that of last year.

ANOTHER NEW BANK. Messrs. Osmyrn Brewster, George T. Bigelow and Cornelius Driscoll have given notice of an application to the Legislature of Massachusetts for an act of incorporation for a bank, to be called the Revenue Bank, located south of School and Milk streets, in Boston, with a capital stock of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

WHAT IS FLOUR WORTH? More flour and wheat, by 1,463,684 barrels, has been received this year than in 1857, at Buffalo, Oswego, and Ogdensburg, N. Y.

THE OLD SWALLOW TAVERN. This famous old tavern, on the road from Boston to Dedham, which for half a century has been the resort of the epicure, has, since the death of the veteran Taft, been without a host. We understand the "Old Tavern" is to be repaired and put in complete order, and will be opened about the first of January, 1859, by an accomplished caterer.

ANOTHER HERMADAL. "Boston North" is the name of a weekly journal to be issued in Boston on Saturday, the first of January ensuing, by that veteran in the newspaper business, Lewis Josselyn, Esq., late of the Lynn Bay State. It is to be an independent political sheet, inter-perused with general reading matter, and the first number will be illustrated by a life-like portrait of Hon. S. A. Douglas, with a sketch of his life. Success to friend J. in his new enterprise. Terms, $2 per year, in advance.

SUDDEN DEATH. Thomas Berry, said to be from this town, jumped from a train on the Maine Railroad, Friday evening of last week, near North Andover station, and was so injured by falling under the wheels, that he died soon afterwards. He was twenty-two years old. The train was going at full speed at the time, which leads to the belief that the act was suicidal.

AN EVENING PAPER. Messrs. Clarke, Fellows & Co. of that old established journal, the Boston Courier, now publish a daily evening edition, which, for its well filled columns of late and interesting news and its neat mechanical appearance, places it in the front rank of the daily press of that city. We are gratified to learn that its subscription list has largely increased since this arrangement.

REMOVAL. The jewelry shop kept by Mr. Holden, and located for a great many years on Temple street, is to be removed the coming week to the building recently occupied as the post office, where our young and enterprising friend, John O. Holden, will be pleased, we have no doubt, to receive a call from our citizens,—one and all.

LYCEUM. The next lecture before the Quincy Lyceum will be given by Col. Edward G. Parker, whose reputation as an eloquent and able lecturer is well known to all.

MY MOTHER'S SALVE. This salve is now acknowledged by thousands to be the best article ever offered for the speedy cure of burns, scalds, sores, chapped hands, etc. See advertisement.

An amusing and painful incident recently took place in Cincinnati. Two gentlemen afflicted with St. Vitus' dance met, and each supposing the other to be mocking the other, a fight ensued of the most desperate character. Finally a mutual acquaintance forced them struggling in the gutter, and succeeded in separating them and making known their mutual mistake, when they shook hands and apologized to each other.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston, Dec. 8, 1858.
President's Message.—The purchase of Cuba—Mexico—Matters—The Tariff—Pacific Railroad—City Elections in Massachusetts—Business prospects—Boot and Shoe Trade to China, good prospects—Popular Education—Free Lectures and Evening Schools for adults, their value.

The annual message of the President was received by Congress on Monday, and appeared in the Boston papers yesterday morning. It is of great length. The points discussed are Kansas, Utah, China, Japan, Great Britain, Spain, including Cuba, Mexico, Central America, the Pacific Railroad and the Tariff—all important subjects, of course. He dwells at much length on Kansas matters, and evidently yields to the so-called doctrine of popular sovereignty doctrine. He proposes to purchase Cuba outright, in order to command and control our own commerce in and about the West India Islands; to break up effectually the slave trade, thereby to increase the hope of civilization for benighted Africa. He urges upon Congress an appropriation to purchase Cuba of the Spanish government at Madrid. To do this, it would probably take a hundred million of dollars. Among other things, he recommends a Protectorate over the northern portions of Mexico, to be withdrawn as soon as firm local governments shall be established in this ill-fated country. He advocates a free right of way from ocean to ocean, for the benefit of all the world.

On the Tariff, the message is sound and judicious. He deprecates the practice of borrowing money to pay the expenses of the government; he says measures should be immediately taken to increase our revenue. He believes that the incidental protection afforded by a revenue tariff, at this time, would increase the confidence of the manufacturing interests, and give a fresh impulse to our revenue business. He is in favor of specific duties as advantageous to the manufacturer, to which he is fairly entitled under a revenue tariff. We hope Congress will adopt his views forthwith on the subject of increasing the tariff. He favors the construction of the Pacific Railroad as a link to connect the East and West in closer bonds. This is but a mere glance at this long message, many parts of which will be received with different views by the American people, more especially his sentiments of Kansas matters. The message is tinged with an air of statesmanship, but in many features savors hard with the characteristics of an old politician.

Municipal Elections occurred in the cities of Cambridge, Chelsea, New Bedford, Springfield and Lawrence on Monday last, and resulted generally in favor of the Republican candidates. The prospects of Mr. Kimball for Mayor of Boston, increases daily in his favor, and it would not be surprising to see him elected by the Republican party on Monday next. The contest now lies between him and Mayor Lincoln, notwithstanding there are three other candidates in the field. It will be a close fit any how.

Many branches of business continue depressed, and a hard winter is before the industrial classes. Our enterprising citizens engaged in the Granite business have reason to anticipate the dull season that they have encountered for many years past. According to advices from New York, however, one branch, the Boot and Shoe trade need not despair, leather being in good demand. Dealers anticipate a large trade next spring, and the probability is, there will be a scarcity of all kinds of goods in this line for spring trade. Active exportations have been made of boots and shoes the past week to South America, the West Indies, and other places. The new treaty with China is likely to open a large trade in this line of goods. Boots and shoes being once introduced into China, will supersede those at present in use there, and create a large demand from the United States, thus extending this trade to all parts of the world.

A deep interest prevails here on the subject of popular education. Many meetings have been recently held for discussion. By some of the speakers it is argued, the present school system might be materially improved. Fewer branches studied, shorter lessons given to the pupils, and more thoroughness required. The custom of giving lessons to scholars to be acquired out of school is condemned by many, who believe six hours a day is enough to tax the labors of young minds. The frequent change of text-books is regarded as an evil to the scholars, and unnecessary expense to the parents. More attention is urged on the subject of physical education, which seems in the Boston schools to have been neglected. Much good may grow out of the consideration of these matters.

It is certainly true, that the adult portion of our community may receive great advantages from free lectures on literary subjects, given at the public expense. It is worthy of a trial. In 1847, an act of the Legislature was passed, whereby cities and towns may provide for instruction in all the common branches for adults. It would be a pleasant thing to see Evening Schools in the schools districts of our Commonwealth, free to all. Great benefits would be realized in a moral and intellectual sense; remembering that the great object of education is not only to enlighten, but to teach all the distinctive difference between good and evil, or the constant improvement of both mind and heart.

For the Patriot.

Rev. John T. Roddan.

It is with the deepest regret that we record the death of the Rev. John T. Roddan, for many years Roman Catholic Pastor of this town, who died at the Episcopal residence in Boston, on Friday, Dec. 2d.

Father Roddan was born in Boston, on January 12th, 1819, and was near 40 years of age at his death. Left an orphan in the ninth year of his age, his youth and early manhood was a struggle with circumstances; out of which, like all truly great men, he came victorious. He was educated in the Propaganda at Rome, where he was distinguished for ability, and ordained in 1848; and immediately returned to Boston, and was very shortly appointed to the pastoral charge of Quincy, Randolph, and the missions connected with them.

His residence at Rome made him acquainted with the proceedings and objects of the so-called liberal party, and being in eye witness of their doings in Rome during the republic, he was well qualified to judge the actions, and principles of the Red Republicans. He became a contributor to the Boston Pilot, and soon after its editor. Under his management the Pilot immediately took rank as the leading Catholic journal in America. His articles on Hungary, Red Republicanism, and the Irish filibuster movement, had vast influence on the minds of the readers of the Pilot, and from the great and scattered circulation of the paper did much good. He also contributed several articles to Brownson's Review, on the Hungarian question, which attracted great notice in Europe at the time. He was called by many, too conservative in his views of public affairs, but time proved that he was right upon every public question, on which he wrote, and on every public man who came under his animadversion.

But, it was as a clergyman, that he will be longest remembered. Affable, courteous, charitable to the extreme of his means, he was truly a Father to his congregation. Never did any one who needed his advice, leave him without being comforted; never did any one go to him in distress, leave him unrelieved. Under his ministry was built St. Mary's Church, in Randolph; and St. John's, in this town.

The death of such a man, in the full vigor of his life, is a loss not only to his own immediate friends, but to the country at large, and will be long regretted by all who had the happiness of being acquainted with him.

"Thus star, by star declines,
Till all are passed away;
As morning high, and higher shines,
To pure and perfect day.
Nor sink these stars in empty night,
But hide themselves in Heaven's own light."

Special Notices.

CONCERT AND BALL. The Quincy Brass Band would respectfully give notice that they will give a Promenade Concert and Ball on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24th, at the Town Hall. Per order.

JOHN H. SHACKLEY, Clerk.

LYCEUM. Notice is hereby given that the first lecture before the Quincy Lyceum will be delivered on THURSDAY, the 9th day of December, at the Town Hall, by the Rev. J. H. Kallach of Boston.

He will be succeeded by Messrs. EDWARD G. PARKER, JOHN S. ELDRIDGE, PARKER PILLSBURY, JUDAH QUINCY, Jr., and other distinguished lecturers, in the order hereafter to be named. The Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, of Ohio, is expected during the Christmas holidays.

Tickets to be had at the Bookstore, or of JOHN O. HOLDEN, Secretary.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.

Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.

In Johnson's (Massachusetts) Hall.

Miss S. A. Magoun will speak to-morrow, forenoon and afternoon.

Quincy, Dec. 11.

Men's heavy double sole calf congress Boots. A first rate article, sold by C. Gil & Co.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION. Just published by FEDERHEN & Co., Booksellers and Stationers, No. 13 Court Street, Boston, a Brief Treatise of 48 pages, on Diseases of the Sexual System of both sexes—their symptoms and treatment—prepared by a physician of the Boston Eclectic Hospital.

This work also contains a searching exposure of the deception and imposture practiced by advertising quacks, with some of their names and locations. Sold by periodical dealers generally. Sent by mail, on the receipt of three postage stamps. Address Box 1802, Boston Post Office.

Feb. 27.

At C. Gil & Co.'s may be found a full assortment of heavy and light Rubber Boots, Shoes and Slippers, for men, women and children, warranted of the best quality, and which, considering the great rise in the prices of these goods, they will sell at low prices.

Marriages.

In South Boston, on the 1st inst., by the Rev. Thomas Dawes, Mr. Silas P. Crane to Miss Lydia L. eldest daughter of Henry Souther, Esq., all of South Boston.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 4th inst., Mrs. Mehitable Willard, widow of the late Benjamin W. Willard, aged 84 years and 9 months.

On the 10th inst., Mrs. Elizabeth B. wife of Charles N. Hunt, aged 20 years.

Funeral from the Universalist church Sunday afternoon. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

In West Cambridge, on the 5th inst., Miss Elizabeth D. daughter of the late Charles A. Brown of this town, aged 37 years.

Real Estate for Sale.

CONSISTING of Wood Land, Tillage Land, Salt Meadow, and a Dwelling House, in three lots, viz:—

23 Acres of Wood Land, situated in Quincy, in three lots, viz:—

11 Acres known as Mark's Lot,

23 Acres of Wood Land, situated in Quincy, in three lots, viz:—

One lot of 11 Acres, known as Faxon's Meadow,

Seven Acres of Tillage Land in one lot.

Also—One Dwelling House situated on High street, Quincy, now occupied by Mr. William Hobart.

The above mentioned property belongs to the estate of the late Noah Curtis.

Inquire of DANIEL BAXTER, Esq.

Quincy, Dec. 11.

1859.

OLD Farmer's Almanac, Brown's Almanac and Pocket Memorandum, Family Christian Almanac, Lady's Almanac, Juvenile Almanac, Diaries of all kinds and sizes, at the

QUINCY BOOKSTORE.

Quincy, Dec. 11.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Boat Manufacturer, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

CHARLES HALL,

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

JOHN W. HALL, Administrator.

Quincy, Dec. 11, 1858.

A Great and Good Book for every family

THE NEW ILLUSTRATED

Hydropathic Encyclopedia.

A COMPLETE System of Hydropathy and Hygiene, in one volume—Embracing Outlines of Anatomy, Illustrated—Philosophy of the Human Body—Hygienic Aids and the Preservation of Health—Dietetics and Hydropathic Cookery—Theory and Practice of Water Treatment—Special Pathology and Hydro-Therapeutics, including the Nature, Causes, Symptoms, and Treatment of all known Diseases—Application of Hydropathy to Midwifery and the Nursery—with Three Hundred Engravings and nearly one thousand pages, including a Glossary of Medical Terms, and a complete Index. By R. T. TRAIL, M.D. Published by Fowler and Wells.

In the plan of this work, the wants and necessities of the people have been steadily kept in view, while almost every topic of interest in the departments of Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Hygiene, and Therapeutics is presented, those of practical utility are always put prominently forward. The prevailing errors, whims, and conceits of the day and age are exposed and related. The theories and hypotheses upon which the popular drug practice is predicated are controverted, and the way and the wherefore of their fallacy clearly demonstrated. The following is a brief analysis of its contents:

History of Medicine. Bathing and Medication. Anatomy Illustrated by 120 Engravings. Physiology Illustrated, comprising the Rational Basis of Muscular Action—The Nervous Influence—Philosophy of Mind—Mensural Phenomena—Functions of Digestion, Circulation, Respiration, Absorption, Nutrition, Secretion, Excretion, Calorication and Temperaments—The Race of Man and Theory of Population.

Hygiene, embracing all the relations of Air, Light, Drink, Food, Temperature, Exercise, Sleep, Clothing, Bathing, and the Passions, to the growth and development of Body and Mind, the Preservation of Health, and the Attainment of Longevity.

Dietetics, comprising the Bile, Anatomical, Physiological, Chemical, and Experimental Evidence concerning the Dietetic Character of Man.

Hydropathic Cooking, with Special Directions for the Preparation of Food. Philosophy of Water Cure, with Illustrated Explanations of all the Water-Cure Appliances, a Philosophical Exposition of the modes of operation of Water Treatment and the rationale of Drug Treatment.

Dietaries, containing the Therapeutic Distinctions of Diet for Invalids. The Nature, Symptoms, and Treatment of all known diseases are examined, and the success of Drug Practice exposed, and the proper Medication recommended and specified.

The Treatment of Surgical Diseases illustrated, and directions for the minor operations given.

The Management of Lying in Women and the Treatment of Children, etc.

The work is intended to be plain, intelligible, and a sufficient guide for Domestic Practice or Home Treatment in all ordinary Diseases, embracing the whole range of subjects connected with the Philosophy of Life, the Preservation of Health, and the Treatment of Diseases.

This great work may be had in one large volume, bound in heavy style. Single copies sent to any Post-office in the United States, only $3. All letters and orders should be directed to

FOWLER & WELLS,

305 Broadway, New York.

Agents in every neighborhood will be supplied in packages of a dozen or more copies by express or by freight. Single copies by mail. Every family should have a copy. Editors copying the above a few times, including this notice, and calling attention to the same, will be entitled to a copy of the work, deliverable to their order, at 305 Broadway, New York, Dec. 4.

New Crop of Molasses.

JUST received a lot of the new crop of the New Orleans Molasses, and for sale low by H. VINALL.

Quincy, Dec. 11.

To Let,

A GOOD House, Shoemakers' Shop, Bar, and other Out-buildings, and 73 Acres of good Land. There is a plenty of Fruit—Apples, Peaches, Cherries, Grapes, Currants, &c.—on the premises, which is situated on Washington street, one mile from the Depot—a mile from the Public Schools. Apply to Jonathan Baxter, 2d, near the cemetery, or

GEORGE BAXTER, Hancock st.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

Selling Off.

DAVID B. STETSON

WOULD inform his friends and the public that he has

Returned to his Old Stand,

A few rods East of the Stone Temple,

WEST INDIA GOODS, FAMILY PROVISIONS, GROCERIES, HATS AND SHOES, FANCY GOODS, TOYS, CONFECTIONERY, RUSSIA SALVE, and all the popular Medicines, Essences, Flavors, &c. A good assortment of

WOODEN WARE.

Just received a fresh lot of the improved Rosemary.

A share of public patronage is solicited.

Quincy, Dec. 11.

Apples for Sale.

THE Subscriber has from 25 to 30 barrels of the first quality of Winter Apples consisting of Golden Russets, Baldwin and Pippins, which he will sell cheap for Cash.

ALSO—A few barrels of second quality, which he will at $1.50 per barrel.

SOLOMON NIGHTINGALE,

Granite Street.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

FOUND.

PICKED UP on the Neponset Turnpike, on SATURDAY last, a Box of Boots, the owner can have by proving property and paying charges, on applying to

PHILIP WHELAN.

Quincy, Dec. 4, 1858.

House, Sign, and Carriage Painting.

Ebenezer B. Hersey,

A first old stand on Coddington street, repairing and painting carriages, signs, and houses, with whom he has been located nearly twenty-five years, that he is still prepared to answer all orders for in the different branches, equal to the most skillful, and satisfactory to all who may require his services.

PAINTING,

Paints, Oils, etc., of the best quality, on hand or furnished at the earliest notice.

Come in old customers, one and all; Bring in your jobs ever so small—And that will make the subscriber laugh. He'll work by the day for a dollar and a half.

Grateful for liberal manifestations of public support, in hygienic nature, the subscriber anticipates a renewed patronage.

EBENEZER B. HERSEY.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

READ THIS

AND

PROFIT BY IT!

AS this is about the time that I would like to reduce my stock, I shall offer

Extra Inducements,

to all those that are in want of any Goods in my line. I would say to those that are about purchasing, that they should take advantage of the above named articles.

Delains, Prints, Valencia Plaids,

Alpacas, or Dress Goods of any kind,

SHAWLS, HOSERY, GLOVES,

Collars, Underclothes, Embroideries, Flannels, Cassimeres and Clothing, that I shall offer the above named articles.

At Reduced Prices,

and will guarantee to those who will favor me with a call that they shall be satisfied with prices. Please call and examine and judge for yourself.

CALEB PACKARD.

Quincy, Dec. 4.

VESTS, (Custom Made) from 1.75 to $5.

Quincy, Oct. 31.

T. DODDS.

For Sale.

1000 EXCELLENT POSTS AND RAILS.

Also—50 cords of Oak and Walnut WOOD.

Apply to JEREMIAH NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

Money Wanted.

J. F. BURRELL has just received a lot of Men's Thick Soled Calf Congress Boots, which he is selling for $1.75 per pair.

You can get a pair of French Calf Boots, made to fit your foot,

FOR $4.00.

Quincy, Nov. 6.

if

CHARLES E. POPE.

Quincy, Oct. 9.

3m

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS. QUINCY, No. 11. TAKEN execution in

Poetry.

The Jolly Mariner.

It was a jolly mariner
As ever he sang;
He wore his trousers wide and free,
And always eat his pig,
And blessed his eyes, in sailor-wise,
And never slunk his grog.

Up spoke the jolly mariner,
Whilst walking up and down:
The briny sea has pickled me,
And done me very brown;
But here I go, in sailor clothes,
A-cruising in the town!

The first of all the curious things
That changed his eyes to meet,
As this undaunted mariner
Went sailing up the street,
Was, tripping with a little cane,
A dandy all complete!

He stopped, that jolly mariner,
And eyed the stranger well:
What that may be, he said, says he,
Is more than I can tell;
But he'er before, on sea or shore,
Was such a heavy swell!

He met a lady in her hoops,
And thus she heard him hail:
Now blow me tight!—but there's a sight,
To manage in a gale;
I never saw so small a craft
With such a spread of sail!

Observe the craft before and aft,
She'd make a pretty prize!
And then, in that improper way,
He spoke about his eyes,
That mariners are wont to use,
In anger or surprise.

He saw a plumper on a roof,
Who made a mighty din—
Shipmate, ahoy! the rover cried,
It makes a sailor grin
To see you copper-bottomed
Your upper decks with him?

He met a yellow-headed man,
And asked about the way:
But not a word could he make out
Of what the chap would say,
Unless he meant to call him names
By screaming, "Nix furety!"

Up spoke the jolly mariner,
And to the man said he,
I haven't sailed these thirty years
Upon the stormy sea,
To hear the chance of such a name
As I have heard from thee!

So take thou that!—and laid him fast,
But soon the man arose,
And beat the jolly mariner,
Across his jolly nose,
Till he was fain, from very pain,
To yield him to the blows.

'Twas then this jolly mariner,
A wretched jolly tar,
Wished he was in a jolly boat
Upon the sea afar,
Or riding fast, before the blast,
Upon a single spar!

'Twas then this jolly mariner
Returned unto his ship,
And told unto his wondering crew
The story of his trip,
With many oaths and curses, too,
Upon his wretched lip!

As hoping—so this mariner
In tearful words harangued—
His timbers might be silvered, and His keelward suppers augmented,
(A double curse, and vastly more,
Than being shot or hanged!)

If ever he—and I ere again
A dreadful oath be sworn—
If ever he, except at sea,
Spoke any stranger name,
Or like a son of—something—went
A-cruising on the shore!

Mercy.

Ye, therefore, who love mercy, teach your sons
To love it too. The spring-time of our years Is soon discolored and defiled in most
By huddling ill, that ask a prudent hand
To check them. But, alas! none sooner shoot,
If unrestrained, into luxuriant growth,
Than cruelty, most devilish of them all.
Mercy to him that shows it, is the rule
And righteous basis of his act.
By which heaven moves in pardoning guilty man;
And he that shows none, being ripe in years,
And conscious of the outrage he commits,
Shall seek it, and not find it, in his turn.

Anecdotes.

I know I am a perfect bear in my manners, said a young farmer to his sweetheart.
No, indeed, you are not, John; you have never hugged me yet. You are more sheep than bear.

A gentleman, showing a friend his portrait, admiringly done by the photographic process.
It's very well, said his friend, returning it to him; but the fact is, I hate the style altogether!

But why, my good sir?
Because, replied he, it is a foe to graphic art!

An elephant once nearly killed an Irishman for an insult offered to his trunk.
The act was rash in the extreme; but it was impossible, he said, to resist the nose you could pull with both hands.

A lawyer in one of the western courts lately
by show a case at the head of another.
The court required him to apologize for it. He did so, and added,
While I am about it, I may as well apologize before hand for throwing another case at him the first chance I get.

Daniel Webster was once asked by a young law student if there was any room in the legal profession for young men.
There is always room in the upper story of any profession for those who can reach it, was the reply.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
My Mother's Salve.

THIS CELEBRATED PREPARATION has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its great curative properties, and has been the agent for relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve"
Is a PERFECT CHEMICAL COMPOUND, prepared from ROOTS, HERBS and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses

Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving VIRTUES
never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve"
Is SAFE and EFFECTUAL, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a permanent cure.

"My Mother's Salve"
Is a BURNING SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve"
Is worthy of confidence and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth. DIRECTIONS for USING

"My Mother's Salve"
Are simple. Every mother and nurse know how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, removed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with the Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ailments, rub in cases of Rheumatism. In any case of pain, a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. BECK.

BURRELL & HUNTING, Sole Proprietors,
No. 6 Tremont Street, Boston.
For Sale in Quincy by Mrs. E. HAYDEN
Oct. 30.

Apothecary Store.

MRS. E. HAYDEN returns thanks to her friends and the public for their long-continued patronage, and offers an enlarged stock of superior Family Medicines, selected with care.

Also various articles for invalids, Pearl and prepared Harley, Pains, Gout, Cracked Heels, Sore Throat, Toothache, Corns, Corn Sticks, Brooms, &c. &c. Jellies, Raspberry and Lemon Syrup, Guava Paste, &c.

Shoulder Braces and Supporters of various kinds, Gum Elastic Breast Pumps, Glass Pipes and Bells, Putty, and Bottles, spread Plasters, Glass and Metal Syringes, Bed-pans, Horse-hair Mitts, &c. &c.

Fresh European Lectures always on hand. Physicians' prescriptions put up with care and attention.

She is also receiving the new and popular medicine of the day, as they appear in this and other States. Washington St., near State Temple, Quincy, Nov. 1.

Hall's Great SCROFUL REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting or purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease—regulates the Bowels, restores all vitiated secretions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and corrects tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vitality and Physical Strength.

It is a powerful and safe remedy for Scrofula (Hemorrhoids), such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever, Sore, White Swelling, Dropsy, Blisters, Boils, Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eczema, or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other known remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effectual cure for Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Flatulency, Constipation and Derangement of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to Females, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness and Headache.

It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.

Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co., No. 8 State Street, Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99 Union Street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT,
Quincy, Dec. 13.

Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Neck Ties

etc., etc., etc.
JOSEPH W. LOMBARD,
HAS just received a large assortment of Driving Gloves, at low prices. Also Neck Ties, Stocks, Fane Bosoms, White Shirts, Black Silk Handkerchiefs from 75 cents to $1.62.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

Boots and Shoes.

ELBRIDGE CLAPP has just received a full assortment of Boots and Shoes, suitable for the season, which he will sell at the VERY LOWEST PRICES. Give him a call soon.

A lot of Boots and Shoes slightly shop worn are offered Very Cheap.

Quincy, July 31.

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap for cash.

Quincy, Feb. 28.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 18.

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,

SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING.

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office, WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
Counsellor at Law,

Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.
Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,
Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

George WHITE, ASA FRENCH.
May 20.

ATTENTION.
The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE

DOORS, SASHES, &c., &c.,

Blinds, Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co

Having recently made large additions to our stock of BUILDING MATERIALS,

we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!
We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS, SHEET LEAD, FRAMING PINS, WINDOW FRAMES, DOOR BELLS, SCREWS, &c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety. ALSO—P. d. Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks; MORTICE, THUMB and PEOPLE'S LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs; BLAKE'S BUTTS,

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds. Wrought, Fancy Plate,

STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGERS; SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's Improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings. Foster's Patent Window Supporter, The best thing ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER. DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF BAILEY, CARVER & CO., SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

SEASONED LUMBER,
Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times.

DIMENSION FRAMES, Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand. ALSO—Good Pine Wood at $6 a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF. Quincy, May 8.

Coal, Lime, Brick and Sand, with a good assortment of SEASONED LUMBER, constantly on hand, and for sale by the subscriber at Quincy Canal Wharf.

NATHANIEL WHITE.

Quincy, April 10.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

800 GALLONS PURE CIDER VINEGAR, made on the farm formerly owned by E. V. French, now in store and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, by

GEORGE L. BAXTER, & CO., Quincy, Aug. 15.

Boot and Shoe Findings.

JUST received and for sale low, a lot of Boot and Shoe Kit, Findings, &c., by Quincy, Apr. 18.

H. VINAL.

BURNS, &c.

AMES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, sunburns, chilblains, &c., &c.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept. 18.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON,

ISRAEL W. MUNKROE, SECRETARY,

STEPHEN BATES, DIRECTORS,

Quincy, Milton, Charles Brock, Dorchester,

Isaac W. Munroe, H. W. Blanchard, Cohasset,

Thomas C. Webb, Solomon J. Beal, Hingham,

Stephen Bates, William B. Duggan, Ebenezer Gay,

Thomas Curtis, Boston, South Hingham, Alfred Lovins,

Albert Thompson, North Bridgewater, Sumner A. Hayward,

Royal W. Turner, South Braintree, Barnstable,

Apollon Randall, Dedham, George Marston,

Jonathan A. Cobb, References, by permission:

Hos. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston, Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,

Hos. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield, Hos. JAMES M. HUNTER, of Randolph, Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham, Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy, JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy, Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple

April 1.

National Police Gazette.

THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be sent by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.)

GEORGE W. MATSILL & CO., Editors & Proprietors of the National Police Gazette.

New York City, Apr. 25

GEO. R. FRENCH, Engraver and Plate Printer,

257 Washington, near Winter St., — Boston

Particular attention given to the Engraving and Printing of

Invitation, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.

A LONG and practical experience in this particular branch, warrants me in saying that persons about ordering Cards of any description, will study their interests by calling, or sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, at prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Maps, Diplomas, Labels, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c., &c., engraved or printed at short notice.

Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.

Orders by mail, express, or otherwise, promptly attended to.

Boston, Feb. 20

Rich's Patent IRON BEAM PLOW.

J. WADSWORTH JR south Weymouth,

Is Agent for the County of Norfolk, FOR THE SALE OF THIS PLOW.

WHO will visit the various parts of the County during the first of April. Plows delivered in any part of the County free of charge

Terms, cash on delivery.

Weights and Prices.

Old Dominion, 3 horse, 125 lbs. price, $13.50

C. No. 1, 2 horse, 125 " " 12.00

Washington, No. 2, 2 horse 110 " " 11.00

D. Improved, 90 " " 9.00

E. Corn Plow, 1 horse 60 " " 5.00

F. Corn Plow, 1 horse 40 " " 4.00

Double Mould Board, 40 " " 4.75

Side Hill and Level Land 100 " " 10.00

Either of the Plows weighing 100 pound or upwards, with extra point, 50 cents more; under 100 weight, 38 cents.

Weymouth April 3

Paper Hangings.

JUST received and for sale cheap for cash, a large quantity of Paper Hangings, and for sale cheap for cash.

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, March 25.

Burnett's Cocaine.

FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. Thomas Golden Lastrale. The German Toilet Balsam, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by

Quincy, June 26.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Fresh Tamarinds.

FOR sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Oct. 16.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY, HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING, Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches, Fob, Curb and Vest Chains, LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS, Gents' Pins and Studs, FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy. All Goods warranted as represented.

Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. G. Coffin Plates Engraved—43

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED. Quincy Oct 24

GROCERIES, FLOUR, AND PROVISIONS!

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a

Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store, which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices. A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound.

50 Tubs of prime dairy Butter. 200 Bushels of Chenango and Long Red Potatoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it to their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.

G. Goods delivered to any part of the Town free of expense. H. VINAL, at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers.

Quincy, Oct. 27.

Salt Pork. 4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork, for sale at Boston prices by DANIEL BAXTER & Co

Quincy, Sept. 27.

Salt Pork. FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers. cheap for cash.

Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK. FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price.

Quincy, Jan. 10

Poetry.

Lord's Prayer Illustrated.

Our Father—

By right of creation
By bountiful provision,
By gracious adoption;

Who art in Heaven—

The throne of thy glory,
The portion of thy children,
The temple of thy angels;

Hallowed be thy name—

By the thought of our hearts,
By the words of our lips,
By the works of our hands;

Thy kingdom come—

Of Providence to defend us,
Of grace to refine us,
Of glory to crown us;

Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven—

Toward us without resistance,
By us without compulsion,
Universally without exception,
Eternally without declension;

Give us this day our daily bread—

Of necessity for our bodies,
Of eternal life for our souls;

And forgive us our trespasses—

Against the commands of thy law,
Against the grace of thy gospel;

As we forgive them that trespass against us—

By defaming our characters,
By embroiling our property,
By abusing our persons;

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil—

Of overwhelming afflictions,
Of worldly encumbrances,
Of Satan's devices,
Of errors' seductions,
Of sinful affections;

For thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory forever.

Thy kingdom governs all,
Thy power subdues all,
Thy glory is above all.

Amen.

As it is in thy purposes,
So it is in thy promises,
So be it in our prayers,
So it shall be in thy praise.

Stick Together.

When midst the wreck of fire and smoke,
And fierce dragons with quivering stroke
Upon the reeling regiment thunder,
Till hemlet's feather touches feather;
Compact the furious shock they stand,
And conquer for they stick together!

When now 'mid clouds of war and want,
Our comrades' walls rise fast and fast,
And charging madly on our front
Come the black legions of disaster,
Shall we present a wavering band
And fly like leaves before a wind?
No! side by side and hand in hand,
We'll stand our ground and stick together!

God gave us hands—one left, one right;
The first to help ourselves, the other
To stretch abroad in kindly might,
To help along our faithful brother.
Then if you see a brother fall,
And bow his head before the weather,
If you be not a dastard all,
You'll help him up and stick together.

Brown Bread.

I'm a Yankee, born among the rye and corn
Of the Eastern States, 'tis said;
And a tribute I'll pay in a rhyming way,
To their loaves of good brown bread.

I've lived at best six years in the West,
Where wheat is used instead,
But in all my wanderings I've seldom found
A loaf of good brown bread.

Since I have roamed to my boyhood's home,
The rocks and the hills I dread;
Yet in spite of that I'm growing fat,
Every day, on good brown bread.

You still may make white bread and cake,
By style and fancy led;
But I tell you, sir, that I prefer
A loaf of good brown bread.

Anecdotes.

THERE, now! cried a little niece, while rummaging a drawer in a bureau, there now!
Grandpa has gone to heaven without his spectacles. What will he do? And shortly afterwards, when another aged relative was supposed to be sick unto death in the house, she came running to his bed side, with the glasses in her hand, and an errand on her lips:

You goin' to die?
They tell me so.
Goin' to heaven?
I hope so.

Well, here are grandpa's spectacles. Won't you take them to him.

An Irishman was asked if he had got his share of the family property:

By shure, said he, my father ordered my elder brother to divide the house with me;
and, by St. Patrick, he did it—for he tuck the inside himself, and gave me the outside.

Shall I see you home, Miss? a timidly stammered a youth one dark night, to a young lady of his acquaintance, who was preparing to leave the old school house. No, you shan't! answered the youthful shrew. I can see far towards home as you can, I rather guess!

A mother once asked a clergyman when she should begin the education of her child, which she told him was then four years old.

Madam, was the reply, you have lost three years already. From the very first smile that gleams over an infant's cheek, your opportunity begins.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON, TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE, SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES, DIRECTORS,

Quincy, Milton, Charles Brock, William S. Morton, Charles Brock, Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester, Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard, Whitcomb Porter, Cohasset, Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal, William B. Duggan, Hingham, Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay, South Hingham, Albert Thompson, Randolph, Alfred Loring, Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater, Sumner A. Hayward, South Braintree, Barnstable, Apollis Randall, George Marston, Dedham, Jonathan A. Cobb.

References, by permission: Hon. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston, Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Boston, Hon. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield, Hon. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph, Hon. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham, Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy, Hon. JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple April 1.

National Police Gazette.

This Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

It is published weekly, except on Sundays, for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.) GEO. W. MATSILL & CO., Editors & Proprietors of the National Police Gazette, New York City, Apr 25

GEO. R. FRENCH, Engraver and Plate Printer.

Particular attention given to the Engraving and Printing of: Invitations, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.

A LONG and practical experience in this particular branch, warrants me in saying that persons about ordering Cards of any description, will study their interests by calling, or sending their orders as above, as he will furnish the most fashionable card produced, at prices as low or lower than any other establishment.

WEDDING STATIONERY, constantly on hand. Portraits, Views, Maps, Diplomas, Labels, Bill-Heads, Blank Checks, Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c., &c., engraved or printed at short notice.

Door-Plates, Seals, and anything in the line, furnished to order and at equally low prices.

Orders by mail, express, or otherwise, promptly attended to. Boston, Feb 20

RICH'S PATENT IRON BEAM PLOW.

J. WADSWORTH JR. South Weymouth, Is Agent for the County of Norfolk, FOR THE SALE OF THIS PLOW,

WHO will visit the various parts of the County during the first of April. Plows delivered in any part of the County free of charge. Terms, cash on delivery.

Weights and Prices.

Old Dominion, 3 horse, 135 lbs. price, $13 50
C. No. 1, 2 horse, 125 " " 12 00
Washington, No. 2, 2 h 110 " " 11 00
D. Improved, 90 " " 9 00
E. Corn Plow, 1 horse 60 " " 5 00
F. Corn Plow, 1 horse 40 " " 4 00
Double Mould Board, 40 " " 4 75
Side Hill and Level Land 160 " " 10 00
Labels of the Plows weighing 100 pound or upwards, with an extra point, 50 cents more; under 100 weight, 35 cents.
Weymouth April 3

Paper Hangings.

JUST received new styles of Paper Hangings and for sale cheap for cash. DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, March 25.

Burnett's Cocaine.

FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair, and rendering it thick and glossy. Burnett's Golden Lustrate. The German Toilet Balsam, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, June 26.

Fresh Tamarinds.

FOR sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Oct. 16.

New Stock and New Styles!

PAPER HANGINGS.

HAVING a desire to accommodate many of our customers and to increase the trade of our place, we have added to our former variety of Goods, an entirely

New and beautiful Stock of Paper Hangings, Borders, Curtains, &c., COMPRISING 100 PATTERNS!

Manufactured on the best paper and in the highest perfection of colors and styles. Our assortment will always be kept good, and we shall spare no efforts to give the best satisfaction to the taste of all who wish to paper their rooms with attractive and pleasing patterns, on good paper and in good colors.

Our prices will range lower than is usual with the same qualities and styles in Boston, but we shall engage in no mean underselling any of our neighbors. Goods, which we present an additional inducement, for the Quincy people to bestow their patronage upon their own traders, and feel themselves suited in every respect as well or better than in the City.

Buildings of new styles will be supplied on the most favorable terms.

C. GILL & CO., HANCOCK STREET.

Quincy March 27

To Boot and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

Wish to call your attention to the following: We have a large stock of Boots and Shoes, and are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dress Shoes, finished especial Black, Brown and Drab Cases, for Congress sinners, Lasts Brown and Drab, for Congress sinners, Lasts, all wool, Italian do, Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Sergeant Best's Rubber Gaiter, of beautiful quality for Congress sinners, from 4 in. to 14 in.

Gallons, black and colors, 4 and 3 in. widths. Shoe Dicks; Congress and Linen Canvas. Shoe Ribbons, Rosettes, and Saddle Web. Eyeballs, Laces, and Strings, all sizes and lots. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads. Of the well known XXX Golden Flag Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Brogans, Shoes and Congress Work.

Drab, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in Hanks, Balls and Spools, for sewing, closing, stitching, binding, straps and counters, top stitching and under threads. Also Sine Threads.

Machine Silk, all colors and sizes. Sea Island Thread Cotton, Blacks, Colored, Unbleached and White.

Spool Thread and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions. Manufacturers of Clothing

Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Goods, required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other place.

BROWN, DIX & Co. No. 52 Milk street. Quincy, June 19

DR. S. STOCKING, DENTAL SURGEON.

No. 19 Tremont Row, opposite the head of Beattie Street, BOSTON.

CONTINUES to perform all operations on the teeth, such as filling, setting, cleansing, regulating, and such terms as make his services accessible to all. Having carefully selected, from the great mass of what are called, modern improvements in Dentistry, whatever is of real value; and combining such improvements with the experience of more than twenty-five years of close application to the duties of the profession he may be permitted to say that whatever pertains to the dental profession, whether mechanical or surgical, he is fully competent to perform.

To do justice, and give satisfaction in all cases that come under the supervision of the dentist, though often attended with some difficulty, should be the aim and study of all who assume the responsibility of the care of the teeth; and the failure of so many in accomplishing what they promise, is a proof of their intentions, and of their ignorance of the principle upon which dental operations are to be performed.

To apply the force of the instrument, the necessity of plugging a tooth, is a process of great apparent simplicity, yet it is the most difficult of execution, and important in its consequences. So true is this, that not more than one in twenty who belong to the profession, is qualified to fill a tooth. And so true is this, that the natural teeth may be improved, where correct taste and sound judgment are required in combination with skill in mechanism. There is, however, still another item embraced in the qualifications and services of the dentist, of paramount importance, which is called for at the present day, in administering either for the removal of teeth, or for the retention of artificial ones.

Artificial ones may be badly set, and fail to answer the purpose for which they were made; but neither life nor health is thereby endangered. Not so, however, in the administration of ether, it is an agent that should be confined to the care and control of intelligent men, who have learned the peculiarities and effects on the human system. The use of a sponge or cloth in its administration, though a little more convenient for the administrator, is not, by any means, the best medium.

Either should be so administered as to prevent the air once breathed from entering the lungs a second time. The reason for this has its foundation in the laws of chemical combination in the process of respiration. The natural consequence of inhaling ether over and over again, from a sponge held over the mouth and nose, is to produce more or less of nausea, vomiting, and faintness, if nothing worse, during etherization, with a headache, dizziness, and extreme lassitude, for many hours after. All these effects, however, are almost entirely obviated by the INHALING APPARATUS used by Dr. Stocking, who gives special attention to the administration of ether for the removal of teeth, preparatory to the setting of whole and half sets.

Boston, May 22

Salt!! Salt!!

JUST received and for sale low by the subscriber, a lot of Liverpool Salt, suitable for Hay. H. VINAL.

Balsam, Plaster, &c.

Dr. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam. Dr. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Sore Throat, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—for sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Aug. 22.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,

HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING, Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches, Fob, Curb and Vest Chains, LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS, Gents' Pins and Studs, FINGER RINGS.

Together with a large assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a

LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy. All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. (33-35 Coffin Plates Engraved.)

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when ECONOMIZED. Quincy Oct 24

GROCERIES, FLOUR, AND PROVISIONS!

THIS Subscriber would respectfully invite the public to call on him, and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a

Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store, which he will sell at the lowest wholesale prices. A few more chests of Old Hyslop Tea at 25 cents per pound.

50 Tubs of prime Dairy Butter. 200 Bushels of Cheungo and Long Red Potatoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.

Goods delivered to any part of the Town free of expense. H. VINAL, at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers, Quincy, Oct. 27.

Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Neck Ties, &c., &c., &c.

JOSEPH W. LOMBARD, HAS just received a large assortment of Black Gloves, from 37 to $1.50. Also—Driving Gloves, at low prices.

Neck Ties, Stocks, False Bosoms, White Shirts; Black Silk Handkerchiefs from 75 cents to $1.62.

Quincy Nov. 13.

Boots and Shoes.

ELBRIDGE CLAPP has just received a full assortment of Boots and Shoes, suitable for the season, which he will sell at the VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Give him a call soon. A lot of Boots and Shoes slightly shop worn are offered Very Cheap.

Quincy, July 31.

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap for cash. GEO. L. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Feb 28

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE and SOFT, and is a certain cure for CHAPPED HANDS, TASS, SUN-BURN, CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes where a Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass. C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent Price—25 cents per cake.

Quincy Aug. 22

Salt Pork.

4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by DANIEL BAXTER & Co Quincy, Sept. 27.

Salt Pork.

FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers. cheap for cash. GEO. L. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Dec. 6.

SALT PORK.

FIRST qualities of Salt Pork—raised in town and packed by the subscriber—which he will sell at the lowest market price. H. VINAL, Quincy, Jan. 10.

Are you Nervous?

DOBB'S NERVE is a positive blessing to nervous sufferers. It produces a delicious sense of repose—calms the agitated mind—alleviates irritations—induces quiet and refreshing sleep, thus equalizing the system, and restoring the system. It contains NO OPIUM or any other poisonous mineral or narcotic. It is a feeble, mild, wife, or mother, will find it always safe and efficacious. It does not produce constipation or any other bad effects. Price $1.00. Wholesale Agents.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent. Quincy, June 26.

WOOD'S GLYCERINE LOTION.

FOR improving the complexion, and for the cure prevention of Chapped Hands, Tan, Freckles, Sunburn, Roughness of Skin, Eruptions, &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy Feb 6

Butter!

50 TUBS of Prime Dairy Butter in pack ages from thirty to one hundred pounds, for sale at the lowest market price, by the pound, for cash by DANIEL BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Dec. 20.

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,

SUCH AS POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS, BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS, AND EVERY VARIETY OF

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTING,

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office, WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

—HAS FOR SALE— LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood, QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Counsellor at Law, Commissioner for the States of MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VERMONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass. Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH, Attorneys at Law.

Room No. 3, Webster Bank Building, Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH. May 20.

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE!

DOORS, SASHES, &c., &c., &c.

Every offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS, we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!! We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS, WINDOW GLASS, NAILS, SHEET LEAD, FRAMING PINS, WINDOW FRAMES, DOOR BELLS, SCREWS, &c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety ALSO—P. d. Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

LOCKS; MORTICE, THUMB and PEOPLE'S LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs; AND AXLE PULLEYS.

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds. Wrought, Fancy Plate, STRAP, BLIND, and T HINGES; SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crawell's Improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter, The best thing ever used in the place of weights; DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET AT THE OLD STAND OF BAILEY, CARVER & CO., SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

SEASONED LUMBER.

Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times. Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand. ALSO—Good Pine Wood at $6 a Cord. For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF. Quincy, May 8

Coal, Lime, Brick and Sand

—with a good assortment of— SEASONED LUMBER, constantly on hand, and for sale by the subscriber at Quincy Canal Wharf.

NATHANIEL WHITE, Quincy, April 10.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

800 GALLONS PURE CIDER VINEGAR, made on the farm formerly owned by B. V. French, now in store and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, by

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO. Quincy, Aug. 13.

Boot and Shoe Findings.

JUST received and for sale low, a lot of Boot and Shoe Kit, Findings, &c., by

H. VINAL. Quincy, Apr 18

BURNS, &c.

MES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains, &c., &c. For sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Sept 18

DEVOTE

VOLUME XXII.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hanel

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two Dollars per annum in advance delayed until the end of the year, then Dollars will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be continued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is to their own immediate business. Letters and communications, (postage will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers: JOSIAH BARCO, West District, MILTON, ORIN P. BROWN, Dorchester, F. A. KINGSBURY, Weymouth, JOSEPH CLEVELAND, South Scituate, BROOKLYN, (N. Y.) GERSHON DRE

Miscellaneous.

Only a Husband.

Thank you! What a

of the air passages. These ailments arise from taking cold in some way or another, and surely the reader will take some interest in a subject, from which, by at least one chance out of four his life may be lost.

All colds arise from one or two causes.

1st. By getting cool too quick after exercise, either in the whole body, or any part of it.

2nd. By being chilled, and remaining so for a long time, for want of exercise.

To avoid colds from the former, we have only to go to the fire the moment the exercise ceases in winter. If in summer, repair at once to a closed room and there remain with the same clothing on until you are cooled off.

To avoid colds from the latter cause, and these engender the most speedily fatal diseases, such as pleurisy, croup, and inflammation of the lungs, called pneumonias, and we have only to compel ourselves to walk with sufficient vigor to keep off a feeling of chilliness. Attention to a precept contained in less than a dozen words, would add twenty years to the average of civilized life.

Keep away chilliness by exercise; cool off slowly. *Then you will never take cold, in doors or out!—Hall's Journal of Health.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Dec 25th, 1858.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

Particular Notice.

A copy of the Revised Statutes of this Commonwealth is missing from this office, and if taken by any person with the intention of returning it, he is requested to do so without delay, but if stolen a reward of three dollars will be paid for the recovery of the book and the detection and conviction of the thief.

JOHN A. GREEN, if

CHRISTMAS. This day is the annual anniversary of our eighteen hundred years since the birth of Him who appeared on the plains of Bethlehem, for the redemption and salvation of all mankind, and we think so important an era in the world's history ought to be suitably and universally celebrated by our citizens. We hope Santa Claus will generously remember all, especially our young friends, who have been so anxiously looking forward to this morning, when they should have the pleasure of examining the mysterious stocking hung in the chimney corner, after visions of sugar-plums, toys, &c., had been through the night dancing in their heads. We wish all our patrons a happy, and agreeable, merry Christmas.

SKATING. Is there not gallantry enough among the young gentlemen of this town, to procure some one of the many meadows, which are centrally located, and overflow them for the purpose of skating, where the graceful evolutions of the ladies and gentlemen will be mirrored forth in the glassy ice, and they socially enjoy this healthy, pleasant and agreeable exercise?

CURIOSITIES OF ANTIQUITY. A short time since, some workmen while digging sand on the hill side of pasture-land owned by Josiah Babcock, Esq., in the vicinity of Granite turnpike, Milton, excavated three pieces of alabaster, one of which was circular in form, about six inches in circumference, with a hole drilled in the centre. It was perforated also with a piece of iron about the size of a shingle nail. The other pieces were quadrangular in form, and about four to five inches in dimension, and a quarter of an inch in thickness. The smaller of these pieces has a very curious carving, standing out and well defined like stucco-work, evidently representing a flower, and sprigs, with an Indian arrow case carved at the base. The flower protrudes nearly an inch and is beautifully carved, equal to the lithographic character of our times. They were found twelve feet below the surface of the earth, and doubtless were placed there by the aborigines of our country, long before the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth. These singular relics were kindly furnished us by a son of Mr. Rooney, residing in the Railway Village. The elder Mr. Rooney, in digging, first discovered them.

NEW TERRITORIES. Besides the Territories which Congress has organized, three others are taking steps in the same direction. Arizona has chosen a delegate to Washington, who will receive the bill for the government of this Territory, which failed to pass last winter. Dacotah has organized itself, on the ground that the interests of the people would not permit delay, and will now press Congress to grant the usual territorial government. Superior, or Ontonagon, has made a formal application to Michigan and Wisconsin, to which States the region belongs, for permission to form an independent territory. If granted, the further development of the scheme will be urged upon Congress. The region has already a population of several thousand.

HARD TIMES AND DECREASE OF MARRIAGES. The times are and have been for the past year undeniably hard for the middle classes in Boston, and in consequence, says the Traveller, there has been in the year 1858 a marked decrease of the number of those taking upon themselves the responsibilities of matrimony. In 1857, there was a decrease from the previous year, and this year we have another decrease of the number of intentions issued by the City Registrar, as compared with the same period in 1857, of three hundred and fifty-two, the number this year being twenty-two hundred and thirty-four. As usual, of late years, a majority of the applicants were persons of foreign birth.

SAD WARNING. The Kennebec (Me.) Journal learns that the mortality in Maine among hard drinkers was never so great, in proportion to the numbers, as within a few months past. The facts in Augusta, instead of contradicting, rather go to confirm this view. The probability is, that liquors were never so badly and unskillfully adulterated as at present, and it never was so dangerous to make use of them as a beverage.

COUNCILLOR. Annexed is the official vote for Councillor from District No. 7, of this State:

Whole number of ballots.	13,308
Joseph McKinn Church, of Milton.	8,317
and is duly elected.
Ezra S. Conant, of Randolph.	4,258
Sundry other persons.	734

SENATORIAL VOTE. The result of the vote for Senator from the East Norfolk District is thus officially stated:

Whole number of ballots.	3,289
Charles A. French, of Stoughton.	1,605
and appears to be elected.
A. L. Cushing, of Randolph.	855
Amos A. Lawrence, of Weymouth.	866
Sundry other persons.	3

THE OFFICIAL VOTE. The Governor and Council have completed the counting of the votes thrown at the late election in this State. The result for Governor is as follows, excepting the towns of Oxford and Welfleet, not received:

The whole number of ballots.	119,349
Nathaniel P. Banks, of Waltham.	68,710
and is duly elected.
Erasmus P. Beach, of Springfield.	38,298
Amos A. Lawrence, of Brookline.	12,084
Sundry other persons.	167

MEMBER OF CONGRESS. The following is the official counting of the votes thrown at the late election for member of Congress from the Third District of this State:

The whole number of ballots.	41,887
Charles F. Adams, of Quincy.	6,524
and is duly elected.
Arthur W. Austin, of West Roxbury.	3,880
Moses G. Cobb, of Dorchester.	1,492
Other persons.	21

SOUTH SHORE RAILROAD. The receipts and expenses of this Corporation have each been lessened about five thousand dollars the last year. The outstanding debts of the Corporation are less than seven hundred dollars.

A SINGULAR BOOK. The Boston correspondent of the Dedham Gazette, in his letter of last week, mentions that "a very singular book is soon to be published under the auspices of the spiritualists. It purports to be 'Twelve Messages from the spirit John Quincy Adams, through Joseph D. Stiles, Medium, to Josiah Brigham,' of Quincy. A circumstantial description is given of Mr. Adams' experience in the world of spirits, including his reception there, and the historical characters (some famous, and others infamous in this life) which he has since met. Among these are his father and mother, two in 'Old Continental,' who approached him as he entered the celestial sphere, Columbus, Warren, Patrick Henry, Lafayette, Arnold the traitor, and Andre, his victim, Penn, Washington, Putnam, Burr, Tom Paine, John Calvin, and a host of others. As regards the two last, the spirit tells us, that Calvin is still a baffled truth-seeker, while Tom Paine is rapidly advancing. There are some curious things in the book."

REPLY TO INQUIRERS. Owing to unusual large numbers of the "fair sex" upon the streets during the past few weeks, the following question—"What is it that attracts so many females out of doors this muddy traveling time?" has been asked so frequently that we deem a reply most acceptable to our readers. In the first place we presume our citizens, particularly the ladies, are aware that one of the most extensive Dry Goods dealers, Caleb Packard, has reduced his prices with the hope of disposing of nearly all his large stock before commencing a New Year; and this is what has called every economical woman forth to improve the opportunity.—or will the coming week, and make their dollars these hard times, go as far as possible.

MEDICAL LECTURE TO LADIES. It will be seen by an advertisement, that Mrs. Hayden who will visit Quincy on Monday next, proposes to deliver a Medical Lecture to Ladies, on Tuesday afternoon, if good weather.

Read C. Gill and Co.'s advertisement of Hats.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston, Dec 23, 1858.

Business, Money matters, Banks.—Amusements.—Literature.—East Boston Ferries.—Capital trial.—Congress.—Pacific Railroad, Tariff, Minister to Mexico, Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, Monroe Doctrine revived, Pension Bill.

A general calm prevails in our city since the election of 14th inst. With regard to business operations, while money continues abundant here and the immediate vicinity, and capital is daily invested at five per cent, it is known to be rather stringent in many parts of New England, and the country banks remote from us, discount to the extent of their legitimate means. It surely does not require the gift of prophecy to say, that financial matters will soon wear a new aspect here; beneficial to be sure for the lender, and with an increased activity in city bank discounts, that will enable them soon to meet all the paper deemed by them reliable, to the extent of their wishes. Our heavy capitalists will find, within a few months, a healthy channel for investment in the erection of buildings, and other speculations planned and contemplated all over the city.

This is the gay season of the year in Boston; and strong inducements are held out every night in the week, for attendance at the various places of public amusement, which continue attractive, to a portion of the good people of the city, who prefer the theatre to the lecture-room. Still, literary taste continues of a high grade in this American Athens. No City of our Union claims a higher standard in this respect than Boston. It is a prolific nursery of knowledge as applied to solid and refined literature.

The most important local item of the week is the action of the city government, relative to the East Boston ferries. It is proposed to purchase them by the city for $250,000, and then to be controlled as city property as a part of its highways. Should the city buy them, it is not expected all tolls will be now, if ever abolished; but they will doubtless be materially lessened, and foot passengers go free. The East Boston people have good reason to be jubilant on these matters.

The second trial of McNulty for the murder of Hodgson, the city watchman, is progressing. The opinion of many is, the verdict this time will be murder in the second degree, which is imprisonment for life. But it is conjectured.

Nearly one-third of the term of the present Congress has expired, and nothing yet has been done definitely. There is a bare possibility that some changes increasing the tariff will be made.

The subject of the Pacific Railroad is under consideration. Four or five routes have been named. The central route, starting from St. Louis, would seem best to meet the wants and wishes of the whole country, and be most likely to receive aid from Congress. The distance is estimated at some sixteen hundred miles to the Pacific, and cost seventy-two millions of dollars, and in construction would take five years. The northern route is three hundred miles nearer, but would not likely be adopted.

It is designed to send a new minister to Mexico, with plenary powers. Hon. Caleb Cushing is named. The selection is a good one.

A little girl nine years of age, of Crosby township, Ohio, went to bed in good health, but on arising the next morning she was perfectly blind, having lost her eyesight during the night. The eyes have not changed any further than bearing a glassy appearance.

Recruiting for the United States Army has been so brisk during the Fall that nearly all the regiments are now filled up, and it has been decided to discontinue enlisting at Buffalo, New Haven, and several other important stations in various States.

Some of the Lynn shoe manufacturers are now making to order large quantities of ladies' skating boots. They are made thick and strong, and cut to reach above the ankle.

There are seven hundred inmates at the State Almshouse in Bridgewater, one hundred and fifty of whom are insane.

A bill is before the Arkansas Legislature to prohibit the sale of patent medicines in the State.

It is stated that the President's Message contains more than twenty thousand words.

There are now but thirty Indian warriors in Florida, and they will probably emigrate in two months.

The Abington (Mass.) Almshouse is being furnished with steam heating apparatus.

The Mayor of New York, in his estimates of expenses for his office during 1859, has this item: "For contingencies, killing dogs, $4,500."

An enterprising Yankee has started a sausage lottery at Leavenworth, Kansas. He puts up a hundred sausages at a time, five of which, each, contain a gold dollar.

A machine for breaking stone for macadamizing streets, has been recently tried in Chicago, (Ill.). It was run by a ten horse engine, and broke three cords of stone into "egg size" and less, in an hour's time.

Do not fail to keep a box of "My Mother's Salve" on hand, as it is one of the most valuable remedies to be found for relieving all kinds of sores, pains, rheumatism, piles, etc. See advertisement.

Pocket Diaries, all sizes and kinds. A great variety for sale by C. Gill & Co.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

The Farmington (Me.) Patriot states that not less than one hundred and sixty-five thousand pounds of dried apples have been purchased in that village, of the farmers in that vicinity, the present season.

The Quincy school-house, in Boston, was destroyed by fire Friday night of last week. The house was built in 1847, at a cost of over sixty thousand dollars. It was capable of accommodating thirteen hundred pupils. About eight hundred usually attended.

It is stated that a movement is already on foot for the calling of State Conventions of Douglas men in New York, Pennsylvania, and all the Northwestern States, to be held early next spring.

At Louisville, Ky., there is a pork establishment where thirty-four hundred hogs were killed in one day, every one being hung up before sundown.

It is estimated that seventy-six millions of dollars in gold and silver is annually consumed by manufacturers of jewelry and gold and silver ware.

A bed of iron ore has been discovered within the enclosure of the Clinton State Prison, in New York, and the prisoners have commenced working it.

The New York Courier and Enquirer says Brooklyn is the third city in the United States in point of population—it being computed at 220,000.

In Schuylkill County, Pa., there are four hundred and twenty steam engines employed in raising coal, draining mines, manufacturing, and other purposes.

Twenty-five divorces have been granted by the Marion County (Ind.) Circuit Court during its present session.

England is taxed to raise a revenue of five hundred millions dollars—has eleven hundred thousand paupers, which it costs her thirty-five millions of dollars to support.

A safe has been invented, which locks on the inside, and leaves no key-hole or other opening. A clock work within opens it at an hour regulated by being set before the door is shut.

The proposition to do away with the law requiring juries to be unanimous in their verdicts, is creating much discussion among the legal gentlemen of England.

The fastest time ever made by an American horse was by Princess in her running in England. The distance run was two miles and a quarter and twenty-eight rods, and the time three minutes and fifty-five seconds, carrying 107 pounds. This is at the rate of one minute, twenty-five and three-fourths seconds per mile.

The State lands in Aroostook county, Maine, are offered for sale at fifty cents an acre, to be paid for by working on the roads, in the course of four years.

The highest rank in the Catholic Church in the United States has been conferred on Bishop Kenrick, of Baltimore.

The Roman Catholics of Cincinnati have adopted a regulation that but six carriages shall be permitted at funerals.

The Emperor Napoleon has lately given his wife's mother a mansion in Paris valued at nearly a million dollars.

It is computed that in the Crimean war the British lost by the sword, by disease, and other contingencies of war, one hundred and eleven thousand three hundred and fourteen men.

A little girl nine years of age, of Crosby township, Ohio, went to bed in good health, but on arising the next morning she was perfectly blind, having lost her eyesight during the night. The eyes have not changed any further than bearing a glassy appearance.

Recruiting for the United States Army has been so brisk during the Fall that nearly all the regiments are now filled up, and it has been decided to discontinue enlisting at Buffalo, New Haven, and several other important stations in various States.

Some of the Lynn shoe manufacturers are now making to order large quantities of ladies' skating boots. They are made thick and strong, and cut to reach above the ankle.

There are seven hundred inmates at the State Almshouse in Bridgewater, one hundred and fifty of whom are insane.

A bill is before the Arkansas Legislature to prohibit the sale of patent medicines in the State.

It is stated that the President's Message contains more than twenty thousand words.

There are now but thirty Indian warriors in Florida, and they will probably emigrate in two months.

The Abington (Mass.) Almshouse is being furnished with steam heating apparatus.

The Mayor of New York, in his estimates of expenses for his office during 1859, has this item: "For contingencies, killing dogs, $4,500."

An enterprising Yankee has started a sausage lottery at Leavenworth, Kansas. He puts up a hundred sausages at a time, five of which, each, contain a gold dollar.

A machine for breaking stone for macadamizing streets, has been recently tried in Chicago, (Ill.). It was run by a ten horse engine, and broke three cords of stone into "egg size" and less, in an hour's time.

Do not fail to keep a box of "My Mother's Salve" on hand, as it is one of the most valuable remedies to be found for relieving all kinds of sores, pains, rheumatism, piles, etc. See advertisement.

Pocket Diaries, all sizes and kinds. A great variety for sale by C. Gill & Co.

A CARD.

The Officers and Members of the Hancock Light Guards return their sincere thanks to the members of the Quincy Brass Band for the invitation extended to them to attend their general Promenade Concert and Ball. Be assured, gentlemen, that we appreciate your kindness, and shall take the first opportunity to return the compliment.

Per order,
W. L. BURRELL, Clerk.
Quincy, Dec. 25. 1w

Special Notices.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.

In Johnson's (Maciposa) Hall,
H. B. Storer will speak to-morrow, forenoon and afternoon.
Quincy, Dec. 25. 1w

Be sure to go to C. Gill & Co.'s for Christmas and New Year's Gifts.

Beautiful Books for Gifts can be found at C. Gill & Co.'s.

C. Gill & Co. have a fine lot of Rubber Boots and Shoes, of all sizes, and can fit everybody, and sell at the lowest prices. This stock is of that manufacture known to have the best reputation. Buy for yourselves and children, and prevent wet feet and the consequences thereof.

C. Gill & Co.'s Assortment of Toys is the best ever offered in Quincy.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION. Just published by FEDERHEN & Co., Booksellers and Stationers, No. 13 Court Street, Boston, a Brief Treatise of 48 pages, on Diseases of the Sexual System of both sexes—their symptoms and treatment—prepared by a physician of the "Boston Eclectic Hospital." This work also contains a scorching exposure of the deception and imposture practiced by advertising quacks, with some of their names and locations. Sold by periodical dealers generally. Sent by mail, on the receipt of three postage stamps. Address Box 1802, Boston Post Office. Feb. 27. 1y

Marriages.

In this town, on the 22d inst., by Rev. L. Rice, Mr. Moses W. Sleeper to Miss Julia A. Reed.

On the 22d inst., by the Rev. Mr. Whitney, Mr. Martin W. Carr, of North Attleborough, to Miss Lucy Emery, only daughter of Joseph G. Brackett of this town.

We were generously remembered by our young friends, who have been united in Hyman's sacred and happy bands. May the Carr of time carry them over life's rough road peacefully, gently.

On the 22d inst., by Rev. J. Paulson, Mr. Bartlett Hayden to Miss Laura A. Thayer. On the same day, by the same, Mr. Edward H. Starbuck to Mrs. Sophia Richardson.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 22d inst., Mrs. Pamela, widow of the late John Cleverly, aged 86 years 1 month and 26 days.

On the 18th inst., Mrs. Mary, wife of Bryant Newcomb, Jr. aged 18 years.

On the 20th inst., Mr. Asa Pope, aged 84 years.

AUCTION.

WILL be sold at Public Auction, at the Stable of the subscriber on Washington street, on Tuesday, Dec. 25th,

AT 1 O'CLOCK, P. M.,
THE ENTIRE STOCK OF THE

QUINCY POINT ROUTE,
Consisting of 1 Omnibus; 1 Three-Seated Carryall, for one or two horses; 1 single Carryall; 1 Three-Seated Covered Wagon, suitable for one or two horses; 1 Light Express Wagon, nearly new; 1 Double Omnibus Harness; 1 Double Carryall Harness; 1 Light Wagon Harness; 1 Hay-cutter, Feed Trough, Blankets, Saddlebags, and other articles not mentioned above.

Also—The well-known and valuable Black Morgan Horse, Eight years old, well adapted to any harness, and whose qualities as a superior Horse have been well tested.

Also, the Stable, 25 by 18 Feet, which could be made into a convenient Dwelling, or used as a Stable.

This is a good opportunity for any one wishing the above named articles.

The coming spring, doubtless, a good business might be done and the route extended to Old Spain, as there is more advantage of trains by the Old Colony Railroad than by the South Shore.

These Carriages are well adapted for other purposes—for Stable or Family use.

The subscriber having made arrangements for a change in business on the first of January next, wishes to dispose of his entire stock before that time.

GEORGE W. KENISON,
J. T. FRENCH, Auct.
Quincy, Dec. 25. 1w

Soft Hats.

C. GILL & Co. sell

A good Black Hat for $0.87
A good Black or Brown Hat for 1.00
A handsome, nice Black Hat for 1.25
A handsome, fine Black or Brown Hat for 1.50
An excellent Black or Brown Hat for 1.75
An extra quality Black Hat for 2.00
A superior Black Hat for 2.25
A superior extra Black Hat for 2.50
A superior Black Hat for 4.00
Quincy, Dec. 25. 1f

NEW BOOK.

Will be ready, JANUARY 1, 1859.

TWELVE MESSAGES FROM THE SPIRIT JOHN QUINCY ADAMS THROUGH JOSEPH D. STILES, MEDIUM, TO JOSIAH BRIGHAM. Price $1.50. For sale by C. GILL & CO., at the Quincy Bookstore. Dec. 25. 1f

Female Physician.

MRS. W. R. HAYDEN,
OF BOSTON.

WILL arrive at the Hancock House, Quincy, on MONDAY, December 27th, and remain a few days for consultation with those suffering from ill health and disease. Her examinations are free, and are devoid of any fee.

Thorough Knowledge of the state of the patient's system, and the causes of suffering.
A MEDICAL LECTURE TO LADIES will be delivered some afternoon during her stay—probably as early as Tuesday, Dec. 28th. In case of storm, to be postponed to the next day of suitable weather.
Quincy, Dec. 25. 1w

Selectmen's Notice.

THE last Saturday of December being Christmas, the Selectmen of Quincy will meet at their room, to pay bills due from said Town, on FRIDAY, the 24th inst., from two till four o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, Dec. 18. 1w

FOUND.

PICKED up on Hancock street in this town, on the 2d inst., a small Gold Pocket, containing a Miniature, which the owner can have by proving property and paying charges, on applying to

ALFRED FURNALD,
Quincy, Dec. 18. 3w

REMOVAL!

THE Watch, Jewelry and Silver Ware Establishment, formerly corner of Hancock and Temple streets, has been removed to Building recently occupied as P. O.

On Hancock Street, next door to BRESLER & WHITNEY'S STORE, where the subscriber hopes by dealing honorably with all to receive a continuance of the patronage bestowed upon the Old Stand.

THE PAST EIGHTEEN YEARS. Every description of fine Watches and Jewelry will be furnished from 5 to 25 per cent. less than city prices, and no article sold will be represented higher than its merits will allow.

Five Watches and Jewelry Repairing done in a faithful manner. Silver Ware, Coffin Plates, &c., Engraved.

I shall continue to keep an assortment of American, English and Swiss Watches, Silver Spoons, Forks, Knives, &c., manufactured to order, and of the best Silver.

Chains, Lockets, Pins, Drops, Rings, Thumb-rings, Spectacles, Silver Buttons, Pocket Cutlery and Razors, best quality of Eight Day and Thirty Hour Clocks, Fancy Goods, &c., &c.

John O. Holden.

Quincy, Dec. 18. 3w

C. Gill & Co.

Offer for sale a large assortment of

New and Beautiful Toys

FANCY GOODS!

ANNUALS, GIFT BOOKS,

Juvenile and Toy Books, with many other goods exactly suitable for

PRESENTS!

FOR

Christmas and New Year, to which

Poetry.

The Unbroken Slumber.

Yes, I shall rest some coming day,
When blossoms in the wind are dancing,
And children in the merry play,
Heed not the mournful crowd advancing,
Up through the long and busy street,
They'll bear me to my last retreat.

Or else—it matters not—may rave
The storms and blasts of wintry weather,
Above the narrow new-made grave
Where care and I lay together;
Enough, that I should know it not,
Within that dark and narrow spot.

For I shall sleep! As sweet a sleep
As ever graced a child reposing,
Awaiting me in the cell so deep,
Where I may weary limbs closing,
At length shall lay me down to rest,
Heedless of clouds above my breast.

Asleep! How deep will be the rest,
Free from life's turmoil moving wildly,
That when it's past the earth's unrest,
Its bosom shall receive me mildly:
For not one dream of earth may come
To break the slumber of that home.

Oh, deep repose! Oh, slumber blest!
Oh, night of peace! No storm, no sorrow,
No heavy stirring in my rest
To meet another weary morn;
I shall head neither night nor dawn,
But still with folded arms sleep on!

And yet methinks, if steps of those I'd known and loved on earth were round me
'Twould break the night of my repose,
Shiver the icy cords that bound me—
Save that I know this cannot be,
For death disowns all sympathy.

Then mourn not, friends, when ye shall lay
The clods of earth above my ashes;
Think what a rest awaits my clay,
And smooth the mound with tearless lashes;
Glad that the resting from within
Has done with sorrow, care and sin.

Think that with me the strife is o'er,
Life's stormy, struggling battle ended;
Rejoice that I have gained that shore
To which my faltering footsteps tended;
Breathe the last hope above the sod,
And leave me to my rest with God.

The Old Thirteen States.

God bless the good old thirteen States,
God bless the young ones, too,
Who care for many birthday days?
God bless them—old and new.
The old ones first our freedom gained,
In bloody fights of yore,
The young ones have their rights maintained,
As the old ones did before.

Of South, or North, or East, or West,
Twin sister all they be;
The mother nursed them at her breast,
And that was Liberty.
And may the wretch whose hand shall strive
To cut their vital thread,
Be scorned while in this world alive,
And scorned when he is dead!

Now, fill the bowl with Nature's wine,
Let a drink—God save the King—
The only King by right divine,
The Sovereign People King;
For they're the only King I own,
All others I despise and scorn,
But God that reigns on heaven's throne,
The King that never dies.

Oh! may that sceptre wide extend
O'er every land and sea,
Without beginning, without end,
And conquer to set free!
Till freedom's banner stands alone,
And freedom in the sky,
And no other Lord shall own,
But he who rules on high.

Unmated.

Here I sigh in lonely sorrow
All the sad and gloomy day,
Hoping still for each to-morrow,
Dreaming dreary night away.

In the still hour of twilight,
Fleeting shadows come and go;
Fancied blessing fades in gloom—
Moving finds them dim with woe.

Spring time comes with blushing flowers—
Summer fades in golden bloom—
Winter comes with storm and showers—
Still my heart sleeps in its tomb.

Ever wand'ring, ever sighing,
Up and down the lanes of life;
Never living, never dying,
Hoping, singing for—a wife!

Anecdotes.

An Irishman addicted to tell strange stories, said he saw a man beheaded with his hands tied behind him, who directly picked up his head and put it on his shoulders in the right place.

Ha, ha, ha! said a by-stander, how could he pick up his head when his hands were tied behind him?

And sure, what a purty fool ye are! said Pat, and could not he pick it up with his teeth? To told Nick with yer botheration.

Gently the deus are o'er me stealing, as the man said when he had five bills presented to him at one time.

A son fellow says that he always looks under the marriage head for the nose of the teak.

My James is a very good boy, said an old lady, but he has his little failings, for none of us are perfect. He threw the cat in the fire, flung his grandfather's wig into the cistern, put his daddy's powder-horn into the stove, tied the coffee-pot to Jowler's tail, let off squibs in the barn, and took my cap-bobbin for fishing-lines; but these are only childish follies—he's an excellent boy, after all.

As two children were playing together, little Jane pouted. Johnny said to her, Look out Jane, or I'll take a seat over there on your lips.

Then, replied Jane cured of her pouts, I'll laugh and you'll fall off.

FASHIONABLE
Tailoring Establishment

J. W. LOMBARD,

HAS taken rooms over the store of E. Clapp, (formerly occupied by Mr. J. M. Beckford,) and wishes respectfully to inform his friends and the public generally that he intends to carry on THE TAILORING BUSINESS, in all its branches; and hopes by punctuality and strict attention to business to merit a share of patronage.

Quincy, Apr 18 JOS. W. LOMBARD.

BUSINESS COATS, (Custom Made,) from 6 to $10.

Quincy, Oct. 31. T. DODDS.

Cut this out and keep it for Reference.

Great Chance to Save Money!!

BY HAVING YOUR CLOTHES MADE BY

C. A. COLLINS,

203 Washington Street,

Cor. Bromfield street, up stairs.

REASONS WHY. 1st. My rent is less than any Custom-Tailor in Boston.

2. I buy my Goods for Cash, taking advantage of the markets.

3. I sell my Goods for Cash only.

4. I make no bad debts for Customers to pay for.

5. I work for the interest of my Customers.

Gentlemen can depend on having Garments which for style, fit, nice trimming, and faithful work, cannot be surpassed.

I pay particular attention to making Pants, being the most difficult of all Garments to fit nicely and at the same time be perfectly easy.

My Pants are cut by a system original with myself, and used by all the best tailors. I warrant my Pants to retain their shape at the foot till worn out, and to fit handsome and be easy in every particular.

Some of the Prices.

I sell a nice Frock or Dress Coat, from German black or colored Broad Cloths, made to order, for from $15 to $25.

Black German Doe Pants, 5 to 8.

Side Band and other style Pants, 5 to 8.

Best quality Silk Vests, 4 to 5.

Cloth, Valerius and Plaid Vests, 2 to 3.

Business Coats, 9 to 13.

Spring and Fall Over-Coats, 10 to 15.

Winter Over-Coats, 12 to 20.

Where gentlemen furnishing their own Cloth, I make and trim up for them into Garments in the best style, at less prices than any other Tailor in Boston.

My Pants are cut by the newest and best goods of all the manufacturers of this and foreign countries.

CHESTER A. COLLINS,

203 Washington street, corner Bromfield street, (Up stairs.) BOSTON.

Well known as the place to SAVE MONEY.

July 17.

New Stock and New Styles!

PAPER HANGINGS.

HAVING a desire to accommodate many of our customers, and to increase the trade of our place, we have added to our former variety of Goods, an entirely

New and beautiful Stock of Paper Hangings, Borders, Curtains, &c.

COMPRISING 100 PATTERNS!

manufactured on the best paper and in the highest perfection of colors and styles.

Our assortment will always be kept good, and we shall spare no efforts to give the best satisfaction to the taste of all who wish to paper their rooms with attractive and pleasing patterns, on good paper and in good colors.

Our prices will range lower than is usual with the same qualities and styles in Boston, but we shall engage in no mean underselling any of our neighbors, our object being to present an additional inducement for the Quincy people to bestow their patronage upon their own traders, and find themselves suited in every respect as well or better than in the City.

Builders of new houses will be supplied on the most favorable terms.

C. GILL & CO.,

HANCOCK STREET,

Quincy March 27.

To Boot and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dress Shoes, finished especial-Black, Brown and Dark Green by Congress smokers, Black Brown and Dark Feltings, for snow shoes.

Lastings, all wool, Italian do. Silk and Cotton

Warp do.

Serge de Berri's

Rubber Gasset Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes.

Boot and Congress Webs, from 4 in. to 12 in., new style.

Gallies, black and colors, 4, 5 and 6 in. widths.

Shoe Dicks; Congress and Union Cases.

Shoe Ribbons, Rosettes, and Sandal Web.

Eyelets, Corals, Shoe Laces and Strings, all sizes and lots.

Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads,

Of the well known XX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Brogans, Shoes and Congress Work, from No. 18 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black, Gray, Green, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, to Hooks, Balls and Spools, for sewing, closing, stitching, binding, straps and counters, top stitching and under threads. Also Shoe Threads.

Machine Silk, all colors.

Sea Island Hawk Cotton, Blacks, Colored, Unbleached and White.

Spool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing

Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DIX & CO.,

No. 52 Milk street.

Quincy, June 19.

Balsam, Plaster, &c.

Dr. Blackman's Genuine Healing Balsam and Plaster.

Dr. Sam'l B. Smith's Magnetic Salve for Sore Throat, Ring Worm, and similar diseases.

Dr. Bennett's Canker Powder and Tooth Preservative—for sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Aug. 22.

ALL KINDS OF Job Printing,

SUCH AS

POSTERS, BILLS, OF ALL KINDS,

BILL-HEADS, BLANKS, CARDS,

AND EVERY VARIETY OF

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY

PRINTING,

Neatly Executed at the Quincy Patriot Office.

WITH CHEAPNESS AND DESPATCH.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick & Sand

—ALSO—

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

Commissioner for the States of

MAINE, NEW HAMPSHIRE, VER-

MONT, CONNECTICUT, RHODE

ISLAND and NEW YORK.

Weymouth, Mass.

Nov. 26.

WHITE & FRENCH,

Attorneys at Law,

Room No. 5, Webster Bank Building,

Exchange Street, --- BOSTON.

GEORGE WHITE. ASA FRENCH.

May 20.

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE &

DOORS

BLINDS

SASHES, &c. &c.

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co

Having recently made large additions to our

stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,

we are prepared to furnish them at prices to cor-

respond with the times

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,

SASHES,

BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS,

NAILS,

SHEET LEAD,

FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES,

DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS,

&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety.

ALSO—Pa. d. Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS,

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,

STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crownell's

improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best thing ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

SEASONED LUMBER,

Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times.

DIMENSION FRAMES,

Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand.

ALSO—Good Fine Wood at 6¢ a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.

Quincy, May 8.

Coal, Lime, Brick and Sand,

—with a good assortment of—

SEASONED LUMBER,

constantly on hand, and for sale by the subscriber at Quincy Canal Wharf.

NATHANIEL WHITE.

Quincy, April 10.

Pure Cider Vinegar.

800 GALLONS PURE CIDER VIN-

EGAR, made on the farm formerly owned by B. V. French, now in store and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, by

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Aug. 15.

Boot and Shoe Findings.

JUST received and for sale low, a lot of Boot and Shoe Kits, Findings, &c., by

H. VINAL.

Quincy, Apr 18.

BURNS, &c.

MES' Lotion for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises,

toothache, chilblains, &c. &c.

For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Sept 15.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,

Quincy, William S. Morton, Charles Breck,

William S. Munroe, Thomas C. Webb,

Whitcomb Porter, Stephen Bates,

William B. Duggan, Thomas Curtis,

Boston, Albert Thompson, Alfred Loring,

Royal W. Turner, North Bridge Street,

South Brantree, Sumner A. Hayward,

Apollon Randall, Barnstable,

Delham, George Marston,

Jonathan A. Cobb,

References, by permission:

HON. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston,

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr. of Quincy,

HON. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,

HON. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph,

HON. SOLOMON LANGOLN, of Hingham,

HON. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., "

OFFICE:

Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple

April 1.

National Police Gazette.

THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals

is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate

Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who

should write their names and the town, county

and state where they reside plainly.)

GEO. W. MATSELL & CO.,

Editors & Proprietors of the

National Police Gazette.

New York City, Apr 25.

GEO. R. FRENCH,

Engraver and Plate Printer,

257 Washington, near Winter st., - Boston

Particular attention given to the Engraving

and Printing of—

Invitation, Reception, Marriage, Address and Visiting Cards.